JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

FIRST CALENDAR DAY
FIRST SESSION DAY

Senate Chamber
Des Moines, Iowa, Monday, January 12, 2015

Pursuant to chapter two (2), sections two point one (2.1) and two point three (2.3), Code of Iowa, the 2015 Regular Session of the Eighty-sixth General Assembly convened at 10:01 a.m., and the Senate was called to order by President Jochum.

Prayer was offered by Sister Marge Clark, formerly of Clarke University and a member of the Order of the Blessed Virgin Mary. She was the guest of Senator Jochum.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Senator Courtney.

OPENING REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE

President Jochum addressed the Senate with the following remarks:

Good morning.

Welcome to the 2015 session of the 86th General Assembly of the Iowa Legislature. I especially want to welcome the 7 new members of the Senate: Senators Chaz Allen, Mark Costello, Kevin Kinney, Tim Kraayenbrink, Jason Schultz, Tom Shipley and Senator Tony Bisignano, who is returning to the Senate.

Thank you for the commitment to public service that led your family, friends and neighbors to send you to serve them and represent all the people of our great state in the Iowa Senate.

My final thank you is for the honor of serving as President of the Senate.

I pledge to work with every member of the Senate with an open door policy. As State Senators, we have a responsibility to lead honorably with our words and our actions; as leaders we have a duty to set an example on how to solve problems in spite of our differences.

With the Golden Rule as our guide—to treat others as we want to be treated—we will succeed. As Henry Ford once said, “Coming together is a beginning, staying together is progress, and working together is success.”

Since Iowa voters created divided government, only ideas that have or can gain bipartisan support will become law.

The question is: How do we move forward despite our real differences?

Let’s begin by aiming higher than the partisan debates that divide us.

Let’s begin by listening and talking TO each other rather than OVER each other.

Let’s begin by setting our sights on goals that are supported by all Iowans and will make a real difference in Iowa’s future.

After all, that is how we reached agreement on the Earned Income Tax Credit, commercial property tax reform, skilled worker programs, and the Iowa Health And Wellness Plan, to mention just a few initiatives from the recent past.

Here’s our challenge: We need to craft a balanced budget that is fair to all Iowans. The budget is our plan for the future. The budget is proof of our commitment to the people and policies we claim to believe in.

And, the budget must help us build an economy that works for everyone.

That means jobs that support families. According to the recent Batelle Report, Iowa’s workers outperform the national average on productivity, but their wages are twenty-three percent below the national average.

Subsequently, too many IOWANS are being left behind, and those who are impacted the most are our children.

For too long, the well-being of children has been considered a “woman’s issue.” It is not just a “woman’s issue”. It is an American issue. It is an Iowan issue.

Today, forty-one percent of Iowa’s children under the age of 6 live in low income households. Children who grow up in poverty are more likely to have persistent health issues, are less successful in school, and have lower incomes throughout their lives.

If that’s the likely future for 41% of future Iowans, that spells trouble for our economy and for all Iowans.

However, if those same kids have good health care and extra help in school, almost all of the predicted disadvantages go away.

Iowans have always risen to the challenges we face. For example, the Healthy and Well Kids of Iowa (HAWK-I) health insurance program was begun and then repeatedly funded by bipartisan legislative majorities. It was implemented by Republican and Democratic Governors: Branstad, Vilsack, and Culver. As a result of those efforts, Iowa children have fewer health problems, incur lower health care costs, and are doing better in school.

Those benefits will last throughout their lives. That’s the sort of outcome that brings people together.

Here are three ways we can come together to help Iowa’s children.

First, continue opening doors to education.

Let’s freeze in-state undergraduate tuition for a third year. This will encourage more Iowa students to get their college degree and help reduce college debt.

Let’s restore bipartisan consensus to support our local PreK-12 students. The legislators who filled this chamber in years past, Democrats and Republicans, would be appalled to learn that Iowa has fallen to 37th in the nation in per pupil funding.

Those former Iowa senators knew long ago that great local schools are the best, most certain path to economic prosperity and to prepare our youth to be responsible citizens, and life-long learners.

While we can't predict which industries will produce the best jobs of the future, it is obvious that those industries will need innovative, educated workers who can solve problems and adapt to changing conditions.

That's why the Iowa Legislature voted 40 years ago to put students first when writing the state budget. That's why state law REQUIRES us to set school funding 18 months in advance.

In recent years, that law has been ignored and that hurts our kids. That's why our state now invests $1700 LESS per student than the national average.

It is easy to fix this problem. All we have to do is follow the law.

Let's open the school door wider for our youngest children and focus our investment where and when it counts most, from birth to five years old. It is in those first five years when the foundation for learning is laid.

The best research suggests that early childhood education provides more than eight and a half dollars for every dollar invested. It helps narrow the achievement gap and results in lifelong benefits, like a boost in earnings later in life. That was the conclusion of Governor Branstad's 2011 education summit. It is time that early childhood education be available to every four year old.

And finally, quality, affordable childcare is still lagging in most of our communities as is the successful First Five initiative that helps detect and help prevent mental health and developmental problems among young children.

These are not partisan issues. These are the kids growing up in our communities right now. The young boys and girls who will become Iowa's future workers, parents, and civic leaders.

If we believe in the words of Iowa's native son, President Hoover, when he said, "children are our most precious resource;" if we believe that there are extraordinary possibilities in ordinary people, then what are we waiting for? Let's unleash the extraordinary possibilities in our most precious resource--our children.

Thank you.

REMARKS BY THE MINORITY LEADER

Senator Dix addressed the Senate with the following remarks:

Madam President,

I am proud and honored to stand here today to speak with my fellow legislators and to Iowans.

A few weeks ago many of us began making plans for 2015. Speaking with friends, they began sharing their New Year's resolutions. Some spoke of cutting back on sweets, exercising more, spending more time with family, and saving up for a family trip. There was not a bad idea mentioned, and I thought about how to apply those ideas to myself and my family.

I have to admit, it probably would not hurt to exercise more, and I enjoy the time I spend with Gerri and the kids—and I know I should set aside more time to do exactly that. As I thought more about it, my family and friends are much like yours in this chamber. They are working hard to meet their financial obligations, provide a good home for their children, while trying to save for a family trip or rainy day.

Shortly after Christmas, having my morning coffee I kept thinking about these New Year's resolutions. I shared with Gerri my plans to get into better shape, spend time with her and the kids and come to the Capitol and fight for families like mine, yours and our neighbors and friends across the state to create a legacy of opportunity for every Iowan.

Speaking with my fellow Senate Republicans, we resolve again this year to be fiscally responsible with the taxpayers' money, ensure every child has access to a world class education, honor the commitments we have passed in this chamber, and lift up those with middle incomes. But even as I say that, I realize that some resolutions are simply more important than others. The treadmill may begin collecting dust in February, and the Kit Kat could return to the morning routine in March. But Senate Republicans are resolved—no, committed—to fight for what is right to move our great state forward. We have seen those successes in the past such as eliminating the state income tax on military pensions and social security and education reform.

Iowa's unemployment is near pre-recession levels. A billion dollar deficit is memory. Teacher pay has increased. Commercial property tax relief is now a reality. None of this occurred with a snap of a finger and hoping for the best. With foresight and collaboration, we made this happen.

It is vital we maintain this foresight and ability to work together to rein in spending and keep our state on a strong financial footing. Sitting around the table, Iowa families prioritize their spending to ensure they are not adding to their credit card debt. We face a challenging budget year, and Iowans expect their legislators also to prioritize—particularly when it comes to spending their money and passing debt onto their children and grandchildren.

As a legislative body, we face some tough decisions when it comes to prioritizing spending and making necessary cuts. I believe this body has the resolve to work together to rein in spending, make cuts and reduce the size of government and lift up all Iowans in the process by reducing their tax burdens.

We must be aggressive in our focus on growing our economy. A competitive tax structure is advantageous in expanding our skilled workforce and creating new career opportunities. Senate Republicans know we must reduce the regulatory and tax burdens on job creators. Significant tax relief emboldens businesses, which leads to job creation, bolsters Iowa's economy and leads to increases in state revenues.

With the reform packages passed in 2013, we must be mindful in our work when it comes to budgeting. It is important we maintain fiscally responsible budgeting practices while ensuring commitments we made to Iowans regarding education and property tax reform are met. Shirking this responsibility in favor of simply raising taxes would be a betrayal of the trust of the voters who elected us. Spending money we do not have would be worse: a betrayal of the next generation as we hand them the tab for our irresponsibility.

Senate Republicans pledge our resolve to work to create a legacy of opportunity for all Iowans. We are willing to work with Senate Democrats to make this vision a reality. After all, that is the government Iowans expect, the representation they deserve and the leadership they elected us to provide.

Let's make it Happen!

REMARKS BY THE MAJORITY LEADER

Senator Gronstal addressed the Senate with the following remarks:

I want to welcome the legislators, staff, the news media and our guests to the Senate today. We should all be honored for the opportunity we have to be part of leading the great state of Iowa.

The focus of the 2015 session must be Iowa's middle class.

While some Iowans have benefitted during the recovery from the Great Recession, Iowa's middle class has been largely left out.

Stagnating wages.

Higher student debt.

Slow job growth.

Thousands of workers who need 21st Century skills.

So many Iowa families are struggling financially that it hurts Iowa's economy.

There are fewer dollars in circulation in our communities. And the businesses in our small towns have fewer customers.

What Iowa needs is a larger middle class. More Iowans with access to good jobs, great schools, affordable child care, health care, and housing; and the ability to retire with dignity.

Given that, the most important question facing Iowa legislators is how will we help Iowa's middle class?

Here's a good start.

Local school funding that will continue improvements in student achievement and teacher quality

Freezing tuition for in-state students at our state universities for a third year in a row.

Making sure Iowa workers are paid what they are owed.

Boosting opportunities for worker training programs at community colleges.

Giving Iowa companies the first crack at state contracts.

Continuing to balance the state budget.

My hope for the 2015 session of the Iowa Legislature is that members of the Iowa House and Senate—Republicans and Democrats—will focus on what's best for Iowa's middle class...and for Iowans struggling to join the middle class.

I want to thank Governor Branstad for his commitment to start following the law on school funding. Last week, the governor told reporters that in his speech tomorrow he WILL, in contrast to previous years, offer proposals to fund Iowa's local schools for this year and the next.

That is a welcome change of course.

Governor Branstad and House Republicans have repeatedly REFUSED to follow Iowa's law REQUIRING school funding to be decided FIRST, before the rest of the budget.

As a result, we are currently almost a year late in setting the 2015–2016 school year budget.

And Iowa has fallen to 37th in the nation in per pupil spending!

Thank goodness Iowa student achievement still ranks far higher than that.

We can thank Iowa students, parents and educators for that.

In the long run, you get what you pay for...and we aren't paying for world class schools.

So, it was great to hear that Governor Branstad is adopting a new approach to education.

His next words, however, were a disappointment.

Governor Branstad predicted Democrats would be disappointed.

Wrong, wrong, wrong.

That comment shows exactly why school funding has become a mess here in Iowa.

Let me spell it out. Education funding is not, and should never be, primarily about partisan politics. NEVER.

That hasn't been Iowa's history, and if education DOES become a partisan issue in Iowa, it will spell disaster for our state's future.

Governor, the people you should be MOST concerned about disappointing are Iowa's parents, teachers, school administrators, school boards and community leaders.

Governor, you need to focus on the Iowa families for whom the doors to the local school are the doorways to a better life for their children.

Governor, don't disappoint Iowa communities who depend on great local schools to help attract new businesses and new residents.

Governor, don't disappoint everyone in this state who wants Iowa to fully recover from the Great Recession so we become the prosperous state we once were.

I've often said that successful legislative work is about finding common ground.

If we don't find common ground between the Senate, the House and the Governor, Iowa won't move forward.

Finding common ground often isn't easy. By definition, you don't get things your own way

Here's what keeps me going. Here's what prevents me from giving up when it appears common ground is impossible to find.

Our state is at a critical point in history. Iowans are struggling financially, they are worried about the future, and they are depending on us.

Let's all agree the election is over, and it is too early to start the next campaign.

It's time to focus on the things we CAN agree on.

If we put the needs of Iowa's citizens ahead of narrow, partisan politics, we WILL find that common ground and this session will make a positive contribution to the state we all love.

Thank you.

President Jochum presented Governor Terry E. Branstad, who delivered the following Condition of the State Address:

Madam Lieutenant Governor, Madam President, Mr. Speaker, leaders, justices, judges, legislators, elected officials, distinguished guests, family, friends and fellow Iowans, good morning.

It is my honor to stand before you today in this great chamber—in front of a joint session of the Iowa Legislature—to deliver the message that the condition of Iowa is strong.

Our strength comes from working together and our joint commitment to prudent choices for a better Iowa.

To the new members of the Legislature who are coming to Des Moines for the first time to serve their constituents back home, welcome.

I also want to welcome returning legislators. You return to the Capitol after receiving a vote of confidence from your constituents. I am eager to continue working with you to serve our state.

As we return for another legislative session, we return without a military veteran and dedicated public servant. Representative Dwayne Alons will be dearly missed in this great chamber.

I know now, more than ever, the work we do here together matters.

It matters in the lives of hardworking Iowa families and our Main Street businesses. It matters to farmers and farmland. It matters to public safety and our parks.

It matters to Iowa children counting on us to give them a world-class education, who are now benefiting from the phase-in of the most extensive teacher leadership system in the nation.

It matters to the veteran completing their tour of duty. Instead of worrying where they're going to find a career after leaving the service, they're comforted to know that Iowa has thousands of careers available for them right now through Home Base Iowa.

It matters to the hard-working machinist on the line. Rather than thinking the industry had given up on them, they're eager for the opportunity to sharpen their craft and demonstrate their skills through a National Career Readiness Certificate.

It matters that we work together.

These successes should serve as guideposts for a familiar journey of coming together to help Iowans create more jobs, live better lives and grow prosperity throughout our state.

Ladies and Gentlemen, our work together has Iowa on the rise.

In the past four years:

- 168,700 jobs have been created
- Iowa's unemployment rate has been slashed by nearly 30%
- Over $9 billion in private capital investment has located in Iowa
- We passed the largest tax cut in our state's history, which through a close collaboration between the Iowa Department of Revenue and county government, is being implemented throughout the state, and
- We invested historically in our children's future through transformational education reform.

And we did it by working together.

Together, during the 2014 legislative session, we worked across partisan lines to pass a historic Home Base Iowa package that attracts veterans leaving the military service to Iowa to fill the high-quality careers available here.

Our actions are working.

Today, over 600 veterans have been matched with jobs in Iowa through our Home Base Iowa initiative. Eight cities and counties have become Home Base Iowa Communities, standing ready to embrace veterans and their families as they transition to civilian life and eight college campuses have earned the Home Base Iowa CHAMPS designation for their commitment to welcoming service members to campus.

Already, our work together has resulted in over 24,000 jobs being posted on the Home Base Iowa jobs bank.

Our work to pass Home Base Iowa is bringing new business to the state, as well. Earlier this month I met one of the owners of Capital Armament Company.

A former United States Marine, he informed me that the company will be relocating from Minnesota to Sibley, Iowa, in part because of our Home Base Iowa program and friendly business environment.

Simply put, by working together, we've ensured that veterans leaving the service have boundless opportunities to live, work and prosper in Iowa. Our work demonstrates that no veteran should have to worry about finding a job after sacrificing so much for our state and our nation.

Our work, through the Iowa Apprenticeship and Job Training program, the Skilled Iowa Initiative and the National Career Readiness Certificate, among other initiatives, helped hard-working Iowans move forward.

Unlike past years when tuition was raised by over 17 percent, we worked together to pass a tuition freeze for Iowa students at our Regents universities.

Our work has put us on a bright, sustainable path. Our budget is balanced, our state maintains a budget surplus, our economic emergency accounts are fully funded and our unemployment rate is the 10th lowest in the nation.

And we've done it together.

With our continued progress, we must continue to be mindful of the prudent budgeting that brought us the opportunity to reinvest in our children and return taxpayers' hard-earned money. Through careful management, we can continue to grow, even if we encounter choppy waters.

We must continue following the lead of our fellow Iowans. Like the nearly 40 farmers who came together in Northwest Iowa in October with eight combines, six dump carts and a dozen trucks to help harvest the beans for their fallen friend.

The message that rings out today, and always in Iowa is, "Together, we can."

Together we can we can make our schools safer. We can continue implementing transformational education reform while passing new measures to protect our students from bullying and harassment in schools.

Together we can strengthen our rural infrastructure by connecting every acre in Iowa to high-speed Internet. Better access to broadband means ensuring modern farming methods can flourish in all Iowa fields as part of a modern infrastructure.

Strengthening our infrastructure also means we must come together and strengthen the roads and bridges that connect our farmers, schools and Main Street businesses to the world.

We can make college more affordable and accessible for Iowans. We can renew our commitment to providing affordable world-class education at our Regents universities by offering select degrees for $10,000 and again freezing tuition for Iowa students.

We can provide more assistance to Iowa students with financial needs attending our outstanding independent colleges and universities.

Let's continue to invest in our community colleges, including skilled training for Iowa workers. A better-trained workforce means better opportunities for Iowa families. Simply put, no position in our state should be left unfilled due to a lack of skilled workers.

Together we can make Iowa the most transparent government in the land. We can offer Iowa taxpayers a new transparency portal, making state government more open, accessible and easier to navigate.

Together, we can accomplish this forward-thinking plan of action. We have these opportunities to improve the quality of life in our state because together we made it possible.

In the fall of 2014, Lieutenant Governor Reynolds, my wife Chris and I had the opportunity to visit Sioux City, North Linn and Marshalltown school districts to discuss the important topic of preventing bullying in Iowa schools.

We were pleased to be joined at each stop by students, teachers, parents, school administrators, legislators and community leaders. What we heard at each school was clear – students are ready to stand up and say: “Let’s end bullying in Iowa.”

Now, it’s our turn.

Students in these districts, and from around the state, have told their stories of learning being disrupted and feeling unsafe. What’s worse, we know some students are even being physically and emotionally harmed.

Community leaders and parents shared that it was time for the state to act.

I agree.

Every day, children in Iowa schools are tormented by bullies. The bullies attack at school and on the Internet. They lurk not just in corners of the schoolhouse but also on Snapchat, Instagram, Facebook, Twitter, Yik Yak and through text messaging.

Iowa common sense tells us that every child in Iowa deserves to go to school each and every day in a safe and respectful learning environment. They deserve a classroom and community that allows them to grow and flourish, not live in fear of when and where the bully will strike again.

This is the year that we stand up to the bully. We can’t wait any longer. Please join Lt. Governor Reynolds, my wife Chris and me in standing up against bullying!

Together we can end bullying in Iowa, together we can protect our students and our schools from bullies.

The Bully Free Iowa Act of 2015 that I propose today gives parents more information by requiring parental notification. However, I am proposing an extra layer of protection for students.

This year’s anti-bullying legislation allows for an exception from notification if a bullied student and a school official believe that parental notification could lead to abuse, neglect or rejection.

The legislation also launches a bullying prevention program, by empowering student mentors to take ownership of anti-bullying efforts in their schools.

The bill allows a student, who changes schools due to bullying, to immediately participate in athletics. The legislation will also provide investigator training for schools.

Together we can make 2015 the year Iowa acted to protect our children and grandchildren by ending bullying in schools.

Moving Iowa forward also means ensuring our schools and communities stay safe and our families feel protected. It means we must do more to protect victims of domestic abuse. Now, domestic abusers can serve a fraction of their sentence and return to demonizing their victims.

This is wrong. It is wrong for the victims and it is the wrong policy for the safety and wellbeing of Iowans.

Let’s work together to pass additional measures ensuring victims do not live in fear of their abuser returning from prison long before the sentence is completed.

Today, I propose legislation classifying anyone convicted of domestic abuse three times as a habitual offender. This classification would triple the mandatory minimum sentence.

This legislation holds criminals accountable for their abuse, allows them ample time to rehabilitate and protects our communities.

While victims and communities will be protected from habitual offenders, together we can protect vulnerable Iowans from individuals making criminal threats.

Often times, Iowa courts order a threatening individual to stay away from a potential victim, but should the order be violated, the victim and authorities are not notified until after the fact. Sometimes, when it’s too late.

Together we can give authorities and victims the power of knowing when an abuser is in close proximity. Together we can enact legislation that expands the use of GPS monitoring on dangerous domestic abusers.

Together we can protect victims of domestic violence. Together we can work to end bullying in Iowa.

We know our budget is sound and our books are balanced. We've done this together. We've passed historic tax relief aiding Main Street businesses and we've passed measures to increase the skills of Iowa workers.

Those measures helped attract great companies creating high-quality careers for Iowans all over our state.

Facebook just opened its first Iowa data center in Altoona and is already working on an expansion.

Google is growing in Council Bluffs again, and Microsoft is expanding in West Des Moines.

Cargill and CJ opened in Fort Dodge and are bringing even more good jobs to the region.

In Sioux City, CF Industries will soon be expanding production of nitrogen fertilizer for Iowa's farmers.

The Iowa Fertilizer Plant under construction in Lee County will produce both nitrogen fertilizer and DEF to reduce pollution and increase mileage for diesel engines.

Valent BioSciences, Kinze, Kemin, Sabre, Brownell's and MidAmerican's historic wind project: all are growing right here in Iowa.

Across our state, though, farming operations still provide the lifeblood of our economy. Their continued success depends on their ability to connect.

Not only connecting their equipment to the ground, but in this day and age it also means connecting their equipment to the Internet.

Connecting with the global marketplace to sell their goods. Connecting to main streets across Iowa.

The fabric of our state is woven together by the gravel roads and the interstate system, but in this day and age it also must be connected through access to broadband as well.

This legislative session, let's come together and pass legislation allowing rural Iowa to experience continued growth and connection to the rest of Iowa and the rest of the world.

Together, let's put partisan politics aside and give rural Iowa the broadband legislation that connects every acre and connects communities to the careers of the 21st century.

Our Connect Every Acre plan focuses on providing more broadband to rural Iowa and encourages service providers to build out networks not just to the ending point, but to the rural communities in between. Between Davenport and Des Moines, between Mason City and Sioux City and all across Iowa, we are enriched by many rural communities.

Let's weave them together with the fiber of high-speed Internet, connecting every acre and covering our state with broadband Internet.

We can accomplish this together by focusing on:

- Increasing access through reasonable regulations encouraging growth, and
- Fostering expansion by creating the Iowa Farms, Schools and Communities Broadband Grant Program.

Adopting these measures demonstrates an ongoing commitment to our state's continued growth. With some of the most fertile land in the world, citizens with exceptional work ethic and a strong sense of community pride, rural Iowa has boundless opportunities.

Together, we can adopt measures to connect every acre and give them yet another reason to believe their best days are ahead.

Building a better Iowa means building Iowa for the future. It means investing in our state's infrastructure. So let's invest in broadband Internet.

And, let's also invest in Iowa's roads and bridges.

Over the past few years, rhetoric has trumped results when it has come to action for infrastructure funding for Iowa.

A recently completed Battelle study demonstrates the need for us to take a hard look at adequate road funding. The study shows that without action, funding available for road and bridge maintenance will fall short of what is needed to remain competitive and, more importantly, safe.

Without action, Iowa's roads and bridges face an uncertain future. Our farmers will find it more difficult in delivering commodities to market.

Business and industry will look elsewhere when considering where to invest and grow. As the study found, sound infrastructure remains a prerequisite for economic development.

This is our opportunity to pave the road toward Iowa's strong future. Together, we can find common ground and pass a bipartisan plan to fund the systems critical to our state's vitality: Iowa's roads and bridges, and our broadband infrastructure.

Building an infrastructure as strong as the future that we all want for Iowa must be a bipartisan priority this legislative session!

I'm confident we can find a solution together. We Iowans always do.

Iowans' exceptional work ethic, commitment and dedication are recognized across the country and around the world. Yet within our state today, skilled job openings are abundantly available and going unfilled.

Last October, I toured Omaha Standard Palfinger in Council Bluffs. They are an international company that produces hoists, service cranes, lift gates and more.

The Council Bluffs manufacturing facility was buzzing on the day I visited and the production floor was filled with welders and machinists. I saw their passion for their trade and their commitment to a superior product.

For years, lift gates and service cranes had been produced overseas.

Now, they're being manufactured in America. They're being produced in Council Bluffs, Iowa.

After our tour, company leadership shared that they are eager to hire more workers in Council Bluffs, if only they could find those who have the right skills. These are long-term, high-paying careers for Iowans that should not be left open.

Together, we can establish the Center for Human Capital Enrichment, a public-private partnership, dedicated to aligning education and training of Iowa workers. With a stronger workforce in place, we'll bring more manufacturing and highly-skilled jobs to our state.

Let's lift up the Iowa worker. We can help companies like Omaha Standard Palfinger, who are ready to expand and fill more jobs in Iowa.

Our state budget is tight, that is no secret. Iowans rightly expect predictability and stability in state government. They also rightly expect our state budget to reflect their priorities.

The biennial budget I propose today is balanced, works within our five-year projections and still freezes tuition for Iowa students at our state universities for the third straight year!

Freezing tuition for the third consecutive year is a bold step in providing an affordable higher education in Iowa. But our path doesn't end there.

That's why we challenged Iowa's Board of Regents to develop a plan that offers students a set of degrees that they can earn for $10,000.

In addition, I am offering legislation creating the Iowa Student Debt Reorganization Tax Credit. This tax credit allows individuals to volunteer for worthy causes and in exchange have contributions made toward their student debt.

We've worked together to freeze tuition, now let's continue to take the right steps in making Iowa a leader in reducing student debt.

Iowans rightly expect high-quality for the money they spend on education as well as a government that reflects our shared values.

Together, we worked to increase transparency in government, making it as open and honest as the people of our great state.

We created the Iowa Public Information Board to give the public a resource when seeking information from local and state government. I'm pleased to report the Public Information Board has responded to 643 cases in the last fiscal year.

More and more, the inquiries are not complaints, but rather questions from policy makers about how they can be more transparent. The Iowa Public Information Board is making every layer of government more open.

This year, I'm recommending that Iowa establish a Government Accountability Portal—a one-stop-shop for citizens seeking information.

The portal, housed within the Public Information Board, will field requests and respond within one business day. As state employees, we are here to serve the taxpayers.

Iowa can do more to improve government transparency. For many years, the people of Iowa, who fund state government, have been kept in the dark on personnel decisions because of a loophole in Iowa's open records law.

I was pleased last year when the Iowa House passed bipartisan legislation that would shine light on these personnel files.

A substantiated offense, while a government employee is being paid by the taxpayers, should not be hidden in the shadows.

Together, in the best interest of taxpayers, we can shine light on these records and make our state government even more open, honest and transparent.

As I travel the state, I marvel at the endless beauty of our landscape. When I visit all 99 counties, it never ceases to amaze me what local communities are doing to continually improve their main streets and local quality of life.

From the High Trestle Trail bridge near Madrid, to the revitalization of downtown Cedar Rapids. From the Lewis and Clark State Park along the banks of the Missouri River to the Historic Millwork District in Dubuque near the Mississippi River. Our land between two rivers offers our citizens a high quality of life and our visitors many attractions.

But as Lt. Governor Reynolds and I continue to work to bring more business and industry to the state, we hear that companies are interested not only in our welcoming business climate, but also a high quality of life for their employees.

This year, I am proposing Iowa NEXT, a holistic plan for quality of life initiatives across the state. Let's bring together state agencies that have a shared interest in quality of life initiatives and invest in our parks, trails, lakes and museums.

The proposals outlined today will impact every Iowan. They will help to create jobs, protect students and families and open up our government.

Like the old saying goes, many hands make light work.

Remember back to June of last year.

Torrential rains pummeled Northwest Iowa.

In the Sioux County town of Rock Valley, the Rock River surged over its banks and into the streets and homes of residents. A few short weeks before RAGBRAI, citizens and community leaders wondered if they'd be able to recover.

When I arrived in Rock Valley, I had little doubt.

In a town of only 3,500, 1,700 people showed up to sandbag. Members of the town helped evacuate a local assisted living home. Emergency managers stayed up throughout the night to ensure the safety and wellbeing of locals, their homes and the town's infrastructure.

And when the cyclists of RAGBRAI from around the globe arrived in Rock Valley, the city was ready, because they worked together.

When a challenge arrives, we Iowans get to work. We know that by working together we can find a solution to any problem.

The 86th General Assembly is upon us. With it, comes an opportunity.

Working together and moving forward is the Iowa Way.

Let's come together again to make our schools stronger and safer, our communities more connected, our families better protected, our workers better trained, our universities more affordable and our government the most transparent in the United States.

Now is the time to get to work. Together, we can build a better Iowa.

Thank you. God Bless You. And God Bless the State of Iowa.

Governor Terry E. Branstad was escorted from the House chamber by the committee previously appointed.

Representative Upmeyer moved that the joint convention be dissolved, which motion prevailed by a voice vote.

On motion of Senator Gronstal, the Senate adjourned at 10:38 a.m. until 9:00 a.m., Wednesday, January 14, 2015.

The committee waited upon Chief Justice Mark S. Cady and escorted him to the Speaker's station.

President Jochum then presented Chief Justice Mark S. Cady who delivered the following Condition of the Judiciary Message:

Madam President, Mr. Speaker, distinguished members of the Iowa General Assembly, Governor Branstad, Lieutenant Governor Reynolds, state officials, colleagues, family, friends, and all Iowans:

The assembly of the leadership of all three branches of government in this magnificent chamber underscores the value and success of our shared form of government. It joins with the promise of a new year and stirs a deep respect and reverence for the responsibilities we fulfill together on behalf of the people of Iowa. The three separate branches of government may work in very different ways, but we collectively work as one for the benefit of every Iowan.

My job today as chief justice is to inform you and all Iowans of the condition of the Iowa Judicial Branch. The judicial branch is accountable to do its work so that Iowans can see the value of its fair and impartial courts. It is accountable every day for the resources it is given and the important responsibilities with which it has been entrusted. We best meet these obligations by becoming the best court system we can be. I am honored to report the progress the judicial branch has made towards becoming the best court system in the nation and the value of this progress for all Iowans.

Both my grandfathers were carpenters. Like others who build with their hands, they could look at their work at the end of the day and see progress since the beginning of the day. Building Iowa's court system consistent with its goals may not reveal progress at the end of every day as easily as the work of a carpenter. It is a long, careful process that requires the hands of many, working every day. But, certain days do come along when progress can be seen and our goals are closer within reach. Again this year, the goals of the judicial branch are to:

- Protect Iowa's children;
- Provide full-time access to justice;
- Operate an efficient, full-service court system;
- Provide faster and less costly resolution of legal disputes;
- Remain open and transparent; and
- Provide fair and impartial justice for all.

Let me share with you some specific days of this past year when progress toward achieving our goals could be seen with the clarity of a carpenter at the end of the day.

I. Protecting Iowa's Children

Two days last year stand out to best describe our progress in protecting Iowa's children. One day in July, I visited with each juvenile court officer in the Iowa City district office. These skilled and devoted professionals shared stories of progress children are making under their supervision, stories told with an enthusiasm that promises greater success for more children. Just a few years ago, the stories told were of caseloads so great that our juvenile court officers could not meet face-to-face with most first-time offenders. With your support of additional juvenile court officers, coupled with the implementation of our risk-assessment and evidence-based practices, we are truly making a difference. Since 2012, the number of juveniles with criminal complaints filed against them has dropped by 2,896, a 20% decrease. During this same time, the number of juveniles charged with felony crimes has dropped by 331, a 20% decrease. Today, there are 10% fewer young adults entering the adult correctional system.

These statistics demonstrate real progress. Now, our juvenile court officers have the time to give troubled children the specialized services they need while holding them responsible for their actions. Now, our communities are safer. Now, more children avoid a criminal record that too often impedes their future education, employment, or other opportunities for success as young adults. Now, more children have a better opportunity for a better future.

In a different but equally powerful way, progress was revealed on a day last September when I happened to run into Tom Southard, the chief juvenile court officer in the second judicial district. I casually asked him how things were going. He paused and gave the most profound response. Drawing on the full measure of his 32 years of service, he expressed his belief that we are providing the best services to children and families ever. His words captured what I had seen in Iowa City two months earlier. They captured the value of helping our children in need and the true value to this state of those who commit their careers to help its children.

Juvenile court officers are just one component of the judicial branch's positive interactions with Iowa's children and families. Every day judges decide cases regarding child welfare, adoption, and family reunification. Our Children's Justice Initiative, chaired by Justice Brent Appel of Ackworth, collaborates with the department of human services, department of education, attorneys, judges, service providers, and other stakeholders to find the best ways to serve children and families. This work is essential to the process of protecting our children, and we continue to develop new data-driven approaches for our judges to use to benefit more and more families across Iowa.

Overall, these coordinated efforts give our courts the best opportunity for progress in protecting Iowa's children.

II. Protecting Iowa's Families

Last year, again with your support, we expanded our family treatment courts into every judicial district in the state. We now operate 14 family treatment courts and will continue to add family treatment courts to help even more families in need. As you may recall, last year I shared with you a story of a single mother of two children who had recently graduated from a family treatment court in Sioux City. I read a letter her teenage son wrote to her that expressed how proud he was of her for keeping the family together by overcoming her addictions and putting her life in order with the help of a family treatment court team. After recalling the struggles he faced before his mother entered family treatment court, he wrote, "You have become the mom I've always wanted. I love that you are devoted and willing to change a lot to become the sober, loving, and caring mother you are today." I followed up with the family in November, and I am pleased to report the mother remains committed to her sobriety, maintains stable employment, and has purchased a car. The younger sister is thriving in kindergarten, and the courageous teenager who inspired all of us with his powerful letter to his mother is earning A's and B's at his high school. While this story could not be more compelling and meaningful, many more stories of success could be told this morning, and even more are yet to unfold. But, that November day was the day that could not have better told all of us how family treatment courts change lives for the better—one family, one parent, one child at a time.

III. Transforming the Civil Justice System

We are also committed to transforming our broader civil litigation system to better meet the needs of litigants and attorneys. Two years ago, Justice Edward Mansfield of Des Moines chaired a committee to study reforms to discovery procedures in civil litigation and the feasibility of a special docket to process civil claims in less time and at less expense to all parties. Twelve days ago, on January 2, a new era in civil litigation in Iowa began. We now have new court rules that should help reduce the time and expense associated with discovery in all civil cases. We also have a new expedited track for civil lawsuits of $75,000 or less that will enable them to be completed, from start to finish, within one year. While January 2 was just the start, that was the day when the judicial branch launched a new model of judicial efficiency to give more Iowans more access to justice.

Three additional reforms to our civil justice system are underway that will improve the delivery of justice to Iowans. First, our business court is in the second year of a three-year pilot project and continues to show promise. Justice Daryl Hecht of Sloan has been instrumental in developing and monitoring this project. As part of the effort to improve our business court, in April I met with Secretary of Agriculture Bill Northey and a group of agricultural leaders to discuss new and emerging issues that the business court should be prepared to tackle. We are committed to integrating special expertise into our court system to meet the needs of court users.

Second, we are convening a commission of experts to review existing guardianship and conservatorship laws and procedures. The goal is to develop improvements and new safeguards for the services provided to vulnerable adults and children who need help making decisions regarding their personal care, safety, or finances. Right now our court system oversees more than 22,000 active guardianship or conservatorship cases. Each person in each case deserves the best care possible. The project is under the leadership of Justice Bruce Zager of Waterloo, and the task force will include faculty from Iowa's two outstanding law schools.

Finally, we are assembling a task force chaired by Justice Thomas Waterman of Davenport to make recommendations for greater consistency, efficiency, and transparency in the resolution of family law cases. These cases are a big portion of our workload, and now is the time to make sure Iowa's court system provides the best possible practices and outcomes for families who need our courts during difficult times.

These three projects reflect our efforts to improve the legal system in areas important to all Iowans. They also build on our practice of solving problems with civility and fairness and our practice of listening to the needs and expectations of Iowans. We know we must be willing to listen, measure twice, and try new approaches to provide the best services possible for all Iowans. Together, these projects make today a day when the judicial branch can assure all Iowans that we have been listening and will continue to listen as we build the best court system in the nation.

IV. Combating Racial Disparities in the Criminal Justice System

Let me turn to the area of criminal law. As I mentioned last year, the criminal justice system in Iowa and across the nation is marked by racial disparities. There is an overrepresentation of African Americans and other minorities in the criminal justice system—from arrest to incarceration. For example, Iowa incarcerates 9.4% of its adult African American males, which is the third highest percentage in the nation. This is a difficult problem, but its complexity must not deter us from finding a solution. This past year the judicial branch began to take steps to better understand and address the persistence of racial disparities.

Let me tell you about two days that best describe the steps we have taken and the commitment of this branch to combat the problem. The first day was in July when I met in Iowa City with Judge Deborah Minot, school officials, members of the police department, and community leaders. They are finding new ways to address the racial disparities in the Johnson County juvenile justice system by reducing the number of juvenile complaints in a fair way that holds youths accountable without compromising community safety. Racial disparity is found in this statistic: 10% of all youth living in Johnson County are African American, but African American youths make up 54% of Johnson County school arrests. With training and resources from Georgetown University, the Iowa City community is seeking to reduce racial disparities and its consequences by implementing pilot projects to reduce school referrals to juvenile court and divert low-risk teenagers into community supervision to avoid formal charges. The data-driven approach has invigorated the schools, police department, juvenile judges, juvenile court staff, and community providers with the promise of all that can be achieved by its success. It separates those teenagers who have just not yet grown up from those who need more intense services, giving both a better opportunity for a better future. The collaborative effort began in August, and we await the results of its first year of operation.

The second day was in November when I attended a judicial training session with more than 100 judges, where representatives of the NAACP presented data on racial disparities in the criminal justice system and its impact on society. We are gathering information and searching for ways to bring the promise of equal justice to everyone. The training the judicial branch provides to all staff, including new judges and magistrates, will now include education on recognizing implicit biases that may often contribute to the disparities. We will continue this training and will continue to work with others to do what we can to eliminate racial disparities in the criminal justice system.

Iowa may be a leader in the nation in the statistics showing racial disparities in its criminal justice system, but those two days were days that showed Iowa can also lead the nation in finding solutions to end racial disparities.

V. Serving Iowans and Leading the Nation with Technology

Let me turn to the day last year that may best describe our progress in providing Iowans with an efficient, full-service court system that utilizes technology to its greatest advantage. During the last four years, we have been building and implementing a completely paperless court system, known as EDMS. December 4 was the day when the four-millionth legal document was electronically filed in our court system. We now have more than one million electronically filed cases. December 4 was also the day when I was informed that EDMS will be operational in all 99 counties by June 30 of this year, six months ahead of schedule. Iowa will be the first court system in the nation to have a totally electronic, paperless process for all cases at every level. Justice David Wiggins of West Des Moines and Appellate Clerk of Court Donna Humpal have been instrumental in implementing the appellate EDM process and bringing the appellate courts into the 21st century. Today, all the cases of an appellate judge are contained in a 6-inch by 9-inch tablet. Truly transformational events have come along infrequently in our history, and this age of technology is one of them, but we have only begun to scratch the surface. For example, we are looking to integrate mobile technology into our court system that will simplify access to court information for jurors, judges, attorneys, and all Iowans. December 4 did not signal the end of a project but the beginning of a new era filled with new transformational innovations that will improve the delivery of justice and even justice itself.

VI. Enhancing Courthouse Safety and Security

While some days can be used to mark milestones of progress, other days may deliver problems, even tragedy. One such day was September 9, when there was a shooting in the Jackson County Courthouse. Our county courthouses across the state hold a proud and dignified stature in our communities. But, courthouse business, both court and other county services, can at times be adversarial and give rise to the fear of violence, and even violence itself. Every courthouse employee and visitor in this state deserves to feel safe and be safe. While courthouse security is a problem involving state and local governments, the judicial branch has joined hands with the Iowa State Association of Counties to take the steps necessary to make every courthouse in Iowa safer and more secure. We have completed surveys to determine the current levels of security in each courthouse and have started to provide training to those who work in our courthouses and other state and county buildings. We will broaden our efforts and look forward to working with all segments of state and local government to make all public buildings safe. While the day of the Jackson County shooting was a tragedy, that was the day when tragedy was turned into an unwavering commitment to do everything possible to make sure every place of justice is a place of safety.

VII. The Promise of Justice for All

Finally, let me place the progress of the judicial branch in context. The progress in building a better court system is only accomplished with the help of the judges across this state, judges who must find the time each day to carefully decide the difficult and important issues the people of Iowa bring into our courtrooms. The judges and magistrates of this state do this work today with the honor and conviction of the best judges that preceded them and with all the wisdom we could ever hope would be found in a justice system. It is these judges—my six colleagues on the supreme court, the judges of the court of appeals, and all judges and magistrates in this state—who are making this progress possible and the promise of justice for all inevitable.

I have relied on only a handful of days to describe the progress the judicial branch has made during the past year to build a better court system. I have turned to a few days to describe some of the work yet to be accomplished. Fair and impartial justice for all is our mission. Everyone deserves to see the court process as fair and just, even if some will not see the justice in the results in the same way at the same time. While each day may not reveal our progress to all, each day is our opportunity to bring justice to Iowans through the work of judges and court staff. The architects of our grand government left for those who would follow to be the builders and carpenters. The blueprints bestowed challenge us to innovate and inspire us to do our best. It is today that the judicial branch continues to build the system of justice envisioned by its architects to benefit all people, so that one day the arc that bends towards justice and equality will be inscribed full circle to become but a point, a single point where we all stand, a point seen and felt by all with the clarity of a carpenter.

Thank you.

Governor and First Lady, Senator Grassley, Senator Ernst, Governor Christie, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Leader, Mr. Chief Justice, justices and judges, legislators, elected officials, family, friends, and fellow Iowans—welcome.

Madam President, thank you for that very nice introduction.

I am incredibly humbled and deeply appreciative to be sworn in today for a second term as your Lt. Governor.

Governor Branstad, thank you for giving me another opportunity to serve as a true partner in this administration. I appreciate your perspective that the Lt. Governor should be actively involved in developing strategy, policy, and statewide initiatives to benefit all Iowans.

During these past 4 years, I've had the chance to lead global trade missions, represent Iowa on a national level, and travel to all 99 counties each year. None of those opportunities would have been possible without your confidence, ongoing support and deep belief in my ability to serve the great people of Iowa. You inspire and challenge me each day through your actions, your leadership, your energy and unparalleled commitment to Iowans.

Governor Branstad—from the bottom of my heart, thank you.

To my parents—Charles and Audrey—you made sure I understood the importance of honesty, integrity, and hard work. Your emphasis on faith, family, community and responsibility drives who I am today. I cannot thank you enough for your unwavering and unconditional love. And thank you for raising me in Iowa!

My life has been truly blessed by my experiences growing up in this wonderful place we call Iowa. I was educated in a strong school system, where I had the opportunity to learn, not just in the classroom—but on the basketball court and in the community.

My parents and that tight-knit community instilled in me the value of giving back and being prepared for every opportunity that might come my way. Mom and Dad—thank you for raising me in a place where those values are prized, celebrated and rewarded.

To my husband, Kevin, and our daughters Nicole, Jennifer and Jessica, and their husbands, Ryan, Jason and Scot. You are and continue to be my source of strength. I'm not sure I can even begin to describe the importance of each of you in my life.

It's often been said that public service is a sacrifice. However you, as well as many others in this room today, are the individuals who make the silent sacrifices that allow us to do our jobs as public servants. You bring out the best in me as a wife and mother. I treasure the times that we're together and rely upon you when we're apart.

You are a compass for maintaining direction and balance in my role as Lt. Governor. I know that I couldn't be where I am today without your love and support throughout the years.

Kevin and I also are blessed with 6 grandchildren, and, we're excited about the arrival of our 7th in May! They keep us grounded, smiling, and busy.

I know the things that I do as a leader can have an impact on their future.

That's why, it's essential, they—as well as all children—have every chance to grow as individuals, thrive in their careers and prosper as Iowans. Because their generation will be the next stewards of Iowa.

When I think about the Iowa of the future that we're creating for their generation and generations to come, I believe we have an enormous responsibility.

We have an obligation to create and promote a strong quality of life, a robust economy and a disciplined approach to government that benefits all Iowans.

However, none of these things are guaranteed. We have a personal responsibility to act, to do the right thing and doing the right thing isn't difficult when we think about the younger generation that will inherit the results of our actions, decisions, and policies.

To be true to our heritage—both today and tomorrow. That is our timeless formula for success.

The Iowa of the future will be built upon altruism.

Iowans will do as we've always done- look beyond ourselves because of our love for our families, neighbors and this great state.

Iowans know an enduring vision is the key driver for a bold future. And, we know a bold future means a focus on doing the job at hand: meeting the challenges of today with courage and perseverance.

By taking this approach, we will create an Iowa where our children will want to stay, where those who left will long to return and newcomers will feel welcome and embrace Iowa's rich culture.

An Iowa, where families choose to put down roots, rather than look beyond our borders to fulfill their dreams.

This is the Iowa of the future.

An Iowa, where opportunities exist within all 99 counties. Where Iowans come together to drive and shape those opportunities.

I know we can continue to build this Iowa for the future. I've seen first-hand what can be accomplished when Iowans join together, putting aside political labels and forging a common vision for our great state.

When leaders of good faith on both sides of the aisle came together for the greater good, we transformed education, passed the largest tax cut in Iowa history, and reined in the state budget.

Together, we accomplished remarkable things. And, together, we can achieve so much more.

Just think—a little more than three years ago, we embarked upon a critical journey to create a statewide strategy for STEM education: Science, Technology, Engineering and Math.

And, look at what has been accomplished when business and industry, elected officials, educators, parents and, most importantly, students joined together to make Iowa a national leader in STEM.

At the heart of this initiative is the Governor's STEM Advisory Council, which I'm honored to co-chair with Mary Andringa, CEO and Board Chair of Vermeer.

We serve with 45 Council members who are passionate, hard-working, visionaries who recognize that improving Iowa's STEM foundation means a brighter future for students and our economy.

Yet, even with the success of bringing together business, industry and educational partners to harness their expertise and the synergy created by this extensive network, we must continue to aggressively use STEM as a tool for economic and human capital development, ensuring we remain competitive, innovative and growing in a knowledge-based global economy.

STEM is about expanding opportunities for all.

It's about seeing children actively engaged in learning.

And, the excitement as they discover a love for math, coding, science, building a robot, solving a challenge, or experiencing lean manufacturing on the floor of a local business and the confidence that builds as they see for themselves they can do it.

As a recognized leader in STEM, Iowa is poised to connect the education to build our state for the future and use it as a tool for so much more.

STEM is an economic development tool.

Equipping a workforce with the education needed to fill the careers of tomorrow. To help attract, retain, and expand businesses and careers in our state.

STEM is a job-training tool. Providing the necessary skills to engage in a rewarding career and a high-quality job that will support a growing family, help young Iowans pay off their student loan or put a down payment on their first home.

STEM is our human capital pipeline. Ensuring that when the next Sukup, Kemin, NewLink Genetics, Innovative Lighting, or Harrisvaccines opens their doors there will be plenty of skilled and highly qualified Iowans to hire.

STEM is a mindset with an entrepreneurial spirit. Instilling critical thinking and problem solving so we are enabling the next generation of innovators to discover new products and processes creating their own path towards prosperity.

Simply put, STEM is critical to the Iowa of the future.

Improving our state's business climate also must remain a priority so the next Genova Technologies, Pear Deck, or Zero Energy Systems, can operate in an environment where entrepreneurial risk is rewarded.

Where start-up capital can be obtained and the next million-dollar idea is not smothered by thousands of pages of misguided rules and regulations. I envision an Iowa, where the next Workiva or PUCK Custom Enterprises will be successful wherever they are located within our 99 counties, whether headquartered in a revitalized urban center or the farthest reaches of rural Iowa.

I envision an Iowa where the next tech start-up can easily connect to customers and users across our state, country and world using reliable broadband, connecting Iowa products to international markets.

The Iowa of the future is vibrant!

I see an Iowa where initiatives like Waukee CAPS, Iowa Big, and the Iowa Start-Up Accelerator expand across our state encouraging young Iowans like Kinzie Farmer, a 17-year-old entrepreneur from Cedar Rapids, to grow her dynamic event called "Success She" so that talented women can network and share their stories of triumph with one another.

And, I see an Iowa in which articulate young women like Megan Weis, a bright 7th grader in West Des Moines, who stood poised at a Monday morning press conference demonstrating her passion for coding while sharing with her peers why STEM is important for their future.

As your Lieutenant Governor, I believe we are just getting started.

Iowa is, and will continue to be, America's role model when it comes to honest, hardworking citizens. Principled and dedicated leaders, and a genuine sense of service to others.

Iowa is, and will continue to be, a place that we can be proud to call home.

It's clear why we safeguard the best in our state and plan for the future when you consider who we are building the future for—our children and grandchildren.

So, let each of us leave today with a renewed commitment to Iowa.

An Iowa where resiliency, understanding and compassion help us overcome any obstacles

An Iowa where innovation, ingenuity and imagination drive job creation and economic vitality.

And, an Iowa where family, community, and responsibility help us meet our obligations for the next generation.

To the people of Iowa—I once again say thank you.

God bless you, and God bless the Great State of Iowa!

Living Water Evangelical Free Church performed.

Chief Justice Mark S. Cady administered the oath of office to Governor-elect Terry E. Branstad, assisted by his wife, Chris Branstad.

President Jochum presented Governor Terry E. Branstad who delivered the following inaugural address:

U.S. Charles Grassley, our new U.S. Senator Joni Ernst, Governor Chris Christie, Lt. Governor Reynolds, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Leader, Mr. Chief Justice, justices and judges, legislators, other elected officials, distinguished guests, family and friends: I am honored to be here, with all of you, today.

Madam President Jochum, thank you for that very nice introduction.

Lieutenant Governor Reynolds, it has been a great pleasure to serve side-by-side with you these past four years and I am thrilled our partnership will continue these next four years.

Thank you for your vision on building a more prosperous Iowa future, for your leadership on STEM education and economic development and for your remarks today.

This is my sixth inauguration as your governor. It would not have been possible without the love and support of my family.

It also would not have been possible without the support of the Iowa voters.

I still marvel at a system and a state where a poor North Iowa farm boy can be elected governor. It remains a great honor and privilege to have been chosen by the people of Iowa again and again to serve as your chief executive.

Inaugurations are celebrations. Not the celebration of any one election, but the celebrations of our heritage, our history, our democracy; and of everything that is good and right and cherished about Iowa. Our Iowa way of life is prospering.

At the inaugural celebration four years ago, however, we were a state with an unsure footing, facing budget woes and economic hard times.

We knew that coming together as Iowans to work together for Iowans was critical to our success.

I joked then, as my father used to say, our eyes were bigger than our wallets. While uncertainty may have started with the state budget, it was felt by our school districts, our businesses, and Iowa families.

Instead of shrinking from the challenges our state faced, after a long first session back, we came together.

We balanced our budget and we got our fiscal house in order. Today, our rainy day funds are again full and we operate on a two-year budget with five-year projections ensuring stability and predictability for Iowa taxpayers.

With a common cause of improving opportunity for Iowa families by making it easier for Main Street businesses to create Iowa jobs, and old-fashioned persistence, we enacted the largest property tax cut in Iowa history.

We know a globally competitive education that opens doors to better skills and better training creates a world-class work force. Getting better results for Iowa students and rewarding outstanding teachers won the day and we passed a transformational education reform.

Even on the most divisive issue of the day, health care, we did what our leaders in D.C. rarely do: we found middle ground.

These compromises were not easily reached. There was hand-wringing and politics aplenty. But I know we all fiercely believed that by working together and meeting these challenges we could find greater success, greater opportunity, and greater prosperity for our people.

We were right, results speak louder than rhetoric. Incomes are rising, government is shrinking, and we have more people employed than at any time in our state's history.

Today, we gather with Iowa facing a much different set of challenges than those of four years ago. We live in a global economy with competition coming from every hemisphere.

Although we are growing as a state, we aren't growing fast enough. Iowa remains the one state in the nation that has not grown by even 50 percent since the 1900 census.

The growth of our state, in terms of population, jobs, incomes, and opportunities—these are the challenges we now face.

My message today is this: we are the architects of our future.

This state we all call home, this The Heart of The Heartland, has an opportunity to grow.

The generational challenges our state faces, the opportunities we must embrace, call for a tried and true way of doing business in Iowa: working hard, setting long term goals, and making sacrifices to build Iowa's future.

Are we willing to make these commitments for Iowa?

Simply put, our future is what we want it to be; it is what we make it.

We can either design a blueprint for growth and build Iowa for a brighter future, a more bountiful future, cementing opportunity and prosperity, or, we can squander our hard work and the foundation we have built, fall into the partisan traps and go down a path neglecting to improve our state's standing in the world and the opportunities for prosperity for Iowans.

To meet our challenge of growth as a state, we must address very familiar areas: our business climate, our skilled workforce, revitalizing our infrastructure, and spurring greater innovation and entrepreneurship within our state.

However, we must approach these areas with a perspective grounded in the 21st century, based on the strong foundation we've built together, but also acknowledging the challenges we must face together.

I have traveled to all of Iowa's 99 counties every year as Governor. While the majesty of our landscape and the spirit of our people have not changed much, Iowa truly has.

We farm differently. Our crops are going to more places around the world than ever before and being planted and harvested by equipment laden with computers and connected to the internet.

We communicate differently. Information travels faster than ever before. When I was governor before, a cell phone was the size of a briefcase. Today, we carry phones in our pockets with more computing power than we ever dreamed possible.

We work differently. Advanced manufacturing is now the leading industry in our state and Iowa is at the forefront when it comes to turning corn and soy beans into sources of renewable energy, building products and even pharmaceuticals.

Indeed, Iowa truly has changed. And we must embrace these changes and adapt to them. This is the juncture we now face as a state, and as elected officials, as we prepare to build Iowa's future.

It's true, Iowa has seen economic and income growth. We have been beneficiaries of a strong agricultural economy.

However, laying the groundwork for future economic growth in Iowa requires building on our success, harnessing new technologies that will quickly expand and flourish. Our economic development strategy must build on our agricultural success as well as position Iowa for the global, modern marketplace.

One area that the Iowa Economic Development Authority believes is poised for tremendous growth worldwide is renewable, bio-chemical production from biomass feed stocks.

Already there are more than 3,500 US jobs working in the renewable chemicals sector but that is expected to increase fivefold.

Today, Iowa is a leader in the available supply of biomass. Let's build on our advantage and position our state for growth in this burgeoning industry with a new incentive for the production of renewable chemicals from biomass feed stocks.

Let's also encourage innovation with a more effective angel investor tax credit fostering the growth of start-up companies across our state.

Building on Iowa's agricultural success with modern bio-renewable products and improving our business climate will result in growing incomes for Iowa families.

As we position Iowa for economic growth and development in the 21st century, we must also equip Iowa workers with the training and skills to fill the jobs of the future for a career in the renewable chemical sector, in advanced manufacturing, or with a start-up company.

Building the skills of our workforce so they can build the products and ideas of the 21st century does not begin after high school. It does not begin during high school. It must begin the very day our Iowa children step foot in a school for the first time.

We have already made positive steps in this direction. With Lt. Governor Kim Reynolds' and Mary Andringa's leadership on the STEM initiative, more Iowans are getting access to critical science, technology, engineering and math education.

As Lt. Governor Reynolds said, STEM is only the first step. We must continue working to position Iowa schools to generate a skilled workforce ready for global competition.

By working from day one to equip students with the skills needed in a knowledge-based economy, we will position Iowa's workforce for the jobs of tomorrow.

As Benjamin Franklin once said, "An investment in knowledge pays the best interest."

I have proposed the greatest investment in our schools in state history. We have worked together to freeze tuition for Iowa students at our Regents institutions for the past two years, and we ought to make it three. For growth, we need a more skilled workforce and we also need more innovation and entrepreneurship in our state.

Where Iowa is lagging is creating new jobs from new companies starting here in Iowa.

Universities across this nation are full of people working on the most challenging problems and solving them with groundbreaking ideas.

Our colleges and universities are no different. Faculty and students at our colleges and universities are working on cutting edge biotechnology and medical research and coming up with new ideas for internet based businesses.

What we need to improve, is our ability to turn those extraordinary ideas into Iowa companies and Iowa jobs. Our universities can play a key role in economic growth by converting university research into industry start-ups.

Allowing these ideas to develop, grow and flourish in our state will foster growth in unforeseen areas and will build the innovative Iowa future we truly need.

Iowans know: our people and our land have always been connected. The success and bounty of one is linked to the other.

This same shared fate is true in the 21st century and it extends to economic opportunity and internet connectivity. Addressing infrastructure today means addressing broadband in addition to our roads and bridges.

I'd like to share a story with you about Michael Koenig, Stuart McCulloh and Holden Nyhus. These young men grew up on farms near Pleasantville, DeWitt and Forest City. They all walked fields as a crop scouts, marking down the location and type of weeds in a field. Sometimes they knew the type of weed and sometimes they didn't. But Michael, Stuart and Holden thought to themselves, "There has to be a better way to do this."

In May 2011, as Iowa State University students these three founded Scout Pro: A company that pairs mobile devices, a web-based application and the internet with good, old fashioned crop walking.

Their web-based application allows farmers in the field to better identify the type of weed they see and pinpoint its exact location, allowing for more efficient crop maintenance and better yields.

Our farmers, and the growth of companies like Scout Pro, rely on infrastructure for success—both roads and broadband. Addressing the infrastructure that makes both the delivery of internet faster and the roads better must be a priority as we build Iowa's future.

Looking around the room today, I know we can meet the challenges our state faces. It's what we have always done. Embracing challenges and exceeding expectations is what makes our state so great.

We have met our past challenges with perseverance and that perseverance has built character. It is that character, I believe, which gives us greater hope for our future prosperity.

As you look at the back of a one-dollar bill, you will see The Great Seal of the United States. The Seal includes an unfinished pyramid. The unfinished pyramid is just that: unfinished. Our country and our state are never finished being built, never finished improving and we are always adapting to what comes our way.

That's the funny thing about challenges and Iowans. Challenges make us work harder, dream bigger and go farther than ever before and they become opportunities for advancement.

My solemn promise to you today, is to always meet our challenges head on, earnestly and with building a more successful Iowa future as my guide.

I am ready to once again work with you to build Iowa's future. So let's build it well and let's build it together.

Thank you. God bless you and God bless the great State of Iowa.

The benediction was offered by Pastor Chuck DeVos.

Good morning Ladies and gentlemen—thank you for your warm welcome.

Speaker Paulsen, President Jochum, distinguished members of the Iowa Senate and House of Representatives—thank you for the opportunity to once again address this joint convention of the Eighty-Sixth General Assembly of the Iowa Legislature.

Governor Branstad, Lieutenant Governor Reynolds, distinguished guests, and fellow Iowans.

Today, I deliver my sixth Condition of the Guard address and it is indeed a great honor and a privilege to provide this annual report on your Iowa National Guard.

Today, I am proud to report that the Iowa National Guard continues to be "Mission Focused and Warrior Ready".

I want to begin by saying thank you—thank you to Governor Branstad, Lieutenant Governor Reynolds, and the Iowa General Assembly for your support and outstanding leadership during one of the most challenging periods of time in the history of the Iowa National Guard.

Your efforts to attend our homecomings, sendoffs, military funerals and ceremonies, and for honoring the men and women who serve in the military through initiatives and events throughout the year, are deeply appreciated.

Of particular note, your leadership efforts to make Iowa the "Most Veteran Friendly" state through the Home Base Iowa program and all of its components continues to move Iowa closer to the top of the nation for supporting our veterans and their families.

A tangible result of your commitment to service members and military families is the success of the Home Base Iowa program. The Brent Black family from Ankeny is a perfect example of what this program was designed to achieve. After growing up in Iowa and graduating from Newton High School, Brent enlisted in the U.S. Navy for six years, serving as a Sonar Technician. After finishing his enlistment contract, Brent left the Navy and eventually returned to Iowa with his spouse, Paula, and their young daughter, Sophia. Through Home Base Iowa, Brent was able to acquire civilian employment with Hy-Vee, where he's the Supply Chain Security Manager. He also continues to serve part-time in the U.S. Air Force Reserve. Brent is just one of more than 1000 veterans who have used Home Base Iowa to achieve their dreams in Iowa, in no small measure because of the vision and commitment of Governor Branstad and the Iowa General Assembly.

Our success is directly connected to what you have done for the members and families of your Iowa National Guard. I sincerely thank you.

And I owe a very special thank you to the mothers and fathers who continue to show their support for the Iowa National Guard by continuing to entrust us with their most sacred treasure—their sons and daughters—and allowing them to serve.

I don't take this responsibility lightly. Nothing is more important or a greater testament to the vitality of our organization than for a parent to trust us with whom they cherish most.

I will continue to do everything I can to honor that trust and strive to never allow it to be broken.

And I want to thank the people of Iowa; your continued support for our Soldiers, Airmen, and families has been absolutely incredible, particularly over the past 13 years at war.

I would be remiss if I didn't take time to recognize someone who isn't with us for this year's Condition of the Guard address. Words cannot express our sorrow for the passing in November of State Representative and retired Brigadier General Dwayne Alons, a long-time member of both the Iowa General Assembly and the Iowa National Guard. A humble, quiet man whose bedrock values of excellence and service to others for the greater good extended across six decades in the state of Iowa, Dwayne left a legacy of public service that touched every Iowan, and was a champion for service members and their families. We miss him greatly.

The members of the Iowa National Guard that make up our all-volunteer force represent our State and Nation's decisive advantage to deal with any situation. And our competency depends on strong leadership.

I would like to take a moment to introduce senior leaders of your Iowa National Guard:

Deputy Adjutant General Steve Altman, Iowa Army National Guard; Deputy Adjutant General Drew DeHaes, Iowa Air National Guard;

Command Chief Warrant Officer Doug Wyborney, Iowa Army National Guard; and State Command Chief Master Sergeant Ed Schellhase, Iowa Air National Guard.

Iowa Army National Guard State Command Sergeant Major Rachel Fails is on assignment and unable to join us today.

Please give them a warm welcome.

Those who serve in the Iowa National Guard are the source of our unrivaled strength. Whether serving in uniform or as civilians, Iowa National Guard men and women remain vested in a culture of readiness and volunteer service.

Today, there are no better opportunities for young men and women to serve their state and nation than in Iowa's service of choice, the Iowa National Guard.

We are an organization that provides individuals with the opportunities to serve, to learn new skills, to gain valuable education and training, and to better themselves and the world around them by taking a vow to rebuild the broken and defend the good.

While it is my responsibility to ensure that there are opportunities for our men and women to serve in the Iowa National Guard, I must also continue to take care of our current service members, their families and employers as they serve so proudly as your hometown military.

The past 13 years have brought vast improvements in the overall training, equipping, and readiness of our force.

This reality, combined with significant combat experience, has created a “dividend” in the Iowa National Guard.

We have the most proficient, capable, accessible, and battle-tested National Guard in the history of Iowa. Today, the Iowa Army and Air National Guard is the best trained, equipped, and led organization in our 176-year history.

Constitutionally unique by its dual federal and state missions, the Iowa National Guard remains capable and ready to rapidly respond to complex civilian and military challenges.

Going forward, the need for the powerful capabilities the National Guard provides cannot be overstated.

Today we live in a dynamic and uncertain world with challenges and threats that require the full capabilities of the Iowa National Guard and its adaptability to meet critical future missions.

Our core missions will continue to remain: providing combat-ready Soldiers and Airmen for the global war fight and operational missions as required; responding here at home with robust homeland security and domestic response capabilities; making our communities better places to live; and building strong relationships with our partners.

Throughout the long history of the Iowa National Guard, we’ve seen tremendous technological changes, from horse-drawn wagons to unmanned aircraft remotely piloted halfway around the world. But the one constant that will never change is the importance of our people.

The demand for Iowa National Guard forces over the past three decades has required almost continuous use of our Soldiers and Airmen.

In the last 13 years, we’ve mobilized more than 17,000 Soldiers and Airmen for combat and combat support duties in Iraq and Afghanistan, peacekeeping duties in the Balkans and on the Sinai Peninsula, and for other operational missions around the globe.

Approximately 3,700 currently-serving Iowa National Guard Soldiers and Airmen are combat veterans, more than 42 percent of our force, the highest percentage in modern history.

And our men and women have operated in more than 35 different nations since 9/11.

However, since the large brigade-level deployment from Iowa in 2010–2011, we’ve seen a significant decline in the demand for Iowa National Guard forces.

Currently we have approximately 150 Soldiers and Airmen deployed around the world, which is the lowest number of deployed service members from the Iowa National Guard since the start of Operations Enduring and Iraqi Freedom.

Last June, approximately 60 Soldiers assigned to Company C, 2nd of the 147th Aviation from Boone, deployed to the Middle East in support of Central Command and its operational missions throughout that theater. We expect these Soldiers to return to Iowa in late spring 2015.

The 185th Air Refueling Wing from Sioux City continues to provide ongoing refueling support of real-world missions to the Air Force, Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and coalition forces.

In the past year, the 185th has deployed more than 220 Airmen in excess of 15,000 active duty days around the globe executing operational missions. During this deployment cycle, Airman from the 185th deployed to 10 countries in support of Central Command operations, flying 220 missions for 1,450 flight hours, while refueling coalition aircraft with more than 11 million pounds of fuel.

In addition to the unit's normal deployment operations, they received an extremely short notice mission to support additional combat operations in the Middle East, which they filled in less than a week with 100% volunteers.

Here at home, the unit also provides more than $80 million in economic impact to the Siouxland community and the state of Iowa.

Two years ago, President Obama announced his intention that the United States military would withdraw a significant number of personnel from Afghanistan by the close of 2014. Approximately 11,000 U.S. military personnel currently serve in Afghanistan, as compared to more than 100,000 at the apex of U.S. involvement in mid-2011. It is anticipated that the U.S. presence will continue to shrink in Afghanistan over the next year.

We are now at a point where current and projected demands for Army and Air Force assets around the globe may continue to decrease, depending on the needs of the nation.

That fact recently hit home in Iowa with the cancellation less than two weeks ago of the West Africa ebola deployment for the 294th Area Support Medical Company in Washington, Iowa. We currently have no Iowa National Guard units identified for potential future overseas deployments in 2015, a first for our organization since 2000.

While we are grateful that so many of our Iowa National Guard Warriors have returned home from their deployments and the demand for combat missions overseas has dramatically decreased, we must not forget about those still recovering from wounds, injuries, or illnesses related to their mobilizations.

Over the past year, 18 of our wounded, injured, or ill Warriors back from deployments have received medical care, either at military treatment facilities across the country or from health care providers in their local communities.

Today, I am proud to say we continue to make progress with only two Soldiers currently receiving treatment at these facilities. However, for me, the mission is not over until all of our Soldiers have returned back home to their families.

With the reduction of deployment requirements for our forces, new emerging missions continue to make the Iowa National Guard even more relevant today at home and abroad.

We continue to make great progress on the conversion of the 132nd Fighter Wing, Des Moines, from F-16 fighter aircraft into their three new, enduring missions: a Remotely Piloted Aircraft group; an intelligence surveillance reconnaissance group; and a cyber-security squadron.

The 132nd has executed every task required of them for this conversion and is ahead of schedule to complete a very complicated transition process and begin initial operations later this year.

This past year, the unit has aggressively shifted its focus to sending Airmen to Air Force schools for training in their new assignments. Currently, 440 Airmen have completed or are attending technical schools at various installations across the U.S., gaining valuable training in imagery analysis and cyber security that will translate well into Iowa's growing technology sectors.

As the unit provided more than $70 million in economic infusion to Iowa last year through salaries, unit purchases from the local economy, and indirect job creation, retaining these highly-skilled Airmen and this unit at the Des Moines Airport significantly benefits Des Moines and the entire state of Iowa.

Additionally, current and future military construction necessary at the Des Moines Airbase for the mission conversion over the next several years is estimated at $15-20 million, which will provide additional economic benefit for local builders and suppliers.

Despite the departure of the last F-16 fighter jet this past September from the Des Moines speed line, aeronautical missions continue at the airbase.

In December, the 132nd received a RC-26 reconnaissance aircraft to be stationed at the airbase and flown by Wing personnel.

The RC-26 will provide 132nd pilots with the capability to maintain their pilot proficiency, while at the same time providing the state with an additional operational capability for use during disaster operations.

Another way we're supporting and adapting to the changing global and operational environment is through the National Guard's State Partnership Program, or SPP.

The Iowa National Guard's State Partnership Program with the Republic of Kosovo continues to make great progress since its creation in March 2011.

Since the inception of our partnership with Kosovo, we have expanded our vision of a "Whole of Iowa/Whole of Kosovo" relationship and have conducted more than 70 engagements over the past three years between Iowa government and private entities, the Kosovo Security Force, Kosovo's Ministries of Agriculture, Health, Education, and Economic Development, and other Kosovo agencies.

Another tangible sign of progress in the development of this relationship is the possibility of an enduring presence of our Kosovo friends in Iowa in the near future. Governor Branstad and leaders with the Republic of Kosovo have discussed the feasibility of Kosovo's first consulate and trade office in Iowa, which could greatly expedite trade and other opportunities between Kosovo and Iowa.

But what anchors everything we do, whether in 1839, today, or in the future, is readiness. The Iowa National Guard has been able to maintain our position as a national leader in readiness among our fellow states because of programs like the Iowa National Guard Educational Assistance Program, a program funded in its entirety by the state of Iowa.

This year, nearly 1,200 of our men and women received up to 100% tuition paid at the State Regents' rate to attend Iowa colleges, universities, and community colleges through this program, keeping our young people here in the state and providing them with a high-quality, Iowa education.

This critical recruiting and retention tool helps ensure our readiness and provides an invaluable benefit to our Soldiers and Airmen.

In addition to high-quality Soldiers and Airmen, we also need multifunctional and well-maintained infrastructure to keep the Iowa National Guard ready for the warfight and for emergency response here at home.

On Camp Dodge, this past year we completed the transition of the National Maintenance Training Center to the Sustainment Training Center.

This one-of-a-kind, world-class training center provides individual qualification and turn-key, unit-level sustainment training for National Guard, U.S. Army Reserve and Active Duty Army logistical, ordnance, maintenance, transportation and medical units.

The Medical Simulation Training Center on Camp Dodge, one of just 18 Army medical simulation facilities worldwide, reached full operating capability in 2014 and provides standardized emergency medical training to military and law enforcement personnel through a combination of realistic, hands-on and virtual battlefield simulated conditions.

Through a variety of training initiatives, Camp Dodge has become a significant regional training center in the Midwest. More than 450,000 service members, law enforcement officers, and civilians visited Camp Dodge last year, whether for training, the Summer Concert Series or other events on post, or to visit the Iowa Gold Star Military Museum.

In 2014, only three other major National Guard training installations in the United States had more visitors than Camp Dodge.

Since 1839, protecting Iowa's citizens and communities has remained a core mission of the Iowa National Guard.

I am very pleased to report that 2014 has been a relatively quiet year for our emergency response operations.

We used this additional time to plan, prepare, and exercise for potential disaster response support on a variety of scenarios.

Last year my disaster response priority for the team was the development, synchronization, and rehearsal for a large scale, catastrophic tornado in our state.

This year, we are shifting focus to plan and execute Vigilant Guard, a multiple-level disaster exercise. This training opportunity will partner the Iowa National Guard with our State agency partners and United States Northern Command in order to more fully exercise and assess our response capabilities for multiple disaster scenarios.

In addition to Vigilant Guard, last week the Iowa National Guard hosted a cyber-security workshop to begin developing a comprehensive cyber incident response system for the state.

This forum was the first of its kind in Iowa, with more than 60 participants from multiple Iowa agencies working together to improve coordination between state agencies on cyber security incident management and response, enhancing information sharing during cyber incidents, and collaborating on how to best safeguard the citizens of Iowa from cyber-attacks.

The additional time we gained over the last year from quieter-than-normal combat, peacekeeping, and domestic operations has allowed our organization to re-focus on organizational readiness, which drives everything we do.

I would like to share the results of these efforts with you.

First, your Iowa National Guard is a national leader in the "quality" of the Soldiers and Airmen that we recruit.

We are in the top echelon of the National Guard for the quality of recruits into the National Guard for 2014.

More than 22% of our Basic Training, Advanced Individual Training, or technical school graduates are either honor or distinguished graduates, on the commandant's list, or in the top 10% at their respective military schools.

These efforts have not gone unnoticed by the U.S. Department of Defense and other military organizations; Iowa units and individuals received several significant awards for 2014:

The 185th Air Refueling Wing received the Mobility Air Force Fuel Efficiency Award for KC-135 aircraft, which is awarded to only one Air Force unit annually for superior fuel efficiency.

The 185th also received the 2014 Senior Master Sergeant Kenneth W. Disney Award for the best Food Service facility in the Air National Guard;

Major David Messerli was selected as the best Special Branch Officer recruiter in the Army National Guard, first out of all 54 states and territories; and

Captain Kathy Barton was selected as a General Douglas MacArthur Leadership Award recipient, one of just 28 company grade officers chosen across the entire U.S. Army.

We are humbled by these prestigious national awards presented for excellence across the organization.

Conversely, we have been so fortunate to recently recognize others for their honorable and selfless service to our nation.

At the Iowa Gold Star Military Museum on Camp Dodge, 10 living Iowa veterans were honored in December for their courageous service during the Battle of the Bulge. On the 70th anniversary of the most significant U.S. action in Europe during WWII, these exceptional Iowans were recognized and presented with certificates and commander's coins for their selfless and honorable service during that horrific battle. For some of the honorees, it was the first time they had ever talked in any detail about their experience and hardships, providing a measure of healing long overdue. Those in the audience learned first-hand about the true price of the freedoms we take for granted.

What a great tribute to these tremendous veterans and their families.

As I come to a close, I hope I have left you confident that the Iowa National Guard is in good hands and is moving in the spirit of one.

We have executed every mission assigned, served our state and communities here at home, and deployed wherever needed in a moment's notice.

I am very proud of our Soldiers, Airmen, their families, our rich heritage, and our resolve as we continue our role in the preservation of the ideals upon which our nation and state were founded.

The Iowa National Guard is postured to rise to new challenges, but we will remain focused on the fundamental mission of the Iowa National Guard: Defending America—at home and abroad.

We will continue to provide affordable, flexible, tailored and community-based solutions to national defense and domestic response, and remain a critical reserve component for the Army and the Air Force.

On behalf of our men and women and their families, I want to thank you for this opportunity today to provide an update and assessment of the Iowa National Guard.

Thank you, Ladies and Gentlemen.

Honorary members of the 2015 class were the following: K’Ann Brandt, Rod Boshart, Amy Campbell, Terry Harrmann, Kim Haus, Rev. Carlos Jayne, Theresa Kehoe, Peg Kephart, John Pollak, Marty Ryan, Julie Simon, and Maureen Taylor.

Senator McCoy presented Libby Jacobs, former House Majority Whip and current member of the Iowa Utilities Board, who addressed the joint convention:

Well, it certainly is a different perspective from this podium when one doesn’t have to worry about getting the correct county name and person’s name for the Gentleman or Lady that is trying to gain the presiding officer’s attention. Thank heavens for the bright young minds of the pages, who sit here, to keep things moving in the House chambers.

Thanks too for the current lawmakers, staff, media reps and those in the gallery who allow time for the biannual Pioneer Lawmakers festivities. While it does not just seem like yesterday that this year’s inductees were fresh faces here, it certainly doesn’t feel as though it’s been 20 years either. We all could fill in the blank to this statement, “Why it was only yesterday that...”

For the legislators being recognized as new Pioneer Lawmakers, thank you for your dedication and willingness to put your name on a ballot two decades ago. We can talk a bit about what motivated us to take a risk and run for the Legislature, as well as reminisce about that first session.

For the media, lobby and staff who are new honorary Pioneer Lawmakers, you obviously found this place interesting and somewhat entertaining over the years or you certainly would have moved on to greener pastures. We can think about your roles in making this a special place.

So, for the legislators in the crowd, why on earth would we put our name on a ballot? OK, taking away the fact that there might be a bit of ego attached to that, what really caused us to run for office? Was it the attraction of knocking on thousands of doors, meeting voters and potential supporters, asking folks for money for our campaigns, the lure of potentially making significant policy decisions?

Or, was it the fact that as freshmen legislators we would get the great opportunity to floor manage enticing bills such as the Code Editor's update, or the annual federal funds bill? I still recall the look of sheer terror in Marty Lee's eyes when he was told that I would be running his major REALTORS bill. Oh, such little confidence in the freshmen.

From what I can recall of our first year in the Legislature, there were long caucuses for both parties, but particularly for the Democrats. As Republican freshmen, we didn't always have a lot to do to fill our time, so veteran legislator, the late Phil Tyrrell, organized an ad hoc tour of the attic one afternoon where we went looking for bats. For those of you on that escapade, you probably recall we didn't find any of those winged creatures, but we saw lots of old items tucked away upstairs, saw the charred walls from the fire in the Capitol way back when, and desecrated public property by signing our names on an attic wall. Obviously it didn't take much to entertain us novice lawmakers. We snuck outside to the platform around the Cupola as well, but that's another story for another time.

On a more serious note, that 1995 session was filled with some drama. Even before taking office we had a heavy decision to make due to a highly-contested race for Speaker. We had a thought-provoking debate on reinstating the death penalty. The expansion of the ICN was a big issue. And, we lost a legislator who was part of our new member class, Rep. Jerry Cornelius who passed away in December of 1995, not quite a year into his term. Regrettably, we have lost several others since.

But, all you youngsters out in the audience don't want to hear a bunch of tales about years gone by. You're into the now and future, and we get that. What I think we can all agree upon is that there's a special calling to public service, but why do all of us answer that call?

For the media, why do you sit through the long, laborious hours of debate, the inside baseball that legislators take such glee in pitching, and that means so little to folks not under the Golden Dome? While I would never speak for folks who buy ink by the barrel, or bandwidth in giganormous bits per second, I can hazard a guess. It's because you too are genuinely interested in the policy, politics and focus of this place. You're willing to miss family meals, be sleep deprived and sit on that bench for all to see because you are committed to upholding the First Amendment, to keeping us mindful of your presence as you look to encourage transparency and openness. While there have been times, in reading the coverage the next day that I truly wondered if we had been in the same meeting or heard the same debate, you have fulfilled your roles well and it's been a type of public service for you.

For the lobby, the Third House. What keeps you coming back? It certainly isn't the luxurious accommodations in the Rotunda or the library's cubbyholes. Yes, it's a pay check, but you too miss family time, run on little sleep, and learn that counting votes isn't all it's cracked up to be. For you, sometimes the victory is in what did not get passed by the end of the session, a type of public service that can be laudable. But it's a calling for you as well, to focus on policy and politics.

I'm going to group staff and legislators together because at the end of the day, everyone in those roles made a decision to work for government, and that means working for the people of Iowa. Twenty years ago, the partisanship wasn't as rancorous as it is today, and we actually talked and worked across the aisle more often. Not all of the time mind you, but with some exceptions, we tended to do more agreeing to disagree than to figure out a way to make things so acrimonious.

So then, why, after all these years, do we keep coming back to this place, or to continue work as a public servant? Because we care, we want to do the right thing, and quite frankly there's a rush in those moments when plans go right, and we accomplish a goal. That fits for all of us in the room today, legislators, staff, lobbyists, and the media.

Even still, we have special tools or coping skills to get us through the more challenging days. Some things never change...candy and treats on desks around here help conquer a bit of the long days, and add to the freshmen 10. I still have my magic wand, a mainstay on my desk as Majority Whip and useful when that money tree stops producing, or when someone had "just one more request."

Above all, knowing that in the history of the state, truly only a handful of people have been able to experience all we have, and that it is a special privilege to work under the Golden Dome, is the best tool we have to use on those seemingly long, under-productive days.

Thanks for indulging this year's Pioneer Lawmaker class to flood the place with memories, stories and "back in the day" comments. A tip of the hat to everyone here who keeps the place running and the traditions alive. It's definitely the people who make serving the public such a rewarding experience for us all.

Representative Upmeyer moved that the joint convention be dissolved.

The motion prevailed by a voice vote.

The Senate returned to the Senate chamber.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE

President Jochum provided the following remarks:

As President of the Senate, it is my job to direct the fair and efficient operation of the Senate. It is my pleasure to work with the many people who make our work as lawmakers possible.

Please join me in offering our thanks to caucus staffers, backroom workers, bill drafters, clerks, door keepers, custodial staff, and everyone who supports our efforts.

In my opening remarks for the 2015 General Assembly, I challenged us to craft a fiscally responsible budget that was fair to all Iowans, one which would help build an economy that works for everyone.

Although Iowa's workers outperform the national average on productivity, Iowa wages remain twenty-three percent below the national average.

Furthermore, forty-one percent of our state's children under the age of six live in low income households.

Too many Iowans are being left behind. Those suffering the most are our children.

Iowa needs a state budget that responds to these needs. We need a state budget that paves the way to a more prosperous future.

That's why Senate Democrats fought so hard to adequately fund education from pre-school through higher education at our state universities, private colleges, and community colleges.

Education drives economic mobility and has always enjoyed strong bipartisan support in Iowa.

For decades, our state has led the nation in test scores and other measures of student achievement.

Sadly, in Iowa, funding for public education has become a partisan issue.

As support for our local schools has become divided along party lines, Iowa has slipped from among the states at the top in terms of per student funding to among the states in the bottom third.

How did the 86th General Assembly respond during its 2015 session to these challenges?

The best that can be said is we passed a status quo budget.

The budget we approved falls short of addressing the inflationary costs of education, health care, public safety, the environment, and economic growth.

The Senate did succeed in blocking draconian attempts to undermine civil rights and workers' rights in Iowa.

And we did vote to strengthen the safety net and legal framework for children and women who are caught in the web of domestic violence and human trafficking. Unfortunately, those measures were not taken up in the Iowa House.

We fought to provide legislative oversight of Governor Branstad's rush to privatize Iowa's public health insurance system for the frail, the ill, and those with disabilities.

The administrative costs of putting this health care system into the hands of out-of-state, for-profit managed care companies are expected to be five times what we spend to manage the system internally.

Everyone involved in this system, from the families to the providers, say legislative oversight is needed.

I am happy to report that we succeeded in establishing a legislative oversight committee with broad authority to track the progress of Medicaid managed care and make recommendations for improvements.

Additionally, the Department of Human Service must hold public meetings all across the state - in communities large and small - with stakeholder and advocacy groups.

I'm especially disappointed that two economic measures that would directly improve the incomes of struggling working families were not addressed by the House.

One was the Senate's push to give 200,000 Iowans a raise by increasing the minimum wage to $8.75 an hour. The other was our legislation to stop unscrupulous employers from stealing the wages of their workers.

While Democrats and Republicans can be proud of many accomplishments, the lack of progress on the core issue of economic inequality should trouble us all.

There are extraordinary possibilities in ordinary people. The 2015 session could and should have done more to unleash those extraordinary possibilities for our children and families.

Next session, we will try again.

Thank you.

REMARKS BY THE MAJORITY LEADER

Senator Gronstal provided the following remarks:

Thank you, Madame President.

I'll start by thanking the Senate backroom staff, the Republican and Democratic staffs, the Senate doorkeepers, the Legislative Service Agency, and the pages (those here today and those who departed weeks ago).

Your dedication made it possible for us to bring the session to conclusion today. Your work is truly a service to the people of Iowa.

Legislating is about finding common ground.

This year, common ground was hard to find, especially on two issues that matter most to Iowans—the education of our children and the future of our economy.

Senate Democrats argued that, after several lean years for local schools, Iowa's improving economy makes it possible to reinvest in Iowa's next generation.

Republicans said the state of Iowa couldn't afford to do more. Next fall, there will be hundreds of fewer teachers in Iowa's local schools as a result.

That issue is not going away.

During the next several months, Iowa parents, educators, community leaders and students will make their case for doing more for education. I hope next session's results will be different.

People need to know that the prolonged stalemate over education funding is NOT how most issues are addressed at the statehouse.

Here's an example of how the Legislature works best: the "Safe at Home" program.

This is an effort to better protect victims of domestic violence by preserving their confidentiality when they are dealing with government agencies.

This idea was first proposed by Brad Anderson, the 2014 Democratic candidate for Secretary of State.

Brad's Republican opponent, Paul Pate, embraced the idea after the election and worked with Democratic and Republican legislators on legislation to enact it.

"Safe at Home" was approved by large, bipartisan majorities in the Iowa House and Senate, and then signed into law by Governor Branstad.

A good idea was proposed and Iowa's leaders worked together to make it a reality.

Here's another example: Thanks to the cooperative work by members of both chambers and the Board of Regents, the tuition freeze for Iowa students at our public universities will continue.

Finally, I want to draw attention to the agreement worked out to keep the Mental Health Institutes in Mount Pleasant and Clarinda available to serve Iowa families dealing with several mental health issues.

Two Henry County legislators — State Senator Rich Taylor, a Democrat, and State Representative David Heaton, a Republican — worked with Senator Amanda Ragan throughout the session to craft a bipartisan response to Governor Branstad's abrupt announcement that he intended to close these two important institutions, both of which serve crucial roles in our state's mental health and public safety networks.

I urge Governor Branstad to support this bipartisan compromise.

There were a number of overwhelmingly bipartisan ideas approved by the Senate which did not receive a vote in the Iowa House.

These ideas will be there next January, waiting for the House to consider them. They include:

The anti-bullying initiative: All students have a right to a safe and supportive place to learn. Iowa law currently requires schools to have anti-harassment and anti-bullying policies, help for bullied children, and the collection of data on bullying incidents.

Senate File 345, which takes steps to make sure those existing protections will actually make a day-to-day difference for our students, was approved by a vote of 43 to 7. I hope it will be approved by the House early in the 2016 session.

Senate File 447, approved by the Senate on a vote of 50 to 0, extends the statute of limitations on the sexual abuse of children.

If it is passed by the Iowa House and signed by the Governor, no one who sexually abuses a child in Iowa will ever have the security of knowing they got away with it.

It is shocking to think that between 2001 and 2013, Iowa drivers distracted by a phone or other device, caused more than 8,600 crashes. That's why the Senate voted 44 to 6 for Senate File 391, which would make texting while driving a primary offense.

That legislation will also be on the House's calendar in 2016.

In almost every Iowa murder involving domestic violence, the victim was previously stalked by their assailant.

The Iowa Senate voted unanimously for Senate Files 395 and 416. They expand the definition of stalking to include conduct that causes reasonable people to feel terrorized, frightened, intimidated or threatened.

Human trafficking is the buying and selling of human beings, most commonly for the purpose of sexual slavery, forced labor or commercial sexual exploitation.

The Senate unanimously approved Senate File 450. It would make human trafficking a forcible felony, sending persons convicted of human trafficking, straight to prison. There would be no deferred judgments, no deferred sentences and no suspended sentences.

All this legislation will be there, waiting for the House to take up next session.

The Democratic and Republican members of the Senate have many reasons to be proud of our work this session, and to look forward to a productive session next year.

REMARKS BY THE MINORITY LEADER

Senator Dix provided the following remarks:

Thank You Madam President.

Colleagues of the Senate, as I reflect upon the 2015 Legislative session I must admit there are disappointments.

Serious job creation measures were neglected. This should be a top priority, yet it was ignored.

We never had constructive conversations, let alone a vote on the Senate floor, on reducing the tax burdens on all Iowans.

When this session began, many of us agreed this would be a challenging budget year. Instead of tightening our belts, we watched the state budget reach historic levels, eclipsing the 7 billion dollar mark.

I have said this before and it bears repeating – there is a financial storm on the horizon. Yet, this warning was ignored. We had an opportunity to grow and expand our economy to help be better prepared to deal with this financial storm, but Senate Democrats chose to do nothing and kick the can down the road.

In the past several weeks, we have witnessed a deadly virus devastate Iowa's poultry industry. The ag economy is not as strong as in recent years due to lagging livestock and commodity prices. This week we learned a survey conducted by Creighton University indicates the Midwest economy is weakening.

Colleagues, all of these factors impact Iowa's economy and our state budget. Yet, state spending continues to grow significantly.

When Senate Republicans stressed the importance of controlled spending, our counterparts in the Senate took this as an opportunity to politicize our calls for fiscal responsibility. Colleagues let me be clear – we cannot overpromise only to under deliver.

It was just five short years ago the severe impacts of Democrat budgeting practices were felt across Iowa. As a reminder, those reckless spending practices resulted in tens of millions of dollars in cuts and created serious financial hardships to schools, human services and every state department. Worse yet, it impacted Iowans who were saddled with property tax increases.

We can and must do even better. Iowans are counting on us to ease their burdens, not create more.

To govern is to choose. The burden of leadership is making tough choices that fly in the face of what some may want because it is the right thing to do. This legislative session we were given a choice when it came to fiscal responsibility. Senate Republicans demonstrated spending restraint because it was the right thing to do, and we held true to the vow we made on Day 1.

Legislators stressed the budget issues we faced going into this session. We used the word challenging quite often, but we did not meet the challenge. We only delayed it. As a result, when we return next January we likely will hear words such as troubling, disturbing, structural deficits and necessary cuts.

Good leadership requires vision. This vision must meet the needs of today while ensuring a structure is in place to address necessary demands in years to come. Those promises will be even harder to keep because we failed Iowans when it mattered most and such a vision was expected of us.

Senate Republicans will continue to pursue our vision to create a legacy of opportunity for every Iowan and fight to end the continued war on the Iowa taxpayer. After all, that is the government Iowans expect, the representation they deserve and the leadership they elected us to provide. Let's Make It Happen!

This item contains policy language pertaining to the Department of Corrections entering into a new contract in excess of $100,000 for privatized services during fiscal year 2016 without prior notification of the legislature and employee organizations. However, this item allows the department to renew existing contracts without notification. This item would prevent the department from obtaining services for inmates in an effective and efficient manner. This notification unnecessarily impedes the department's management authority.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 4, subsection 1, lettered paragraph d, in its entirety. This item contains policy language regarding staffing levels at the Department of Corrections. While I support efforts to ensure adequate numbers of correctional officers, I believe that flexibility is needed to determine how many officers are hired based on costs, availability of funding and the needs of each institution. Adequate staffing is the prerogative of the Executive Branch; therefore, this language is unnecessary.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 26, subsection 1, lettered paragraph c, in its entirety. This item contains policy language pertaining to the Department of Corrections entering into a new contract in excess of $100,000 for privatized services during fiscal year 2017 without prior notification of the legislature and employee organizations. However, this item allows the department to renew existing contracts without notification. This item would prevent the department from obtaining services for inmates in an effective and efficient manner. This notification unnecessarily impedes the department's management authority.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Section 26, subsection 1, lettered paragraph d, in its entirety. This item contains policy language regarding staffing levels at the Department of Corrections. While I support efforts to ensure adequate numbers of correctional officers, I believe that flexibility is needed to determine how many officers are hired based on costs, availability of funding and the needs of each institution. Adequate staffing is the prerogative of the Executive Branch; therefore, this language is unnecessary.

For the above reasons, I respectfully disapprove the designated items in accordance with Amendment IV of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items in Senate File 497 are hereby approved as of this date.

Sincerely,

TERRY E. BRANSTAD

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I hereby transmit Senate File 499, an Act relating to appropriations to the department of cultural affairs, the economic development authority, the Iowa finance authority, the public employment relations board, the department of workforce development, and the state board of regents and certain regents institutions, modifying programs and duties of the economic development authority, providing for other properly related matters, and including effective date and retroactive and other applicability provisions.

Senate File 499 is approved on this date with the following exceptions, which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve the item designated Division IV in its entirety. This item is related to state employee classifications. Under current Iowa Code, administrators are classified as at-will employees. The at-will designation allows for greater accountability for these managers. Subjecting administrators to the merit system would decrease accountability to taxpayers and hinder the effective management of important government functions.

For the above reasons, I respectfully disapprove the designated items in accordance with Amendment IV of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items in Senate File 499 are hereby approved as of this date.

Sincerely,

TERRY E. BRANSTAD

Senate File 505

July 2, 2015

The Honorable Paul D. Pate
Secretary of State of Iowa
State Capitol
Des Moines, Iowa 50319

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I hereby transmit Senate File 505, an Act relating to appropriations for health and human services and veterans and including other related provisions and appropriations, and including effective date and retroactive and other applicability date provisions.

Senate File 505 as passed by the Iowa Legislature gives counties the ability to increase property taxes, enlarges entitlement programs and fails to take critical steps in modernizing Iowa's mental health system. It is even more concerning to me and to the thousands of Iowans who depend on Medicaid that it appears the Iowa Legislature may have underfunded Medicaid. The budget I proposed in January 2015 fully funded Medicaid. We have embarked on efforts to modernize our administration of Medicaid. It is my hope that these efforts will not only improve the quality of health care outcomes our Medicaid patients receive but also provide much needed budget predictability and stability for taxpayers who make the program possible.

Senate File 505 is approved on this date with the following exceptions, which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 3, subsection 4, lettered paragraph g, subparagraph b. This item requires the Department of Public Health to distribute funding for care coordination efforts. I strongly support the modernization and increased coordination of health care for Iowans served by our safety net. However, due to federal approval of the Iowa State Innovation Model grant funding, this state funding is redundant and not needed at this time.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 4, subsection 2, lettered paragraph b. This item restricts contracting flexibility at the Iowa Veterans Home. Such restrictions are unnecessary and counterproductive. The Department of Administrative Services must have flexibility in procuring the best services for veterans at the Iowa Veterans Home at the most cost effective price for taxpayers.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 4, subsection 2, lettered paragraph d. This item creates a redundant, overly burdensome mandate requiring the Iowa Veterans Home to make expenditure reports monthly to the Legislative Services Agency for fiscal year 2015. While I strongly support transparency efforts that publicly disclose how departments spend their resources, this information is already available within the State's accounting and budgeting systems.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 12, subsection 17, lettered paragraph c. This item restricts the Department of Human Services from implementing certain cost containment strategies. The Department must have the tools and flexibility to effectively manage a program so critically important to so many vulnerable Iowans. Such a restriction on the management and oversight authority of the Department of Human Services while facing a potentially underfunded Medicaid budget is inappropriate.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 12, subsection 17, lettered paragraph d. This item requires the Department of Human Services to report on cost containment strategies. The Department of Human Services, Department of Management and the Legislative Services Agency meet on a monthly basis to determine projections for the Medical Assistance appropriation. Information relating to cost containment strategies is shared during these meetings. While I strongly support transparency efforts that publicly disclose how departments spend their resources, this information is already available within the State's accounting and budgeting systems.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 12, subsection 20. This item requires the Department of Human Services to execute the State Innovation Model grant. Additionally, this item requires the Department of Human Services to submit a report on the progress of the grant by September 1, 2015. The State is already implementing the State Innovation Model grant. The information requested to be reported is also not necessary due to the fact that this information is available upon request by the General Assembly.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 12, subsection 25. This item restricts Medicaid waiver management flexibility for the Department of Human Services. The Department must have the tools and flexibility to effectively manage a program so critically important to so many vulnerable Iowans. Such a restriction on the management and oversight authority of the Department of Human Services while facing a potentially underfunded Medicaid budget is inappropriate.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 23, subsection 3. Today, more Iowans than ever before have access to mental health treatment. Through the bi-partisan Mental Health Redesign signed into law in 2012, Iowans are accessing care locally through mental health regions. The mental health regions are investing substantial resources into increased access to home and community based substance abuse and mental health services. In the 1800s, Iowa opened four mental health institutions. At their peak, they served more than 6,600 people on any given day combined. However, modern mental health care has come a long way and best practices rightfully no longer include the warehousing of mental health patients. In fact, the average daily bed census at the Mount Pleasant Mental Health Institute over the past four years is only 61 patients. In fiscal year 2014, this came at the high cost to state taxpayers of $126,791 per patient. These resources can best be used to provide better, more modern mental health services to more Iowans. Other states have already gone down this path by closing their outdated institutions and offering innovative mental healthcare options. Minnesota once operated eleven mental health institutes. Today they operate one. Wisconsin operates two. Over the past 18 years, states adjacent to Iowa have closed 13 institutes like Mount Pleasant and Clarinda (Illinois closed four state psychiatric hospitals, Minnesota closed four, Missouri closed three, and Nebraska closed two). Like Iowa, these neighboring states have modernized their mental health systems and reduced their use of institutionalization. In 2009, a Department of Human Services report and Governor Culver recommended closure of the Mount Pleasant Mental Health Institute. The Legislature has taken the first steps and closed the Clarinda Mental Health Institute. We can keep moving forward and serve Iowans with two mental health institutions rather than four. Therefore, in keeping with modern best practices and the utilization of our system, it is not in the best interests of our patients, the taxpayers or the mental health system to continue operating an aging, antiquated mental health institution lacking key clinical staff, particularly a psychiatrist.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 26, subsection 1. This item prohibits external approvals that are designed to ensure budget integrity, stability and predictability. Management must have the ability and flexibility to allocate resources where they are most effective and needed. In addition, this item creates a redundant, overly burdensome mandate requiring the department to report to the chairpersons and ranking members of the appropriations committees on a monthly basis. While I strongly support transparency efforts that publicly disclose how departments spend their resources, this information is already available within the State's accounting and budgeting systems.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 27, subsection 2. This item requires the Department of Human Services to report operational and program expenditures at least monthly to the Legislative Services Agency. While I strongly support transparency efforts that publicly disclose how departments spend their resources, this information is already available within the State's accounting and budgeting systems.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 29, subsection 1, lettered paragraph s. This item requires the substance abuse managed care plan to increase reimbursement for licensed substance-related disorder treatment programs serving Medicaid patients. To help improve patient outcomes while also bringing predictability and stability for taxpayers funding Medicaid, the Department of Human Services is modernizing Medicaid in Iowa and partnering with modern, patient-centered health plans. With this modernization effort in mind, we must be prudent with any increases for providers. Substance abuse providers received a reimbursement increase two years ago and are benefitting from the Iowa Health and Wellness Plan substance abuse coverage. With that in mind, a rate increase is not prudent at this time.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 29, subsection 12. Iowa has embarked on efforts to modernize its administration of Medicaid by partnering with specialized, patient-centered health care plans. This bipartisan initiative is currently in procurement. This item creates restrictions on the reimbursement methods of the health care plans partnering with the state. The Request for Proposals issued by the Department of Human Services already includes protections for providers and their reimbursement. The restrictions in this item are, therefore, redundant and unneeded at this time.

I am unable to approve of the item designated as Section 67 in its entirety. This item creates a process for assessing the level of care needed for Medicaid patients. Iowa is embarking on an initiative to modernize our administration of Medicaid by partnering with high quality, patient centered health plans. As part of that initiative, these plans will oversee level of care assessments. Therefore, this item would create a redundant assessment system that is best left to our health plan partners.

I am unable to approve of the item designated as Division XVI in its entirety. This item further enlarges the taxpayer-funded child care assistance program. We must support working families. More Iowans are working than ever before and our families are seeing their incomes rise. Enlarging government programs that only further perpetuate the cliff effect felt by these families when their incomes rise and benefits are lost is not the right policy for Iowa. Additionally, with the federal and state updates already in motion, this enlargement is not recommended by the Department of Human Services at this time.

I am unable to approve of the item designated as Division XXX in its entirety. This item creates a Polk County-centered pilot project for refugee services. Iowans have a proud history of working in public-private partnerships to support refugees coming to our state. However, the path refugees take to Iowa has changed over time. More time is needed to study a state-wide solution for refugees and immigrants who originally went to other states and how Iowa, both publicly and privately, can best meet the needs of modern refugees.

I am unable to approve of Division XXXII in its entirety. This item amends the Quality Assurance Assessment already found in Iowa Code by establishing a set three percent assessment on nursing facilities in Iowa. The assessment currently in Iowa Code is meeting the needs of our patients, nursing facility providers and the Medicaid program and a change is inappropriate at this time.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 123, subsection 4, lettered paragraph g, subparagraph b. This item requires the Department of Public Health to distribute funding for care coordination efforts. I strongly support the modernization and increased coordination of health care for Iowans served by our safety net. However, due to federal approval of the Iowa State Innovation Model grant funding, this state funding is redundant and not needed at this time.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as section 124, subsection 2, lettered paragraph b. This item restricts contracting flexibility at the Iowa Veterans Home. Such restrictions are unnecessary and counterproductive. The Department of Administrative Services must have flexibility in procuring the best services for veterans at the Iowa Veterans Home at the most cost effective price for taxpayers.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 124, subsection 2, lettered paragraph d. This item creates a redundant, overly burdensome mandate requiring the Iowa Veterans Home to make expenditure reports monthly to the Legislative Services Agency for fiscal year 2016. While I strongly support transparency efforts that publicly disclose how departments spend their resources, this information is already available within the State's accounting and budgeting systems.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 132, subsection 17, lettered paragraph c. This item restricts the Department of Human Services from implementing certain cost containment strategies. The Department must have the tools and flexibility to effectively manage a program so critically important to so many vulnerable Iowans. Such a restriction on the management and oversight authority of the Department of Human Services while facing a potentially underfunded Medicaid budget is inappropriate.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 132, subsection 17, lettered paragraph d. This item requires the Department of Human Services to report on cost containment strategies. The Department of Human Services, the Department of Management and the Legislative Services Agency meet on a monthly basis to determine projections for the Medical Assistance appropriation. Information relating to cost containment strategies is shared during these meetings. While I strongly support transparency efforts that publicly disclose how departments spend their resources, this information is already available within the State's accounting and budgeting systems.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 132, subsection 22. This item restricts Medicaid waiver management flexibility for the Department of Human Services. The Department must have the tools and flexibility to effectively manage a program so critically important to so many vulnerable Iowans.

Such a restriction on the management and oversight authority of the Department of Human Services while facing a potentially underfunded Medicaid budget is inappropriate.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 143, subsection 3. Today, more Iowans than ever before have access to mental health treatment. Through the bi-partisan Mental Health Redesign signed into law in 2012, Iowans are accessing care locally through mental health regions. The mental health regions are investing substantial resources into increased access to home and community based substance abuse and mental health services. In the 1800s, Iowa opened four mental health institutions. At their peak, they served more than 6,600 people on any given day combined. I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 146, subsection 1. This item prohibits external approvals that are designed to ensure budget integrity, stability and predictability. Management must have the ability and flexibility to allocate resources where they are most effective and needed. In addition, this item creates a redundant, overly burdensome mandate requiring the department to report to the chairpersons and ranking members of the appropriations committees on a monthly basis. While I strongly support transparency efforts that publicly disclose how departments spend their resources, this information is already available within the State's accounting and budgeting systems.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 147, subsection 1. This item requires the Department of Human Services to report operational and program expenditures at least monthly to the Legislative Services Agency. While I strongly support transparency efforts that publicly disclose how departments spend their resources, this information is already available within the State's accounting and budgeting systems.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 149, subsection 1, lettered paragraph s. This item requires the substance abuse managed care plan to increase reimbursement for licensed substance-related disorder treatment programs serving Medicaid patients. To help improve patient outcomes while also bringing predictability and stability for taxpayers funding Medicaid, the Department of Human Services is modernizing Medicaid in Iowa and partnering with modern, patient-centered health plans. With this modernization effort in mind, we must be prudent with any increases for providers. Substance abuse providers received a reimbursement increase two years ago and are benefitting from the Iowa Health and Wellness Plan substance abuse coverage. With that in mind, a rate increase is not prudent at this time.

I am unable to approve the designated portion of the item designated as Section 149, subsection 12. Iowa has embarked on efforts to modernize its administration of Medicaid by partnering with specialized, patient-centered health care plans. This bipartisan initiative is currently in procurement. This item creates restrictions on the reimbursement methods of the health care plans partnering with the state. The Request for Proposals issued by the Department of Human Services already includes protections for providers and their reimbursement. The restrictions in this item are, therefore, redundant and unneeded at this time.

I am unable to approve of the item designated as Section 156 in its entirety. This item creates a Polk County-centered pilot project for refugee services. Iowans have a proud history of working in public-private partnerships to support refugees coming to our state. However, the path refugees take to Iowa has changed over time. More time is needed to study a state-wide solution for refugees and immigrants who originally went to other states and how Iowa, both publicly and privately, can best meet the needs of modern refugees.

I am unable to approve of the item designated as Section 159 in its entirety. This item calls for Iowa, after closure of the Clarinda Mental Health Institute by the Iowa Legislature, to request proposals to operate a private, specialized nursing facility on the grounds at Clarinda. As I stated above, more Iowans are receiving mental health care than ever before. And increasingly, they are receiving it locally through mental health regions throughout our state. This holds true for adult in-patient psychiatry as well as geriatric psychiatric patients. Geriatric psychiatric patients are best served in nursing facilities with special services rather than being warehoused in costly and outmoded 19th century mental health institutes. Facilities exist today to provide these services, delivering higher quality for patients at lower costs to taxpayers. The Department of Human Services recommends allowing our mental health system to continue moving forward and giving facilities the flexibility to develop their own settings for care rather than restricting them to the campus at Clarinda. In Southwest Iowa, mental health regions are on track to open residential and community crisis services as well as jail diversion services. However, I recognize the importance of the Clarinda and Mount Pleasant facilities to their communities. It is important to note that the prisons located at Mount Pleasant and Clarinda will continue in full operation. Additionally, Clarinda will continue hosting the Clarinda Youth Academy and private substance abuse services on the campus without interruption. I am committed to working with these communities to repurpose and redevelop the campuses formerly occupied by the mental health institutes. To that end, I am convening a workgroup consisting of members from the Iowa Economic Development Authority, the Department of Corrections (who control the campuses), and the Department of Human Services to work with communities and allow for the easiest most efficient transition of the campuses into new development and jobs.

For the above reasons, I respectfully disapprove the designated items in accordance with Amendment IV of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items in Senate File 505 are hereby approved as of this date.

Sincerely,

TERRY E. BRANSTAD
Governor

Senate File 510

July 2, 2015

The Honorable Paul D. Pate
Secretary of State of Iowa
State Capitol
Des Moines, Iowa 50319

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I hereby transmit Senate File 510, an Act relating to state and local finances by making appropriations, providing for fees, providing for legal responsibilities , providing for certain employee benefits , and providing for regulatory, taxation, and properly related matters, and including penalties and effective date and retroactive and other applicability provisions .

Senate File 510 is approved on this date with the following exceptions, which I hereby disapprove.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Division X, in its entirety. This item would permanently move the standing appropriation for the State Appeal Board from the General Fund to the Economic Emergency Fund. This was not my recommendation. This item undermines best financial practices, which require an economic emergency fund truly be used for emergencies.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Division XVIII, in its entirety. This item requires health insurance carriers to provide certain disclosures regarding internal appeals processes and prescription drug coverage. These overly burdensome regulations are duplicative and unnecessary because federal law and state law require health insurance carriers to extensively disclose details about their health plans. Additionally, current law already grants the Iowa Insurance Division authority in promulgating administrative rules in order to ensure health insurance carriers provide adequate and proper disclosures regarding their plans.

I am unable to approve the item designated as Division XXVII, in its entirety. This item sets aside a one-time funding source to fund possible raises for judges in the future years. I recommended judicial raises for fiscal year 2016 and I am disappointed the legislature did not fund raises for judges. I believe judicial raises should be funded in a straight-forward manner. Funding ongoing salary expenses with a one-time funding source is a bad budgeting practice.

For the above reasons, I respectfully disapprove the designated items in accordance with Amendment IV of the Amendments of 1968 to the Constitution of the State of Iowa. All other items in Senate File 510 are hereby approved as of this date.

Sincerely,

TERRY E. BRANSTAD
Governor

7 to whom the document was issued which shall conform to 8 the name on the election register.

9 (2) The document shows a photograph of the 21 c. In lieu of paragraph “b”, a person wishing to 22 vote may establish proof of identity by written oath

26 prescribed by the state commissioner of elections
27 and shall state the identity and attest to the stated
28 identity of the person wishing to vote. The oath
29 must be signed by the attesting person and the person

37 an oath or falsely attesting to a voter’s identity is 38 a class “D” felony.

39 d. The commissioner shall, within forty-five days
40 after each election, review all attestations received
41 under this subsection and if any individual is found to 42 have attested for more than one voter in a particular 43 election, the commissioner shall immediately notify the 44 state commissioner and the county attorney.

 9 Code 2015, is amended to read as follows:

10 a. A person whose name does not appear on the 11 election register of the precinct in which that person
 12 claims the right to vote shall not be permitted to 13 vote, unless the person affirms that the person is 14 currently registered in the county ~~and presents proof~~
 15 ~~of identity~~, or the commissioner informs the precinct
 16 election officials that an error has occurred and that 17 the person is a registered voter of that precinct, and 18 the person presents proof of identification pursuant 19 to subsection 3. If the commissioner finds no record
 20 of the person’s registration but the person insists
 21 that the person is a registered voter of that precinct,
 22 the precinct election officials shall allow the person
 23 to cast a ballot in the manner prescribed by section
 24 49.81.

25 Sec. 9. Section 49.81, subsection 1, Code 2015, is
 26 amended to read as follows:

 34 provisional ballot. The voter shall mark the ballot
 35 and immediately seal it in an envelope of the type
 36 prescribed by subsection 4. The voter shall deliver 37 the sealed envelope to a precinct election official who 38 shall deposit it in an envelope marked “provisional 39 ballots”. The ballot shall be considered as having 40 been cast in the special precinct established by 41 section 53.20 for purposes of the postelection canvass.

42 Sec. 10. Section 49.81, subsection 2, paragraph b,
 43 Code 2015, is amended to read as follows:

6 provisional ballot pursuant to section 49.77,

8 official shall indicate on the provisional ballot
9 envelope that the voter is casting a provisional ballot
10 due to the voter's inability or refusal to present
11 proof of identification.

12 b. At the time a provisional ballot is cast the 13 voter may also execute an affidavit in the form
14 prescribed by the state commissioner which shall be
15 attached to the provisional ballot envelope, affirming
16 that the voter is the person the voter claims to be and 17 further affirming either of the following:

18 (1) The voter is indigent and is unable to obtain
19 proof of identification without the payment of a fee.

20 (2) The voter has a religious objection to being 21 photographed.

22 c. A provisional ballot cast pursuant to section
23 49.77, subsection 3A, paragraph "b", which is 24 accompanied by an affidavit executed pursuant to 25 paragraph "b" of this subsection shall be presumed 26 valid by the special precinct board and shall be 27 counted unless additional written statements or
28 documents are delivered to the commissioner's office
29 prior to the date provisional ballots are considered
30 by the special precinct election board and the special
31 precinct election board determines such additional 32 evidence successfully rebuts the presumption of 33 validity.

 6 registered voter.

7 Sec. 13. Section 53.22, subsection 1, Code 2015, is
 8 amended by adding the following new paragraph:
 9 NEW PARAGRAPH. d. Before receiving a ballot
 10 under this subsection, each applicant shall present
 11 proof of identification pursuant to section 49.77,
 12 subsection 3, to the special precinct election board
 13 members. If an applicant is unable to present proof of 14 identification, the applicant shall have an opportunity
 15 to execute an affidavit in the form prescribed by the 16 state commissioner of elections affirming that the

- 1 Amend Senate File 427 as follows:
2 1. By striking everything after the enacting clause
3 and inserting:
4 Section 1. Section 724.1, subsection 1, paragraph
5 h, Code 2015, is amended by striking the paragraph.
6 Sec. 2. NEW SECTION. 724.1A Firearm suppressors
7 — certification.
8 1. As used in this section, unless the context
9 otherwise requires:
10 a. “Certification” means the participation and
11 assent of the chief law enforcement officer of the 12 jurisdiction where the applicant resides, that is 13 necessary under federal law for the approval of an 14 application to make or transfer a firearm suppressor.
15 b. “Chief law enforcement officer” means the county
16 sheriff, chief of police, or the designee of such
17 official, that the federal bureau of alcohol, tobacco,
18 firearms and explosives, or any successor agency, has
19 identified by regulation or has determined is otherwise
20 eligible to provide any required certification for

21 making or transferring a firearm suppressor.
22 c. "Firearm suppressor" means a mechanical device
23 specifically constructed and designed so that when
24 attached to a firearm silences, muffles, or suppresses
25 the sound when fired that is considered a "firearm
26 silencer" or "firearm muffler" as defined in 18 U.S.C.
27 §921.
28 2. a. A chief law enforcement officer is not
29 required to make any certification under this section
30 the chief law enforcement officer knows to be false,
31 but the chief law enforcement officer shall not
32 refuse, based on a generalized objection, to issue a
33 certification to make or transfer a firearm suppressor.
34 b. When the certification of the chief law
35 enforcement officer is required by federal law or
36 regulation for making or transferring a firearm
37 suppressor, the chief law enforcement officer
38 shall, within thirty days of receipt of a request
39 for certification, issue such certification if the
40 applicant is not prohibited by law from making or
41 transferring a firearm suppressor or is not the subject
42 of a proceeding that could result in the applicant
43 being prohibited by law from making or transferring
44 the firearm suppressor. If the chief law enforcement
45 officer does not issue a certification as required by
46 this section, the chief law enforcement officer shall
47 provide the applicant with a written notification of
48 the denial and the reason for the denial.
49 3. An applicant whose request for certification
50 is denied may appeal the decision of the chief law

1 enforcement officer to the district court for the
2 county in which the applicant resides. The court
3 shall review the decision of the chief law enforcement
4 officer to deny the certification de novo. If the 5 court finds that the applicant is not prohibited by law
6 from making or transferring the firearm suppressor,
7 or is not the subject of a proceeding that could
8 result in such prohibition, or that no substantial
9 evidence supports the decision of the chief law
10 enforcement officer, the court shall order the chief
11 law enforcement officer to issue the certification and 12 award court costs and reasonable attorney fees to the 13 applicant. If the court determines the applicant is 14 not eligible to be issued a certification, the court
15 shall award court costs and reasonable attorney fees to 16 the political subdivision of the state representing the 17 chief law enforcement officer.
18 4. In making a determination about whether to
19 issue a certification under subsection 2, a chief law

20 enforcement officer may conduct a criminal background
21 check, but shall only require the applicant provide 22 as much information as is necessary to identify
23 the applicant for this purpose or to determine the 24 disposition of an arrest or proceeding relevant to the
25 eligibility of the applicant to lawfully possess or
26 receive a firearm suppressor. A chief law enforcement
27 officer shall not require access to or consent
28 to inspect any private premises as a condition of
29 providing a certification under this section.

30 5. A chief law enforcement officer and employees
31 of the chief law enforcement officer who act in good
32 faith are immune from liability arising from any act or
33 omission in making a certification as required by this
34 section.

 10 Sec. 2. NEW SECTION. 724.1A Firearm suppressors
 11 — certification.
 12 1. As used in this section, unless the context
 13 otherwise requires:
 14 a. “Certification” means the participation and
 15 assent of the chief law enforcement officer of the 16 jurisdiction where the applicant resides or maintains
 17 an address of record, that is necessary under federal
 18 law for the approval of an application to make or
 19 transfer a firearm suppressor.
 20 b. “Chief law enforcement officer” means the county
 21 sheriff, chief of police, or the designee of such
 22 official, that the federal bureau of alcohol, tobacco,
 23 firearms and explosives, or any successor agency, has
 24 identified by regulation or has determined is otherwise
 25 eligible to provide any required certification for

26 making or transferring a firearm suppressor.
27 c. "Firearm suppressor" means a mechanical device
28 specifically constructed and designed so that when
29 attached to a firearm silences, muffles, or suppresses
30 the sound when fired that is considered a "firearm
31 silencer" or "firearm muffler" as defined in 18 U.S.C.
32 §921.
33 2. a. A chief law enforcement officer is not
34 required to make any certification under this section
35 the chief law enforcement officer knows to be false,
36 but the chief law enforcement officer shall not
37 refuse, based on a generalized objection, to issue a
38 certification to make or transfer a firearm suppressor.
39 b. When the certification of the chief law
40 enforcement officer is required by federal law or
41 regulation for making or transferring a firearm
42 suppressor, the chief law enforcement officer
43 shall, within thirty days of receipt of a request
44 for certification, issue such certification if the
45 applicant is not prohibited by law from making or
46 transferring a firearm suppressor or is not the subject
47 of a proceeding that could result in the applicant
48 being prohibited by law from making or transferring
49 the firearm suppressor. If the chief law enforcement

1 this section, the chief law enforcement officer shall
2 provide the applicant with a written notification of
3 the denial and the reason for the denial.
4 c. A certification that has been approved under
5 this section grants the person the authority to make
6 or transfer a firearm suppressor as provided by state
7 and federal law.
8 3. An applicant whose request for certification
9 is denied may appeal the decision of the chief law
10 enforcement officer to the district court for the
11 county in which the applicant resides or maintains
12 an address of record. The court shall review the
13 decision of the chief law enforcement officer to deny
14 the certification de novo. If the court finds that
15 the applicant is not prohibited by law from making
16 or transferring the firearm suppressor, or is not the
17 subject of a proceeding that could result in such
18 prohibition, or that no substantial evidence supports
19 the decision of the chief law enforcement officer, the
20 court shall order the chief law enforcement officer
21 to issue the certification and award court costs and
22 reasonable attorney fees to the applicant. If the 23 court determines the applicant is not eligible to be
24 issued a certification, the court shall award court

25 costs and reasonable attorney fees to the political
 26 subdivision of the state representing the chief law
 27 enforcement officer.

28 4. In making a determination about whether to
 29 issue a certification under subsection 2, a chief law
 30 enforcement officer may conduct a criminal background
 31 check, including an inquiry of the national instant
 32 criminal background check system maintained by the
 33 federal bureau of investigation or any successor
 34 agency, but shall only require the applicant provide
 35 as much information as is necessary to identify
 36 the applicant for this purpose or to determine the
 37 disposition of an arrest or proceeding relevant to the
 38 eligibility of the applicant to lawfully possess or
 39 receive a firearm suppressor. A chief law enforcement
 40 officer shall not require access to or consent
 41 to inspect any private premises as a condition of
 42 providing a certification under this section.

43 5. A chief law enforcement officer and employees
 44 of the chief law enforcement officer who act in good
 45 faith are immune from liability arising from any act or
 46 omission in making a certification as required by this
 47 section.

48 Sec. 3. NEW SECTION. 724.1B Firearm suppressors
 49 — penalty.

50 1. A person shall not possess a firearm suppressor

1 in this state if such possession is knowingly in
 2 violation of federal law.

3 2. A person who possesses a firearm suppressor in
 4 violation of subsection 1 commits a class "D" felony.

5 Sec. 4. Section 724.4, subsection 4, paragraph i,
 6 Code 2015, is amended to read as follows:

7 i. (1) A person who has in the person's immediate 8 possession and who displays to a peace officer on

 12 through electronic means, if possible, the validity of 13 the person's permit to carry weapons.

14 (2) A person commits a simple misdemeanor
 15 punishable as a scheduled violation pursuant to section
 16 805.8C, subsection 11, if the person does not have in 17 the person's immediate possession a valid permit to 18 carry weapons which has been issued to the person.

19 (3) A ~~Except as provided subparagraph (2), a~~
 20 person shall not be convicted of a violation of this
 21 section if the person produces at the person's trial a
 22 permit to carry weapons which was valid at the time of
 23 the alleged offense and which would have brought the

24 person's conduct within this exception if the permit
 25 had been produced at the time of the alleged offense.
 26 Sec. 5. Section 724.4B, subsection 2, paragraph a,
 27 Code 2015, is amended to read as follows:

28 a. A person listed under section 724.4, subsection
 29 4, paragraphs "b" through "j" or "j", or a certified
 30 peace officer as specified in section 724.6, subsection
 31 1.

32 Sec. 6. Section 724.5, Code 2015, is amended to
 33 read as follows:

42 2. A peace officer shall verify through electronic 43 means, if possible, the validity of the person's permit
 44 to carry weapons.

45 3. Failure to so produce a permit is a simple
 46 misdemeanor, punishable as a scheduled violation
 47 pursuant to section 805.8C, subsection 12.

48 Sec. 7. Section 724.6, subsection 1, Code 2015, is
 49 amended to read as follows:

 4 officer, correctional officer, security guard, bank
 5 messenger or other person transporting property of a
 6 value requiring security, or in police work, reasonably
 7 justifies that person going armed. The permit shall be
 8 on a form prescribed and published by the commissioner
 9 of public safety, shall identify the holder, and
 10 shall state the nature of the employment requiring the
 11 holder to go armed. A permit so issued, other than to 12 a peace officer, shall authorize the person to whom
 13 it is issued to go armed anywhere in the state, only
 14 while engaged in the employment, and while going to and
 15 from the place of the employment. A permit issued to
 16 a certified peace officer shall authorize that peace
 17 officer to go armed anywhere in the state, including
 18 a school as provided in section 724.4B, at all times.
 19 Permits shall expire twelve months after the date when
 20 issued except that permits issued to peace officers and
 21 correctional officers are valid through the officer's
 22 period of employment unless otherwise canceled. When

23 the employment is terminated, the holder of the 24 permit shall surrender it to the issuing officer for
25 cancellation.

26 Sec. 8. Section 724.7, subsection 1, Code 2015, is
27 amended to read as follows:

28 1. Any person who is not disqualified under
29 section 724.8, who satisfies the training requirements
30 of section 724.9, if applicable, and who files an
31 application in accordance with section 724.10 shall be
32 issued a nonprofessional permit to carry weapons. Such
33 permits shall be on a form prescribed and published
34 by the commissioner of public safety, which shall be
35 readily distinguishable from the professional permit,
36 and shall identify the holder of the permit. Such
37 permits shall not be issued for a particular weapon
38 and shall not contain information about a particular
39 weapon including the make, model, or serial number of
40 the weapon or any ammunition used in that weapon. All
41 permits so issued shall be for a period of five years
42 and shall be valid throughout the state except where
43 the possession or carrying of a firearm is prohibited
44 by state or federal law.

45 Sec. 9. Section 724.9, Code 2015, is amended by
46 adding the following new subsection:

3 2015, are amended to read as follows:

4 1. a. Applications for permits to carry weapons
5 shall be made to the sheriff of the county in which
6 the applicant resides. Applications for professional
7 permits to carry weapons for persons who are
8 nonresidents of the state, or whose need to go armed
9 arises out of employment by the state, shall be made
10 to the commissioner of public safety. In either case,
11 the sheriff or commissioner, before issuing the permit,
12 shall determine that the requirements of sections 724.6
13 to 724.10 have been satisfied. However, ~~for renewal of~~
14 ~~a permit~~ the training program requirements in section
15 724.9, subsection 1, do not apply to an applicant
16 who is able to demonstrate completion of small arms
17 training as specified in section 724.9, subsection 1,
18 paragraph "d". For all other applicants the training
19 program requirements of section 724.9, subsection 1,

 25 sections 724.6, 724.7, 724.8, and 724.10 and either of
 26 the following, as applicable, have been satisfied:

27 (a) Beginning with the first renewal of a permit
 28 issued after the calendar year 2010, and alternating
 29 renewals thereafter, if a renewal applicant applies
 30 within thirty days prior to the expiration of the 31 permit or within thirty days after expiration of the
 32 permit, the training program requirements of section
 33 724.9, subsection 1, do not apply.

34 (b) Beginning with the second renewal of a permit
 35 issued after the calendar year 2010, and alternating
 36 renewals thereafter, if a renewal applicant applies
 37 within thirty days prior to the expiration of the
 38 permit or within thirty days after expiration of the
 39 permit, a renewal applicant shall qualify for renewal
 40 by taking an online training course certified by the
 41 national rifle association or the Iowa law enforcement
 42 academy, and the training program requirements of
 43 section 724.9, subsection 1, do not apply.

44 (2) If any renewal applicant applies more than 45 thirty days after the expiration of the permit, the
 46 permit requirements of paragraph "a" apply to the
 47 applicant, and any subsequent renewal of this permit
 48 shall be considered a first renewal for purposes
 49 of subparagraph (1). However, the training program
 50 requirements of section 724.9, subsection 1, do not

1 apply to an applicant who is able to demonstrate
 2 completion of small arms training as specified in
 3 section 724.9, subsection 1, paragraph "d". For all
 4 other applicants, in lieu of the training program
 5 requirements of section 724.9, subsection 1, the
 6 renewal applicant may choose to qualify on a firing
 7 range under the supervision of an instructor certified
 8 by the national rifle association or the department of
 9 public safety or another state's department of public
 10 safety, state police department, or similar certifying
 11 body.

12 (3) As an alternative to subparagraph (1), and if 13 the requirements of sections 724.6, 724.7, 724.8, and

 15 choose to qualify, at any renewal, under the training
 16 program requirements in section 724.9, subsection 1,

 18 qualify on a firing range under the supervision of an
 19 instructor certified by the national rifle association
 20 or the department of public safety or another

22 department, or similar certifying body. Such training
23 or qualification must occur within the ~~twelve month~~
24 twenty-four-month period prior to the expiration
25 of the applicant's current permit, except that the
26 twenty-four-month time period limitation for training
27 or qualification does not apply to an applicant who is
28 able to demonstrate completion of small arms training
29 as specified in section 724.9, subsection 1, paragraph
30 "d".

31 3. The issuing officer shall collect a fee of fifty
32 dollars, except from a duly appointed peace officer or
33 correctional officer, for each permit issued. Renewal
34 permits or duplicate permits shall be issued for a fee
35 of twenty-five dollars, provided the application for
36 such renewal permit is received by the issuing officer
37 at least within thirty days prior to the expiration
38 of the applicant's current permit or within thirty
39 days after such expiration. The issuing officer
40 shall notify the commissioner of public safety of the
41 issuance of any permit at least monthly and forward to
42 the commissioner an amount equal to ten dollars for
43 each permit issued and five dollars for each renewal
44 or duplicate permit issued. All such fees received
45 by the commissioner shall be paid to the treasurer
46 of state and deposited in the operating account of
47 the department of public safety to offset the cost of

 17 a disqualifying conviction or finding against the
 18 permit holder, the issuing officer shall immediately

19 reinstate the permit upon receipt of proof of the 20 matter's final disposition. If the arrest leads to
 21 a disqualifying conviction or the proceedings to a

4 Section 1. Section 724.1, subsection 1, paragraph
5 h, Code 2015, is amended by striking the paragraph.

6 Sec. 2. NEW SECTION. 724.1A Firearm suppressors
7 — certification.

8 1. As used in this section, unless the context
9 otherwise requires:

10 a. “Certification” means the participation and
11 assent of the chief law enforcement officer of the
12 jurisdiction where the applicant resides or maintains
13 an address of record, that is necessary under federal
14 law for the approval of an application to make or
15 transfer a firearm suppressor.

16 b. “Chief law enforcement officer” means the county
17 sheriff, chief of police, or the designee of such
18 official, that the federal bureau of alcohol, tobacco,
19 firearms and explosives, or any successor agency, has

21 eligible to provide any required certification for
22 making or transferring a firearm suppressor.

23 c. “Firearm suppressor” means a mechanical device

32 but the chief law enforcement officer shall not
33 refuse, based on a generalized objection, to issue a

36 enforcement officer is required by federal law or

38 suppressor, the chief law enforcement officer

41 applicant is not prohibited by law from making or

45 the firearm suppressor. If the chief law enforcement
46 officer does not issue a certification as required by
47 this section, the chief law enforcement officer shall
48 provide the applicant with a written notification of

4 3. An applicant whose request for certification
5 is denied may appeal the decision of the chief law
6 enforcement officer to the district court for the
7 county in which the applicant resides or maintains
8 an address of record. The court shall review the
9 decision of the chief law enforcement officer to deny
10 the certification de novo. If the court finds that
11 the applicant is not prohibited by law from making
12 or transferring the firearm suppressor, or is not the
13 subject of a proceeding that could result in such
14 prohibition, or that no substantial evidence supports
15 the decision of the chief law enforcement officer, the
16 court shall order the chief law enforcement officer
17 to issue the certification and award court costs and
18 reasonable attorney fees to the applicant. If the
19 court determines the applicant is not eligible to be
20 issued a certification, the court shall award court
21 costs and reasonable attorney fees to the political
22 subdivision of the state representing the chief law
23 enforcement officer.

24 4. In making a determination about whether to
25 issue a certification under subsection 2, a chief law
26 enforcement officer may conduct a criminal background
27 check, including an inquiry of the national instant
28 criminal background check system maintained by the
29 federal bureau of investigation or any successor
30 agency, but shall only require the applicant provide
31 as much information as is necessary to identify
32 the applicant for this purpose or to determine the

34 eligibility of the applicant to lawfully possess or
35 receive a firearm suppressor. A chief law enforcement
36 officer shall not require access to or consent
37 to inspect any private premises as a condition of
38 providing a certification under this section.

39 5. A chief law enforcement officer and employees

40 of the chief law enforcement officer who act in good
 41 faith are immune from liability arising from any act or
 42 omission in making a certification as required by this

 12 of another, or it is reasonable to believe that such 13 force is necessary to resist a like force or threat.

14 2. Reasonable force, including deadly force, may

1 Amend Senate File 427 as follows:

2 1. By striking everything after the enacting clause
3 and inserting:

4 Section 1. Section 724.1, subsection 1, paragraph
5 h, Code 2015, is amended by striking the paragraph.

6 Sec. 2. NEW SECTION. 724.1A Firearm suppressors
7 — certification.

8 1. As used in this section, unless the context
9 otherwise requires:

10 a. “Certification” means the participation and
11 assent of the chief law enforcement officer of the
12 jurisdiction where the applicant resides or maintains
13 an address of record, that is necessary under federal
14 law for the approval of an application to make or
15 transfer a firearm suppressor.

16 b. “Chief law enforcement officer” means the county
17 sheriff, chief of police, or the designee of such
18 official, that the federal bureau of alcohol, tobacco,
19 firearms and explosives, or any successor agency, has
20 identified by regulation or has determined is otherwise
21 eligible to provide any required certification for
22 making or transferring a firearm suppressor.

23 c. “Firearm suppressor” means a mechanical device
24 specifically constructed and designed so that when
25 attached to a firearm silences, muffles, or suppresses
26 the sound when fired that is considered a “firearm
27 silencer” or “firearm muffler” as defined in 18 U.S.C.
28 §921.

29 2. a. A chief law enforcement officer is not
30 required to make any certification under this section
31 the chief law enforcement officer knows to be false,
32 but the chief law enforcement officer shall not
33 refuse, based on a generalized objection, to issue a
34 certification to make or transfer a firearm suppressor.

35 b. When the certification of the chief law
36 enforcement officer is required by federal law or
37 regulation for making or transferring a firearm
38 suppressor, the chief law enforcement officer
39 shall, within thirty days of receipt of a request
40 for certification, issue such certification if the
41 applicant is not prohibited by law from making or
42 transferring a firearm suppressor or is not the subject
43 of a proceeding that could result in the applicant
44 being prohibited by law from making or transferring
45 the firearm suppressor. If the chief law enforcement
46 officer does not issue a certification as required by
47 this section, the chief law enforcement officer shall
48 provide the applicant with a written notification of
49 the denial and the reason for the denial.

1 this section grants the person the authority to make
2 or transfer a firearm suppressor as provided by state
3 and federal law.

4 3. An applicant whose request for certification
5 is denied may appeal the decision of the chief law
6 enforcement officer to the district court for the
7 county in which the applicant resides or maintains
8 an address of record. The court shall review the
9 decision of the chief law enforcement officer to deny
10 the certification de novo. If the court finds that
11 the applicant is not prohibited by law from making
12 or transferring the firearm suppressor, or is not the
13 subject of a proceeding that could result in such
14 prohibition, or that no substantial evidence supports
15 the decision of the chief law enforcement officer, the
16 court shall order the chief law enforcement officer
17 to issue the certification and award court costs and
18 reasonable attorney fees to the applicant. If the
19 court determines the applicant is not eligible to be
20 issued a certification, the court shall award court
21 costs and reasonable attorney fees to the political
22 subdivision of the state representing the chief law
23 enforcement officer.

24 4. In making a determination about whether to
25 issue a certification under subsection 2, a chief law
26 enforcement officer may conduct a criminal background
27 check, including an inquiry of the national instant
28 criminal background check system maintained by the
29 federal bureau of investigation or any successor
30 agency, but shall only require the applicant provide
31 as much information as is necessary to identify
32 the applicant for this purpose or to determine the
33 disposition of an arrest or proceeding relevant to the
34 eligibility of the applicant to lawfully possess or
35 receive a firearm suppressor. A chief law enforcement
36 officer shall not require access to or consent
37 to inspect any private premises as a condition of
38 providing a certification under this section.

39 5. A chief law enforcement officer and employees
40 of the chief law enforcement officer who act in good
41 faith are immune from liability arising from any act or
42 omission in making a certification as required by this
43 section.

44 Sec. 3. NEW SECTION. 724.1B Firearm suppressors
45 — penalty.

46 1. A person shall not possess a firearm suppressor
47 in this state if such possession is knowingly in
48 violation of federal law.

49 2. A person who possesses a firearm suppressor in
50 violation of subsection 1 commits a class "D" felony.

9 the person's permit to carry weapons.

10 (2) A person commits a simple misdemeanor
11 punishable as a scheduled violation pursuant to section

15 (3) A Except as provided subparagraph (2), a
16 person shall not be convicted of a violation of this
17 section if the person produces at the person's trial a
18 permit to carry weapons which was valid at the time of
19 the alleged offense and which would have brought the
20 person's conduct within this exception if the permit
21 had been produced at the time of the alleged offense.

22 Sec. 5. Section 724.4B, subsection 2, paragraph a,
23 Code 2015, is amended to read as follows:

24 a. A person listed under section 724.4, subsection
25 4, paragraphs "b" through "j" or "j", or a certified

42 misdemeanor, punishable as a scheduled violation
43 pursuant to section 805.8C, subsection 12.

44 Sec. 7. Section 724.6, subsection 1, Code 2015, is 45 amended to read as follows:

1 messenger or other person transporting property of a
2 value requiring security, or in police work, reasonably
3 justifies that person going armed. The permit shall be
4 on a form prescribed and published by the commissioner
5 of public safety, shall identify the holder, and
6 shall state the nature of the employment requiring the
7 holder to go armed. A permit so issued, other than to
8 a peace officer, shall authorize the person to whom
9 it is issued to go armed anywhere in the state, only
10 while engaged in the employment, and while going to and
11 from the place of the employment. A permit issued to 12 a certified peace officer shall authorize that peace
13 officer to go armed anywhere in the state, including
14 a school as provided in section 724.4B, at all times.
15 Permits shall expire twelve months after the date when
16 issued except that permits issued to peace officers and
17 correctional officers are valid through the officer's
18 period of employment unless otherwise canceled. When
19 the employment is terminated, the holder of the 20 permit shall surrender it to the issuing officer for
21 cancellation.

22 Sec. 8. Section 724.7, subsection 1, Code 2015, is
23 amended to read as follows:

24 1. Any person who is not disqualified under
25 section 724.8, who satisfies the training requirements
26 of section 724.9, if applicable, and who files an
27 application in accordance with section 724.10 shall be
28 issued a nonprofessional permit to carry weapons. Such
29 permits shall be on a form prescribed and published
30 by the commissioner of public safety, which shall be
31 readily distinguishable from the professional permit,
32 and shall identify the holder of the permit. Such
33 permits shall not be issued for a particular weapon
34 and shall not contain information about a particular
35 weapon including the make, model, or serial number of
36 the weapon or any ammunition used in that weapon. All
37 permits so issued shall be for a period of five years
38 and shall be valid throughout the state except where
39 the possession or carrying of a firearm is prohibited
40 by state or federal law.

41 Sec. 9. Section 724.9, Code 2015, is amended by
42 adding the following new subsection:

43 NEW SUBSECTION. 1A. The handgun safety training
44 course required in subsection 1 may be conducted 45 over the internet in a live or web-based format, if 46 completion of the course is verified by the instructor
47 or provider of the course.

48 Sec. 10. Section 724.11, subsections 1 and 3, Code
49 2015, are amended to read as follows:

50 1. a. Applications for permits to carry weapons

1 shall be made to the sheriff of the county in which
2 the applicant resides. Applications for professional
3 permits to carry weapons for persons who are
4 nonresidents of the state, or whose need to go armed
5 arises out of employment by the state, shall be made
6 to the commissioner of public safety. In either case,
7 the sheriff or commissioner, before issuing the permit,
8 shall determine that the requirements of sections 724.6
9 to 724.10 have been satisfied. However, ~~for renewal of~~
10 ~~a permit~~ the training program requirements in section
11 724.9, subsection 1, do not apply to an applicant
12 who is able to demonstrate completion of small arms
13 training as specified in section 724.9, subsection 1,
14 paragraph "d". For all other applicants the training
15 program requirements of section 724.9, subsection 1,
16 must be satisfied within the twenty-four-month period
17 prior to the date of the application for the issuance
18 of a permit.

19 b. (1) Prior to issuing a renewal, the sheriff
20 or commissioner shall determine the requirements of 21 sections 724.6, 724.7, 724.8, and 724.10 and either of
22 the following, as applicable, have been satisfied:

23 (a) Beginning with the first renewal of a permit
24 issued after the calendar year 2010, and alternating
25 renewals thereafter, if a renewal applicant applies
26 within thirty days prior to the expiration of the
27 permit or within thirty days after expiration of the
28 permit, the training program requirements of section
29 724.9, subsection 1, do not apply.

30 (b) Beginning with the second renewal of a permit
31 issued after the calendar year 2010, and alternating
32 renewals thereafter, if a renewal applicant applies
33 within thirty days prior to the expiration of the
34 permit or within thirty days after expiration of the
35 permit, a renewal applicant shall qualify for renewal
36 by taking an online training course certified by the
37 national rifle association or the Iowa law enforcement
38 academy, and the training program requirements of
39 section 724.9, subsection 1, do not apply.

40 (2) If any renewal applicant applies more than
41 thirty days after the expiration of the permit, the
42 permit requirements of paragraph "a" apply to the
43 applicant, and any subsequent renewal of this permit
44 shall be considered a first renewal for purposes
45 of subparagraph (1). However, the training program
46 requirements of section 724.9, subsection 1, do not
47 apply to an applicant who is able to demonstrate
48 completion of small arms training as specified in
49 section 724.9, subsection 1, paragraph "d". For all
50 other applicants, in lieu of the training program

1 requirements of section 724.9, subsection 1, the
2 renewal applicant may choose to qualify on a firing
3 range under the supervision of an instructor certified
4 by the national rifle association or the department of
5 public safety or another state's department of public
6 safety, state police department, or similar certifying
7 body.

8 (3) As an alternative to subparagraph (1), and if
9 the requirements of sections 724.6, 724.7, 724.8, and 10 724.10 have been satisfied, a renewal applicant may
11 choose to qualify, at any renewal, under the training
12 program requirements in section 724.9, subsection 1,
13 ~~shall apply~~ or the renewal applicant may choose to
14 qualify on a firing range under the supervision of an
15 instructor certified by the national rifle association
16 or the department of public safety or another
17 state's department of public safety, state police
18 department, or similar certifying body. Such training
19 or qualification must occur within the ~~twelve-month~~
20 twenty-four-month period prior to the expiration
21 of the applicant's current permit, ~~except that the~~
22 twenty-four-month time period limitation for training
23 or qualification does not apply to an applicant who is
24 able to demonstrate completion of small arms training
25 as specified in section 724.9, subsection 1, paragraph
26 "d".

27 3. The issuing officer shall collect a fee of fifty
28 dollars, except from a duly appointed peace officer or
29 correctional officer, for each permit issued. Renewal
30 permits or duplicate permits shall be issued for a fee
31 of twenty-five dollars, provided the application for
32 such renewal permit is received by the issuing officer
33 ~~at least~~ within thirty days prior to the expiration
34 of the applicant's current permit or within thirty
35 days after such expiration. The issuing officer
36 shall notify the commissioner of public safety of the
37 issuance of any permit at least monthly and forward to
38 the commissioner an amount equal to ten dollars for
39 each permit issued and five dollars for each renewal
40 or duplicate permit issued. All such fees received
41 by the commissioner shall be paid to the treasurer
42 of state and deposited in the operating account of
43 the department of public safety to offset the cost of 44 administering this chapter. Notwithstanding section
45 8.33, any unspent balance as of June 30 of each year
46 shall not revert to the general fund of the state.
47 Sec. 11. Section 724.11, Code 2015, is amended by
48 adding the following new subsection:
49 NEW SUBSECTION. 5. The initial or renewal permit
50 shall have a uniform appearance, size, and content

1 prescribed and published by the commissioner of public
2 safety. The permit shall contain the name of the 3 permittee and the effective date of the permit, but
4 shall not contain the permittee's social security
5 number. Such a permit shall not be issued for a
6 particular weapon and shall not contain information
7 about a particular weapon including the make, model,
8 or serial number of the weapon, or any ammunition used
9 in that weapon.

10 Sec. 12. Section 724.11A, Code 2015, is amended to 11 read as follows:

12 724.11A Recognition.

13 A valid permit or license issued by another state to 14 any nonresident of this state shall be considered to 15 be a valid permit or license to carry weapons issued
16 pursuant to this chapter, except that such permit or 17 license shall not be considered to be a substitute for 18 ~~an annual a permit to acquire pistols or revolvers~~
19 firearms issued pursuant to section 724.15.

20 Sec. 13. Section 724.15, Code 2015, is amended by 21 striking the section and inserting in lieu thereof the 22 following:

23 724.15 Optional permit to acquire firearms.

24 1. It is the purpose of this section to provide
25 for a permit to acquire firearms that will satisfy
26 the requirements of 18 U.S.C. §922(t)(3) to allow the 27 holder of such a permit to acquire firearms from a
28 federally licensed firearms dealer. A person is not 29 required to obtain a permit to acquire firearms under 30 this section if the person possesses a valid permit to 31 carry weapons issued in accordance with this chapter or 32 if the person has otherwise completed a satisfactory
33 national instant criminal background check required
34 pursuant to 18 U.S.C. §922(t).

35 2. A person may obtain a permit to acquire firearms

37 firearms shall not be issued to a person who is subject
38 to any of the following:

50 4. An issuing officer who finds that a person

Page 8

1 issued a permit to acquire firearms under this chapter
 2 has been arrested for a disqualifying offense or who
 3 is the subject of proceedings that could lead to the
 4 person's ineligibility for such permit may immediately
 5 suspend such permit. An issuing officer proceeding
 6 under this subsection shall immediately notify the 7 permit holder of the suspension by personal service or 8 certified mail on a form prescribed and published by

 13 a disqualifying conviction or finding against the
 14 permit holder, the issuing officer shall immediately
 15 reinstate the permit upon receipt of proof of the 16 matter's final disposition. If the arrest leads to
 17 a disqualifying conviction or the proceedings to a
 18 disqualifying finding, the issuing officer shall revoke
 19 the permit. The issuing officer may also revoke the 20 permit of a person whom the issuing officer later finds 21 was not qualified for such a permit at the time of 22 issuance or who the officer finds provided materially
 23 false information on the permit application. A person
 24 aggrieved by a suspension or revocation under this 25 subsection may seek review of the decision pursuant to 26 section 724.21A.

 41 law.

42 3. A person who transfers, loans, or rents a

26 check concerning each applicant by obtaining criminal
27 history data from the department of public safety
28 which shall include an inquiry of the national instant
29 criminal background check system maintained by the
30 federal bureau of investigation or any successor agency
31 and an immigration alien query through a database
32 maintained by the United States immigration and customs
33 enforcement or any successor agency if the applicant is

HOUSE AMENDMENT TO
SENATE FILE 427

- 1 Amend Senate File 427, as passed by the Senate, as 2 follows:
3 1. By striking everything after the enacting clause
4 and inserting:
5 Section 1. Section 724.1, subsection 1, paragraph
6 h, Code 2015, is amended by striking the paragraph.
7 Sec. 2. NEW SECTION. 724.1A Firearm suppressors
8 — certification.
9 1. As used in this section, unless the context
10 otherwise requires:
11 a. “Certification” means the participation and
12 assent of the chief law enforcement officer of the 13 jurisdiction where the applicant resides or maintains
14 an address of record, that is necessary under federal
15 law for the approval of an application to make or
16 transfer a firearm suppressor.
17 b. “Chief law enforcement officer” means the county
18 sheriff, chief of police, or the designee of such
19 official, that the federal bureau of alcohol, tobacco,
20 firearms and explosives, or any successor agency, has
21 identified by regulation or has determined is otherwise
22 eligible to provide any required certification for
23 making or transferring a firearm suppressor.
24 c. “Firearm suppressor” means a mechanical device
25 specifically constructed and designed so that when
26 attached to a firearm silences, muffles, or suppresses
27 the sound when fired that is considered a “firearm
28 silencer” or “firearm muffler” as defined in 18 U.S.C.
29 §921.
30 2. a. A chief law enforcement officer is not
31 required to make any certification under this section
32 the chief law enforcement officer knows to be false,
33 but the chief law enforcement officer shall not
34 refuse, based on a generalized objection, to issue a
35 certification to make or transfer a firearm suppressor.
36 b. When the certification of the chief law
37 enforcement officer is required by federal law or
38 regulation for making or transferring a firearm

39 suppressor, the chief law enforcement officer
40 shall, within thirty days of receipt of a request
41 for certification, issue such certification if the
42 applicant is not prohibited by law from making or
43 transferring a firearm suppressor or is not the subject
44 of a proceeding that could result in the applicant
45 being prohibited by law from making or transferring
46 the firearm suppressor. If the chief law enforcement
47 officer does not issue a certification as required by
48 this section, the chief law enforcement officer shall
49 provide the applicant with a written notification of
50 the denial and the reason for the denial.

1 c. A certification that has been approved under
2 this section grants the person the authority to make
3 or transfer a firearm suppressor as provided by state
4 and federal law.

5 3. An applicant whose request for certification
6 is denied may appeal the decision of the chief law
7 enforcement officer to the district court for the
8 county in which the applicant resides or maintains
9 an address of record. The court shall review the
10 decision of the chief law enforcement officer to deny
11 the certification de novo. If the court finds that
12 the applicant is not prohibited by law from making
13 or transferring the firearm suppressor, or is not the
14 subject of a proceeding that could result in such
15 prohibition, or that no substantial evidence supports
16 the decision of the chief law enforcement officer, the
17 court shall order the chief law enforcement officer
18 to issue the certification and award court costs and
19 reasonable attorney fees to the applicant. If the
20 court determines the applicant is not eligible to be
21 issued a certification, the court shall award court
22 costs and reasonable attorney fees to the political
23 subdivision of the state representing the chief law
24 enforcement officer.

25 4. In making a determination about whether to
26 issue a certification under subsection 2, a chief law
27 enforcement officer may conduct a criminal background
28 check, including an inquiry of the national instant
29 criminal background check system maintained by the
30 federal bureau of investigation or any successor
31 agency, but shall only require the applicant provide
32 as much information as is necessary to identify
33 the applicant for this purpose or to determine the
34 disposition of an arrest or proceeding relevant to the
35 eligibility of the applicant to lawfully possess or
36 receive a firearm suppressor. A chief law enforcement
37 officer shall not require access to or consent

38 to inspect any private premises as a condition of
 39 providing a certification under this section.
 40 5. A chief law enforcement officer and employees
 41 of the chief law enforcement officer who act in good
 42 faith are immune from liability arising from any act or
 43 omission in making a certification as required by this
 44 section.

45 Sec. 3. NEW SECTION. 724.1B Firearm suppressors

47 1. A person shall not possess a firearm suppressor
 48 in this state if such possession is knowingly in
 49 violation of federal law.

50 2. A person who possesses a firearm suppressor in

1 violation of subsection 1 commits a class “D” felony.
