JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

FIRST CALENDAR DAY

Pursuant to chapter two (2), sections two point one (2.1) and two point three (2.3), Code of Iowa, the 2011 Regular Session of the Eighty-fourth General Assembly convened at 10:00 a.m., and the Senate was called to order by President Kibbie.

A moment of silence was observed in honor of the recent shootings in Arizona.

Prayer was offered by Father Brian Hughes of St. Patrick's Catholic Parish in Estherville, Iowa. He was the guest of Senator Kibbie.

The Senate rose and expressed its welcome.

President Kibbie introduced to the Senate chamber Congressman King.

OPENING REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE

President Kibbie addressed the Senate with the following remarks:

Good morning. I welcome you all to the opening day of the First Session of the 84th General Assembly. We welcome the eight new members of the Senate who have been sent by their constituents at a time when our national economy is making slow recovery from the deepest recession since the Great Depression. Only three or four other states, primarily those with abundant natural energy resources, such as oil, coal, and natural gas are in better financial shape than Iowa. This Legislature, over the last four years, has been prudent with the taxpayer's money and we need to continue the progress we have made during that time.

I would encourage the new members to review our Rules of Senate Decorum. We should not forget that our first job is to respect this institution and its traditions. The Senate is a special place and we should all remember that the campaign is over and that our responsibility is to solve the problems facing our state.

Over the last four years we have focused on creating the jobs of the future that pay wages on which a family can be supported; expanding health access to those left behind; and greater efficiencies in government. These are challenges we have faced and where work still needs to be done. Our goal should always be the expansion of the middle class. One of the most troubling facts of the last decade is the growing income gap which shrinks the middle class and slows economic growth.

In my judgment, we need to recognize the crucial link between education and the skills needed in the economy of the future. It troubles me greatly when I read that 45% of the new hires of Fortune 500 Companies in 2010 are outside the borders of the United States. I don't believe that is a path we want to travel. More and more data tell us that the best indicator of economic success is education. More emphasis in our education system must be put on meeting the skills gap that exists in many of our workers. We must identify where that challenge can be met.

In my opinion, the greatest need in our education budget is community college funding. The greatest cost for operating community colleges is on the students where about 50% of the costs are tuition and fees which is much higher than other post high school institutions, both public and private. As an example, Iowa students at private colleges right here in Des Moines on average get about $2,800 in Iowa tax dollars through the tuition grant program. Conversely, a community college student gets about $1,800 tax dollars which include a little over $200 in property tax and that property tax picks up less than 4% of the cost. Unlike the K-12 formula, General Fund monies for community colleges are not based on student enrollment. These educational institutions can play a crucial role in training and retraining Iowans for the jobs of the future and lower our unemployment rolls. Community colleges are partners in economic growth and 90% of these students stay in Iowa.

I would hope we don't abandon our commitment to early childhood education. A crucial program like this, which has had strong support from the business community, along with our health care commitment to every Iowa child, gives us healthy and well educated children that form the core of a new generation of Iowans ready to contribute to our state's future growth.

As we continue our efforts to expand access to health care, our biggest challenge is to control cost and ensure maximum efficiencies in the dollars we spend. I know that Senator Hatch will have legislation for us to consider in regard to the new Health Exchanges and other aspects of health reform. These are vital discussions and we all need to realize how important these efforts are to our state. I believe that any efforts at economic development must also build on the foundation we have already created in making Iowa a leader in alternative energy and renewable fuels. It is vital that our state continue to work on making us more self-sufficient in energy use. The further development of wind, solar, and biomass will create jobs and lower energy costs for all Iowans. We need to expand the Ethanol and Biodiesel industries as they provide jobs and economic development in Iowa and by products from these plants are exported around the world.

Over the last four years we have made great strides in meeting the needs of Iowa service men and women serving our country abroad. I know we will continue to identify any further needs and provide whatever is necessary in support of those troops and their families recognizing these troops are part of the largest call up of reserve and guard members since World War II. In closing, I know that we all face many challenges with divided government. It will require us to work more closely together to find common ground. Contrary to what many think, we are not gridlocked. We have faced these divisions before and Iowans expect us to work on their behalf. That is our sworn duty. My office is always open to every member of the Senate and I pledge to perform my duties in a fair and impartial manner. We have much to do and I am ready for us to begin the work of this legislative session.

Thank you.

REMARKS BY THE MINORITY LEADER

Senator McKinley addressed the Senate as follows:

Thank you Mr. President.

Colleagues, friends and family:

It's a new day.

It's a new day not just for this body or General Assembly as a whole; this is the dawning of a new, more optimistic and prosperous era for all who call this remarkable state home.

We are convening this distinguished body today, following one of the most historic elections in Iowa history. It was historic in the sense that we have many new faces to welcome here today and also historic in the undeniable and unmistakable message that the voters conveyed just weeks ago.

For the past several years, government has only continued to grow – further encroaching into our lives at the expense of freedom, liberty and independence.

Spending has spiraled out-of-control, debt has grown at alarming rates, taxes have only gone higher and barriers to job creation have been added instead of removed.

Elected officials had stopped listening to the collective voices of the people – seniors, entrepreneurs, small business owners, employers and others who had elected them as their voice and their vote.

As a result, the people spoke – and spoke loudly and clearly.

We would be wise to remember them every day we are conducting their business under this great golden dome.

They said:

Give us back our government and listen.

Do not spend more than our government takes in.

Be as careful with our tax dollars as you are with your own.

Hold the line on taxes and give us some tax relief.

Quit letting the government pick winners and losers and instead reignite the engine of economic growth – the small businesses, entrepreneurs and employers that create two out of every three new jobs.

Give us a vote on the basic definition of marriage, protect life, be responsive and do all you can to promote opportunity, prosperity and freedom.

This Senate Republican caucus is listening and we are eager to act on the people's wishes.

Let us use our time during this session to restore the public trust in government and to move forward on a new and more hopeful agenda.

It won't necessarily be easy but we were not elected just to hit the easy button.

We were elected to make difficult decisions in order to turn this state around.

Because our Constitution thankfully demands a balanced budget, Senate Republicans will continue to work hard to find savings, eliminate waste and offer innovative solutions and systemic reforms that will result in a leaner and more efficient delivery of services.

We must now work together to pass a sustainable and responsible budget that funds the core essential services of government and reflects the priorities of our districts. We must accomplish this without continuing to shift taxes onto local governments and continuing the past practice of using one-time dollars for ongoing expenditures.

Yet, this is not just about this year or the next – this is about offering a sustainable and fiscally responsible vision for the years ahead.

While much of our focus may be on the budget, we face another tremendous challenge. We have over 110,000 Iowans in the ranks of the unemployed and many other of our fellow citizens are underemployed having endured furloughs, benefit cuts and hour reductions.

Let us unleash the entrepreneurial spirit and ingenuity of the private sector again. Let's create a climate with reasonable levels of regulation and taxation that encourages private investment in our workforce. We should not punish the very people we need to help grow our state.

We must grow this economy and send a clear message that Iowa is a destination for all those who wish to find success and realize their dreams.

Senate Republicans intend to make this session about promoting private sector job creation, getting our fiscal house in order, and providing real relief for taxpayers.

For the future of Iowa, our children and grandchildren, I pray there be bi-partisan support.

However, we will certainly be asked work on other important endeavors. Challenges always exist in education, health care, energy, agriculture and with our natural resources. We must do better in providing oversight and never stop trying to make our government more open and transparent.

We must also challenge ourselves to guarantee ample public safety and ensure that we have roads and infrastructure that are safe, reliable and capable of supporting the Iowa economy of the future.

We, as elected officials, have been granted an incredible authority to set policy and represent the people of this state. As individuals, we are here to serve as the voice and vote of our constituents in our districts but together we must work for the betterment of all.

Senate Republicans are excited about the weeks and months ahead. We are eager to work with Governor Branstad, Lieutenant Governor Reynolds and our colleagues across the rotunda in the House of Representatives. We graciously extend our hand to any of our colleagues across the aisle that are ready to join with us in renewing the boundless future embodied in all 99 counties.

There are 48 – soon to be 50 of us in this chamber – and together we represent the over three million Iowans that call our beautiful state home. Every Iowan is unique and special but we all are looking for similar things: a better life and jobs for our family, good schools and safe communities for our children and a government that lives within its means, promotes liberty, and fosters opportunity.

Iowans are blessed with common sense, are hardworking, frugal and optimistic about the future. They care about their communities, their schools and their neighbors around them. Our people are smart, they love this state and they want what is best for their families. This sense of independence, community, and self-sufficiency is the bedrock and lifeblood of this great state.

Mr. President, these very Iowans sent a strong message just a few short weeks ago. This is a new day and a new era for this body and this state. It is time to seize this opportunity and embrace it fully.

Let us work closely together every day we are here to offer a more optimistic, hopeful and prosperous future for them and their families.

I want to leave you with two last things: may our work here in this chamber make the citizens back home satisfied and may each of us always be proud to be an Iowan.

Thank you very much.

REMARKS BY THE MAJORITY LEADER

Senator Gronstal addressed the Senate as follows:

Thank you, Mr. President.

I want to welcome everyone to the start of the 84th General Assembly.

We are all troubled today by the senseless shooting in Arizona.

Twenty Arizona residents were injured or killed, many of whom were simply going to the supermarket or hoping to talk with their Congresswoman.

The six people killed were:

Christina-Taylor Green: a 9-year-old just elected to her school council who wanted to meet her congresswoman.

Gabe Zimmerman: A 30-year-old member of Congresswoman Gifford's staff. Zimmerman was the Director of Community Outreach and he organized the event at the Supermarket.

John M. Roll: A widely respected federal judge.

Phyllis Schneck: A 79-year-old great-grandmother.

Dorothy Morris: A 76-year-old retiree.

An elected representative was gunned down while doing what each of us does every day: Listening to the hopes, the questions, and the suggestions of our neighbors, friends, and other constituents.

U.S. House Speaker John Boehner said yesterday that "an attack on one who serves is an attack on all who serve."

He also said that "this inhuman act should not and will not deter us from our calling to represent our constituents and to fulfill our oaths of office. No act, no matter how heinous, must be allowed to stop us from our duty."

So, today, the 2011 session begins in a more somber moment than usual... but with a renewed sense of our responsibility to our constituents, our state and our nation.

With that in mind today, instead of the usual opening day speech with reflections about the past and predictions about the future, I want to address a single group that is critical to our state's recovery from the worst recession since World War II: Iowa's small business owners and their employees.

I'll let some of them speak first. Here are a few quotes from the dozens of letters I've received urging me to support existing small business partnerships with local community colleges, partnerships that receive significant funding from the state of Iowa.

A business owner in Oelwein wrote: "In these challenging economic times, we especially appreciate your understanding of the crucial role that community colleges play in the training of a skilled workforce and in the economic development of the state of Iowa..... Being in the biotechnology industry, a skilled work force is paramount. Our facility has seen dramatic interest from displaced workers from within the region. Our partnership with Northeast Iowa Community College allows us to hire local people and train, or retrain, them to the level required within our facility.”

A business owner in Dubuque wrote: “Northeast Iowa Community College has been an outstanding resource for providing skilled employees and training current employees..... As our workforce gets older and manufacturing technologies continue to evolve, it is essential that we can turn to our community colleges for the training and retraining of our workforce... Thank you again for supporting our regional community college and I hope for your continued support in the future.

A company president praised the training for advanced welding, engine rebuilding and other skills that are available at Iowa Valley Community College. He stated: “In these hard economic times, our core workforce is the ‘non-traditional student’ and we believe is the backbone of industry in rural Iowa! These programs have helped train, develop and support the skilled workers we currently employ and hope to employ in the future. This extension of community college into the work environment is key to developing and retaining a stable and educated workforce in rural Iowa.”

These state-supported partnerships between small business and Iowa’s community colleges are essential but they aren’t the whole story when it comes to improving Iowa’s business climate. While a state legislator, I’ve directly asked hundreds of small business owners and their employees from every corner of Iowa about how we can best improve Iowa’s business climate.

It’s not an easy question. And you won’t be surprised to hear that small business owners have given me different answers about what exactly are the key elements making up our state’s business climate.

Is it the work ethic of Iowans? Is it our first-class education system? Is it the job training opportunities at our community colleges? Is it our cultural and recreational opportunities? Is it our tax system?

Of course, we all know our business climate encompasses all those elements...and more.

But one thing small business owners and their employees all pretty much agree on is that what the Iowa Legislature does during the 2011 session will affect – positively or negatively – the state’s business climate.

I’ve been listening and I’m hearing them say loud and clear that we need to stay focused, focused on the economy. We need to stay focused because...

What we argue about...

What the news media headlines say about what we are doing here and the legislation we pass, and...

What people in our local coffee shops say about what we do this session... will all send a powerful message to small business owners, workers, entrepreneurs and business leaders. These folks really want to know just one thing about the 2011 session and here it is:

Are legislators serious about helping Iowans recover from the worst recession in more than 50 years?

Are we REALLY SERIOUS? Are we going to continue to lay the foundation for an economic recovery that touches every county, community and every neighborhood in our state?

Or are we going to throw up our hands and take the easy way. Are we going to waste our time arguing about the “flavor of the month”? Will we waste our time on hot button bickering that ignores the everyday, paycheck-to-paycheck issues of Iowa employers, and their hard-working employees?

Iowa business owners know that the 2010 campaign has ended and that it's time for governing.

The voters elected a Republican Governor, put Republicans in charge of the Iowa House, and kept a Democratic majority in the Iowa Senate.

That means that we have a shared responsibility to move our state forward.

Helping grow the economy and helping working Iowa families means the Senate and House MUST consider legislation to strengthen small businesses and encourage job creation on Main Street, not Wall Street.

Helping grow the economy, and helping working Iowa families, means the Senate and House must continue to expand Iowa's clean energy economy, a source of good wages and economic advantage.... now and into the future.

Helping grow the economy and helping working Iowa families means taking steps to protect our quality of life. This includes ensuring that EVERY Iowa child has access to early childhood education and to affordable health care coverage. We will not fail to fund Iowa's future on our watch.

Helping grow the economy and helping working Iowa families means continuing to reform, downsize and streamline state government. We took giant steps during the 2010 session. Those steps made it possible to balance the state budget without raising taxes. We will do more in 2011.

This is a bold agenda.... but it can be accomplished if Democrats and Republicans listen to their constituents and work together for the next four months.

Colleagues, I assure you that Iowans, especially Iowa's small business owners and employers, are paying attention. That's why I'm asking every Senator and Representative, Democrat and Republican, newcomers and veteran legislators alike, to join me in making a pledge to all of Iowa's small business owners and their employees:

"...We, the members of the Iowa Legislature, pledge to work with ANYONE who has a good idea for helping Iowans recover from the recession and we commit ourselves to staying focused on doing everything possible to help Iowa recover and prosper once again."

As the leader of the Iowa Senate, that's my pledge to you, to all Iowans and especially to Iowa's small business owners and employees.

Thank you.

SECOND CALENDAR DAY
SECOND SESSION DAY

Senate Chamber
Des Moines, Iowa, Tuesday, January 11, 2011

The Senate met in regular session at 9:05 a.m., President Kibbie presiding.

Prayer was offered by Dennis St. Lawrence, pastor of the Grace Baptist Church in Chariton, Iowa. He was the guest of Senator McKinley.

The Journal of Monday, January 10, 2011, was approved.

COMMITTEE FROM THE HOUSE

A committee from the House appeared and announced that the House was ready to receive the Senate in joint convention.

In accordance with House Concurrent Resolution 1, duly adopted, the Senate proceeded to the House chamber under the direction of the Secretary of the Senate and the Sergeant-at-Arms.

The Senate stood at ease at 9:09 a.m. until the fall of the gavel for the purpose of party caucuses.

The Senate resumed session at 9:45 a.m., President Kibbie presiding.

JOINT CONVENTION

The joint convention convened at 9:50 a.m., President Kibbie presiding.

Senator Gronstal moved that the roll call be dispensed with and that the President of the joint convention be authorized to declare a quorum present, which motion prevailed by a voice vote.

President Kibbie declared a quorum present and the joint convention duly organized.

Senator Gronstal moved that a committee of six, three members from the Senate and three members from the House, be appointed to notify Governor Chester J. Culver that the joint convention was ready to receive him.

The motion prevailed by a voice vote, and the Chair announced the appointment of Senators Dearden, Horn, and Anderson on the part of the Senate, and Representatives Pettengill, Baltimore, and Kajtazovic on the part of the House.

Secretary of State Matt Schultz, Secretary of Agriculture Bill Northey, Auditor of State David A. Vaudt, and Attorney General Tom Miller were escorted into the House chamber.

The Chief Justice and the Justices of the Supreme Court and the Chief Judge and the Judges of the Court of Appeals were escorted into the House chamber.

Lieutenant Governor Patty Judge was escorted into the House chamber.

Mari Culver, the Governor's wife, and their children, Clare and John, were escorted into the House chamber.

The committee waited upon Governor Chester J. Culver and escorted him to the Speaker's station.

President Kibbie presented Governor Chester J. Culver, who delivered the following Condition of the State Address:

Members of the General Assembly, President Kibbie, Speaker Paulsen, Leaders: Gronstal, Upmeyer, McCarthy and McKinley, thank you for the opportunity to address this joint session of the Legislature.

To my fellow statewide elected officials, members of the Iowa Supreme Court and Iowa Court of Appeals, thank you for being here this morning.

I want to congratulate the newly elected legislators and statewide officials, including Governor-elect Branstad and Lt. Governor-elect Reynolds, on your victory. I wish you Godspeed and good luck in the future.

To members of our Board of Regents, including President Miles, and University Presidents Mason, Geoffrey and Allen, I want to say it's been a pleasure to work with you. It's fair to say that no state in the nation enjoys the leadership and recognition that our three outstanding public universities do. The same is true for the leadership of our community colleges and private colleges.

As the commander in chief of the Iowa National Guard, I would like to acknowledge the outstanding leadership of Adjutant General Tim Orr, and thank the men and women who wear the uniform.

We are now in the midst of the largest single overseas deployment of Guard troops since World War Two. 3,100 of our brave fighting men and women are currently deployed in Afghanistan.

Sadly, during the last decade, 77 Iowans have given the ultimate sacrifice in Iraq and Afghanistan. Hundreds more also have been injured. We honor their sacrifice today and I ask you to always keep our military families in your thoughts and prayers.

I am often inspired by the words of one of my heroes, President John F. Kennedy, who said, "The greatest tribute is not to utter words, but to live by them."

That's why I am so proud last year Iowa became the first state in America to pass the top ten recommendations from the U.S. Department of Defense to support our troops, their families, and our veterans.

One of the highlights of my term was having the opportunity to visit and spend time with our troops, in Iraq, Kosovo, and at Camp Ripley in Minnesota, during pre-deployment training.

Finally, what a tremendous honor for me, to formally recognize Iowa's own Staff Sgt. Salvatore Giunta after he was awarded the Medal of Honor.

So, we've kept our promises to our brave men and women in uniform and our state is stronger for it.

I stand before you, for the last time, entrusted by the constitution with the duty of updating you about the condition of our state. As you can imagine, I do so today with a broad range of emotions.

First of all, I am confident our administration has left the state in a better position than we found it. In fact, last fall Iowa was acknowledged in a national publication as the 3rd best run state in the nation.

So, I am happy to report the condition of our state is strong today, and we are well-positioned for growth, greatness and prosperity tomorrow.

This is especially true when it comes to renewable energy, our children, new 21st Century jobs, and disaster recovery.

Today, Iowa is number one in the nation in renewable energy. We now generate 20 percent of our power from renewable sources, up from just 5 percent four years ago.

With the help of our private sector partners, including MidAmerican and Alliant Energy, in the past four years we've built 40 wind farms. We're one of only 2 states manufacturing wind towers, turbines and blades, the three component parts of a windmill. And, more than 200 Iowa small businesses are now employing thousands of people in the wind energy supply chain.

We have more than 4,700 windmills operating across the state, enough to power more than 1 million homes. And, exciting new transmission plans are now in place to build out our electric grid. This will allow Iowa to one day sell excess power to cities like Chicago. So, we have accomplished our goal of becoming the renewable energy capital of the United States.

One of the tools we used to accomplish this goal is the Iowa Power Fund. It has allowed Iowa to become the silicon prairie of the Midwest. To date, we've invested more than a quarter of a billion dollars, in public and private funds, into 40 cutting edge 2nd and 3rd generation research and development projects. These breakthrough technologies and solutions will help Iowa secure its renewable energy future.

To Chairman Fred Hubbell and the members of the Iowa Power Fund Board, and to Roya Stanley, Director at the Office of Energy Independence, I salute and thank you for your visionary work.

We've also helped increase production of biofuels statewide by supporting and expanding tax credits for biodiesel, ethanol and E-85 at the federal and state level. And, this year, as Chairman of the National Governor's Biofuels coalition, we successfully pushed for an E-15 waiver from the Environmental Protection Agency. This will allow Iowa to produce millions more gallons of ethanol annually and keep us on a pathway toward energy independence.

When it comes to investing in Iowa's children, we also have made great progress. Today, we are number one in the nation in children's health insurance. No state has done more to cover kids in the last four years. We've added 58,000 kids to the rolls, and as a result 99 percent of Iowa's children are now getting basic health care services.

In addition, we are leading the nation in expanding access to preschool. During the last three years alone, 23,000 additional children have been enrolled in early childhood education programs. As a result, 90 percent of 4 year olds now have the opportunity to attend a quality preschool program, up from just 5 percent a few years ago.

We've also had a clear and consistent focus on creating new 21st Century green-collar and information technology jobs. Our state is now home to more than 8,000 green-collar jobs, and 8 new wind energy companies are now operating in Iowa. In addition, three international information technology companies, Google, Microsoft and IBM, have created nearly 2,000 new IT jobs in the last 3 years.

And, thanks to our Department of Economic Development and its board of directors, we've partnered successfully with 280 businesses that have agreed to create or retain a total of 28,000 good-paying Iowa jobs.

In addition, our workforce development efforts have allowed for real progress in coordinating the needs of our employers with the skills of our workers. Community college enrollment is at an all-time high and our successful community college job training and worker retraining programs have allowed us to help more than 100,000 Iowans find a job.

So, our job creation and workforce development efforts are now paying big dividends. In fact, our unemployment rate is now at 6.6 percent, or 33 percent below than the national average, and the 7th lowest in the nation.

As a result, Iowa has now regained more than a third of the jobs it lost during the recession and just last week it was reported that we're now on track to reach pre-recession employment levels by the third quarter of 2012.

These efforts have allowed Iowa to lead the country out of the recession. 13 of our 19 largest companies just reported double-digit stock gains in 2010, and we are the only state in the nation to post 14 consecutive months of sustained economic growth. These positive signs, coupled with our $950 million surplus, clearly show the strength of Iowa's economy.

You know, these last four years have been challenging times for all of us. Together, we've faced unprecedented natural disasters. We've seen the destruction of tornadoes and floods that killed and injured so many in communities across Iowa in 2008, and again in 2010.

The images from places like Cedar Rapids, New Hartford, Palo, Coralville, Waterloo, Parkersburg, Cedar Falls and Oakville, told the story of the damage and devastation better than any words ever could.

But, I have never been more proud of Iowans. We showed the best of Iowa in the worst of times. Despite tough times, we've come together, to build the foundation for a better, stronger, and more resilient state — one that is now well on its way to a full and complete recovery.

We stood together, shoulder to shoulder, united as one, committed to rebuilding our state from our worst natural disaster ever. And, together we've helped ease the pain for those who lost so much.

To date, we've secured more than $5 billion in state and federal funds for recovery, rebuilding and flood mitigation efforts. This includes $1 billion for Linn County alone. I would like to thank Retired Lt. General Ron Dardis and the entire Rebuild Iowa Office for their tireless work on flood recovery.

As a result of our efforts, we're rebuilding Iowa in a stronger, safer and more sustainable way. Together with the help of legislators from flood-impacted communities, we created the Iowa Jobs and Infrastructure Initiative, or I-JOBS. This has allowed us to provide funds totaling $330 million for nearly 100 separate flood recovery projects in 37 flood-affected counties.

These include: new fire stations in Elkader and Charles City; a new public library and Czech and Slovak Museum in Cedar Rapids; replacing 10 buildings at the University of Iowa including Hancher Auditorium; and a new flood wall that will now protect 200 small business owners along the Coralville strip.

So, we've accomplished a great deal together and moved our state forward these last four years, despite governing through some very challenging times.

I am very proud of our record and I am deeply grateful to have had the opportunity to serve as the 40th Governor of Iowa. I would like to thank the people of Iowa for giving me this enormous privilege.

Looking back, one of the things I'm most proud of is that we kept the promises we made to Iowans. We did what we said we were going to do.

We raised the minimum wage. Increased teacher pay. Made our public places smoke-free. Invested $100 million to improve water quality. Lifted the ban on stem cell research. Protected civil rights: at home, in the workplace and for students in schools. We balanced the budget four years in a row, and earned a triple-A bond rating, the highest possible, which only a handful of states can claim.

In addition, we tackled racial disparity in sentencing and youth detention. Appointed a record number of women and minorities to boards and commissions. Passed the first in the nation minority impact law. And stood tall to protect the constitutional rights of all Iowans regardless of race, gender or sexual orientation.

Finally, we reduced state spending. Reformed and reorganized government. Streamlined and consolidated operations. Offered early retirement to 2,200 state employees. Reduced employee health care costs by $20 million. Implemented strategic purchasing. Reduced our state vehicle fleet. And eliminated redundant email and information technology services.

All of these important reform measures have helped us create a record $950 million surplus, will save us more than $300 million annually, and put us closer to the smaller, smarter and more efficient government taxpayers deserve.

The reason our record of accomplishment was possible and the condition of our state is strong is because I had the privilege of working each day with extraordinary Iowans, and the list of people I want to thank is long.

First and foremost, I want to thank my wife, Mari, and my entire family, including my parents, siblings and relatives, for their constant and unwavering love and support.

I am very proud of the fact Mari has been one of the state's leading advocates for at-risk women and children. In fact, she was recently recognized as the 2010 "advocate of the year" by Children and Family Services of Iowa.

So, Mari has been a great First Lady, and an incredible mother to our two children, of whom we are both so proud. Please join me in thanking the first lady for her service, and welcoming our children, John and Clare, to the chamber.

I also want to extend a huge thank-you to Iowa's Lt. Governor, Patty Judge. Patty has been the best partner a Governor could have. She's served as an important adviser on matters big and small. And she's been an excellent oversight executive for the state's homeland security and emergency management agencies.

The State of Iowa is a better place because of Patty Judge's more than 20 years of public service, as a State Senator from Albia, the first woman elected Secretary of Agriculture and Lt. Governor. Please join me in thanking Lt. Governor Judge.

Additionally, I want to thank my chief of staff, Jim Larew, Deputy Chief of Staff Joni Klaassen, and the directors of our state's 38 departments and agencies. These individuals showed dedication to our cause and worked hard every day to move this state forward.

I want to say thank-you to each of you for your outstanding public service. Your expertise, advice and input have been invaluable.

I also have been blessed with the opportunity to work every day with a great team of individuals in the Governor's and Lt. Governor's office, along with thousands of exceptionally talented state employees across Iowa.

They include state troopers who put their lives on the line every day to protect us; snowplow drivers who clear our highways after dangerous winter storms; corrections officers who protect our communities from our most dangerous criminals; nurses at the University of Iowa hospitals who take care of our loved ones; the cafeteria staff who will serve many of us lunch today, and the custodians, who come in every night to keep this Capitol building one of the most beautiful in the nation.

So, to every member of our state government team, I want to thank you for your professionalism. You make certain state government provides the kind of service Iowans expect.

Finally, to all members of the General Assembly and leadership on both sides of the aisle, I'd like to say thanks to each of you for being important partners in our efforts to make Iowa an even better place.

So, the condition of our state is strong; we've made the tough decisions; and we've kept our promises to the people of Iowa.

However, despite our progress, our work as a state is never done. For example, this week, the Department of Management is releasing our required biannual report detailing progress on our government reform and reorganization initiative. This report identifies more steps that can be taken, such as improved debt collection, further information technology consolidation and targeted strategic purchasing opportunities.

These steps will help save an additional $84 million this fiscal year. I encourage you to continue these efforts and implement the report's recommendations.

We've also provided the legislature and the new administration with a detailed summary addressing the historic egg recall last summer. This includes five proposed changes in Iowa law that will help improve food safety and employee training standards in the wake of the salmonella outbreak last summer.

These are only two examples of ways in which your legislative action will be necessary. But I have no doubt you will meet these challenges and many others you will face this session head-on.

My fellow Iowans, we've been through a great deal together these past four years. From the worst natural disaster in our state's history, to the biggest economic downturn since the Great Depression, to the H1N1 flu pandemic and the largest troop deployment since World War Two.

I think it's fair to say there's never been a dull moment. I understand very well that these difficult times have taken their toll on the people of Iowa. But, time and time again, together we have successfully overcome these challenges, and I believe we are a better state and a better people for it.

Our resilience is tied directly to our inherent optimism — a belief that things will get better and that our best days are ahead of us. We are also a people of strong faith and character who believe in our Iowa values of hard work, determination, and common sense.

We now stand at a critically important time for Iowa. Our state's direction and destination are up to each of you.

So, I want to encourage you in the clearest possible terms to build on our strengths, especially in the areas of renewable energy, investing in our children, creating the jobs of the future and completing disaster recovery efforts.

The vision of Iowa we should all stand for and share is not a partisan vision, not a political vision nor a self-serving vision. It's an Iowa vision, one that will move the people of this state forward, one that will always put the people of Iowa first, embrace our dreams, unlock our potential, and improve our quality of life.

May God bless you, and may God bless the people of the great State of Iowa. Thank you.

Governor Chester J. Culver was escorted from the House chamber by the committee previously appointed.

Representative Helland moved that the joint convention be dissolved, which motion prevailed by a voice vote.

Good Morning. Thank you, Speaker Paulsen and President Kibbie for inviting me to address this Assembly today concerning the condition of Iowa's third branch of government. Before I begin this annual report, however, I want to invite all of you to join members of the judicial branch and me for a reception downstairs in our historic courtroom immediately following my remarks.

Seventeen decades have come and gone since Iowa became a territory, then a state, and our tripartite constitutional form of government was created by our forefathers to lead Iowans with hope and confidence into an uncertain future. The hope then, as it remains today, was this government would allow each decade to move forward to a brighter future for all Iowans. The pursuit of this hope is collectively told by the many cases that have emerged from our courthouses over the decades—cases that have become pieces of the mosaic of today's understanding of justice and equality promised by our forefathers in our constitution. These celebrated stories tell the history of our struggles to achieve our promised goals, and are familiar to many. But, other stories, not as grand and recognized, but just as important, tell why our judicial system has worked so well to serve Iowans. Let me just briefly tell you one such story.

Last fall I stopped by the Winneshiek County Clerk of Court office. I met with the clerk of court and her three-person staff, including Kim Glock. Kim told me he began working in the office in 1983, and has considered it to be an honor to be a part of Iowa's system of justice. Over the years, he observed the duties of the office have skyrocketed, and the number of cases to process have soared. Yet, the number of employees in the office has remained the same as today. This has required the staff to regularly come to work early, work late into the day, and spend time at the office on weekends. Now, don't get me wrong, his words were not spoken to complain. He only feared the crushing workload might lead to mistakes. His concern was not for himself, but for the people who use and depend on the courts and for the system of justice itself.

In truth, this simple story can likely be found in every courthouse across Iowa. Our employees—from judges, magistrates, court reporters, juvenile court offices, clerks, court attendants, law clerks, administrators, to other staff—believe in what they do and do it well. As with Kim Glock, they are honored to serve the public, and they do their work in a way that could not honor the people's system of justice more.

The story of our ability to deliver justice to Iowans over the decades—the story of our people—shows our job will be done regardless of the cards we are dealt. But, there is no doubt our mission, more and more, is becoming harder and harder to achieve. I too fear, as Kim Glock does, that the deep cuts in our resources are beginning to cause damage to our system of justice. Let me explain beginning with what I observe to be a decline in access to justice.

Access to Justice

Iowans cannot have the hope of justice without having access to justice. The grim reality is that more and more Iowans with legal problems are forced to wait too long for their day in court. These problems are troublesome to litigants and shake people's confidence in our government. These problems result from a decade of fiscal austerity coupled with Iowans' growing demands for court services.

This situation is not new. It has been raised in the past. Thankfully, you and the governor responded to our concerns last year and provided sufficient funds to prevent further cuts, layoffs, and furloughs. For this action, we are grateful. Like a thumb in the dike, however, this action was merely a temporary fix. It did not halt the continued erosion of court services. The situation grows worse day-by-day.

For example, in the past year, the number of clerk of court offices forced to operate on a part-time basis increased from 26 to 30. Staff reductions are so severe that at times some of these offices must close for business without notice due to unanticipated employee absence. The remaining clerk of court offices operate a full day, but are closed to the public for four hours a week to give employees periods of uninterrupted time to pare down the backlog of work. In addition, it has become increasingly difficult for our juvenile court officers to give troubled children the close, personal attention they need. Also, judicial rulings are delayed because of a lack of clerical support and court reporters.

I will briefly review how we arrived at this critical juncture.

From 2001 through 2009, in response to the state's fiscal problems, the judicial branch like most components of state government had to cut its budget. During those years, the judicial branch cut its budget five times—and each time the cuts were deep. Unlike many state agencies, nearly all of our operating costs are for people—employees and judges. This means that budget cuts almost always require further reductions in our workforce. The end result: our staffing levels have dropped a staggering 17% in the last decade.

Today, Iowa's court system operates with a smaller workforce than it had in 1987. In contrast, over the same period, the total number of legal actions brought by Iowans and Iowa businesses has nearly doubled. In short, Iowa's courts are overrun with work, and Iowans are paying the price with reduced access to justice.

Our ability to deliver court services and resolve litigation to the extent that we do is a tribute to the strong work ethic and indomitable spirit of our judges, magistrates, and court staff. Unfortunately, the admirable efforts of our judges and employees cannot totally shield Iowans from the effects of the past decade of budget cuts.

EDMS and Civil Justice Reform

As we struggle with these obstacles, we continue to move forward by finding innovative ways to improve access to justice.

We are testing a system for electronic filing and retrieval of documents. This system, which we call EDMS, expands access to justice beyond the courthouse walls. It enables litigants, lawyers, and others to file and access court records online, at any time, night and day. It saves Iowans the cost and inconvenience of traveling to the courthouse to conduct their business. It gives judges access to records as soon as they are filed. If everything goes as planned and we have sufficient resources to move ahead, we should have EDMS fully implemented in five or six years.

In addition, a statewide task force is now studying measures that will allow civil cases to proceed faster and at less expense to litigants. Our Civil Justice Reform Task Force is studying innovations such as dedicated business courts, reforms of discovery procedures, expansion of alternate dispute resolution services, and other potential improvements. We hope to have a road map for civil justice reform and innovation later this year.

We want to provide a legal system that responds to the changing needs of society and the demands of a modern age. In the long run, EDMS and civil justice reform will change how we do our jobs and greatly improve Iowans' access to justice. But these changes alone will not give Iowans all the access to justice and court services they need. These changes will never fill the shoes of court employees who are essential for the effective administration of justice throughout Iowa. At the end of the day, justice requires a personal touch and judgment calls that cannot be attained from a computer terminal, a new procedure, or an Internet connection.

Reasons to Bolster Court Funding

We understand the state's continuing fiscal difficulties and appreciate the tough budget decisions you must make again this year. Even so, there are many reasons to bolster court services through this difficult time.

The recession has placed additional demands on our courts. In the past three years, mortgage foreclosure cases filed in Iowa have increased 17%, debt collection cases have increased 15%, child-in-need-of-assistance cases have increased 23%, and adult civil commitment cases have increased 19%. These legal actions may have a life-altering effect on the Iowans involved. This is not the time to give them ration cards for justice.

In addition, our work has grown in the past few years as a direct result of cuts in services for treating abused and neglected children and troubled youths. The following observations of Juvenile Court Officer Paul Thompson of Marshall County best describe this situation:

"The front end kids are no longer being served, or if they are, not as well. We . . . get these kids later when their problems are more firmly entrenched. . . . The schools and the police look to us for help and we are unable to provide much assistance due to the lack of manpower and funds. Due to funding problems, kids sit in detention or shelter way too long while waiting for appropriate residential treatment. . . . It seems like we are having less success when they come back from placement. The system is certainly broken . . . and the long term effects will show up years down the road."

Similarly, Iowa's fragmented and underfunded mental health system places greater demands on the courts. Because treatment facilities and services are scattered and scarce, court staff in many counties often spend hours on the telephone trying to locate a placement for a person who has been involuntarily committed. These problems coupled with the growth in our civil commitment caseload and our staff reductions call for more resources.

Iowa's economic health provides a third reason for you to provide funds to reinforce court services. Studies in Florida and California suggest that a well-funded court system contributes to the economic well-being of communities. Widespread case delays and closed offices will add to the cost of doing business in this state and add to the uncertainties that inhibit business expansion. A vibrant business community requires a vibrant, fair court system.

We appreciate the continued need for all of government, including the judicial branch, to "share the pain." However, the courts are already stretched painfully thin. I hope we can all agree that Iowans deserve more access to justice than they have now. Our fiscal year 2012 budget request reflects a modest three-year plan to improve Iowans' access to justice. We ask you to give it serious consideration.

I have not detailed the fiscal concerns presented to Iowa's courts as I would, perhaps, under different circumstances, because we now face a challenge of a different nature. I am compelled to address this challenge with you this morning because it threatens to undermine the checks and balances that protect the constitutional rights of all Iowans.

Varnum

When the Iowa Supreme Court decided the Varnum v. Brien case on April 3, 2009, we understood it would receive great attention and be subject to much scrutiny. We worked hard to author a written decision to fully explain our reasoning to all Iowans, and we understand how Iowans could reach differing opinions about this decision. In many ways, the public discourse following any court decision on such a major constitutional question of civil rights is what was expected, if not demanded, by our constitution. This time period is what ultimately gives shape to tomorrow's understanding, and can help differences of opinion to merge. This discourse is not new for Iowa, although I doubt it has ever been so strong. Our court has, many times in the past, decided cases involving civil rights that were quite controversial at the time. Yet, over time, those cases have become a celebrated part of our proud and rich Iowa history of equality for all.

I know not how this debate will end, but I do know our constitution will continue to show us the way, as borne out by our history. The constitutional work of the court on this matter is complete, and the history will be written, one way or the other, by your hand, and ultimately the hand of the people of Iowa. But, to help move forward to write this history, I want to address certain misunderstandings about the role of the court in our government. This discussion is done not just to defend our grand system of justice from misunderstandings that threaten to weaken its very fabric and strength, but it is done also with hope my remarks will help redirect the discourse down the path contemplated by our constitution to help reach the bright and proud future I know we all want.

First, I hope to help us move forward by addressing the concerns some Iowans have about our system for selecting judges.

Merit Selection Fosters Fair and Impartial Courts

Iowa has the best method in the nation to select its judges. This method—known as merit selection—must be maintained today to permit us to move forward to a better future. Let me first briefly explain how the system operates.

Iowa's merit selection system was adopted in 1962 through a constitutional amendment for the purpose of minimizing the influence of politics on the selection of our judges. It works by using an independent commission to screen applicants for judicial office and provide a slate of best-qualified applicants to the governor, who then makes the appointment from this list of nominees. There are local commissions to nominate district judges, and there is a state commission to nominate supreme court justices and judges of the court of appeals. My focus this morning will be on the state commission.

The 15-member State Judicial Nominating Commission is composed of a chair, who is the senior justice of the supreme court other than the chief justice, seven nonlawyer commissioners appointed by the governor and confirmed by the Iowa Senate, and seven lawyer commissioners elected by lawyers licensed to practice law in Iowa. Importantly, the Iowa Constitution requires that all commission members be chosen "without regard to political affiliation." Likewise, the law specifically requires the commissioners to choose nominees "without regard to political affiliation."

I understand the nonpartisan nature of the state commission has been questioned at times, most notably when the political makeup of the membership shifts to a majority of Democrats or a majority of Republicans. This shift does occur over time, but it is much less likely the result of the selection of lawyers to the commission, than nonlawyers. Lawyer members are selected by a statewide vote of all practicing lawyers in the state by a ballot that does not name the political party affiliation of the slate of candidates. Lawyers are selected entirely through a nonpartisan election process. The nonlawyers on the commission are selected by the governor, but even if governors may predominantly appoint members to the commission that share his or her party affiliation, this does not mean the appointments are based on party affiliation. I believe this body came to the same understanding in 1986 when Democrats in this chamber were troubled by the apparent Republican dominance of the commission and proposed legislation to require political balance on all the judicial commissions. This approach was rejected, and the selection process remains as it has been for nearly 50 years.

The more important point is that the political affiliation of a commissioner as a Democrat or Republican does not compromise the ability of that person to be dedicated and conscientious about selecting the best and most qualified individuals to serve as judges in our state. Commissioners are Iowans from all walks of life, who care deeply about good government and maintaining Iowa's fair and impartial courts. Over the years, Iowans who have served as commissioners have faithfully fulfilled their duties to the people of Iowa. They have focused on selecting the most qualified nominees. I have had the privilege of serving as the chair of the commission in recent years, and I have seen Democrats, Republicans, and Independents work together to fulfill their duty again and again in nominating the best candidates for vacancies on the appellate courts.

Don Decker, a Ft. Dodge businessman and long-time Republican, who served on the state judicial nominating commission in the mid-1990s, recently told me that, when it came to selecting a slate of nominees for a judicial position, he "rooted for the home team" but always voted for the most qualified applicants regardless of their party affiliation. This honest assessment captures the reason our process has worked so well for so long.

In the final analysis, what really matters is the commitment of each commissioner and the governor to the spirit of merit selection and the goal of maintaining Iowa's fair and impartial courts. Importantly, the selection system has been a true success. For the past decade, surveys conducted for the United States Chamber of Commerce have consistently ranked Iowa judges as among the most fair and impartial in the country. Last year, Iowa's judges ranked fourth in the nation. In addition, recent academic studies show that the Iowa Supreme Court has grown to be one of the most influential state supreme courts in the country. These studies rank Iowa fourth in the nation in occasions when other supreme courts rely on our decisions to make their decisions. Our fair and impartial courts are a model of good government, which I am confident all Iowans want. Yet, as we move forward, we should not resist changes in the system that would help reinforce public confidence in it.

Building Public Confidence in Commissions: Enhancements

I believe public confidence in the merit selection system can be enhanced if the nominating commission is made more transparent. The court is pleased the state judicial nominating commission has decided to allow the public to observe its interviews of applicants later this month. This is a positive step.

In addition to opening interviews to the public, we recommend that the state and district nominating commissions: adopt uniform rules of procedure, adopt a code of ethics, and adopt procedures for the release of more information to the public. Shining more light on the nominating process will show that the commissions do indeed operate as designed, by selecting nominees based upon their professional qualifications and without regard to politics or affiliations.

Now I turn to another misunderstanding relating to the function of the courts. Two important principles governing the role of courts are the subject of this misunderstanding. The first is the idea that judges, like politicians, should make decisions according to public opinion or consistent with “the will of the majority.”

Principle #1: Courts Serve the People by Serving the Rule of Law

In our government, courts are legal institutions—not political institutions. When a person comes before a judge, that person expects the judge to be neutral and to render a ruling based upon the proven facts of the case and applicable legal principles—not based upon public opinion. Public opinion often shifts. The will of the people followed by courts is the will expressed in our law as constrained by the written principles in the constitution. If this were any other way, “why have a constitution?” When asked, judges must apply these principles according to law, equally to all. This principle is captured in the judicial oath of office. It is also written into our code of ethics, modeled after national standards, that all judges must make decisions without being “swayed by public clamor or fear of criticism.” If it were otherwise, the rule of law would surely be compromised, as would our constitution.

Unlike our political institutions, courts serve the law, not the interests of constituents. Courts serve the law, not the demands of special interest groups. Courts serve the law, not the electorate’s reaction to a particular decision. By serving the rule of law, courts protect the civil, political, economic, and social rights of all citizens. Chief Justice William Rehnquist called the independence that allows judges to serve the law “the crown jewel of our system of justice.” I hope we can go forward with the same understanding.

Principle #2: Upholding the Constitution is the Most Important Role of Courts

The next principle I wish to address is the authority and duty of courts to uphold the constitution by declaring statutes or parts of statutes invalid if found to violate the constitution. Iowa’s constitution declares that all laws contrary to the constitution are void. Clearly, our founders anticipated the possibility that the legislature could, at times, approve laws that might conflict with the constitution. Yet, at all times, they made it clear that the words used in the constitution to define our rights constrain all laws that follow.

Upholding the constitution is the most important function of courts. The duty of courts to review the constitutionality of laws is known as judicial review and is one of our most basic responsibilities. Judicial review has been recognized as the responsibility of courts in this country for well over two hundred years. This duty has been well documented and has played an important role in our country throughout its history.

Alexander Hamilton was one of three authors of The Federalist Papers, which is considered one of the best explanations of the Constitution and the intent of its framers. In one of the essays, Federalist 78, written in the 1780s to help Americans understand the new proposed constitution, Hamilton wrote: “The courts were designed to be an intermediate body between the people and the legislature, . . . to keep the latter within the limits assigned to their authority. The interpretation of the laws is within the proper and peculiar province of courts.”

Any question about the power of courts to review the constitutionality of a statute was promptly settled in 1803 by the United States Supreme Court. In the landmark case Marbury vs. Madison, the Court found a portion of a federal law, the Judiciary Act of 1789, unconstitutional, and thus, invalid. As Chief Justice John Marshall explained in Marbury: “It is emphatically the province of the judicial branch to say what the law is . . .” Marshall referred to judicial review as “the essence of judicial duty.”

The same principle holds true in Iowa. In 1849, the Iowa Supreme Court issued its first decision that protected the constitutional rights of an Iowan by invalidating a statute enacted by the legislature. In this case, the court stated it was “a settled principle” in this country that courts have the power, “as a matter of right and duty, to declare every act of the legislature made in violation of the constitution, or any provision of it, null and void.” This is the very duty the court exercised in the Varnum decision.

Judicial review is so commonplace that, since 1846, litigants in Iowa in roughly 1000 cases have asked the Iowa Supreme Court to protect their constitutional rights by invalidating a state law. During this same time, the court has declared acts of the legislature unconstitutional in over 150 cases. Unlike the Varnum decision, however, most of these court decisions have received little attention. But, that lack of attention does not diminish the strength and importance of the principle at stake.

Federal court cases exercising judicial review also provide good examples of the important and accepted role of judicial review because they typically attract more public attention. For instance, most of you have probably heard of the 1954 U.S. Supreme Court case, Brown v. Board of Education, in which the Court struck down state-sanctioned segregated schools as a violation of the equal protection clause. You may also be familiar with the more recent U.S. Supreme Court case known as Citizens United in which the Court invalidated a federal campaign finance law to protect the first amendment rights of corporations. In both cases, the Court found that particular acts of the legislative branch violated the Constitution, and these acts were voided by the Court. In both cases, the Court performed its duty under the Constitution.

In short, historical evidence and legal precedents support the authority of courts to invalidate statutes that violate the constitution. I hope my remarks this morning will lead to a more accurate and complete understanding of the court’s proper constitutional role.

This point brings me to another misconception about the courts: the notion that the court should suspend its ruling to give the legislature time to act on an unconstitutional statute.

As far back as 1883, the Iowa Supreme Court made it clear that even unpopular rulings could not simply be suspended in time to await any future legislative action. In its decision, the court said that, if courts could be coerced by popular majorities to disregard the constitution any point in time, “constitutions would become mere ropes of sand and there would be an end . . . constitutional freedom.”

Promoting Understanding about the Work of Courts

Lastly, it is my hope that we can move forward with a shared commitment for a greater understanding of our courts and their important role in maintaining our democracy. This understanding can best be achieved by making our courts even more transparent. I am confident the more people of Iowa see their court system operate, the more the public will view the court system with confidence.

In truth, courts adopted an openness standard long before the word “transparency” surfaced in our lexicon. As a general proposition, our courthouse doors and hearings have always been open to the public. Judges have always taken the time to explain court decisions in writing. Yet, the circumstances of the last few months have shown that this is the time to expand our openness even more.

Iowa has been a leader in making the work of courts more transparent. Iowa was one of the first jurisdictions in the country to allow cameras into courtrooms. More recently, we have developed a judicial branch website to help inform the public of our work. This website even allows schools, service groups, and others to make online requests for justices and judges to come into your communities to speak. The website is user friendly, informative, and has been named one of the best court websites in the nation. It is also used for us to receive input on proposed changes in the rules governing court procedures. Up until a year ago, the website also provided a video cast of supreme court proceedings, but this procedure was a victim of the budget cuts. Nevertheless, we can do more to open the work of the courts to the people.

So today I'm pleased to announce the Iowa Supreme Court plans to hold some of its oral arguments in communities across Iowa. This will allow interested citizens an opportunity to watch the court proceedings, and the proceedings can be used as a teaching tool for our youth. We will also consider other ways to open our work to the public, and we look forward to maintaining a court system that Iowans will always view with confidence and respect.

In the end, we all need to get to know each other better. If we can do this, we will understand each other better and will be able to forge a brighter future for all of us.

Conclusion: Let Us Go Forward with a New Understanding

So, let us go forward with a new understanding—a new understanding of the courts and a new understanding of the direction that will lead to a better and brighter future, for all Iowans. Let us go forward to continue to write our history through the stories of the people of Iowa in a way that our children and their children will look back on with pride, the same pride with which we look back on today at the work of those who have preceded us. Let us go forward with the courage found in our past and the courage of the convictions of our constitution. Let us go forward with greater openness, not only in the way we all do our work, but in what we know and understand today about each other and the world around us. Let us also go forward with a new understanding that rhetoric does have meaning, and with an understanding that rhetoric must therefore be responsible.

I began my remarks by mentioning stories of our past and those of today—one story that explains the strength of our judicial operation, and those celebrated stories that operate to create our greatness. All of these stories define our past, empower us today, and give us promise for tomorrow. So, let me end by asking all branches of government, and all people, to go forward, together, to transform the promise given to us into our proud legacy. The story that is not yet told is our story. Let us go forward to write our untold story with a greater understanding of ourselves, and all Iowans.

General and Mrs. Branstad, Governor Ray, Chief Justice Cady, my colleagues in the General Assembly, elected officials, distinguished guests, family, friends and fellow Iowans.

Thank you for being here this morning.

Senator Danielson, thank you for that kind introduction.

I stand here today as a proud but humble southern Iowa girl. Daughter of a factory worker and small farmer, a quiet but strong mother, parents who raised me knowing the importance of faith and family, to always tell the truth, and with a deep regard for personal responsibility. I stand here as your Lieutenant Governor, full of pride and anticipation, and eager to serve the people of this great state.

To my parents, Charles and Audrey thank you for your love, encouragement, never ending support and for instilling in us the American Dream – that we could do anything, be anybody. For teaching us to treat people with respect, work hard and believe in ourselves; that if we do that, all things are possible

To my husband, Kevin, thank you for being the most loving and understanding person in my life, and for being an amazing father and role model to our daughters, Nicole, Jen and Jessica. Through the tough times and with each NEW challenge, guided by our faith each of you has been my source of strength. Thanks for keeping me grounded and real; for believing in me; for the many sacrifices; and for the endless encouragement that has led to this day.

To my mother-in-law, Ramona, who this December lost her battle with cancer. A wife and mother who became a widow at age 35 with 6 young children to raise by herself on the farm. Thank you for raising a patient, thoughtful, sometimes stubborn son, who is a loving and caring husband, dad and grandpa.

Through your courage, strength, giving nature, dignity and faith you gave us a wonderful example of how to live life.

Thank you to all the county treasurers, Republican and Democrat, across the state – my second family – for your friendship, support and for setting a great example of what public servants can accomplish when they embrace change, focus on service and work together.

And, to you, Governor Branstad, thank you for the confidence you have shown in me to serve as your lieutenant governor. You are an inspiration to me and to all who serve the public, for your selfless devotion to our state. Your leadership, Integrity, love for this state and your tireless work on behalf of others sets a high bar that challenges and motivates not only me but all those around you.

Today, we have before us a new Iowa, new challenges, new hopes and new opportunities. A new Iowa built on our tried and true values.

Values of openness – open people with open hearts,

Values of honesty – honest people doing honest work

Values of caring – caring for each other, our children, parents, neighbors and our communities.

Values of family – The fundamental bedrock of our society, to be strengthened and protected if we are to realize our potential.

Values of Personal Responsibility – Not expecting others to do for us what we can do for ourselves, leading by example.

Those are the values we start with – values passed down from generation to generation by our ancestors who worked the fields, built the towns, started the industry.

Those values remain with us today. They are the foundation (building blocks) of the new Iowa we will shape together.

It begins by listening to you, all Iowans. Because no person, no party, no pundit has a monopoly on good ideas. This is your government.

Together, we will work with you, with the leaders of your communities and neighborhoods to keep our main streets vibrant and open, to promote and market Iowa to the World that in turn will bring jobs and prosperity to every corner of Iowa.

Together, we will redefine the role and structure of government; a limited, transparent, smaller government, which focus on essential services, infrastructure, safety, and quality education, a partner rather than an obstacle in reaching our goals.

Together, we will reshape education. To make sure that from pre-school to the universities you have access to the best education in the world.

This new Iowa will require open minds, a willingness to do things different, to embrace change. We no longer will be able to do things the way we have always done. None of this will be easy. But it is long overdue and it is the right thing to do. It is with great challenges that we find great opportunities.

It can and will be done. We can use technology to both reduce the size of government and deliver services to Iowans more efficiently. We can work together – state and local – public and private – to transform the way we deliver services to Iowans. With a little “out-of-the-box” thinking can stretch our services and better utilize our dollars.

I believe in Iowans and the heart of Iowa is my passion – The families, small communities and neighborhoods, the quality of life that make Iowa such a special place. My focus will be on creating an environment where business owners choose to invest in our workforce and our communities where good jobs can be found all across Iowa. And policies that reinforce family values thus strengthening the family unit, which is the backbone of our state.

But government can only do so much. And often it becomes involved in too much or only when it is too late.

It is up to each of us – as leaders in our families and communities – to step up and do what is right without the expectation of honor or glory.

Let our reward be instead the satisfaction that comes from leaving our children a brighter future a better Iowa.... In the words of Winston Churchill, “We make a living by what we get, but we make a life by what we give.”

And in that same spirit of service I cannot help but recall my visit to the home of the Pender family – Jim and Michelle – of Windsor Heights.

They are the parents of five adopted special needs children. They range in age from 14 to 21. Despite their handicaps, the oldest 4 are all looking forward to their lives as adults.

The youngest – 14 year-old Rachael – has cerebral palsy – the result of a stroke she suffered in the womb because her biological mother used methamphetamines. Rachael can't speak, and moves only with the help of a wheelchair.

I had the opportunity to spend a morning with Rachael and her parents, from waking Rachael, to getting her dressed, fixing her hair, feeding her breakfast, and despite a few challenges with her wheelchair I got her on the school bus. It was a very moving morning and the smile on her face as she boarded the bus will be with me always. Rachael inspires all who come in contact with her by her undaunted spirit.

She inspired me. As her mother Michele said, “She teaches others about life. Her life is different, but like her brothers and sisters, she's no less worthwhile.” It was Rachel's love of life in spite her challenges that really touched my heart.

The Penders don't limit their caring to their children. Whenever anyone elderly or sick needs help, they are the first ones there.

Why do they do it? They'll be the first to tell you they are not special, just as Jim says, "we are doing the best we can with whatever God has chosen to give us to do that day.

My fellow Iowans let us all do the best we can with what God has given us. If we can do that, I have no doubt that Iowa's best days are still ahead of us we will make a difference and will leave Iowa a better place for generations to come.

Thank you! God bless you and the great state of Iowa.

Lieutenant Governor Reynolds introduced the Heartland Youth Choir who performed.

Chief Justice Mark S. Cady administered the oath of office to Governor-elect Terry E. Branstad, assisted by his wife, Chris Branstad.

President Pro Tempore Danielson presented Governor Terry E. Branstad who delivered the following inaugural address:

Madam Lieutenant Governor, Mr. Speaker, Madam and Mr. Leader, Mr. Chief Justice, justices and judges, legislators, elected officials, distinguished guests, relatives and friends.

Senator Danielson, thank you for that introduction.

Even though Governor Culver is not with us today, I want to thank him on behalf of all Iowans for his service.

Leader Upmeyer, let me congratulate you on being the first woman to be elected as a majority leader in the history of our state. We are all proud of you. Your dad, Del, I'm sure is smiling down on us today, proud as can be.

Lieutenant Governor Reynolds, thank you for those inspirational remarks. In you, I think I've finally met my match in energy and passion for Iowa.

I look forward to the day when we can witness the swearing in of our first woman Governor. It is about time.

For the past 15 months, I have traveled our state, from river to river, border to border, from farm to factory, from cafe to office building.

It has been the experience of a lifetime. To reconnect with Iowans at their jobs, schools, places of worship and play. To have a conversation with them about our state, where we are and where we, as a people, want to go.

And what I would like to do today, on this, the occasion of my fifth inaugural as your Governor, is tell you what I learned. To make my humble attempt to distill our collective wisdom into a statement of principles, a new covenant between a state and its people.

This new covenant must have as its polestar the fact that Iowa is an exceptional place.

We are blessed with the richest resources of soil and water, which are the envy of the world. Populated by hardworking, honest and caring people, this land feeds and powers the world.

And, ignited by our ingenuity, we have only scratched the surface of our potential.

Iowa stands at the precipice of opportunity greater than at any time since our ancestors crossed the Mississippi to view an expanse of prairie as far as the eye could see. With the advent of open markets, a growing world middle class, and a need for sustainable solutions to the world's problems, Iowa sits in the catbird seat of history.

The world is hungry for our food and biomass, envious of our technology, pining for our productivity. The economic winds, which for a century or more blew in our face, are now firmly at our back.

Iowa is exceptional and these are exceptional times. Our challenge: to seize the day.

To those who say that our goals of 200,000 new jobs and 25% increase in family incomes are too high, I say, you ain't seen nothing yet. Only wrong-headed policy choices can prevent us from entering a golden era in Iowa history.

And, we must start with government. It must change, lest it dampen our opportunity and squelch the individual initiative which is our engine for growth.

Our old ways of doing the government's business must be radically altered to do the people's business. We must be rid of the yoke of government which taxes us too much, spends too much and regulates us too much. Government must, as Abraham Lincoln once said, do only that which the people cannot do for themselves.

That is new covenant principle number one: we have too much government – state, county, city, school, local – and it must be reduced. For too long, we have papered over the fact that our appetite for government exceeds our pocket book to pay for it.

As my 86 year old dad, Edward, who is with us today would say “our eyes are bigger than our wallet.”

Our auditor tells us that at least 15% must be permanently eliminated from government to make our books balance once and for all. And I aim to make sure we do it and do it now.

We will all share in the sacrifice, while protecting those who need our help. But we will remove the lead boots of excess government from our economy. And without that burden, we will be able to run like the wind in the race to prosperity.

Second, government must serve the people. And not vice versa. Leadership is about service, not power. I stand here, again, as your Governor, with my wife, kids and grandkids at my side, because I yearn to serve. And I ask each government employee, from the clerks to the supervisors, to the department heads, to never forget: it is the people who are our bosses.

And we must serve each other, without the compulsion of government.

In 1835, as Alexis de Tocqueville toured the United States, he noticed that Americans were different from Europeans. He said, “Wherever at the head of some new undertaking you see the government in France, or . . . England, in the United States you will be sure to find an association.”

That is still true today. Every day Iowa's volunteers make our state the wonderful place it is to live, work and raise a family.

The Boone Hope Foundation is a great example. Kids were coming to school without a warm coat, or hungry, tired, sick or worried about their family. Teachers, like many others throughout Iowa, used their own funds to help those kids, knowing that students can't learn when their basic needs are not met.

Those caring teachers helped start the Boone Hope Foundation, which since 2005 has raised over $129,000 from community donations to help students and their families in times of crisis. Groceries, medical bills, eyeglasses, snow boots and mittens have all been provided to children in need because a community cares.

Let us all renew our commitment to get involved: help the homeless, feed the hungry, minister to the sick, pray for the wayward. To make each of our communities better by stepping up and stepping out. And to those who are most fortunate, we bear a special responsibility to extend the ladder of opportunity to those in need.

We need look no further than the record number of Iowans who are currently deployed in the armed forces. From Salvatore Giunta to Anthony Sellers, our service men and women protect us every day with their valor and sacrifice. We all know the story of Salvatore Giunta, our most recent recipient of the Medal of Honor. And all Iowans are “busting their buttons” proud of him for his bravery, courage, and steely resolve.

I doubt that many of you know Sgt. Anthony Sellers of Burlington but I was privileged to meet him – introduced to me by his proud father Kent. Kent is a veteran himself confined now to a wheelchair, but beaming about his son who has completed two tours in Iraq and is now in Fort Benning to prepare for another deployment.

Anthony, like the thousands of other Iowans who have answered the call of freedom, embodies the spirit of selfless service that makes our state and country that “shining city on a hill” that Tom Paine wrote about over two centuries ago. Surely, we can use their example as inspiration.

Third, it is time to restore integrity and transparency to our government decision-making processes. In Iowa, we have prided ourselves on limited, but quality, government services. When government said it would do something, it did it, and for the right reasons. Our problems were serious, but manageable, and, as people of good faith, we rolled up our sleeves and solved them.

But we’ve gotten off track. We’ve over-promised and under-delivered, turning solutions into problems. Iowans deserve better. We will get back on track with a slimmer, better managed and sustainable government you can count on when you need it. And it will start by opening up to the people our budgets, briefings and the like. Sunshine remains the best cure for what ails our government.

The fourth principal of our new covenant in Iowa must be a renewed commitment to provide the best education in the world. Providing Iowa’s children with a globally competitive education is key to their future – and the future of this state. Employers say they need a better-prepared, better-trained work force. That means higher expectations for schools.

Sadly, where once Iowa’s educational system was the envy of the world, today it is in the middle of the pack.

Our young people must be able to think critically, solve problems and communicate effectively.

They need a strong background in math, science, English and social studies. The bar is continually being raised in a knowledge-based economy.

It is time to put in place reforms that are hallmarks of high-performing school systems – starting with assuring there is a first-rate teacher in every classroom.

The new year is an opportunity for Iowans to have a conversation about how to accomplish this. How can we attract more top students into the teaching profession? What do good, experienced teachers need to become more effective instructors?

And how do we get rid of teachers whose students consistently do not learn enough – even after those teachers have received coaching to improve?

I plan to convene an education summit with some of the top education leaders in our nation and state to benchmark Iowa’s status and lay out a plan for legislative consideration that will give our kids the best education in the world.

But it is not just schools that must do more. Teaching children the value of a good education is the job of parents. Instilling the importance of lifelong learning not just by words but by example will help families and Iowa prosper. It is time for all of us to get involved.

Finally, we must celebrate success. Our tax system, whether it be property or income taxes punishes those who create the jobs we need. That will change. Both will be reduced and simplified.

The job creators will be rewarded; they are welcome here and it is about time our tax system reflects that fact.

As with our tax system, so must our attitudes toward success, change.

While our modesty in the face of success is sometimes charming, it can too often limit our reach.

Alex Haley once said that we should “find the good and praise it.”

In our state and in our communities, we should find success and praise it. We should reward responsible risk-taking, for it is only through the creation of a spirit of entrepreneurship that all parts of our state, rural and urban, will grow. That is the ticket to bringing our sons and daughters home and giving all who live here a chance to share in our bounty.

That, then, is what I learned on my travels around our state. Iowans have worked harder, sacrificed more and tightened their belts further as they endured the Greatest Recession since the Great Depression. And now it is time for government to do the same.

It is time for a new covenant between Iowans and their government. It is a covenant that is founded upon principles of limited government, service above self, transparency and integrity, world class schools and celebrating the success of Iowans.

These are the principles that will guide my days as your Governor. The collective wisdom of Iowans will inspire me every day as I strive to give Iowans a government as good as the people it serves.

I ask all of you, Republican and Democrat, liberal and conservative, old and young, to join me in that effort.

No one of us has all the answers, but together, we cannot fail.

One long day on the campaign trail, I was visiting with some folks in a small town cafe. One of the farmers, who appeared to be in his 80's asked me what I wanted to accomplish by running for governor again.

Well, I rattled off our goals and then stopped and looked at him and asked him what he felt he had accomplished in his days. He looked at me with a twinkle in his eye, took a long sip of coffee and shifted his feet. “Well,” he said, “I left my farm better than I found it.”

When our days are done, when our time has come, we will be asked, how do we wish to measure our days?

I, for one, remember that farmer in that cafe: I hope to leave the state better than I found it. If all of us would approach our days with that same sense of stewardship, we will have fulfilled our mission.

With your help and Godspeed that will be the case. And the remarkable history of an exceptional state will march on, unabated . . . Thank you, God bless you and God bless the great state of Iowa.

The benediction was offered by Pastor Chuck DeVos of the Life Point Assembly of God Church in Osceola, Iowa.

Representative Upmeyer moved that the joint convention be dissolved, which motion prevailed by a voice vote.

Madam Lt. Governor, Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Leaders, justices, judges, legislators, elected officials, distinguished guests, family, friends and fellow Iowans.

I am humbled to stand before you once again as your Governor in this, the people's House. It is here that our forefathers set the direction of our state: educating our kids, building our roads, protecting our citizens, caring for the unfortunate. And they did so, while being careful with the tax dollars and balancing our state's budget.

In this storied chamber, I cut my political teeth as a young state representative – learning both to advocate my position and respect my adversary.

—To disagree without being disagreeable.

—To listen, because that is the only way to learn.

Because, at the end of the day, we are all Iowans working hard to make our special state an even better place. Let us never forget why we are here: to do the people's business as their servants with respect and dignity and good will.

Today, I stand before you to present the state's budget for the next two years.

But, at the risk of sounding a bit like the grandfather I am now, I think we need to start with a stern talking to.

When I began the preparation of this budget, I was handed a list of dozens of programs – 89 to be exact – that had been funded with money we no longer had. Everything from paying for teachers to state troopers had been funded with one-time money – nearly 900 million dollars' worth.

Now, you wouldn't run your family budget that way. If you did so, you would soon be visiting the bankruptcy court. And we should never run the people of Iowa's budget that way, either. And with this budget, it will come to an end, now.

I understand that this budget method of borrowing from Peter to pay Paul didn't just happen overnight. I understand that it has been building over at least ten years. But that doesn't make it right; and that doesn't mean we can ignore it for another decade.

You see, if we don't fix it, the very integrity of our government is threatened.

When we over-promise and under-deliver, time after time, we erode, like a corrosive acid, the ties that bind our society. And, our ability to do those things we desire – whether it be educating our kids, caring for the sick, protecting the vulnerable, or improving our ability to create jobs – will be lost in a sea of red ink.

It is our responsibility, as servant-leaders, to pass a budget as honest, frugal and balanced as the people it serves.

And, the time to do it is now.

The rebounding agricultural economy gives us a unique opportunity to bind up Iowa's budget wounds quickly. We must not squander that opportunity.

It will not be easy. It will require difficult and painful choices. But the pain we endure by fixing our budget today, will lead to great opportunities for Iowa in the future.

It will require change. No longer can every organized constituency get what it wants. There is a greater good we are seeking.

We must restore predictability and stability to our state budget, ensure our decisions are sustainable for the long term, and set the stage for a period of unprecedented economic expansion.

It is the taxpayers, not the interest groups, we must protect.

So, the budget I present to you today cleans up the budget mess that has been made. It cleans out the cobwebs in the closets of government. It sets Iowa on a new course with smaller, predictable, sustainable government. That is nimble enough to respond to needs and small enough to stay out of the way of our job creators.

And we do it by:

First, $770 million of general-fund spending that was funded by one-time revenue is moved back into the general fund, where it belongs, once and for all.

This is an honest budget that matches ongoing spending with ongoing revenue. And it funds our commitments to schools, health care for the poor and elderly, and troopers with funds that won't evaporate in a year.

Second, this budget provides nearly $160 million in direct property tax relief to Iowans. It fully funds the state's share of our school funding commitments – erasing the need for local school districts to make up the difference in property taxes.

Iowa property taxpayers have paid a high price for the state's past practices and it is time to make them whole.

Third, this program and budget make it clear that Iowa is ready for job creation. We all know that small businesses are the engines of our growth. Yet, our small businesses pay an income tax rate that is highest in the nation at 12%.

And our small business pay commercial property taxes that are as high as those in mid-town Manhattan.

This budget will make us competitive for new jobs.

The small business income tax rate will be cut in half and made a flat 6%. Commercial property taxes will be reduced by 40% over the next 5 years. New investment will be immediately taxed at 60% of its valuation. And existing commercial property will be rolled back by 8% a year over 5 years.

My plan includes funding for these tax cuts through the use of new revenue coming to the state due to economic growth, the additional revenue generated by the extension of the Bush tax cuts, and by a restoration of the gaming tax to the level at which it was originally agreed to years ago.

I will be bringing forth legislation to transform our current Department of Economic Development into a public/private partnership.

This will be a partnership that unshackles our economic development efforts from an alphabet soup of bureaucratic programs and brings the best practices from both sectors to recharge our job creation mission.

And I intend to give that new partnership new tools to market and sell our state to job creators.

I have asked each of our Department and Agency heads to do a top to bottom review of all administrative rules and regulations to determine how we can best fulfill our responsibilities while eliminating impediments to job growth.

While tax policy can take us a significant way forward in our effort to compete for new jobs, much of that work can be undone by a bureaucracy that fails to understand the critical relationship between burdensome regulation and job creation.

The rules and regulations identified through this process will be the first subjected to our proposed rolling sunset and I will further order all future proposed rules and regulations to contain a jobs impact statement so we can identify those that cost jobs before they impact our Iowa employers.

We have wrung our hands over these issues long enough. Now is the time to make Iowa's main streets truly open for business with the jobs we so desperately need. It is only by these actions that we can be assured of the growth we need to fund our future state budgets.

Many new Governors across this nation are aggressively moving to reduce tax and regulatory burdens to spur new job growth and I want to position Iowa as the leader.

Our unemployed deserve nothing less than our best efforts to bring new jobs to this state. No one will work harder to bring new jobs to Iowa than me, Lt. Governor Reynolds, Director Durham, and our entire economic development team.

Fourth, we must reduce the size and scope of government. State agencies and local governments must break down the silos that divide them.

Services must be shared so Iowans' needs are met. Costs must be reduced – we can no longer afford to pay 46% more for public services; the collective bargaining law must be changed to recognize the rights of the taxpayers. And we, the leaders of our governments, must do a better job of managing our scarce resources.

Over the past two months, Lt. Governor Reynolds and I have been actively working with our management team, reviewing the current budget in excruciating detail.

In fact, the Lt. Governor and I have taken the time to personally review every line item in the state budget so we can look Iowans squarely in the eye when we tell them we simply have too much government and the status quo is no longer a viable option.

With this budget, we have a choice. Do we take the bold and difficult steps, make the painful decisions, and honestly align our spending and revenue? Or, do we kick the problem down the road yet again?

Fellow Iowans, I didn't come here to avoid tough decisions.

No more games. No more gimmicks. No more bail-outs.

Fifth, we must budget for the long term. This budget doesn't solve all our problems overnight. No budget can. But it puts us on a path of sound budgeting principles. And we must stay on that path by resisting the temptation to push our obligations to the next generation.

I plan to insist on budget discipline.

The results of our past budget practices have been across the board cuts and a mountain of broken promises. The days of unsustainable commitments are over.

It will come as no surprise to any of you that I am submitting a biennial budget that includes my recommendations for both Fiscal Years 2012 and 2013. Also included with this budget is a five year financial projection that shows how the decisions we make this year will impact the bottom line over the next five years.

Iowa desperately needs these financial planning tools and I will insist the Legislature join me in this commitment to provide Iowans with an honest, open, and transparent approach to spending the public's money.

We will make our government as good, as dependable, as well-managed as the people it serves.

How do we accomplish our goals? We cut unnecessary spending.

Programs that have passed their time are eliminated and others are modified to make sure those in need are those who receive government help.

Every area of state government will be asked to share in this sacrifice. I have appointed a collection of talented leaders in our state departments and agencies and have charged them with remaking government at all levels to find more efficient and less costly methods to deliver our state services.

While school systems across this country are reeling from massive budget cuts, this budget for the next two years holds school spending authority at the current level. No increase. No decrease – but with an assurance that we can deliver on this promise and allow our creative school leaders more flexibility and opportunity to make things work.

And let's not forget, even while holding spending authority at current levels, last year the state underfunded its commitment by $156 million. Local school districts were left holding the bag with little choice but to levy additional property taxes to make up the difference. This budget funds that commitment with state dollars and provides direct property tax relief to Iowa taxpayers. But education isn't all about dollars and cents. It is about our children and our willingness to take the steps necessary to reform our schools and make them among the best in the world.

To that end, I will convene an education summit this summer—bringing together the nation's most dynamic educational reform leaders.

These national leaders will work with our new education policy team and strive to reach a consensus on what changes are needed to give our children the nation's highest quality schools.

Should we reach that critical consensus, and I have no reason to believe we won't, I will convene a Special Session of the Iowa Legislature in the fall of this year to approve our bold reform agenda and make good on our new covenant promise to provide our children with a globally competitive education.

In addition, I cannot leave the education discussion without renewing my commitment to ensure that every Iowa child has access to quality preschool.

This budget proposes a $43 million annual investment in providing preschool assistance to those families in greatest need.

Research shows preschool investments have the most long-lasting impact on children who come from homes with financial need. As such, our program will be targeted to those families and will give parents flexibility to choose the preschool environment that best meets their needs. But we cannot do this alone, all across this state parents, private donors and caring organizations have for years partnered with preschool providers to ensure access. I am happy to have the state of Iowa join them—as a partner, not as the sole provider.

My fellow Iowans, none of what I have brought forward today will be easy. But all of it is necessary.

We must put an end to the budgeting practices that failed our people and brought unprecedented instability to the delivery of critical state services.

We must adopt long term budgeting practices that provide decision makers with an early warning system to coming budget cliffs in time to make adjustments that prevent service disruptions.

We must cut real spending out of state government and challenge our Department leaders to remake state government in a manner that provides services more efficiently and at less cost.

We must provide financial stability to our schools while we engage in an historic effort to reform our schools and restore our preeminence in educational performance.

We must fund more of our property tax credits and obligations and provide Iowa taxpayers with nearly $160 million in much needed relief.

We must reduce small business income and property taxes, and eliminate rules and regulations that cost us jobs.

If we have the courage to do these things and do them now, then I am confident Iowa will be the leader in America's economic recovery.

The more than 100,000 unemployed Iowans deserve nothing less than our best efforts and we have an obligation to take the bold and decisive actions necessary to dramatically improve Iowa's ability to compete for new jobs.

When God made his covenant with Abraham and his people so many ages ago, it was a covenant that required immediate and significant sacrifice in return for a promise of incredible abundance. However, that abundance was to be years and even decades in the making.

Our new covenant between this state and its people does indeed require significant immediate shared sacrifice.

But, as with Abraham and his people, the people of Iowa can expect our efforts will lead to tremendous abundance which we, our children, grandchildren, and future generations of Iowans will enjoy.

I stand before you today older and wiser than when I first set foot in these chambers. But I am no less passionate about our future.

If we make the right choices, the days before us will be ones of abundant growth and new jobs:

Enough abundance to bring back our sons and daughters and those who wish to join us.

Enough abundance to meet the needs of our kids, and our elderly, and the sick and the vulnerable.

Enough abundance to make the future the golden years in Iowa history.

We stand at the crossroads of that history. Which path will we take?

I know that this institution is fueled by compromise; but we cannot compromise on the future of Iowa.

Our state will be driven by the right policy choices and I will fight with all my political might to make sure that we make the right choices.

We are the fortunate few who have been chosen by the people to do what is right. Let us be motivated by the better angels of our nature for the good of all Iowans.

Together, we will accomplish great things.

Thank you and God Bless you and God Bless the people of Iowa.

Governor Terry E. Branstad was escorted from the House chamber by the committee previously appointed.

Representative Upmeyer moved that the joint convention be dissolved, which motion prevailed by a voice vote.

ARTICLE 3, SECTION 10 PROTEST/REASONS FOR DISSENT

The following reasons for dissent were received in the office of the Secretary of the Senate for entry hereon:

I am submitting my official protest vote with regards to Senate Resolution 2 on the twenty-seventh day of January in the 2011 year of our Lord Jesus Christ.

This resolution is injurious to the voters of Iowa by directly limiting the ability of a majority of duly elected senators from exercising their rights to suspend the rules of the Iowa Senate in order to conduct the lawful business of the people of Iowa. This resolution also consolidates power in the hands of the leadership of the Senate to control the majority of the members without appropriate checks and balances on their power.

I want to begin by saying thank you to Governor Branstad and Lieutenant Governor Reynolds for your support and confidence in me to continue leading the Iowa National Guard in the future. I also want to thank you for devoting your first day in office and all the Inaugural events to the men and women serving in the Iowa National Guard. You demonstrated from the very beginning your strong support for the Iowa National Guard by signing your Salute to the Iowa National Guard Executive Proclamation on January 14, 2011, honoring the service of the men and women of the Iowa National Guard, their families, and employers.

I want to thank Governor Culver and Lieutenant Governor Judge for their strong leadership during this most significant period of time in the history of the Iowa National Guard. Thank you for your efforts to attend our homecoming and sendoff events, your strong support of our families and employers, and your willingness to travel overseas to visit our deployed warriors.

I would also like to give a special thank you to our citizen-legislators, who have done so much to honor and support the Iowa National Guard over the years. Through your legislative programs and participation in our community events, you have embodied unwavering support for our soldiers and airmen. The state of Iowa has one of the strongest traditions of any state for its commitment to their National Guard. Our success is directly attributable to what you have done for your Iowa National Guard – we humbly thank you.

But above all, I want to thank the people of Iowa. Last year I asked all Iowans for their support in helping our deployed families and warriors. I am pleased to report that the citizens of Iowa have delivered. The support we have received can be summed up in two words – simply incredible. What they have done and continue to do for our soldiers, airmen, and their families throughout our combat deployments and state emergency response missions is a true testament to the unmatched community support we are so privileged to enjoy in this state.

Through all the efforts of our soldiers, airmen, families, employers, elected leaders, and our citizens, we have demonstrated that Iowa is a state that truly serves together.

Over this past year, I've had the privilege of visiting our men and women at their local armories, annual training locations, community sendoffs and welcome home events. In addition, Command Sergeant Major John Breitsprecker and I have traveled outside of Iowa to visit soldiers preparing for mobilization at the Camp Shelby and the National Training Center, and overseas to places like Kosovo, Germany, Kuwait, Iraq and Afghanistan to visit our deployed troops, seeing first-hand the readiness and strong resolve of the Iowa National Guard.

We have also visited our injured and ill soldiers all across the nation at Walter Reed Medical Center, Brooke Army Medical Center, Bethesda Naval Hospital, Fort Gordon, Fort Riley, Fort Leonard Wood, the National Institute of Health, and the Regional Warrior Transition Battalions. Despite the high operational tempo, mission requirements, and daily challenges for our Iowa National Guard soldiers and airmen, we remain unconditionally "Mission Focused, Warrior Ready!"

Today, I deliver my second Condition of the Guard address. Over the next several minutes I want to focus on two important areas:

Where we have come over the last year;
And what we are doing to care for the force.

It's been nearly nine and a half years since the United States and our allies responded to the attacks of September 11, 2001. The soldiers and airmen of the Iowa National Guard answered the call on 9/11 and have served continuously since, working side by side with their Army and Air Force counterparts to help liberate nearly 50 million people from tyranny and terror in Iraq and Afghanistan, maintain peace in Egypt, Israel, and Kosovo, and protect the United States of America.

Since 9/11, the soldiers and airmen of the Iowa National Guard, their families, and their employers have made significant sacrifices on behalf of the American people. More than sixty-five percent of our soldiers and airmen currently serving are combat veterans. More than 16,000 of our men and women have served in the ongoing campaigns in Iraq and Afghanistan, peacekeeping duties in the Balkans and the Sinai Peninsula, and during emergency response missions in Iowa and across the country.

Through multiple combat deployments and domestic support missions, the men and women currently serving in the Iowa National Guard are among the most seasoned and experienced military professionals our state has ever fielded in the more than 170-year history of the Iowa National Guard.

The demand for National Guard forces over the past two decades has required almost continuous use of Active, National Guard, and Reserve forces in order to meet the operational requirements of our armed forces. Our experience during this timeframe has validated the Total Force concept in support of our national security interests. We are now at a point where current and projected demands for Army and Air Force assets will require continued access to the National Guard and Reserve forces, making very real what has been a policy for some time. This means that the mobilization and operational use of National Guard Soldiers, airmen, and units will continue for the foreseeable future, despite ongoing reductions in U.S. forces overseas. The National Guard of the 21st century will require a versatile mix of tailorable, modular, and adaptable organizations, interdependently operating on a predictable, rotational deployment cycle. This new concept is what we call the Operational Force, which is part of the Department of Defense's Total Force Policy.

Over this last year, the Iowa National Guard has remained a national leader in many categories, consistently ranking near the top among the 54 states and territories.

The Iowa National Guard remains a national leader in personnel recruiting and retention. Both the Iowa Air and Army National Guard began fiscal year 2011 with over 100 percent of authorized strength. And our retention rates exceed national goals and are among the highest in the nation. We have been at or exceeded 100 percent strength every year since 2003 – a significant accomplishment considering that we have been at war as a nation with an all-volunteer force for nearly ten years.

Last year, the Iowa Air and Army National Guard executed the largest construction program in our history with more than 148 million dollars in military construction projects in Iowa. Those projects totaled 134 million dollars, or more than 91 percent, in federal funds. Additionally, we received nearly 9.3 million dollars in federal stimulus funding allowing us to complete twenty-six infrastructure projects around Iowa. We also started the process of replacing armories in Muscatine, Burlington and Cedar Rapids, totaling more than $77 million in federal funding.

As part of our requirement as an operational force, the Iowa National Guard prepared, deployed, and returned to Iowa several Army and Air National Guard units this past year, and announced several unit notifications for mobilization in support of upcoming Overseas Contingency Operations in 2012.

The 185th Air Refueling Wing from Sioux City continues to provide ongoing support of real-world missions to the Air Force, Army, Navy, and Marine Corps. Of the 185th's many world-wide missions, evacuating wounded warriors from a combat zone is one of the most important and unique missions that it executes. These Aeromedical evacuation missions provide timely and efficient movement and mobile care to wounded servicemen and women being evacuated from the battlefield to Landstuhl, Germany. In the past year, the 185th has deployed nearly 400 airmen around the globe for operational missions.

As we gather together today, more than 120 airmen from the Iowa Air National Guard's 132nd Fighter Wing, based in Des Moines, and the 185th Air Refueling Wing are 8,000 miles away from home participating in Sentry Down Under, a three-week exercise with our coalition partner, Australia. These Iowa Airmen will conduct numerous flight missions, maintain high-performance fighter aircraft to exacting standards, and learn about the capabilities and operations of the Royal Australian Air Force so we can more effectively operate with them during combat missions.

The 135th Mobile Public Affairs Detachment returned to Iowa from Iraq in late October. During their deployment, they provided public affairs support to the U.S. Army's 3rd Infantry Division. The mission of the 135th was to collect, produce and disseminate video, audio, and print stories, as well as online stories, to civilian and military media organizations.

The Information Operations Field Support Team deployed last March and has been operating in both Afghanistan and Iraq. Their expertise in processing and utilizing multiple sources of information has created opportunities for successful coalition operations. We look forward to welcoming them back in Iowa later this spring.

Company C, 2nd Battalion, 147th Aviation from Boone is currently deployed to Kosovo where they are conducting peacekeeping missions for that fledgling democracy. They've flown more than 150 missions and 2,000 accident-free flight hours while providing around-the-clock aviation support. In their spare time, many unit members teach English to local students and also interact with the local community members.

The 734th Agribusiness Development Team, comprised of 60 soldiers and airmen, is the first ever overseas combat deployment with both Army National Guard Soldiers and Air National Guard Airmen serving together in the history of the Iowa National Guard. This team's mission is the revitalization of the agricultural and livestock sector within Kunar Province, Afghanistan. Our team provides expertise, advice, and training in agricultural-related specialties to various provincial ministries and local farmers. During their pre-deployment preparation, the team established a partnership with Iowa State University and received training on a variety of agricultural topics. They also spent time training at Living History Farms and with the Amish community to gain a hands-on experience into past farming techniques and practices.

Soldiers from Company B, 2nd of the 211th General Support Aviation Battalion based in Davenport have recently arrived in Iraq and will be providing airlift capabilities in support of coalition forces with their Chinook helicopters.

But by far the most significant and anticipated deployment was the 2nd Brigade Combat Team's mission to Afghanistan, with more than 3,000 soldiers deployed.

The 2nd Brigade Combat Team deployment was the largest single unit call-up of its type in Iowa since World War II. Almost every community in Iowa has been affected in some way by this mission.

To properly prepare, train, certify, send off and deploy all these forces to standard, it takes a team effort from everyone, including our families, employers, and communities. As part of last summer's surge of forces, we conducted our first State Annual Training Exercise in more than 30 years, at Camp Ripley, Minnesota. This event involved nearly all Iowa Army National Guard units to provide logistical and training support to assist the 2nd Brigade in their mobilization preparation over a three-week period.

In late July and early August last year, we conducted nearly 30 community send offs all across Iowa for the soldiers of the 2nd Brigade. The community support and participation by loyal Iowans was outstanding. At every major community send off event, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Patriot Guard and Legion Riders, members of veterans' organizations, local law enforcement, fire departments, veterans from all services, and community members showed up by the hundreds and in some cases thousands, to show their respect and appreciation for our deploying warriors and their families.

Members of the 2nd Brigade Combat Team serving in Afghanistan currently operate in five provinces across Regional Command-East. These soldiers execute missions ranging from security, cordon and search, and convoy operations, to counterinsurgency, key leader engagements, and numerous other tasks. But one of the most important and unique missions conducted by this Iowa unit is the Female Engagement Team initiative.

Led by Captain Jodi Marti, this hand-picked team of female Iowa soldiers works with coalition forces to gather intelligence and provide security for Afghan females in accordance with Islamic culture. Members of the Female Engagement Team serve side-by-side with their male counterparts during combat operations in some of the most rugged terrain in the world. The dedication, courage, skill, and professionalism of these Iowa women inspire male and female soldiers alike.

Every day, we continue to see acts of kindness and generosity coming from our communities and businesses.

When Sgt. Bryan Pfeiler from Dyersville, Iowa, was wounded and lost part of his leg when he stepped on an anti-personnel mine in Afghanistan, the communities of Dyersville and Earlville immediately stepped up to the plate. The Earlville American Legion gave his family donations of over $2100 to assist with expenses, while Beckman High School in Dyersville and the Earlville American Legion sponsored spaghetti suppers to raise money for the family. In addition, members of these communities have mowed the grass and shoveled snow for SGT Pfeiler's family since he mobilized last August.

Recently, Sgt. Adam Craig from Cherokee returned to the U.S. from Afghanistan with a very aggressive form of cancer. He is currently undergoing medical treatment at the National Institute of Health in Bethesda, Maryland. In order for his mother, a long-time Hy-Vee employee with the Cherokee Hy-Vee store, to remain with her son while he receives medical care, Hy-Vee sponsored a spaghetti feed and silent auction to raise funds for the family. In addition, the Store Director, Tim Hoppert, and fellow co-workers have filled in at Hy-Vee during the absence of Sgt. Craig's mother so she doesn't have to worry about taking extensive sick leave and family leave in order to be with her son.

We have companies like Charles Gabus Ford of Des Moines, who donated more than one hundred thousand dollars to support the Officers' Auxiliary deployment teddy bear project. This program provides all children of deployed soldiers and airmen with a teddy bear during the unit send off event.

Dr. Pepper-Snapple of Des Moines donated over $45,000 to purchase phone cards and post-exchange gift cards for our soldiers and airmen to use overseas.

These are just several of many efforts that so vividly demonstrate the profound and heartfelt generosity of our citizens. Iowa is a state that is truly serving together.

Another important priority for the Iowa National Guard is ensuring that we can provide an effective and timely emergency response capability right here in Iowa. Since the days of the Iowa Territory in the late 1830s, we have been deeply committed to protecting Iowans and safeguarding critical infrastructure in a moment's notice.

With the large number of Iowa Army National Guard Soldiers deployed in 2010 and 2011, our Joint Staff developed the Guard Emergency Situational Assessment Contact, or GESAC, program to bring back National Guard retirees on a voluntary basis for critical assistance during local emergencies. Ironically, we had just completed training our first group of retirees when the Lake Delhi dam breached. We immediately called retired Command Sergeant Major Lowell Tiedt from Anamosa, who quickly traveled to Lake Delhi and provided us with a situation report and assessed possible future requirements. As of today we have more than 75 trained retirees ready to provide assistance all across the state.

Two weeks ago, during the winter blizzard that hit the southeastern corner of Iowa, we deployed 18 soldiers as part of our Highway Assistance Team operations. We partnered with the Iowa Department of Transportation and Iowa Department of Public Safety to travel the highways and assist stranded motorists. During this two-day operation, the Highway Assistance Teams rescued 36 motorists from the blizzard.

Finally, an area of significant importance is how we are caring for soldiers, airmen, families and employers.

Since the start of the war, we have shown significant progress in resourcing and manning our Warrior Services. One area we're particularly proud of our efforts is the creation of the Survivor Outreach Support program. The purpose of this program is to provide unparalleled support to the families of Iowa's fallen service members in every possible way. This includes assisting them with understanding and procuring benefits and entitlements, receiving counseling services, connecting with other families of fallen warriors through support groups, or assisting with any other issues that result from the loss of a loved one. Through this program, our staff will help ensure these survivors receive all benefits they are entitled to and encourage them to remain an integral part of our military family for as long as they desire.

We recognize that the mental and emotional wellness of our force is as important as physical health. We are implementing a new program called Comprehensive Soldier Fitness, which increases the resilience of soldiers and families by strengthening their spiritual, emotional, and family well-being, in addition to living physically healthy lives.

We are also training soldiers to be Master Resiliency Trainers at the unit level, in order to provide immediate support for our warriors during deployments, as well as at home. The focus of this program will ultimately help us to maintain the long-term total health of our force.

As part of our preparation for the 2nd Brigade Combat Team's deployment, we added three more Family Assistance Specialists, bringing the total to seven. These specialists help family members connect to military, community and veterans' resources, provide financial counseling, get answers to military health insurance questions, and provide military identification cards for dependents. During mobilizations, the Family Assistance Specialists regularly check in with the families of deployed service members to ensure they are coping well and receiving any needed services. We currently have Family Assistance Specialists located at Camp Dodge, Iowa City, Council Bluffs, and Waterloo, as well as new offices in Sioux City, Ft. Dodge and Davenport.

Finally, let me say "thank you" for what the Legislature and Senate does every day to support the men and women of the Iowa National Guard.

We deeply appreciate your efforts to provide critical state funding to the Iowa National Guard to support our men and women in this challenging fiscal environment. We are extremely grateful for your continued support of our National Guard Educational Assistance Program, which is helping nearly 1,200 Iowa National Guard Soldiers and Airmen defray their college or trade school educational expenses this academic year.

The Home Ownership Assistance Program and the Injured Veteran Grant Program are highly effective programs that keep faith with those who have sacrificed to protect our state and defend our nation. There are currently more than 125 soldiers and airmen that have used the Home Ownership Assistance Program to purchase their first home in Iowa. We have over 18 military families like the families of Sergeant Pfeiler and Sergeant Craig that received Injured Veteran Grants due to injuries sustained during deployments by their loved ones.

The Home Ownership Assistance program, coupled with membership in the Iowa National Guard and participation in the Tuition Assistance Program, help create powerful opportunities for our soldiers, airmen and their families to live, learn and lead happy and fulfilling lives right here in Iowa. These young men and women join Iowa National Guard units, they attend Iowa trade schools, colleges, and universities, they are hired by Iowa employers, and they buy Iowa homes, all of which creates a solid foundation for maintaining quality Iowa roots. None of this would be possible without the efforts of our Legislature and Senate.

Throughout the missions of the Iowa National Guard since our inception, Iowans from across the state have shown unbelievable kindness and encouragement to our members and we are so grateful for their continued support.

For the last eight years, the Iowa National Guard has been tested like few times in its history – and this year is shaping up to be the most challenging yet.

It's no small feat to prepare, train, equip and deploy more than 3,300 soldiers and airmen, while maintaining our organizational readiness, preparing trained war fighters for future missions, and taking care of our soldiers, airmen, families, and their employers, all while providing a robust domestic emergency response capability for Iowa.

Yet despite these incredible challenges, I am confident that the Iowa National Guard will continue to set the example for all states; we will be there for Iowa whenever we're called. And as a force, we will remain "Mission Focused and Warrior Ready."

May God bless you and your families, and God bless our men and women serving in harm's way.

Thank you.

ARTICLE 3, SECTION 10 PROTEST/REASONS FOR DISSENT

The following reasons for dissent were received in the office of the Secretary of the Senate for entry hereon:

I am submitting my official protest vote with regards to House File 45 on the seventeenth day of February in the 2011 year of our Lord Jesus Christ.

This bill is injurious to the voters of Iowa not because of any specific content in the bill, instead because of the title of the bill and the fact that it does not comport to Article III, Section 29 of the Iowa Constitution. Section 29 states: "Every act shall embrace but one subject, and matters properly connected therewith; which subject shall be expressed in the title. But if any subject shall be embraced in an act which shall not be expressed in the title, such act shall be void only as to so much thereof as shall not be expressed in the title." I believe it is my duty to remind my fellow legislators of our oath to support the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of the State of Iowa.

Honorary members of the 2011 class were the following: Susan Walter, Jonathan Roos, Paula Feltner, Robert Langbehn, Mark Brandsgard, Jan Laue, and Marcia Nichols.

Senator Dvorsky presented Arthur Neu, former Lt. Governor of Iowa, who addressed the joint convention:

Incivility in politics has been around in America for as long as the country existed – maybe even longer. There are some marvelous examples I have run across.

At the top of the list is the Hamilton-Burr duel in 1804.

Interesting is that Iowa repealed Section 5 of its bill of rights in 1992 which barred from political office anyone who had engaged in a duel. So you are now apparently free to challenge anyone with whom you disagree to a duel and still hold public office.

No one should overlook the incident in 1856 when Senator Sumner of Massachusetts was brutally assaulted by two members of Congress from North Carolina.

Sometimes incivility is tempered with humor. In the English Parliament an exchange between Disraeli and Gladstone was as follows:

One said “I swear I don’t know if you will die on the gallows or of the pox” (pox was their term for syphilis)

The other responded “That depends, Sir, on whether I embrace your morals or your mistress.”

In all fairness the press always has its less-than-civil moments with politicians. Ben Butler was a Civil War General and, later, a House member from Massachusetts. He was hated in the South, where he was in charge of occupied New Orleans. When he died, the Nashville Daily American wrote a long editorial, titled “The Beast is Dead”, and read in part as follows:

“Old Ben Butler is dead! Early yesterday morning the Angel of Death acting under the Devil’s orders took him from earth and landed him in hell. In all the southern country here are no tears, no sighs, and no regrets. He lived only too long. We are glad he has at last been removed from the earth and even pity the Devil the possession he has secured.”

Then later it really gets bad.

“He was a trucking demagogue whose selfishness amounted to pollution; He was an autocrat who used power to wreak personal revenge; He was mean and malignant, a hangman from prejudice, the insulter of women, a braggadocio, a trickster and a scoundrel whose heart was as black as the smoke from the coals that are now scorching his soul.”

Even Thomas Jefferson surreptitiously had a journalist refer to John Adams as a “hermaphrodite”.

The Liberty League referred to Franklin Roosevelt as a communist.

More recently an example of civility took place when during a parade, city workers found a backpack bomb on the Martin Luther King Day Parade Route. Emotions ran high but the NAACP chapter president made sure that the conversations remained civil.

Today there is incivility all over the place, though admittedly not as severe as some alluded to earlier and not much humor that I have observed. There never was a golden age when there was not incivility. But what seems to be somewhat unique to the present time is institutional incivility between the political parties. There was a day when Hubert Humphrey and Bob Dole would debate issues vigorously in the Senate and afterwards go out for a beer together.

It used to be the same here. We used to have vigorous, hot debates, but once we left the chamber it was set aside. I think that the demonizing of someone who disagrees with you is bad for politics, bad for legislation, and bad for the state and country. It also makes compromise very difficult and we all know that compromise is impossible to avoid in a democracy.

One old time lobbyist told me that the incivility came about when we regulated lobbying. It used to be that legislators got together in the evenings at functions sponsored by lobbyists. At these functions legislators got to know each other socially. I certainly don't think that is the sole or even a major cause of today's incivility, but it did result in less contact between legislators from the two parties. I suspect the money that is pumped into campaigns from the various interest groups deserves some of the credit for incivility. Also the people and organizations who are only concerned about one issue and support candidates on that one issue and nothing else. I think that plays a part in incivility.

I remember one session when Attorney General Turner issued an opinion holding that under the criminal code anyone who went out to an event in which their dinner and drinks were paid for was guilty of some crime under the then new criminal code. All events ended and a number of us joined the “Y” and played basketball together. We certainly got to know each other well on the basketball court.

One suggestion I might make. During the Ray Years every Tuesday for lunch the leadership of both parties met for lunch in the Governor's office. Sometimes, early in the session there was not always a lot of talk, but we still had lunch. You did get to know each other and in some instances we became good friends. We also knew that if you said something unpleasant about a leader of the other party, that in all likelihood you would be questioned about it next Tuesday. It served as a deterrent on extreme statements.

A little incivility, short of a duel or a whipping, can be funny, particularly when it involves some humor.

A lot can be dangerous, even disastrous. I think today we are at a dangerous stage particularly with an awful lot of people running around with side arms.

Thank you.

Representative Upmeyer moved that the joint convention be dissolved.

The motion prevailed by a voice vote.

The Senate returned to the Senate chamber.

The Senate stood at ease at 2:23 p.m. until the fall of the gavel.

The Senate resumed session at 2:30 p.m., President Kibbie presiding.

PAUL MCKINLEY

GOVERNOR'S ITEM VETO MESSAGE

April 12, 2011

The Honorable John P. Kibbie
President of the Senate
State Capitol
Des Moines, Iowa 50319

Dear Mr. President:

I hereby transmit Senate File 512, an act relating to public funding matters by updating the code references to the internal revenue code and by decoupling from certain federal bonus depreciation provisions, authorizing appropriation transfers, and including effective date and retroactive applicability provisions.

Senate File 512 is, therefore, signed on this date with the following exceptions, which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Division IV, which includes Sections 26 and 27. This language would have provided the Governor with the specific authority to transfer funds to the office of the public defender for payment of court-appointed attorneys for indigent defense purposes. As I have made clear, I strongly support an appropriate supplemental appropriation to pay these court-appointed indigent defense attorneys the money that is owed to them and will continue to work with the General Assembly to resolve this matter.

The language I disapprove attempts to end the current legislative stalemate over supplemental appropriations for the provision of indigent defense services administered through the State Public Defender's office.

This current shortfall in the funds available to pay the state's indigent defense bills is the result of actions taken during the 2010 Session of the General Assembly wherein the Governor and General Assembly approved a budget for indigent defense that purposely underfunded this program by nearly $20 million. This decision was made with the full knowledge the 2011 General Assembly would be forced to take action to provide supplemental funds to the State Public Defender's office for this purpose.

The method provided in Senate File 512 provides the Governor with the specific authority to transfer funds to the State Public Defender for payment of court-appointed attorneys for indigent defense purposes. The funds transferred must come from any department, institution, or agency of the state and will reduce the funds available to those entities by a like amount.

In other words, in order to comply with the provisions of Senate File 512 I would be asked to reduce by nearly $20 million the current appropriations in other state agencies to secure the resources necessary to transfer to the State Public Defender's office. As there remain less than three months in the current fiscal year, any spending reduction in any agency has an effect nearly four times greater than if the reduction were made at the beginning of a fiscal year.

In Senate File 512 the General Assembly provides the Governor with no guidance regarding which state agencies must be reduced to make this transfer possible.

This method is totally unacceptable and is a continuation of the numerous bad budgeting practices that has created the fiscal mess our state currently faces. It is this fiscal mess that I am committed to correct and I will not participate in a process that both continues those practices and undermines the constitutional responsibility of the General Assembly to make appropriations.

A Governor's transfer authority should be extremely limited during those time periods when the General Assembly is in session. The Iowa Constitution provides a clear method for the appropriation of state funds and I intend to honor that process and the General Assembly's role in spending state funds.

I specifically call on the members of the General Assembly to resume negotiations on legislation to provide a supplemental appropriation for indigent defense and other critical areas of state government that have been left critically short due to past bad budgeting practices.

I strongly support an appropriate supplemental appropriation to pay our indigent defense costs and will continue to work with the General Assembly to resolve this matter.

For the above reasons, I respectfully disapprove this item in accordance with Amendment IV of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items in Senate File 512 are hereby approved as of this date.

Sincerely,
TERRY E. BRANSTAD
Governor

GOVERNOR'S ITEM VETO MESSAGE

April 21, 2011

The Honorable John P. Kibbie
President of the Senate
State Capitol
Des Moines, Iowa 50319

Dear Mr. President:

I hereby transmit Senate File 209, an Act relating to public funding and regulatory matters by making appropriations, providing for certain additional depreciation allowances, increasing the state earned income tax credit, and including effective date and retroactive applicability provisions.

Senate File 209 made supplemental appropriations that were necessary as a result of past bad budgeting practices. For example, the current shortfall in the funds available to pay the state's indigent defense bills is the result of actions taken during the 2010 Session of the General Assembly wherein the Governor and General Assembly approved a budget for indigent defense that purposely underfunded this program by nearly $20 million. This decision was made with the full knowledge the 2011 General Assembly would be forced to take action to provide supplemental funds to the State Public Defender's office for this purpose. Similar poor budgeting practices by the General Assembly and Governor in 2010 necessitated $84 million dollars in cuts that were made in January of this year. Senate File 209 makes supplemental appropriations in areas where these cuts would affect the health and safety of Iowans.

Senate File 209 is, therefore, signed on this date with the following exceptions, which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Division I. The item vetoed language in Division I of Senate File 209 would couple Iowa's tax law with that portion of the federal short term stimulus legislation which allows businesses to take additional depreciation related deductions, often referred to as "bonus depreciation". This short term measure is estimated to reduce revenue to the state general fund by over $27 million in Fiscal Year 2011, over $113 million in Fiscal Year 2012 and over $35 million in Fiscal Year 2013. Any temporary economic stimulus effect of bonus depreciation is primarily accomplished through the federal tax code. Iowa should instead focus its energies on improving our state's long term competitive tax position for new job creation. With our limited budget, that is best accomplished by reducing our commercial property taxes which are second highest in the country and our marginal corporate tax rate which is the highest in the nation. The short term and misdirected approach to policy contained in Senate File 209 will not improve our tax climate for new jobs in Iowa.

I am committed to continuing a tax and jobs policy discussion with the House and Senate to adopt a package of tax reductions that stimulate our long-term economic growth and job creation. Acceptance of the provisions in Division I would prevent our ability to consider other more effective options and I disapprove these provisions in order to allow our tax policy discussions to continue.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Division II. The item vetoed language would increase the Earned Income Tax Credit from the current level of 7.0% of the federal credit to 10.0% of the federal credit. This change is estimated to reduce revenue to the state general fund by $28.5 million for Fiscal Years 2011-2013.

As earlier indicated, it is my desire to approach tax policy in a comprehensive and holistic manner. As such, I urge members of the House and Senate to continue to work with my office on an overall tax reduction package that both fits within our sound budgeting principles while reducing those taxes that are impeding our state's ability to compete for new business and jobs.

For the above reasons, I respectfully disapprove these items in accordance with Amendment IV of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items in Senate File 209 are hereby approved as of this date.

Sincerely,
TERRY E. BRANSTAD
Governor

Read first time under Rule 28 and referred to committee on Rules and Administration.

ARTICLE 3, SECTION 10 PROTEST/REASONS FOR DISSENT

The following reasons for protest were received in the office of the Secretary of the Senate for entry hereon:

We are submitting our official protest vote with regards to the Senate Motion to Adjourn made on the evening of June 22, 2011, which we believe was injurious to the public and a violation of their right to fair and equal representation.

Rule 1, Rules of the Senate, states any Senator may insist a quorum be present in order to conduct business. A quorum shall consist of a constitutional majority, or twenty-six Senators. This concept is a fundamental precept to our representative democracy and is intended to thwart a small, organized group of members acting with dictatorial purposes from usurping the constitutional protections afforded to the citizens of Iowa.

On June 22, 2011, at approximately 8:31 p.m., the Senate was convened, President Kibbie assumed the chair, and Majority Leader Gronstal assumed leadership of the floor. When the Senate was gavelled-in, a quorum call was requested by members of the Republican Caucus. The calls for a quorum went unheeded in violation of Rule 1. The Majority Leader proceeded to adjourn the Senate with only fifteen members present.

We list the following reasons in support of our protest:

1. Common courtesy of the Senate and Senate Rule 1 allow any Senator to insist upon a quorum. Numerous Senators requested a quorum call.
2. Common courtesy in the Senate suggests a chronological order to motions, and clearly the call for a quorum preceded the Majority Leader's Motion to Adjourn.
3. Common courtesy in the Senate allows leadership in all parties to excuse members who for personal, professional, or emergency reasons cannot be present for a vote. The Majority Leader did not allow an opportunity for members of the Republican Caucus to be excused.
4. Common courtesy and Senate Rules require the President of the Senate to immediately recognize any Point of Order raised. A Point of Order was raised and ignored.
5. Common courtesy in the Senate allows for the voting machine to be left open so that Senators who may be conducting legislative business outside the chamber to be allowed to vote. This long-standing courtesy was not observed.

REMARKS BY THE
PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE

President Kibbie provided the following remarks:

As we end the third longest session in history, it's important to recognize and thank the many people who help us make this Legislature work. The pages and doorkeepers are important to any session. Our Senate backroom staff work long hours and provide us with indispensable service and without whom the institution couldn't function. Our partisan staffs are filled with dedicated and intelligent people who also work long hours and are exceptional employees of the Senate. Without them we could not do our jobs nearly as well as we do and we are forever in their debt. Lastly, we are very fortunate to have a group of very talented people in the Legislative Services Agency who serve this institution with distinction. They deserve our thanks and appreciation for their expertise and dedication.

During the long days of this session we have often had contentious debates. It is my hope that all members feel I have been fair and consistent in my rulings. I respect this institution and all of you.

The 2010 election brought us divided government and new challenges. I wanted us to make progress on issues related to education, health care and jobs, and feel we did the best we could in a difficult and partisan environment.

I am most proud that we showed discipline and responsibility over the last two or three sessions by spending the taxpayers money wisely. The proof of that is the fact we have full reserve funds and a healthy bank account. We leave this session with a balanced and honest budget and one billion dollars as a cushion for any fiscal or economic problems.

Iowa's economy is in better shape than almost every other state. Only two or three have stronger balance sheets. I believe the bedrock of our economy has always been agriculture and the job growth in agriculture related businesses plus strong commodity prices have helped keep the state's economy moving forward.

I am disappointed that we did not reach agreement on the reduction of commercial property taxes. I think the proposal put forward by Senate Democrats was fair, aimed at Main Street, and much better than the proposal put forward by the administration. We must make progress on this issue so we can come together on a reasonable compromise during the 2012 session.

We now have six months to prepare for the 2012 session. I hope we can continue to find common ground during the interim so we can develop greater consensus on solutions for the problems facing our citizens. Right now, our economy is strong and I hope we can continue to see growth for all parts of our state.

I wish you all the best for the interim and I look forward to coming back together in January for a very successful session next year.

Thank You

REMARKS BY THE MAJORITY LEADER

Senator Gronstal provided the following remarks:

Thank you, Mr. President.

First, I would like to thank the Senate backroom staff, the Republican and Democratic staffs, the Senate doorkeepers, the Legislative Service Agency, and the pages (those here with us today and those who were lucky enough to have departed months ago).

Your dedication made it possible for us to bring the session to conclusion today. Your work is truly a service to the people of Iowa.

This has been a difficult session.

Finding agreement has not been easy, and that is probably a considerable understatement.

Why was it so difficult? It sure wasn't a lack of funds.

Unlike other states, Iowa's economy is growing, and our state budget is in good shape.

Our reserve funds are full at $600 million. Our current budget is ending with another $400 million in the bank. That's one BILLION dollars in the state's savings accounts, and revenue estimates for next year continue to rise.

And contrary to the Governor's posturing, Senate Democrats have ALWAYS insisted that Iowa should spend less than we take in.

In fact, in the 1990s, I was a member of the Senate Democratic majority that limited state spending to no more than 99 percent of projected revenues, and created Iowa's rainy day funds.

What's more, the initial Senate Democratic 2011 budget proposal would have spent only 98 percent of projected revenues. Spending more than we take in was never proposed by anyone.

And just to be perfectly clear, Senate Democrats are very proud of how we guided Iowa through the worst national recession in history.

We cut state spending by a quarter of a billion dollars. We made state government leaner and more effective when it comes to providing services by conducting the first state government reorganization in 25 years. And we did it without raising taxes or gutting the services Iowa families depend on.

Our success then is a big reason why Iowa's state budget is now one of the healthiest in the nation.

I mention all this just to make it as clear as possible that the reason we are still in session on June 30 has nothing to do with spending more than we take in or straightening out the Iowa budget.

When this session started just six short months ago, I used that occasion to speak directly to Iowa's small businesses and their employees. I responded to the questions and concerns they shared with me in the months before the 2011 session.

On January 10th, I told the Senate that Iowa's small business owners and workers especially wanted to know the answer to one question:

"Are legislators serious about helping Iowans recover from the worst recession in more than 50 years?"

Today, almost six months later, I believe the Senate, at least, can answer "Yes, we are."

Iowa's commercial property tax rates are too high, especially for small businesses.

That's why an overwhelmingly bipartisan majority of the Senate voted to cut commercial property taxes by $200 million. We did it in a way that targets the relief to Iowa's small businesses.

More than four out of five commercial property taxpayers receive a bigger tax cut under our plan than under Governor Branstad's proposal.

Iowa's economic recovery needs to be strengthened.

That's why the Senate unanimously passed Senate File 209, a 148 million dollar tax cut for working Iowans and businesses. It would:

Allow businesses to immediately deduct the entire cost of automobiles, machinery, property and other big ticket items, and increase the state Earned Income Tax Credit for working families, providing an immediate boost for many Iowa small businesses.

Iowa's businesses often struggle to find the skilled employees needed to expand.

That's why the Senate approved Senate File 328. It would take a successful community college pilot program statewide.

Working Iowans would receive help earning industry-recognized certificates in welding, nursing and a host of other fields and Iowa's small businesses could fill critical local skill shortages.

Small businesses pay 18 percent more than large businesses for the same health care coverage, and health insurance premiums have gone up three times faster than wages in the last 10 years.

That's why the Senate unanimously approved Senate File 506 which would have benefited 60,000 Iowa small businesses with 10 or fewer employees by sending them an annual state tax refund to help pay for employee health insurance.

Small wind and small solar projects at homes and businesses mean jobs for local construction firms, plumbers, and electrical, heating and air conditioning contractors, and lower utility bills for families, farmers, and businesses.

That's why the Senate passed Senate File 516, which provides rebates to help jumpstart Iowa's local renewable energy economy.

Distressed buildings on Main Street make it harder for communities to grow.

That's why the Senate approved new state dollars to make it easier for communities to clean-up and revitalize their business districts and industrial parks.

Those are some of the reasons the Senate can say: "Yes, we were serious about helping Iowans recover from the worst recession in more than 50 years."

Helping small businesses grow. That's what we should have focused on during this session.

Unfortunately, the Republicans in charge of the Iowa House had a different agenda.

The Senate's job creation legislation was, for the most part, ignored.

House Republicans decided instead to demand deep, deep cuts to Iowa education at all levels, starting with an unprecedented two-year freeze in state support for local schools, the elimination of statewide, voluntary preschool, and double digit tuition increases at our community colleges and public universities.

At a time when we should have moved aggressively forward on job creation, the Senate was forced to fight furiously to defend the great teachers, students and schools at the heart of our communities and the educational opportunity that makes Iowa workers among the most productive in the world.

I still don't understand why.

Why have we spent the last two months arguing whether Iowa should close successful, high quality preschools for four-year-olds?

Why were so many of Iowa's superintendents, school board members, and parents forced to travel to the Statehouse to patiently explain that putting schools on a starvation diet for two years was a bad idea?

Why did community college students and university students have to endure legislative hostility in order to point out that making it more difficult, more expensive for Iowans to improve their skills was a very, very bad idea?

Why?

It wasn't because we didn't have the money.

As I've said many times, our reserve funds are full at $600 million and the current budget is ending with another $400 million in the bank.

Republicans and Democrats rely on the same non-partisan revenue and budget estimates. And as far as I know, two plus two equals four whether you are a Republican or a Democrat.

I wish that the Iowa House and Governor Branstad would have joined the Senate in continuing to make smart investments in education. Then this session could have focused on encouraging small business and creating jobs.

Instead, the state of Iowa was forced into a lengthy, bitter fight to save preschool, to provide a modest increase in state support to local schools THE YEAR AFTER NEXT, and to soften cuts to colleges.

These fights, fights all of which could have been easily avoided, nearly brought Iowa its first ever government shutdown.

Why?

That's the question I'll spend the next six months trying to answer.

Because next January, the Senate will be back. Helping small businesses and their employees will again be at the top of our agenda.

Next year, the state's bank accounts will still be overflowing.

Next year, the argument that we are too broke to provide a good future for our kids will be even more baseless than it was this year.

Next year, I hope we will quickly agree that Iowa should continue to be a national leader when it comes to education. I hope we can then complete the work the Senate started this year: growing Iowa's small business and creating more jobs for Iowans.

REMARKS BY THE MINORITY LEADER

Senator McKinley provided the following remarks:

Thank you Mr. President.

Colleagues, friends and all Iowans:

What a session!

This was truly one for the history books: 6 different months, 25 weeks, 172 calendar days and 91 total days of session.

As we finally close the books on this session, I think history will ultimately view this session as the real beginning of a transformation progression for Iowa.

When the voters spoke last fall, they said they wanted a smaller, more efficient government that taxes less, spends less, promotes an environment where private sector job creation flourishes and encourages freedom, liberty and opportunity.

Republicans have listened to the wishes of the voters and after years of overspending, ever higher taxes and rampant job losses – the tide is beginning to change and a new course is being charted.

Yet, make no mistake – our work does not end today. It is only just beginning and we have a lot of work ahead of us.

When we started this session on that cold January day, Senate Republicans said we wanted to give the citizens back their government and make it more responsive, open and transparent. We said we wanted to spend our time this session focusing on the message the Iowa voters delivered last fall: to concentrate on private sector job creation, remove onerous barriers to economic growth, reduce spending and cut our taxes.

From day one, our mission has been to begin to restore the public trust in government and to move forward on a new and more hopeful agenda.

While there is still much yet to be accomplished when it comes to opening Iowa up for more good paying jobs, we took a major step forward this session by beginning to address the onerous rules and regulations that are holding back job creators and sending jobs across our borders.

Our eleven city “Re-Open Iowa for Business” Rules and Regulations tour generated hundreds of comments, was attended by over 1000 people and truly began to push the conversation toward removing – instead of building up the barriers that are hindering the success of our people.

In the coming weeks, Senate Republicans will be releasing our report on the tour, which will include specific policy and procedure changes that must be implemented to ensure Iowa is friendlier to those who wish to invest in our communities and our workforce.

When it comes to encouraging private sector job creation and the over 100,000 Iowans that are still unacceptably out of work, Senate Republicans look forward to continuing to be a leader on all issues related to job creation.

On jobs, we made progress but there is more that needs to be done.

Though it took the full six months to accomplish, we finally have a budget that funds our core essential services without employing the kinds of reckless budgeting gimmicks that have put our state in financial peril in recent years.

While nobody likes everything about this new budget, it is more sustainable, predictable and spends less than we take in.

As we look to the future, we will continue to work hard to find savings, eliminate waste and offer systemic reforms that will result in a leaner and more efficient delivery of services for the people that elected us to serve as their voice and their vote.

On the budget, we made substantive progress but there is plenty more that can be done.

A leaner budget also goes hand in hand with a more reasonable and responsible tax system.

In order to make our state more competitive for jobs, we must have lower property taxes. Unfortunately, the property taxpayers of Iowa will not get the comprehensive tax reform that they deserve this session.

However, Senate Republicans remain emboldened to do what is right for all classes of property taxpayers.

Whether it is property or income taxes, there is still plenty of work yet to be done to make Iowa more competitive for all of those who wish to call our great state home.

When it comes to our tax code in the future, we have no choice but to make serious reforms.

In addition to the budget, job creation and taxes, there are still challenges that must be addressed in other areas in the coming year.

We must get past the partisan obstructionism and finally address legislation that bans late-term abortions so communities like Council Bluffs can avoid becoming the “Late-Term Abortion Mecca of the Midwest.” In addition, it is wrong for Senate Democrats to continue to obstruct a vote of the people on the basic definition of marriage, defying the unmistakable message delivered by the voters’ last election.

Our work on other important endeavors and reforms in education, health care, energy, agriculture policy and with our natural resources will be part of the conversation in the near future and we can and must always do more to make our government more open and transparent.

We must also challenge ourselves to guarantee sufficient public safety and ensure that we have roads and infrastructure that are safe, reliable and capable of supporting the Iowa economy of the future.

We must work to help those along our western border as they battle the flooding created by the Mighty Missouri. They, like other flooding victims, are a wonderful example of the resiliency and profound sense of community that exists amongst the people of Iowa.

Clearly, Mr. President, can there be any doubt that we have plenty of work ahead of us?

Before I conclude, I want to thank my fellow members of the Senate Republican Caucus for their hard work. I want to thank all of our caucus staff members, the staff of the LSA and Secretary of the Senate's office and our pages and door keepers for their excellent work.

It takes a lot of dedicated people to keep us all on track.

Yet, it also takes real leadership to really put Iowa back on a track of growth and prosperity. I believe we have started down the right path but we can, should and will do more.

Iowans did not elect us to continue the status quo. They elected us to make difficult decisions and to take real steps forward. The future generations of Iowa cannot afford for us to sit idly by while our neighbors and competitors only continue to make the progress we are missing.

We, as elected officials, have been granted an incredible ability to set policy and represent the people of this state. As individuals, we are here to serve the constituents in our districts, but together we must work for the betterment of all.

Every Iowan is unique and special but we all are looking for similar things: a better life and good paying jobs, world class schools and safe communities for their children and a government that lives within its means, promotes liberty and fosters opportunity.

Iowans are blessed with common sense, are hardworking, compassionate, frugal and optimistic about the future. They care about their communities, their schools and their neighbors around them. Our people are smart, they love this state and they want what is best for their families. This exceptional sense of independence, community and self-sufficiency is our bedrock and our lifeblood.

As we look toward the future, let us again unleash the unbridled entrepreneurial spirit and ingenuity of the private sector. This state is dotted with manufacturers and small businesses who have served as the foundation of our communities. We must embrace the understanding that the new Iowa economy will be about the things that we can touch, feel, need and use. Never should we allow our valuable agricultural commodities to leave this state to have value added elsewhere.

We could be on the verge of a new economic explosion if we lead with the right vision, take the right approach and move away from the notion that government picking winners and losers is the answer to growing our economy.

We must stay focused on job creation and send a clear message that Iowa is the destination for all those who wish to find success and pursue their dreams.

As legislators, we must never stop trying to renew the boundless potential embodied in all 99 counties.

May God bless you all, our constituents back home and may you always be proud to be an Iowan.

Thank you very much.

GOVERNOR'S ITEM VETO MESSAGES

Senate File 508

July 18, 2011

The Honorable Matt Schultz
Secretary of State of Iowa
State Capitol
Des Moines, Iowa 50319

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I hereby transmit Senate File 508, an Act appropriating federal funds made available from federal block grants and other non-state sources, allocating portions of federal block grants, and providing procedures if federal funds are more or less than anticipated or if federal block grants are more or less than anticipated.

Senate File 508 is, therefore, signed on this date with the following exception, which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve Section 36 of the bill in its entirety. This item creates a redundant mandate by requiring departments that receive funds from this appropriation bill to provide a detailed plan of the past, current, and future expenditures of federal funds designated for departmental administrative expenses 60 days before the start of the new federal fiscal year. While I strongly support transparency efforts that publicly disclose how departments spend their resources, this information is already available within the State's accounting and budgeting systems. Furthermore, the future year's plan will be of little to no benefit beyond what is currently available because most of the amounts will not have been established by the federal government in a timely fashion that would allow a complete and accurate report 60 days before the start of the new federal fiscal year.

For the above reasons, I respectfully disapprove the designated item in accordance with Amendment IV of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items in Senate File 508 are hereby approved as of this date.

Sincerely,

TERRY E. BRANSTAD
Governor

Senate File 510

July 29, 2011

The Honorable Matt Schultz
Secretary of State of Iowa
State Capitol
Des Moines, Iowa 50319

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I hereby transmit Senate File 510, an act relating to and making appropriations to the justice system, providing penalties, and including effective and retroactive applicability date provisions.

Senate File 510 is, therefore, signed on this date with the following exceptions, which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve the item designated in Section 4, numbered paragraph 1, lettered paragraph a in its entirety. This item prevents the Department of Corrections from entering into a new contract in excess of $100,000 for privatized services during fiscal year 2012 and 2013 without prior notification of the legislature and employee organizations. However, these sections allow the department to renew existing contracts without notification. This item would prevent the department from obtaining services for inmates in an effective and efficient manner. This notification unnecessarily impedes on the department's management authority.

I am unable to approve the item designated in Section 4, numbered paragraph 2, lettered paragraph a in its entirety. This item mandates the Department of Corrections to transfer at least $300,000 from canteen funds of the institutions to the department's education programs. The department already is required and desires to utilize canteen funds for the benefit of inmates. However, this item requires the department to use $300,000 of the canteen fund towards inmate education programs when the fund usually does not have $300,000. It is impossible for the department to spend $300,000 of the fund when the fund's balance is typically below that amount. Therefore, I continue to encourage the department to use funds provided in the Canteen Fund towards education programs for inmates.

I am unable to approve the item designated in Section 5, subsection 6 in its entirety. This item would require all Community Based Correctional ("CBC") facilities to accept offenders transferred from other judicial districts without consideration of evidence-based practices regarding supervisory status. I disapprove this language in order to assure that each CBC facility will maintain control of the types and numbers of offenders who they serve in their respective residential programs.

I am unable to approve the item designated in Section 33, numbered paragraph 1, lettered paragraph a in its entirety. This item prevents the Department of Corrections from entering into a new contract in excess of $100,000 for privatized services during fiscal year 2012 and 2013 without prior notification of the legislature and employee organizations. However, these sections allow the department to renew existing contracts without notification. This item would prevent the department from obtaining services for inmates in an effective and efficient manner. This notification unnecessarily impedes on the department's management authority.

I am unable to approve the items designated in Section 33, numbered paragraph 2, lettered paragraph a in its entirety. This item mandates the Department of Corrections to transfer at least $300,000 from canteen funds of the institutions to the department's education programs. The department already is required and desires to utilize canteen funds for the benefit of inmates. However, this item requires the department to use $300,000 of the canteen fund towards inmate education programs when the fund usually does not have $300,000. It is impossible for the department to spend $300,000 of the fund when the fund's balance is typically below that amount. Therefore, I continue to encourage the department to use funds provided in the Canteen Fund towards education programs for inmates.

I am unable to approve the item designated in Section 34, paragraph 6 in its entirety. This item would require all Community Based Correctional ("CBC") facilities to accept offenders transferred from other judicial districts without consideration of evidence-based practices regarding supervisory status. I disapprove this language in order to assure that each CBC facility will maintain control of the types and numbers of offenders who they serve in their respective residential programs.

For the above reasons, I respectfully disapprove the designated items in accordance with Amendment IV of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items in Senate File 510 are hereby approved as of this date.

Sincerely,

TERRY E. BRANSTAD
Governor

Senate File 517

July 27, 2011

The Honorable Matt Schultz
Secretary of State of Iowa
State Capitol
Des Moines, Iowa 50319

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I hereby transmit Senate File 517, an Act relating to and making appropriations to the Department of Cultural Affairs, the Department of Economic Development, certain Board of Regents Institutions, the Department of Workforce Development, the Iowa Finance Authority, and the Public Employment Relations Board, and addressing related matters including tax credits and including retroactive effective dates and retroactive applicability provisions.

Senate File 517 is approved on this date with the following exceptions, which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 15, subsection 3, paragraph c, in its entirety. This item would prohibit Iowa Workforce Development (“IWD”) from putting forth an enhanced delivery system that broadens access to Iowans across the state in fiscal year 2012. In order to develop a sustainable delivery system, in light of continually fluctuating federal funding, the department must put forth a system that embraces the use of technology while providing enhanced benefits through maximum efficiencies. At this time, IWD has over one hundred ninety virtual access point workstations in over sixty new locations throughout the state in order to increase access to these critical services. Iowans are already utilizing expanded hours of operations, six days a week. At my direction, IWD will have hundreds of additional virtual access points by the end of fiscal year 2012.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 15, subsection 5 in its entirety. This item attempts to define a delivery system in such a way as to prevent growth and progress in serving Iowans in fiscal year 2012. IWD has recognized the necessity of delivering services through multiple streams, including technology. As such, IWD is putting forth a plan that delivers more services to Iowans while streamlining government.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 20 in its entirety. This item would prohibit IWD from using the National Career Readiness Certificate program in fiscal year 2012. The National Career Readiness Certificate program is an Iowa-based product which is an assessment and skill development tool that has been embraced by over 400 Iowa employers as an exceptional tool for demonstrating skills for a potential employee. It is recognized nationally by both the Executive Office of the President and the U.S. Department of Labor as a reliable and portable tool for job seekers to present and certify their skills. I cannot agree with the denial to IWD of the potential use of this program.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 26 in its entirety. This item would transfer and appropriate unobligated money in the Save Our Small Business Fund to Iowa Workforce Development to be used for field offices in fiscal year 2012. Funding on-going operational expenses with one-time funds violates sound budgeting principals. This one-time funding source does not create a sustainable operating environment; instead it moves the funding problem into the future.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 61, subsection 3, paragraph c, in its entirety. This item would prohibit IWD from putting forth an enhanced delivery system that broadens access to Iowans across the state for fiscal year 2013. In order to develop a sustainable delivery system, in light of the continually fluctuating federal funding, the department must put forth a system that embraces the use of technology while providing enhanced benefits through maximum efficiencies. At this time, IWD has over one hundred ninety virtual access point workstations in over sixty new locations throughout the state in order to increase access to these critical services. Iowans are already utilizing expanded hours of operations, six days a week. At my direction, IWD will have hundreds of additional virtual access points by the end of fiscal year 2012.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 61, subsection 5 in its entirety. This item attempts to define a delivery system in such a way as to prevent growth and progress in serving Iowans for fiscal year 2013. IWD has recognized the necessity of delivering services through multiple streams, including technology. As such, IWD is putting forth a plan that delivers more services to Iowans while streamlining government.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 66 in its entirety. This item would prohibit IWD from using the National Career Readiness Certificate program in fiscal year 2013. The National Career Readiness Certificate program is an Iowa-based product which is an assessment and skill development tool that has been embraced by over 400 Iowa employers as an exceptional tool for demonstrating skills for a potential employee. It is recognized nationally by both the Executive Office of the President and the U.S. Department of Labor as a reliable and portable tool for job seekers to present and certify their skills. I cannot agree with the denial to IWD of the potential use of this program.

For the above reasons, I respectfully disapprove the designated items in accordance with Amendment IV of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items in Senate File 517 are hereby approved as of this date.

Sincerely,

TERRY E. BRANSTAD
Governor

Senate File 533

July 27, 2011

The Honorable Matt Schultz
Secretary of State of Iowa
State Capitol
Des Moines, Iowa 50319

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I hereby transmit Senate File 533, an Act relating to state and local finances by providing for funding of property tax credits and reimbursements, by making and adjusting appropriations, providing for salaries and compensation of state employees, providing for matters relating to tax credits, providing for fees and penalties, providing for legal responsibilities, and providing for properly related matters, and including effective date and retroactive and other applicability provisions.

Senate File 533 is approved on this date with the following exceptions, which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 6 in its entirety. This item would provide that for fiscal year 2012 bonus pay would be prohibited for employees of the Executive, Judicial, and Legal branches. This item would unduly limit the ability of the Executive branch to deploy such methods to attract, retain, incentivize and reward exceptional employees.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 45 in its entirety. His item would provide that for fiscal year 2013 bonus pay would be prohibited for employees of the Executive, Judicial and Legal branches. This item would unduly limit the ability of the Executive branch to deploy such methods to attract, retain, incentivize and reward exceptional employees.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 90 in its entirety. This item would increase the number of voting members of the Iowa Law Enforcement Academy council by two members, increasing the total membership from thirteen to fifteen members. The number of voting members was increased by legislation earlier this year from seven to thirteen. I disapprove of this item because adding two additional members to this board, bringing the total to fifteen voting members would make it too cumbersome and will impede its effectiveness. The existing board members can work to seek input from the public and interested parties.

I am unable to approve the items designated as Section 108 in its entirety. These items would specify that each department of State government track budget and actual expenditures for contract services and employee training. This item creates a redundant mandate. While I strongly support transparency efforts that publicly disclose how departments spend their resources, this information is available within the State's accounting and budgeting systems.

I am unable to approve the items designated as Sections 117, 118 and 119 in their entirety. These items would extend the Medication Therapy Management pilot program conducted by the Department of Administrative Services for certain State employees for one more year. This pilot program is funded by a transfer of $510,000 from the Board of Pharmacy to the Department of Administrative Services to pay for the extension. The purpose of this pilot program was to temporarily engage in an activity and, at completion, thoroughly review the results before taking additional action. As a result, it is premature to authorize an additional year for this pilot program until the results have been reviewed to measure program effectiveness and for that reason I cannot authorize its continuation at this time.

I am unable to approve the items designated as Sections 120 and 121 in their entirety. The item would increase the Earned Income Tax Credit from the current level of 7.0% of the federal credit to 10.0% of the federal credit. This change is estimated to reduce the revenue to the state general fund by $28.5 million for Fiscal Years 2012–2013. It is my desire to approach tax policy in a comprehensive and holistic manner. As such, I urge members of the House and Senate to continue to work with my office on an overall tax reduction package that both fits within our sound budgeting principals while reducing those taxes that are impeding our state's ability to compete for new business and jobs.

For the above reasons, I respectfully disapprove the designated items in accordance with Amendment IV of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items in Senate File 533 are hereby approved as of this date.

Sincerely,

TERRY E. BRANSTAD

 5 a searchable budget database and internet site as 6 required under chapter 8G, division I, and to develop

11 is amended by striking the subsection.

12 Sec. 45. NEW SECTION. 8G.1 Intent — findings.

13 The general assembly finds that taxpayers should

16 results achieved for those expenditures. Therefore,
17 it is the intent of the general assembly to direct
18 the department of management to create and maintain a
19 searchable budget database and internet site detailing

21 tax dollars are expended, and the results achieved for 22 all taxpayer investments in state government.

21 shall apply and be adhered to.
22 6. This section does not apply to local

24 Sec. 49. NEW SECTION. 8G.5 Internet site updates.
25 1. Effective July 1, 2013, the internet site shall 26 be updated regularly as new data and information become 27 available, but shall be updated no less frequently than 28 annually within thirty days following the close of 35 to agency heads or the governing body of an agency to 36 ensure compliance with this section.

37 2. By January 1, 2014, the director shall add data
38 for the previous budgets to the internet site. Data
39 for previous fiscal years may be added as it becomes 40 available and as time permits. The director shall 41 ensure that all data added to the internet site remain
42 accessible to the public for a minimum of ten years.
43 Sec. 50. NEW SECTION. 8G.6 Noncompliance.
44 The director shall not be considered in compliance
45 with this subchapter if the data required for the 46 internet site is not available in a searchable manner
47 and capable of being compiled or if the public is 48 redirected to other government internet sites unless 49 each of those sites displays information from all
50 agencies and each category of information required can

1 be searched electronically by field in a single search.
2 Sec. 51. NEW SECTION. 8G.10 Intent — findings.
3 The general assembly finds that increasing

4 the ease of public access to state and local tax
5 rates, particularly where the rates are currently 6 available from disparate government sources and are 7 difficult for the public to collect and efficiently
8 aggregate, significantly contributes to governmental 9 accountability, public participation, and the 10 understanding of the cost of government services.
11 Therefore, it is the intent of the general assembly to 12 direct the department of management, in consultation
13 with the department of revenue, to create and maintain
14 a searchable database and internet site of each tax
15 rate for all taxing jurisdictions in the state to make 16 citizen access to state and local tax rates as open,
17 transparent, and publicly accessible as is feasible.

18 Sec. 52. NEW SECTION. 8G.11 Short title.
19 This subchapter shall be known and cited as the 20 "Taxation Disclosure Act".

21 Sec. 53. NEW SECTION. 8G.12 Tax rate database.
22 1. Searchable tax rate database. By January 1,
23 2012, the department of management, in consultation
24 with the department of revenue, shall make publicly
25 available on an internet site a searchable database
26 of all tax rates in the state for each taxing
27 jurisdiction. The information shall include all
28 applicable tax types imposed in the taxing jurisdiction
29 and shall be organized, presented, and accessible, to 30 the extent possible, by county, city, and physical 31 address for each residency or business. Individual tax
32 levies shall be further specified within each tax rate.

33 2. Geographical tax rate map. In addition to 34 searching for tax rates in the manner described 35 in subsection 1, searches shall be accommodated by 36 a geographical tax rate map of the state that is 37 capable of being displayed with a level of specificity
38 corresponding to each taxing jurisdiction.

39 3. Individual tax rate calculator. Tax rate
40 calculators shall be provided on the searchable
41 database to allow citizens and businesses to calculate
42 taxes based on the location of the citizen or business.
43 Calculation capability shall be provided at a minimum
44 for property, sales, use, income, vehicle, and business
45 taxes and shall be specific to the rate for the taxing
46 jurisdiction identified by the citizen or business.

47 Sec. 54. NEW SECTION. 8G.13 Updating database.
48 To facilitate the department of management's efforts
49 in creating and maintaining a searchable database of 50 the taxes identified in section 8G.12, subsection 3,

1 for all taxing jurisdictions in the state, each taxing
2 jurisdiction may annually be required to report its tax

- 3 rates to the department of management or the department

- 2 2. An identification of the objectives intended for 3 the program and the problem or need that the program

9 methods of protecting the public in lieu of any 10 existing rule or regulation applied by the agency.
- 11 4. The extent to which the jurisdiction of the

- 17 5. An assessment of the extent to which the agency

20 rather than to an occupation, business, or institution

23 effectiveness with which the agency disposes of 24 complaints concerning persons affected by the program.
- 25 7. An assessment of the extent to which the agency
26 has encouraged participation by the public in making
27 rules and decisions as opposed to participation solely 28 by those it regulates and the extent to which the 30 with the objectives of the program.

- 31 8. The extent to which the agency has complied with 32 applicable requirements of all of the following:

43 enabling statutes of the program so that the agency can 44 adequately comply with the criteria established in this 45 section.
46 10. The extent to which the agency issues and 47 enforces rules relating to potential conflicts of 48 interest of its employees.
49 11. The extent to which the agency complies with 50 chapter 22 and follows records management practices

1 that enable the agency to respond efficiently to
2 requests for public information.
3 12. The effect of federal intervention or loss of 4 federal funds if the program is sunset.
5 Sec. 9. NEW SECTION. 4A.9 Exemption for certain
6 agencies.
7 1. In the two-year period preceding the date
8 scheduled for the sunset of a program in accordance 9 with this chapter, the committee may exempt the program
10 from the requirements of this chapter relating to staff

12 shall only exempt a program that has been inactive for 13 a period of two years preceding the date the program is 14 scheduled to sunset.
15 2. The committee's action in exempting a program
16 pursuant to this section requires an affirmative record
17 vote of all members of the committee.
18 Sec. 10. NEW SECTION. 4A.10 Activities of the 19 general assembly not restricted.
20 This chapter does not restrict the general assembly
21 from doing any of the following:
22 1. Terminating a program at a date earlier than 23 required in accordance with this chapter.
24 2. Considering any other legislation relative to a
25 program subject to this chapter.
26 Sec. 11. NEW SECTION. 4A.11 Duration of sunset
27 program — procedures for terminated programs.
28 1. a. A program that is sunset may continue in 29 existence to conclude its business until September 1 of 30 the fiscal year following the fiscal year in which the 31 program was sunset. Unless the law provides otherwise,
32 the sunset of a program does not reduce or otherwise
33 limit the powers and authority of the agency during the 34 concluding year.

35 b. A program is terminated and shall cease all
36 activities on or before the date specified in paragraph 37 "a". Unless the law provides otherwise, all rules
38 adopted pertaining to the program shall expire on that 39 date.

40 2. a. Any unobligated or unexpended appropriations
41 of a sunset program lapse on the date specified in 42 subsection 1 and shall revert to the general fund of 43 the state on that date.

44 b. Except as provided by subsection 5 or as 45 otherwise provided by law, all moneys in a dedicated 46 fund of a program that is sunset in accordance with 47 this chapter shall be transferred to the general fund
48 of the state on the date specified in subsection 1.
49 Any law or portion of a law dedicating moneys to a
50 specific fund of a program that is sunset is void on

1 the date specified in subsection 1.

2 3. Unless the governor designates an appropriate
3 agency as described in subsection 4, the property and
4 records in the custody of an agency administering a
5 sunset program on the date specified in subsection
6 1 shall be transferred to the department of 7 administrative services. However, if the governor
8 designates an appropriate agency as described in 9 subsection 4, the property and records shall be 10 transferred to the designated agency.

11 4. a. In recognition of the state's continuing 12 obligation to pay bonded indebtedness and all other
13 obligations, including lease, contract, and other 14 written obligations, incurred by a program subject to 15 sunset in accordance with this chapter, the sunset
16 of the program shall not impair or impede payment
17 of bonded indebtedness and all other obligations,
18 including lease, contract, and other written
19 obligations, in accordance with their terms.

20 b. If an agency has outstanding bonded indebtedness
21 or other outstanding obligations for a program that is 22 sunset, including lease, contract, or other written
23 obligations, the bonds and all other such obligations
24 remain valid and enforceable in accordance with 25 their terms and subject to all applicable terms and 26 conditions of the laws and proceedings authorizing the 27 bonds and all other such obligations. The governor
28 shall designate an appropriate agency to continue
29 to carry out all covenants contained in the bonds
30 and all other such obligations, and the proceedings
31 authorizing them, including the issuance of bonds,
32 and the performance of all other such obligations

33 to complete the construction of projects or the 34 performance of other such obligations. The designated 35 agency shall provide payment from the sources of 36 payment of the bonds in accordance with the terms of 37 the bonds and shall provide payment from the sources of 38 payment from all other such obligations in accordance 39 with their terms, whether from taxes, revenues, or 40 otherwise, until the bonds and interest on the bonds
 41 are paid in full and are performed and paid in full.
 42 If the terms of the obligation so provide, all funds
 43 established by law or proceedings authorizing the bonds
 44 or authorizing other such obligations shall remain
 45 with the treasurer of state or previously designated 46 trustees. If the proceedings do not provide that the 47 funds remain with the treasurer of state or previously 48 designated trustees, the funds shall be transferred to 49 the designated agency.
 50 Sec. 12. NEW SECTION. 4A.12 State agencies and

1 officers to provide assistance to committee.
 2 1. The committee may request the assistance
 3 of agencies and officers to assist in gathering
 4 information pursuant to the committee objective.
 5 2. In carrying out its functions pursuant to 6 this chapter, the committee may inspect the records,
 7 documents, and files of any agency.
 8 Sec. 13. NEW SECTION. 4A.13 Department of 9 workforce development to assist displaced employees.
 10 If an employee is displaced because a program is 11 sunset, reorganized, or discontinued, the affected
 12 agency and the department of workforce development 13 shall make a reasonable effort to relocate the 14 displaced employee.
 15 Sec. 14. NEW SECTION. 4A.14 Rights and duties not 16 affected by program sunset.
 17 Unless otherwise expressly provided by law,
 18 the sunset of a program does not affect the rights
 19 and duties that matured, penalties incurred or 20 imposed, civil or criminal liabilities that arose, or 21 proceedings initiated in connection with the program
 22 before the effective date of the program's sunset.>

30 takes effect upon enactment.

31 DIVISION ____
32 COUNTY MENTAL HEALTH
33 AND DISABILITY SERVICES

34 Sec. ____ COUNTY WAITING LISTS.

35 1. There is appropriated from the general fund of 36 the state to the department of human services for the 37 fiscal year beginning July 1, 2010, and ending June 30, 38 2011, the following amount, or so much thereof as is 39 necessary, to be used for the purposes designated:

40 To be credited to the risk pool in the property tax
41 relief fund created in chapter 426B and expended as 42 provided in this section:

43 $ 25,000,000

44 2. The amount appropriated in this section is 45 appropriated from the risk pool to the department
46 of human services for distribution as provided in 47 this section. Notwithstanding section 8.33, moneys
48 appropriated in this section that remain unencumbered
49 or unobligated at the close of the fiscal year shall 50 not revert but shall remain available for expenditure

1 for the purposes designated until the close of the 2 succeeding fiscal year.

3 3. a. For the purposes of this section, "services
4 fund" means a county's mental health, mental
5 retardation, and developmental disabilities services
6 fund created in section 331.424A.

7 b. The risk pool board shall implement a process
8 for distribution of the amount appropriated in this
9 section to counties to be used to provide eligibility

10 for services and other support payable from the 11 counties' services funds for persons who are eligible
12 under county management plans in effect as of December
13 31, 2010, but due to insufficient funding are on a 14 waiting list for the services and other support. The 15 period addressed by the funding appropriated in this 16 section begins on or after the effective date of 17 this section and ends June 30, 2012. Of the amount 18 appropriated in this section, up to $5,000,000 shall 19 be targeted to expand medical assistance program
20 waiver slots for those waivers for which counties pay
21 the nonfederal share of the costs. The distribution
22 allocations shall be completed on or before July 1, 23 2011.

24 c. The general assembly finds that as of the time
25 of enactment of this section, the funding appropriated
26 in this section is sufficient to eliminate the need
27 for continuing, instituting, or reinstating waiting
28 lists during the period addressed by the appropriation.
29 However, the process implemented by the risk pool
30 board shall ensure there is adequate funding so that 31 a person made eligible for services and other support
32 from the waiting list would not be required to return
33 to the waiting list if a later projection indicates the 34 funding is insufficient to cover for the entire period
35 all individuals removed from the waiting list pursuant 36 to this section.

37 d. The funding provided in this section is intended 38 to provide necessary services for adults in need of 39 mental health, mental retardation, or developmental 40 disabilities services until improvements to the current 41 system can be developed and enacted.

42 Sec. ____ ADULT MENTAL HEALTH AND DISABILITY
43 SERVICE SYSTEM REFORM.

44 1. The general assembly finds there is need to 45 reform the adult mental health and disability services

47 of persons with mental illness, mental retardation, or 48 developmental disabilities. Issues with the current 49 system include the following:

14 (Medicaid) program changes in the federal Patient
15 Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA) that will 16 greatly expand the program's eligibility for persons in 17 the service system beginning in calendar year 2014.

18 h. Dissatisfaction with using county of legal 19 settlement determinations to determine county and state
20 financial responsibility for services.

21 2. In order to address the issues identified in 22 subsection 1, the committees on human resources, 23 appropriations, and ways and means of the senate and 24 house of representatives shall propose legislation to 25 address the following actions by the dates indicated:

26 a. Phase-in of the state fully assuming the 27 nonfederal share of the costs for Medicaid program
28 services now borne by counties by the implementation
29 date of the Medicaid eligibility changes under PPACA.

30 b. Provide property tax relief and equity by having 31 the state assume a greater role in funding the adult
32 mental health and disability services system from 33 counties by July 1, 2012, when the repeals contained in 34 this division of this Act take effect.

35 c. Shift the balance of responsibilities for the 36 services system between the state and counties so
37 that the state ensures greater uniformity and there
38 is sufficient size to develop effective services
39 while maintaining the county role of bringing local 40 resources together in unique ways that best meet the 41 needs of clients, by implementing a new services system
42 structure by July 1, 2012, when the repeals contained
43 in this division of this Act take effect.

1 Amend Senate File 184 as follows:

2 1. Page 1, before line 1 by inserting:

3 <Section 1. NEW SECTION. 321.178A Driver education
 4 — teaching parent.

5 1. Teaching parent. As an alternative to the 6 driver education requirements under section 321.178,
 7 a teaching parent may instruct a student in a driver

8 education course that meets the requirements of this
9 section and provide evidence that the requirements
10 under this section have been met.

11 2. Definitions. For purposes of this section:

12 a. "Approved course" means driver education
13 curriculum approved by the department pursuant to rules
14 adopted under chapter 17A. An approved course shall,
15 at a minimum, meet the requirements of subsection 3
16 and be appropriate for teaching-parent-directed driver
17 education and related street or highway instruction.
18 Driver education materials that meet or exceed 19 standards established by the department for an approved
20 course in driver education for a public or private 21 school shall be approved unless otherwise determined by 22 the department. The list of approved courses shall be 23 posted on the department's internet site.

24 b. "Student" means a person between the ages of 25 fourteen and twenty-one years who is within the custody
26 and control of the teaching parent and who satisfies
27 preliminary licensing requirements of the department.

28 c. "Teaching parent" means a parent, guardian,
29 or legal custodian of a student who is currently 30 providing competent private instruction to the student
31 pursuant to section 299A.2 or 299A.3 and who provided
32 such instruction to the student during the previous 33 year; who has a valid driver's license, other than a
34 motorized bicycle license or a temporary restricted
35 license, that permits unaccompanied driving; and who 36 has maintained a clear driving record for the previous 37 two years. For purposes of this paragraph, "clear 38 driving record" means the individual has not been 39 identified as a candidate for suspension of a driver's 40 license under the habitual offender provisions of the 41 department's regulations; is not subject to a driver's
42 license suspension, revocation, denial, cancellation,
43 disqualification, or bar; and has no record of a 44 conviction for a moving traffic violation determined to 45 be the cause of a motor vehicle accident.

46 3. Course of instruction.

47 a. An approved course administered by a teaching
48 parent shall consist of but not be limited to the 49 following:

50 (1) Thirty clock hours of classroom instruction.

Page 2

1 (2) Forty hours of street or highway driving
2 including four hours of driving after sunset and before
3 sunrise while accompanied by the teaching parent.

4 (3) Four hours of classroom instruction concerning
5 substance abuse.

6 (4) A minimum of twenty minutes of instruction

7 concerning railroad crossing safety.
8 (5) Instruction relating to becoming an organ
9 donor under the revised uniform anatomical gift Act as 10 provided in chapter 142C.
11 (6) Instruction providing an awareness about 12 sharing the road with bicycles and motorcycles.
13 b. The content of the course of instruction
14 required under this subsection shall be equivalent
15 to that required under section 321.178. However,
16 reference and study materials, physical classroom
17 requirements, and extra vehicle safety equipment
18 required for instruction under section 321.178 shall 19 not be required for the course of instruction provided
20 under this section.
21 4. Course completion and certification. Upon
22 application by a student for an intermediate license,
23 the teaching parent shall provide evidence showing
24 the student's completion of an approved course and 25 substantial compliance with the requirements of 26 subsection 3 by affidavit signed by the teaching
27 parent on a form to be provided by the department. The 28 evidence shall include all of the following:
29 a. Documentation that the instructor is a teaching
30 parent as defined in subsection 2.
31 b. Documentation that the student is receiving
32 competent private instruction under section 299A.2
33 or the name of the school district within which the 34 student is receiving instruction under section 299A.3.
35 c. The name of the approved course completed by the 36 student.
37 d. An affidavit attesting to satisfactory

48 activities including a list of driving deficiencies and 49 improvements, and the duration of the driving time for 50 each session.

4 be administered by the department, and is otherwise
5 qualified under section 321.180B, subsection 2, shall

6 be eligible for an intermediate license pursuant 7 to section 321.180B. Twenty of the forty hours of 8 street or highway driving instruction required under 9 subsection 3, paragraph "a", subparagraph (2), may 10 be utilized to satisfy the requirement of section 11 321.180B, subsection 2.
