IN-SERVICE TRAINING MATERIALS FOR TEACHERS
OF THE EDUCABLE MENTALLY RETARDED

Policy Statement: A review of commercially prepared material by the Special Education Curriculum Development Center does not constitute a recommendation or endorsement for purchase. The consideration of such material is intended solely as a means of assisting teachers and administrators in the evaluation of materials.

Staff: Edward L. Meyen, Director
Sigurd B. Walden, Assistant Director
Munro Shintani, Ph.D., Coordinator

Staff Assistants:

Phyllis Carter

PLEASE NOTE

The evaluation sheets found at the conclusion of this material represent the continuing effort of the Special Education Curriculum Development Center to meet the needs of the Special Class teacher. It is requested that teachers using this material record statements and specific evaluation points as indicated and submit this to the Center.

The time and effort given to this report will be greatly appreciated. You may be assured it will receive serious consideration in structuring guidelines for further development of materials to be disseminated.

LIFE EXPERIENCE STARTER UNITS

SET #1

Introduction

In response to the number of requests received from teachers in the field for "Life Experience Units", SECDC will periodically distribute selected units. In order to cover a variety of topics and to facilitate the development of a greater number of units on different levels of instruction, it will be the practice of SECDC to construct starter units instead of complete comprehensive units. The starter unit will be developed in accordance with the Guidelines for the Development of Life Experience Units, distributed in May, 1967. In general they will include the completed preliminary steps plus approximately ten lessons. Sufficient information will be included to allow the teacher to complete the unit utilizing her own ideas and gearing the activities to the specific needs of her group. As a general reference an outline of the development steps followed in preparing the starter units will be included with each collection of units prepared.

Teachers vary in the techniques they use in introducing units just as they differ in how they organize the content of units. Consequently the sample lessons are not necessarily suggestions for the first lesson to be taught. Teachers are encouraged to use the starter units as the basis for developing more comprehensive units.

DEVELOPMENTAL STEPS TO WRITING LIFE EXPERIENCES UNITS

The unit method of teaching educable mentally retarded children has received increased attention in recent years. Realizing the benefit which retarded children can obtain from a well-planned and effectively-taught unit, it is the intent of this outline to suggest procedures in developing Life Experience Units. The organizational structure included in this outline is recommended as a desirable procedure for developing units. Basically, the Integrated Life Experience Unit Approach is the adaptation of practical every-day experiences into units of work designed to facilitate social growth and learning experiences of the educable mentally retarded. Into each unit are integrated planned experiences in arithmetic concepts, social competency, communication skills, health, safety, and vocational competencies.

The flexibility of this approach allows the teacher to draw upon practical every-day experiences that are familiar to the retarded and to develop these experiences into meaningful learning situations. Motivating the retarded becomes less of a problem when you are drawing upon teaching resources with which a child is familiar and relating them to meaningful learning experiences within the individual's environment.

The basic purpose of the developmental steps outlined in the following pages is to encourage the teacher to carefully plan her unit and in the process to accumulate a resource of ideas pertinent to the unit topic. Each step represents an evaluation of the merit of the topic being considered. In other words, the idea of the preliminary step is to test the potential of the unit and to prepare the teacher for the later writing of her lesson plans.

Many teachers approach the writing of units by briefly noting the major points to be covered and proceeding to write lesson plans. In many cases the result is a well taught unit. However, even a well taught unit may be inadequate if it failed to effectively cover the material. If considerable emphasis is being given to unit teaching in the curriculum, then it is essential that the unit be viewed as a tool for teaching more than specific information relative to an isolated topic. The teaching of academic skills must be considered an integral component to the unit teaching approach. The construct previously discussed and the developmental steps to be described on succeeding pages are designed to require a consideration of these broader curricular demands.

Preliminary Steps

Keep in mind that the purpose of the preliminary steps is to evaluate the potential of the unit and in the process to generate a resource of ideas on content, material, and techniques relative to the unit. To facilitate this effort questions are used to introduce each step. It should also be noted that in progressing through the preliminary steps the teacher is not attempting to write the steps in final form; rather, the purpose is preliminary to the actual writing of lesson plans. As teachers become proficient in this procedure, the preliminary steps become somewhat routine.

Preliminary Steps

- I. Select the unit you plan to teach. (What are the reasons for teaching this particular unit at the present time?)
  - A. When selecting a unit, you should consider the contributions that the unit can make for the total curriculum.
    1. Review the units that have previously been taught.

2. Concern yourself with the needs of the class with respect to strengths and weaknesses in different core areas.
3. Formulate your rationale; take time to jot down why you desire to teach a specific unit at this particular time.
4. Unless past experiences with the class indicate a definite need for concentrated work in one core area, refrain from teaching more than one unit with major emphasis on the same core simultaneously.

B. Your personal interest in a particular unit topic is a poor criterion.

II. List experience sub-units. (What are the possible related themes around which lessons can be grouped within the context of the unit topic?)

This step is the first test of whether or not your unit topic has potential.

A. A sub-unit is a short unit related to the main basic theme.

1. The sub-units should reinforce the basic unit.
2. Sub-units can be utilized to strengthen core areas in which the basic units show evidence of being weak.
3. The listing of possible sub-units will facilitate organization of learning experiences and activities pertaining to the unit.
4. First list what appears to be logical sub-units in random order.
5. Later organize your sub-units into a sequential pattern.

B. At this stage you are actually generating a resource of ideas about the content and direction of your unit. These sub-units will later represent collections of lessons. It is also quite probable that many sub-unit topics will be deleted as you progress with your planning.

1. This is the key step in reducing your later efforts in developing a unit.

2. A theme considered a sub-unit in reference to one unit may later be considered a major unit.

III. State your general objectives for the unit. (What are your overall objectives in teaching this unit? Be general, not specific, at this point.)

A. For the purpose of developing Life Experience Units for the educable mentally retarded, consider objectives as a general competency that you want the children to attain. (Think in terms of overall outcomes.)

B. Because of the various ability levels present in most special classes and the varied background of experiences which the class members possess, as a teacher you must adjust your goals for these children to allow for evidence of success according to the individual pupil's rate of achievement. You should not anticipate all children becoming proficient in all concepts or objectives.

IV. Outline your unit according to the various core areas, namely, arithmetic concepts, social competency, communication skills, safety, health, and vocational competencies. (What activities can be used to teach the core area skills related to the topic of the unit?)

A. After categorizing the concepts and objectives according to the core areas, the next step is to develop a list of activities which will reinforce the basic core areas.

1. This is an important step in the development of a well-balanced unit and should receive careful attention.

2. Sometimes it is helpful to list activities at random that are related to your basic unit, then categorize them according to basic core areas.

3. Arrange activities in some order convenient for your use. Review each core area and weed out duplications. Also check to be sure that they are properly categorized. Compare the activities with the pattern of sub-units developed in Step II. Again, the purpose is to generate ideas on activities and techniques so that you have a resource to draw upon when you are writing your lesson plans.

V. Resource Material (What resource materials and/or people would be appropriate in teaching this unit?)

A. Compile a list of resource material and resource people which might be utilized in teaching these children.

B. There is generally an unlimited resource of materials for any given unit. These materials are available in many forms and from various sources.

1. Free and inexpensive materials from commercial companies, Chambers of Commerce, various civic departments, etc.
2. Field trips can and should be utilized to supplement units when they can definitely contribute to identifying the unit.
3. There is a wealth of material in the form of visual aids, films, records, magazines, newspapers and disposable materials which can be used to advantage.
4. The construction of model stores, banks, and post offices can be used when they facilitate the understanding of a concept.

C. Resource people can be brought into the classroom for a demonstration and class discussion.

1. This generally has value prior to or immediately following a field trip.

2. This gives you an opportunity to evaluate the children's oral discussion and, also, their social attitudes in reference to having a guest in the classroom.

Use of Resource People

1. They should understand who they will be talking to.
2. The assignment to them should be clear.
3. You should prepare the children for the session.
4. You should follow up with their evaluation of the activity.

VI. Vocabulary (What words can most easily be taught in relation to this unit topic?)

- A. One of the principal contributions which a Life Experience Unit should make to the retarded child's education is that of helping him to develop a vocabulary made up of words which are crucial to the unit which is being taught. This vocabulary should include words which are relevant for speaking, writing, listening and reading.
- B. You should determine a basic list for the above-mentioned vocabulary area during the early stages of the unit.
  1. Be alert for opportunities to integrate these words into lessons in a meaningful way.
  2. Allow for frequent repetition of these words, both written and spoken.
  3. Provide opportunities for review of vocabulary words about and in conjunction with other units.

Final Step

Preparation of Lesson Plan: The preliminary steps were designed to facilitate the actual writing of lesson plans. If the previous steps have been taken seriously and considerable time devoted to their completion, the teacher should now have a wealth of ideas relative to the content and direction of the unit.

A brief review of the preliminary steps should indicate the major strengths and weaknesses of the unit. The teacher should also have accessible a resource of ideas on vocabulary, activities, and community resources.

Until this step, the emphasis has been on generating a resource of ideas on the unit topic and evaluating the potential and appropriateness of the unit. The organization of lesson plans will be sufficient direction for most teachers in teaching a unit. This does not mean that each lesson is written in such detail that exactly what the teacher is to do and say is included. Rather, it means stating objectives for each lesson and specifying how the teacher plans to attain the objective.

Suggested Format: A variety of formats are used by teachers in writing units. The format suggested in this guide is relatively simple. Teachers should feel free to use a format of their own selection or design. However, teachers are encouraged to be consistent in the use of a format.

Format

Objectives	Activities	Resources	Experience Chart

Column 1:

Objectives: In contrast to the general objectives listed in step III, the lesson objective should be more specific.

1. After listing the objectives for the lesson, you need to explore the concepts which should be taught if the objectives are to be achieved.
2. A concept should result from a planned learning experience that the teacher develops as a means of teaching the children the understandings they need in achieving the general unit objectives which have been stated.
3. When listing concepts, make them specific and keep in mind that concepts should be organized in a sequence that will contribute to the accomplishment of the general unit objective.
4. In listing concepts, it is imperative that you (a) give consideration to assuring representation of the six basic core areas, and (b) that the concepts contribute to the achievement of the general unit objectives.
5. Refer to the list of sub-units which should now be in sequence.

Column 2:

Activities: In this column list the specific class activities which you plan to conduct for each lesson. Sufficient narrative information should be included so that another teacher reading your plans would be able to associate the activities with your class procedures. Also in this column include those vocabulary words which you plan to stress in the particular lesson. Refer to the activities included in the steps for suggestions or activities according to core areas. As you teach your unit indicate which activities are successful and which are not.

Column 3:

Resources: Specify the resource material or people. If a book is to be used, list the title, author, and publisher, and copyright date.

Column 4:

Experience Chart: Effective use of experience charts as a teaching tool and as a means of recording lessons is the key to successful unit teaching. The use made of experience charts in unit teaching is the same as in teaching reading at the primary level except that this serves a more general purpose throughout the teaching of a particular unit. An immediate response to the suggested reliance on experience charts with the mentally retarded is that the technique is most applicable at the primary level and that older pupils will find it too juvenile. This doesn't have to be the result. If the teacher places value on the technique and alters its use in terms of content and the exercises taught in using the tool with older students, they will accept it.

It is not desirable to write out the story in advance, then attempt to duplicate it exactly on the experience chart during the lesson. However, it is important that the teacher include in the lesson plans approximately what she hopes to end up with on the experience chart. It then becomes the responsibility of the teacher to stimulate discussion so that the children contribute a story which approximates the content planned by the teacher. Although experience charts do not determine the direction of the unit, they do assure continuity if appropriately used. In general, every lesson should be recorded on experience charts. This allows for frequent review and serves as a permanent record of the unit.

Commercially prepared tables are available or the teacher may assemble sheets of 24 x 30 lined newsprint. Regardless of which is used, the teacher will find the use of an easel of considerable assistance.

Suggestions for teaching lessons:

1. Teach the unit, but don't talk the unit. All too frequently units fail because the teacher persists in talking the unit to death and then wonders why the children were not interested.
2. Plan your unit and record the successes and failures of the activities.
3. Always have an alternate activity in mind which you can bring in at any time to change the activity.
4. Be prepared to switch the activity at a moment's notice.
5. Make the initial lesson motivating. Be an opportunist in capitalizing on experiences of the children.
6. Follow each lesson with meaningful seatwork or small group work that can be carried out with a minimum of direction from the teacher.

Summary: The lack of prepared curriculum materials developed for the mentally retarded places considerable responsibility on the teacher for the modification and preparation of teaching materials. This situation coupled with the background typical of children in special classes makes the utilization of well-designed units a reasonable approach to teaching retarded children. This does not mean that the teacher should necessarily organize the total instructional program around Life Experience Units. However, if the curriculum content is to be relevant to the needs of special class pupils, an instructional approach similar to unit teaching becomes almost mandatory for certain areas of the curriculum.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Many of the ideas reflected in the starter units included in this publication were contributed by the following persons while students at the University of Iowa. SECDC wishes to acknowledge the efforts of these individuals and express appreciation to them for their willingness to share part of the units which they developed.

I. SELECTION OF UNIT - SCHOOL ORIENTATION

The content of this unit is aimed at guiding the students toward a realistic understanding of what they can expect from the school environment and at the same time revealing what their contributions to the learning environment should be. This unit would, of course, be taught during the first few weeks of the school year and would serve as an opportunity for the teacher to become acquainted with the students and to observe how they function in the classroom situation.

III. GENERAL OBJECTIVES

- A. To help children become familiar with school
  - 1. The classroom environment
  - 2. The school building and playground facilities
  - 3. Types of activities, routines and schedules included in the school program

- B. To realize the values and responsibilities of friendship: to encourage the development of friendships among classmates and teachers
  - 1. Enjoy doing things with friends
  - 2. Being considerate of others' interests, feelings and belongings
  - 3. Finding solutions to disagreements among friends
  - 4. Sharing time and attention with more than one person
- C. To encourage the use of good manners in the classroom and on the playground
  - 1. Use of appropriate expressions such as "please," "thank you," "I'm sorry," "excuse me," etc.
  - 2. Taking turns and sharing in group activities
  - 3. Being considerate of others
  - 4. Being a good listener when others are talking
- D. To learn the need for safety rules and to practice them at school
  - 1. Walking in orderly fashion in the halls and on the stairs
  - 2. Being careful not to bump someone who is drinking at the water fountain
  - 3. Using caution with scissors, pencils, and other sharp objects in the classroom
  - 4. Learning fire drill procedures
  - 5. Using playground equipment correctly and carefully
  - 6. Crossing streets safely with the help of the school safety patrol
  - 7. Following safety rules on the school bus

- E. To develop the understanding that when people play and work together certain health rules need to be observed
  - 1. Using a handkerchief when coughing and sneezing
  - 2. Washing hands after going to the toilet and before eating
  - 3. Staying at home in bed when sick to prevent spreading germs
- F. To stress the importance of a neat, clean appearance at school
  - 1. Keeping hands, face, and body clean
  - 2. Keeping hair clean and combed
  - 3. Wearing clean clothes and keeping them neat
  - 4. Keeping the schoolroom neat by putting belongings in desks and lockers
- G. To help children understand the importance of developing good work habits
  - 1. Listening carefully, then following directions
  - 2. Finishing one job before starting on something else
  - 3. Not disturbing other people who are working
  - 4. Putting things away in the proper place
  - 5. Being responsible for assigned room duties
- H. To teach the proper use of school supplies
  - 1. Handling books carefully so as not to tear them
  - 2. Not wasting paste, paper, soap, paper towels, etc.
- I. To understand the jobs and duties of the people who work in the school

1. The school nurse who takes care of children that are sick
  2. The cooks who fix hot lunches
  3. The custodian who cleans and takes care of the building
  4. The bus driver who drives the school bus
  5. The principal who helps the teachers do their jobs
  6. The teacher's aids who watch the playground and help the teachers
  7. The secretary who takes the hot lunch money, runs off papers, and answers the telephone
- J. To learn appropriate activities for recess and free time
1. Learning group games to be played on the playground
  2. Developing simple skills such as throwing, catching, bouncing, skipping, etc.
  3. Becoming familiar with games, toys, and activities that may be played within the classroom on a rainy day or during free time
  4. Deciding which games and activities are most suitable for the time, place and size of the group
- K. To develop an awareness that parents, friends and neighbors are interested in the school and in the progress made by the students

IV. CORE AREA ACTIVITIES

A. Arithmetic Activities

1. Use calendar to show current date and to assign weekly room duties
2. Count number of children in the room; number of books, scissors, pencils needed; number of teachers in the building, etc.

3. Choose partners for walks, games, lining up
4. Adding and recording scores when playing games
5. Do simple problem solving in daily use of materials
6. Find page numbers in books
7. Use rulers and yardsticks to measure posters, charts, bookmarks
8. Discuss distances, relative positions, simple directions when taking tours of the school building and playground
9. Pay money for hot lunches, milk, school supplies, school insurance, etc.
10. Learn to tell time in relation to the school's daily schedule
11. Make comparisons - big, little, short, tall, near, far, many, few, etc.

B. Social Competency Activities

1. Discuss and demonstrate proper behavior patterns on the playground, in the classroom, when taking tours of the school building, etc.
2. Keep records of the times children use the phrases "please," "thank you" "excuse me," etc.
3. Read books about good manners and courtesy
4. Dramatize situations which show various interactions between friends
5. Make a mural about friends
6. Develop respect for other people's property
7. Teach group games to encourage sharing of materials and play equipment and fair play

C. Communicative Skills Activities

1. Learn vocabulary words - names of school personnel, objects in the classroom and on the playground, courtesy words, etc.
2. Form sentences to put on experience charts
3. Write labels for desks, tables, shelves, etc. in the classroom
4. Write safety and health rules on posters
5. Compose thank you letters
6. Read classmates' names from the helper chart and names on desks
7. Self-expression opportunities in dramatic play situations
8. Explain rules of games to others
9. Class discussions of activities, books, experiences
10. Listen to resource people who visit the class
11. Make simple maps of the school room, seating arrangements, school location

D. Safety Activities

1. Recognize stop and go signs
2. Make lists of safety rules to follow on the way to school, in the school bus
3. Demonstrate correct and safe ways to play on the playground equipment
4. Make posters on safety and put them in the hallways or by the drinking fountain
5. Practice proper fire drill procedures
6. Pick up pieces of glass, rocks, and sticks from the playground
7. Show how to use scissors and other sharp objects safely

8. Invite a school safety patrol representative and school bus driver to tell about safety rules.

E. Health Activities

1. Demonstrate proper way to wash hands and face
2. Brush teeth after lunch each day
3. Provide combs and hairbrushes for children to use at school
4. Dramatize correct use of a handkerchief; discuss staying home when sick
5. Prepare bulletin board display showing good grooming practices
6. Make check lists of things children can do to keep the classroom clean and neat
7. Visit the hot lunch kitchen to learn about the preparation of school lunches

F. Vocational Competency Activities

1. Have the custodian, cooks, bus drivers tell about their jobs
2. Assign weekly room duties and have children carry them out
3. Stress following directions in games, school work, classroom procedures, etc.
4. Discuss ways to be a good worker at school

V. RESOURCE MATERIAL

Experience chart - tablet, magic markers, pictures, easel

Bulletin boards

Flannel graph and figures

Pictures to illustrate concepts

Maps - simple ones showing room areas, seating, school location

Free and inexpensive materials - health and safety posters

Hand puppet

Scrapbooks

Old magazines

Games, puzzles, etc. for indoor recreation

Balls, bats, jump ropes, etc. for playground use

Games and activities file

Resource people

Field trips - tour of school facilities

Art materials

Tape recorder

VII. LESSON PLANS

Sample lesson plans for ten lessons are included in this starter unit. These lessons do not attempt to cover the entire unit topic but rather should serve as a guide for the teacher.

The first three lessons show how the unit may be introduced and are all lettered A. These plans deal with the first general objective of the unit, A. To help children become familiar with school. These three lessons have not encompassed completely this first objective, however.

The next three lessons deal with the second general objective, B. To realize the values and responsibilities of friendship. These plans, again, do not cover the objective in its entirety.

The seventh general objective, G. To help children understand the importance of good work habits, is developed in the next two lessons, both of which are lettered G.

The last two plans are lettered K and are concerned with the final objective of the unit, K. To develop an awareness that parents, friends and neighbors are interested in the school and in the progress made by the students. These lessons would then be followed by a culminating activity.

to encourage the development of friendships among classmates and teachers. 1. Enjoying doing things with friends	my friend?" 2. Discuss why we like our friends, what makes them good friends, what we enjoy doing with our friends, etc. 3. Read book: A Friend Is Someone Who Likes You. 4. Write experience chart. Read orally. 5. Seatwork: Make a mural about friends. Have children depict scenes showing ways friends have fun together at school, at home, on the school bus, in the neighborhood, etc. Entitle mural, Friends Have Fun Together. 6. Vocabulary: friend, fun, together.	Book: A Friend Is Someone Who Likes You; Joan Walsh Anglund: Harcourt, Brace and World, Inc.: N.Y.; 1958. Chart paper Kraft paper Tempera paints Brushes	Friends A friend is somebody who you like. B. To realize the values and responsibilities of friendship (cont'd.) 2. Being considerate of others' feelings, and belongings	1. Before class time, record on the tape recorder several story situations, stressing consideration of others' feelings, belongings, interests. For example: "Jimmy's birthday was on Saturday. He got a very special birthday present - a yellow dump truck just like he's wanted for a long time. On Monday he brought the truck to school in Sharing Time. During the day some boys were playing with it and it got broken." 2. Play recording for children, then discuss the story by asking such questions as: "How do you think Jimmy feels?" "How do you think the truck got broken?" "How do the other boys feel?" "What should Jimmy do?" Etc.	Tape recorder	(Picture of children who are friends) Being a Good Friend We don't want to hurt other people's feelings. One way to make people feel good is to do the things they like to do. We should be careful with things which belong to other people.

	3. Through discussion bring out that we must ask permission before playing with someone else's things; that someone's own belongings should be handled with care; personal belongings should be kept in a safe place at school; but even when children are careful accidents may happen. Discuss the children's feelings and why Jimmy may be hurt, etc. 4. Read books: Love Is A Special Way of Feeling and I Need All the Friends I Can Get. 5. Write experience chart. Read orally. 6. Seatwork: Worksheet with two columns. Headings - School Things and Things That Are Mine. Have children draw pictures of five things that belong to the school, and five things that belong to them. 7. Vocabulary: feelings, belong, hurt.	Books: Love Is a Special Way of Feeling, Joan Walsh Anglund: Harcourt, Brace, and World, Inc.: N.Y.; 1960. I Need All the Friends I Can Get, Charles M. B. To realize the values and responsibilities of friendship (cont'd.) 3. Finding solutions to disagreements among friends	1. Review previous lessons by reading experience charts, Friends and Being a Good Friend. Discuss that even among very close friends disagreements or arguments will probably arise. Talk about how such arguments can be settled, e.g., try to stop feeling angry; say "I'm sorry"; both agree to follow the rules or share or take turns; both give in a little; if necessary stay away from each other for awhile, etc. 2. Dramatize situations in which children	Experience charts

	show how they might settle their problems. For example, "Susie and Janie were playing jump rope at recess. Susie says Janie missed a jump, but Janie says she didn't." 3. Read book: Let's Be Enemies. 4. Write experience chart. Read orally. 5. Seatwork: Draw "before" and "after" pictures. Show in first picture how people look when they're having an argument; in second picture, how they look when they've settled their problem. Have children tell about pictures. 6. Vocabulary: argument, fight, problem, enemy.	Book: Let's Be Enemies; Janice Udry; Harper and Row: N.Y.; 1961. Chart paper Newsprint Crayons	(Picture of children arguing) Fights Sometimes friends have fights or arguments. We should do what we can to try to feel happy again.
G. To help children understand the importance of developing good work habits. 1. Listening carefully, then following directions	1. Direct attention to bulletin board used in a previous discussion of the school schedule. Bring out that throughout the day children need to be willing workers so that everyone in the room can be happy and can learn. For example, when school starts each day, children with room duties should do them without being reminded. When it's work time children should listen very carefully so they'll know how to do their work. During work time children must finish their school work before they look at library books or put together a puzzle, etc.	Bulletin board: large clock face showing appropriate times. 2. Finishing one job before starting on something else 3. Not disturbing other people who are working 4. Putting things away in the proper place 5. Being responsible for assigned room duties	They must be quiet so other children will be able to work. At recess and lunch time, etc. everything should be put away before they leave the room. Discuss what will happen if someone is not a good worker anytime during the day. 2. Write experience chart. Read orally. 3. Seatwork: Worksheet on time. Draw clock faces and write sentences corresponding to those on the bulletin board. Children are to draw hands on clock to show correct times. Refer to bulletin board as needed. 4. Vocabulary: listen, directions, time, quiet, worker, bother	"This is recess time" "This is lunch time." "This is the time we go home." Chart paper Ditto worksheets	Our pencils and books and things should be put away before we go outside for recess. We do our room duties without being told. If we are good workers, it makes everyone happy.
G. To develop good work habits (Cont'd.)	1. Review previous lesson by reading experience chart, We Are Good Workers. 2. Show filmstrip, "Working Together." Discuss what parts of the filmstrip apply particularly to problems in our classroom. 3. Recognize children who display good work habits throughout the school day by putting their names on the "Good Workers" bulletin board. Capitalize on situations which arise in the	Experience chart Projector Filmstrip: "Working Together" Bulletin board: Caption: Good Workers Oaktag name cards Cartoon sketches showing a good	(Sketch of "GOOD WORKERS" bulletin board) Let's Be Good Workers If we are good workers we get our name on the Good Worker Board.

K. To develop an awareness that parents, friends and neighbors are interested in the school and in the progress made by the students	1. In discussion bring out that some parents have not seen our school; perhaps our friends or neighbors have not seen our school either. Suggest making a scrapbook about our school that we can show to people. Plan what to include - pictures of the school building, our classroom, our teacher, our best friend at school, the playground, etc. 2. Write experience chart. Read orally. 3. ## I. SELECTION OF UNIT - CLOTHING

Personal appearance and care of one's property are areas of concern in working with the educable mentally retarded. Many such children come from home backgrounds which offer little encouragement in the selection or care of clothing. The unit topic also provides an opportunity to initiate the teaching of many social competencies. The development of these competencies will eventually contribute to the retarded's acceptance in the social world.

II. SUB-UNITS

- A. Health Habits
- B. Our School
- C. Home and Family
- D. Seasonal Changes
- E. Plants and Animals
- F. Our Community
- G. Keeping Neat and Clean
- H. Safety

III. GENERAL OBJECTIVES

- A. To understand the function of clothing
  - 1. To provide warmth
  - 2. To provide protection

3. To contribute to an attractive appearance
- B. To develop a sense of appropriate clothing for various occasions
    1. For school
    2. For everyday wear
    3. For special dress-up occasions
  - C. To learn about some kinds of materials that clothes are made of
    1. Wool
    2. Cotton
  - D. To develop an understanding of seasonal changes and the subsequent need for different kinds of clothing
  - E. To develop an understanding of how clothing is acquired
    1. Used clothing
      - a. Hand-me-downs from relatives and friends
      - b. From organizations such as Salvation Army or Goodwill Industries
      - c. Rummage sales
    2. New clothing
      - a. Home-sewn items
      - b. Purchased at stores
  - F. To stress the importance of good grooming, cleanliness and the proper care of clothing
  - G. To become aware of safety factors in regard to clothing

1. Reason for wearing light colored clothing at night
2. Importance of proper fitting clothes and shoes

IV. CORE AREA ACTIVITIES

A. Arithmetic Activities

1. Count to find the number of appropriate clothing items in a mail order catalog
2. Learn to tell time in relation to school time, after school
3. Read thermometer and record daily temperature
4. Dramatize buying clothes at a store; at a rummage sale; at a Salvation Army store
5. Compare differences in costs of buying used clothing and new clothing
6. Recognize coins needed to operate machines at laundromat
7. Read size numbers on various articles of clothing
8. Make comparisons - big, little, short, tall, many, few, etc.
9. Read price tags on new items of clothing

B. Social Competency Activities

1. Dramatize going to parties, church, etc. and wearing dressy clothes
2. Get information about Salvation Army distribution procedures for used clothing
3. Discuss and demonstrate proper behavior patterns when shopping, at a laundromat, etc.
4. List the things that contribute to an attractive appearance
5. Make scrapbooks showing appropriate clothing for different occasions

6. Try on used clothing; decide if it fits properly; if it needs any repairs, etc.

C. Communicative Skills Activities

1. Compose stories to write on experience charts

2. Classify items of clothing in terms of things to wear to school, things to wear for everyday, things to wear for good

3. Label different kinds of materials

4. Use vocabulary words in word games and on worksheets

5. Make a bulletin board about appropriate clothes for different seasons

D. Safety Activities

1. Discuss how clothing protects the body

2. Make pictures and posters showing clothing safety rules to follow

3. Demonstrate safety hazards of clothes or shoes that are too big, hems that are ripped out in skirts, loose dangling belts, etc.

4. Discuss and practice safe conduct while around washing machines, dryers, dry cleaning machines

E. Health Activities

1. Try on articles of clothing made of different materials to see how warm they are

2. Show pictures of various seasons with people dressed accordingly

3. Write stories about why we need to wear different clothing during different seasons

4. Prepare bulletin board display showing good grooming practices

5. Demonstrate proper use of napkins, tissues, etc., to help keep clothes clean
6. Make check lists of things children can do to take good care of their clothes
7. Wash articles of clothing by hand, in a washing machine, at a laundromat
8. Watch the teacher make simple repairs on children's clothing

F. Vocational Competency Activities

1. Stress following directions in unit activities, school work, etc.
2. Encourage good work habits, assume responsibility for clean-up after activities, etc.

V. RESOURCE MATERIAL

Experience Chart - tablet, magic markers, pictures, easel

Bulletin Boards

Samples of cotton, wool, nylon material

Box of used children's clothing

Pictures for bulletin boards, charts, etc.

Old catalogs and magazines

Storybooks, poems, songs

Art materials

Washing powders, bleach

Needle, thread, buttons, snaps, etc.

Field trip - to a clothing store, Salvation Army store, a laundromat

Camera and film

VII. LESSON PLANS

Sample lesson plans for ten lessons are included in this starter unit. These lessons do not attempt to cover the entire unit topic but rather should serve as a guide for the teacher.

Lessons A and B suggest how the unit may be introduced and cover the first general objective of the unit, A. To understand the function of clothing, and part of the second objective, B. To develop a sense of appropriate clothing for various occasions.

Lesson C deals with the third general objective, C. To learn about some kinds of materials that clothes are made of.

The next six lessons are all lettered E and are concerned with teaching the fifth objective, E. To develop an understanding of how clothing is acquired.

Part of the final general objective, G. To become aware of safety factors in regard to clothing, is developed in the last lesson plan.

A. To understand the function of clothing 1. To provide warmth 2. To provide protection 3. To contribute to an attractive appearance	1. Introduce unit by reading following poem: The Reason Rabbits and squirrels Are furry and fat, And all of the chickens Have feathers, and that Is why when it's raining They need not stay in The way children do who have Only their skin. 2. Discuss that animals and birds have fur or feathers to keep them warm but since people don't have fur, they need to wear clothes. 3. Introduce dolls, Jim and Judy. Call attention to their clothes; write the word clothes on the chalkboard; elicit definition of the word - clothing is what we wear. Ask children to name all the articles of clothing they can think of; write on board. 4. Ask why we need to wear clothes; stress that clothes help keep our bodies from getting all scratched up, since we don't have pretty feathers like a red bird or peacock we can wear clothes to help us look pretty. 5. Write experience chart. Read orally. 6. Seatwork: Worksheet - pictures of various articles of clothing and other objects such as pencils, fruit, books,	Poem from book: All Together by Dorothy Aldis, G. P. Putnam's Sons, New York, 1952. Judy and Jim - teen-age dolls dressed in clothes appropriate for school wear. Chalkboard Chart paper Ditto worksheets	(Pictures of articles of clothing) Clothes Clothes help keep us warm. Clothes help keep us from getting all scratched up. Clothes help us look pretty.

	etc. Children are to mark all the pictures of clothes. 7. Vocabulary: clothes, clothing, wear, warm.
B. To develop a sense of appropriate clothing for various occasions.	1. Reintroduce dolls. Ask children if they can tell where Jim and Judy are going by looking at the clothes they are wearing. Discuss what kinds of clothes you should wear to school; list on chalkboard. 2. Read "How About Your Clothes?" pp. 108-109 in Growing Every Day. 3. Write experience chart. Read orally. 4. Seatwork: Begin to make clothing classification cards--have children find pictures of clothing that is appropriate for school wear. Paste onto 4"x6" pieces of paper; write names of articles of clothing on each card. (In following lessons make cards showing play clothes and dressy, good clothes. Put all cards together; have children play a clothing game, picking out the clothes they would wear if they're going to a movie, to a friend's house to play ball, etc.) 5. Vocabulary: dress, skirt, blouse, sweater, coat, slacks, jeans, shirt, sweatshirt, shoes, socks.	Teen-age dolls dressed in school clothes. Chalkboard Growing Every Day, by L. E. How clothing is acquired (cont'd) 1. Used clothing b. From organizations such as Salvation Army or Goodwill Industries	1. Review previous lesson by rereading experience chart, Hand-Me-Down Clothes. 2. Discuss that sometimes we can get used clothing (define) at a Salvation Army store or Goodwill Industries store. Discuss where closest store is, how to get there, show snap shot picture of the store. Let children who have been to these stores relate their experiences. 3. Bring out that you have to pay for clothing at these stores but that it doesn't cost as much as new clothing bought at a clothing store. 4. Tell children how the Salvation Army or Goodwill gets this clothing - people put used clothing in the big deposit boxes at shopping centers, etc. Workers from the organization pick up everything, sort it, clean or wash the clothing and make any needed repairs. Then it's ready to be sold. 5. Stress that these stores are a good place to buy used clothing because everything has been washed and repaired and the cost is very reasonable.	Experience chart Camera, film Developed picture	(Snapshot of Salvation Army or Goodwill Store) The Salvation Army or Goodwill Store We can buy good used clothed clothes at the Salvation Army Store. This is a good place to buy clothes because everything is clean and fixed. Clothes don't cost very much at this store.

E. How clothing is acquired (cont'd.) 1. Used clothing c. Rummage Sales	1. For review, begin bulletin board display. On one area of the board, under title, Used Clothing, put up two previous experience charts. Read and discuss. 2. Discuss that we can also buy used clothing at rummage sales. These are sales held by church groups or ladies clubs; we can look in newspapers or listen to the radio to find out when and where these sales will be held. 3. Stress that our mothers may have to wash and fix some of these clothes and sometimes it is hard to find clothes that are the right size. 4. Dramatize going to a rummage sale and buying clothes. 5. Write experience chart. Read and put up on bulletin board.	Large bulletin board area-caption: How We Get Our Clothes Experience chart Camera, film Developed picture Chart paper	(Snap shot of a rummage sale in progress) Rummage Sale We can buy used clothing at rummage sales. Our mothers may have to wash and fix some of this clothing. Sometimes it's hard to find the right sizes.

Point out that we had been talking about getting clothes that were used; now we'll discuss where we get new clothing. 2. Discuss that some of our mothers can sew new clothes for us. Dramatize going to the store to buy material and a pattern, cutting out and sewing the garment, pressing it, trying it on. 3. Stress that this is a good way to get new clothes; that it is cheaper than buying ready-made clothes. 4. Write experience chart. Read orally. 5. ## I. SELECTION OF UNIT - GROOMING

The development of good grooming habits is important for educable mentally retarded adolescents, for a well-groomed appearance contributes to social acceptability and a feeling of self-confidence. Since good grooming practices are often not emphasized in the homes of many educable mentally retarded children, this topic is very relevant to the curriculum. In contrast to some unit topics which are more opportunely taught at one specific age level this particular topic should be stressed at all age levels. Teachers will find numerous opportunities for the incidental teaching of good grooming practices in addition to the time spent in teaching a unit specifically dealing with good grooming.

III. GENERAL OBJECTIVES

- A. To develop the realization of why good grooming is socially and vocationally necessary
- B. To develop good personal grooming practices

1. Body cleanliness
  2. Proper skin care
  3. Hair styling and care
  4. Care of teeth
  5. Nail care
- C. To learn about proper care and selection of clothing
1. Keeping clothes clean
  2. Proper care of clothing
  3. Selection of appropriate clothing
  4. Selection of attractive styles, color combinations and accessories
- D. To recognize that health habits affect personal appearance
1. Diet
  2. Rest
  3. Exercise
  4. Weight and Height
  5. Posture
  6. Disposition
- E. To learn to use cosmetics and sundries correctly
- F. To develop the realization that behavior is indirectly affected by good grooming

IV. CORE AREA ACTIVITIES

A. Arithmetic Activities

1. Read figures on shampoo bottles to determine which contains the most shampoo
2. Compare costs of different kinds of clothing
3. Figure costs of cosmetics and grooming aids used
4. Measure to find height, weight, clothes sizes
5. Determine costs of dry cleaning, using the laundromat, shoe repair, etc.
6. Discuss weekly shampoos, daily baths, daily teeth brushing, yearly dental examinations
7. Compare the cost of home permanent and professional permanents; home haircuts and those in barbershops
8. Buy items to put in a mending kit and a shoeshine kit

B. Social Competency Activities

1. Look in a mirror and evaluate own personal appearance
2. Discuss impressions and attitudes toward people who are not well-groomed
3. Have a beautician, a cosmetics sales lady and a barber discuss and demonstrate appropriate teen-age hair styles, cosmetics, and grooming practices
4. Arrange a style show of becoming fashions for young people
5. Make a wheel chart showing items necessary for good grooming
6. Demonstrate proper ways to store clothing; mend or repair clothing; press or iron clothing
7. Make a shoeshine kit; a mending kit
8. Read the school's regulations concerning appropriate apparel; discuss reasons for such regulations

9. Dramatize how people feel and act when they are not well-groomed; compare with when they are well-groomed
10. Make bulletin board display of advertisements for grooming products; critically evaluate information and impressions given
11. Show examples of fads, extreme fashions and hair styles, etc.

C. Communications Skills Activities

1. Find information in health books using table of contents and index
2. Write letters requesting free materials and samples
3. Make check lists of grooming products, good grooming practices, appropriate clothing, health rules, etc.
4. Read and listen to advertisements for grooming products
5. Use telephone to schedule an appointment at a beauty shop
6. Read labels and directions for shampoos, deodorants, hair creams, home permanents, skin preparations, etc.
7. Listen to and summarize talks of resource people

D. Safety Activities

1. Demonstrate safety precautions to observe when using deodorants, skin preparations, razors, etc.
2. Make posters showing safety rules to follow in the bathtub and shower

3. Dramatize importance of keeping hair out of the eyes; eye glasses clean; clothing in good repair, etc.
4. Tape record a student interview with a doctor about the dangers of diet pills, crash diets, etc.

E. Health Activities

1. List leisure time activities that provide good exercise
2. Use shadow pictures on the overhead projector to illustrate examples of good and poor posture
3. Observe experimental rats; note differences in appearance due to different diets
4. Write experience charts about increased need for good grooming practices as puberty is reached
5. Get information from doctors about diets for adolescents who are over-weight
6. Tape record interviews with students concerning lack of sleep, adequate rest; how they act and feel when tired, how they look, etc. Use interviews in dramatized TV commercials promoting a product called Rest.
7. Prepare a bulletin board showing pictures of people who are worried, angry, happy, silly, etc.; write sentences telling how the person's disposition affects their appearance
8. Discuss importance of not using someone else's combs, brushes, lipsticks, etc.
9. Demonstrate and practice filing nails, brushing teeth, washing clothes, etc.
10. View movies about good health habits

F. Vocational Competency Activities

1. Dramatize situations where both well-groomed and poorly-groomed individuals apply for a job
2. Find pictures of appropriate dress for various kinds of jobs
3. Dramatize jobs which students might apply for, such as a paper route, mowing lawns, shoveling walks, babysitting, light house cleaning, shoe shining, running errands

V. RESOURCE MATERIALS

Resource speakers - beautician, barber, cosmetics sales representative, doctor, home economics teacher

Clothing from department store for style show

Shampoo, deodorants, soap, cosmetics, grooming aids, etc.

Full-length mirror

Bulletin boards

Experience charts

Pictures for bulletin boards, charts, etc.

Old catalogs and magazines

Art materials

Materials for mending kits, shoe shine kits

Advertisements for grooming products

Free and inexpensive pamphlets and materials

Newspapers, telephone directory

Iron, ironing board

Health books, trade books

Tape recorder

Overhead projector

Films and filmstrips

Experimental rats

Teen-age magazines such as American Girl, Boy's Life, Young Miss, etc.

VII. LESSON PLANS

Sample lesson plans for ten lessons are included in this starter unit. These lessons do not attempt to cover the entire unit topic but rather should serve as a guide for the teacher.

The first lesson suggests how the unit may be introduced and covers the first general objective,

A. To develop the realization of why good grooming is socially and vocationally necessary.

The next six lessons are all lettered B and are concerned with teaching the objectives, B. To develop good personal grooming practices. The assumption is made that students have received instruction in sex education prior to the lesson dealing with grooming practices necessary as puberty is reached. These six lesson plans do not encompass the entire objective.

The last three lessons deal with the fourth general objective, D. To recognize that health habits affect personal appearance. These plans, again, do not cover the objective in its entirety.

A. To develop the realization of why good grooming is socially and vocationally necessary	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Introduce unit with discussion of bulletin board; ask if it matters how you look when you go downtown shopping, when you come to school, when you meet someone for the first time, when you apply for a job, etc.</li> <li>2. Play a tape recording of the material on p. 152 and the first column on p. 153 in Choosing Your Goals. This discusses first impressions and the importance of caring enough about yourself to want to present an attractive appearance.</li> <li>3. Dramatize situations in which the students apply for a job. Have some students appear well-groomed while others are sloppy and messy looking. Possible job situations: paper routes, mowing lawns, shoveling sidewalks, shoe shining, babysitting, light house cleaning, running errands</li> <li>4. Hold a panel discussion with four or five students and the teacher as moderator. Guide discussion by asking what someone sees or looks for when meeting a person for the first time; the students' impressions and attitudes toward people who are not well-groomed; what an employer thinks when he views the personal appearance of an applicant.</li> <li>5. Put up on bulletin board and attach one of the soap wrappers. Indicate the soap figure's speech by writing on poster paper, "Baby, do you need me!"; fasten on bulletin board. Put up the next two pictures and two more wrapper figures; discuss the obvious need for a bath when doing an activity which makes us very dirty. 2. Display last picture and show the soap figure saying, "Baby, you need me, too." Discuss that we cannot always see dirt on our bodies but that it may still be there; that just moving about and doing everyday activities such as going to school exposes us to dirt that is in the air, etc. 3. Have students look at their arms or hands; choose a place which looks clean; rub the skin with a cotton ball dampened with rubbing alcohol. Notice the dirt on the cotton. 4. Discuss that we need to take a bath or shower every day to wash off this dirt and also wash off sweat or perspiration. Talk about the function of sweat glands - moisture comes out on the skin and dries or evaporates. This helps our body keep cool.	Bulletin board Pictures from magazines showing: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. a baseball player sliding into home plate</li> <li>2. a teen-ager working on a hot rod</li> <li>3. a girl working in a garden</li> <li>4. students coming out of a school building</li> </ol> Four empty bath soap wrappers with faces drawn with magic markers and pipe cleaner legs and arms Poster paper Rubbing alcohol and cotton balls	Don't Be a Square! Keep Clean Dirt can be on our skin even though we may not be able to see it. Our sweat glands help us to keep cool. But if sweat isn't washed off it will collect germs and make a bad odor. We need a bath or shower every day. Use plenty of soap. Just getting wet isn't enough! A daily bath is one of the most important grooming rules.

OBJECTIVES	ACTIVITIES	RESOURCE MATERIALS	EXPERIENCE CHART
	We sweat most under our arms. Sweat or perspiration does not have an odor itself but when it comes in touch with germs on the skin it can smell very bad. 5. Stress again, the importance of taking a bath every day; keeping our bodies clean is one of the most important good grooming rules for it makes us look neat and nice and helps prevent unpleasant body odors. 6. Write experience chart and read orally 7. Seatwork: Have students draw a series of pictures showing their activities during the past week where they would need "Soapy" - the bar of soap. Review previous lesson on daily bathing by re-read experience chart, Don't Be a Square! Keep Clean. Discuss that even when we take a bath or shower every day we need to use a deodorant under our arms to help prevent the sweat from smelling bad. 2. Display different brands and kinds of deodorants and anti-perspirants. Explain that a deodorant stops odor and anti-perspirant helps stop perspiration or sweating. Sometimes the two are combined in one product.	Experience chart Samples of several brands of deodorants and anti-perspirants. use of deodorants and anti-perspirants	Look at the labels to find out what each product is. Point out that anti-perspirants are usually in the cream or roll-on form and that the sprays are usually just deodorants. 3. Discuss putting on deodorants after taking a bath every morning before coming to school, before going somewhere like a movie or shopping, etc. Stress that it is important to be clean before putting on deodorant, however. The products won't cover up an odor that is already there. 4. Display ads for deodorant soaps such as Dial or Palmolive. Discuss that while these can help to stop odor they are not enough - a deodorant is needed, also. 5. Point out that while one brand of deodorant seems to work well for one person, someone else may not like that brand at all. Let students use the products each day when they come to school until they find one which they feel works best for them. 6. Write experience chart 7. Seatwork: Fill in a chart listing brand of product, type (spray, roll-on, etc.), kind (deodorant or anti-perspirant or both), and cost. Refer to samples of products 8. We have to be clean in the first place, though. Perspiration under our arms can smell very bad. This can bother the people who have to be around us. This is why it is important to use a deodorant every day.

B. Good personal grooming practices (Cont'd.)	1. Review previous lesson on daily use of deodorants by re-reading and discussing experience chart, Deodorants and Anti-Perspirants	Experience chart	Read the Directions First
1b. Deodorants and anti-perspirants (Cont'd)	2. Point out that there are certain cautions and directions to follow when using these products. Directions are always printed on the box, bottle or jar, etc. Examine samples and read the labels. Discuss what the directions mean and why we need to read them. For example, the label on a can of Right Guard spray states, "Hold can about 6 inches from underarm. Spray 2 seconds. Never spray toward face or open flame. Keep from extreme cold or heat. Do not puncture can or incinerate."	Samples of deodorants and anti-perspirants	Directions are always printed on the label or the box that the deodorant comes in. The directions usually tell: 1)How to put on or apply 2)How much to use 3)Cautions to follow
(1) Directions for use	3. On a student, measure 6 inches with a tape measure; time 2 seconds with the second hand on the clock.	Tape measure
	4. Discuss not spraying too long and wasting the deodorant, etc. Talk about the precautions to follow - breathing in the spray could hurt you; spraying into an open flame like a cigarette lighter could cause an explosion; letting the can freeze or putting it in a window in the direct sunlight in the summertime might make it explode. Define the word "incinerate"; suggest putting empty cans with the garbage for the garbage men to pick up, or putting with old tin cans to be taken to the dump. Stress always reading directions before using any product.	Clock	We should always read the directions before we use any product. If we don't follow the directions the product may not work as it should. We might waste some by using too much. The directions also tell us how to use the product safely.

(2) Advertisements

1. Assign students to look through magazines and cut out advertisements for deodorants. Display on bulletin board. Also have students note commercials on TV and relate the situations portrayed.
2. Discuss that the companies that make deodorants and other products advertise in magazines and on TV so they'll be able to sell more of their products. Advertising can help us by making us aware of useful products that we can buy. But, advertising can be rather bad if we aren't a little critical of what we see and hear.
3. Point out the ads for Secret that insinuate that using this deodorant is all that's needed to gain popularity. Discuss what makes people popular - their happy personality, a friendly and helpful attitude, well-groomed appearance (which does not necessarily mean being a beauty queen), etc. Discuss that a strong perspiration odor does not make you pleasant to be near, but it takes a lot more than just using a deodorant to make you popular.
4. Look at an ad which uses sex appeal, such as one for 007 products that states, "Now, dare to give him what he really wants - 007, the bold new grooming aids that make any man dangerous." Say that many ads and commercials show sexy girls in low-cut or tight dresses because they think this will get people to buy more deodorant and other products. Stress that a deodorant alone will

Ads that suggest the products guarantee popularity and happiness

Ads that emphasize sex

Ads and Commercials

Advertising can help us by telling us about products and how to use them.

Just using a certain brand won't make us more popular or happy, though. Some ads suggest this.

Some ads show sexy girls to try to sell more deodorant.

The brand of deodorant that is advertised the most is not necessarily the best kind.

We need to think for ourselves and not believe everything the ads say.

- not make a person sexy. Find several examples of such ads and guide students in evaluating them.
5. On bulletin board showing ads found in magazines, count the number of ads found for the same brand. Have students keep a record of the brands of deodorants advertised on TV in one evening or for two or three days. Discuss that the brands which are most highly advertised are not necessarily the best brand. For example, various sprays are advertised the most but these are the most expensive. Some creams and roll-ons might be better for students to use for they are cheaper and they often are anti-perspirants as well as deodorants - this might be quite important for teen-agers who are active and growing.
6. Stress again that one single product will not completely change us or our lives. Ads are helpful by telling us about products, but they want to sell as many bottles of deodorant as possible. Suggest that as the students are growing up, they're able to begin thinking for themselves and deciding what is best for them. This will mean buying a deodorant that works for them and is not real expensive. The way to make this decision is by trying different brands, figuring and comparing prices, and by being aware that ads and commercials are trying to sell as much deodorant as possible.
7. Write experience chart

B. To develop good personal grooming practices (Cont'd.)  2. Proper skin care  a. Cleanliness  b. Skin products	1. Introduce topic of proper skin care by showing film, "Care of the Skin," and by reading pp. 147-150 in Understanding Your Needs  2. Demonstrate correct way to wash face and hands; stress importance of establishing a daily routine for washing face twice a day, keeping hands clean by repeated washing throughout the day  3. Discuss that each person should have his own towel and washcloth; these should be washed once a week (or more often in the summer when they may become sour smelling).  4. Look in mail order catalogs for the prices of towel racks; discuss and show how these can be put up on the bathroom or kitchen wall to provide extra drying space  5. Display various brands of bath soap, bath oils and bubble bath, hand creams, chapsticks, face creams, body lotions, etc. Compare prices of the different products; bring out that soaps like Ivory or Lava are less expensive than Dial, Zest, or Phase III; that plain baby oil can be used in the bath	Film, Care of the Skin , U-2944; Audio-visual Center, Division of Extension and University Services. Have students read the directions on the labels and discuss importance of following these directions carefully. These products can be bought at most supermarkets or in drug stores. Emphasize going to the doctor with severe cases of acne. 3. Discuss that as we grow older our body begins to change in several ways. The oil glands in the skin sometimes produce too much oil which contributes to acne and can make our hair oily. The sweat glands sometimes seem to work over-time and we can perspire quite a bit. Hair begins to grow under arms, on legs; boys may be getting beards. Take pictures of the rats periodically; date and correlate with the records of food given to the animals 2. Compare the appearance and actions of the two rats and discuss why there is such a difference. Then begin to feed both animals a proper diet and record the changes that take place 3. - G. To learn basic safety rules to be observed on public transportation
- H. To be aware of appropriate social conduct in public places
- I. To develop respect for public property
- J. To understand the importance of eating balanced meals when traveling
- K. To develop skill in asking for directions and help courteously

A. Arithmetic Activities

1. Figure out distances between cities by computing mileage from a road map
2. Compare differences in mileage between various points of interest
3. Use a calendar to determine the dates for going on a trip
4. Figure out how much a vacation will cost -- gas, bus fare, food, motel, admission charges, etc.
5. Determine how long it will take to get to the place of destination
6. Read a car speedometer
7. Read highway numbers
8. Read time charts in bus and train schedules
9. Dramatize paying for train tickets, food in a restaurant, admission tickets, etc.

B. Social Competency Activities

1. Dramatize the correct way to act in public restrooms, restaurants, bus depots, etc.
2. Show pictures of littered and defaced scenic areas, vacation spots, etc.; discuss how they look
3. Practice asking directions to a motel, to the right highway, to a scenic area, to public restrooms, etc.

4. Discuss the importance of keeping close track of billfolds and purses; locking car doors, etc.
5. Make a mural showing people who can help us when we're traveling
6. Take a field trip to a bus depot, a train station

C. Communicative Skills Activities

1. Read names of towns, states, landmarks, etc. on maps
2. Make lists of things to pack in a suitcase when taking a trip
3. Read menus in restaurants and drive-ins
4. Read signs and instructions in public restrooms, bus depots, motels, elevators, etc.
5. Write letters asking for information about vacation spots
6. Read street signs, traffic signs, highway markers, etc.
7. Look at travel folders, ads in magazines and newspapers, pictures of vacation areas, etc.
8. Make lists of things to consider when planning a trip, e.g., available time, amount of money available for a vacation, family situations, etc.
9. Listen as someone gives directions for getting to a certain place; practice following directions
10. Write experience charts. Copy and keep in notebooks

D. Safety Activities

1. Discuss hazards of driving too long without adequate sleep
2. Make lists of safety rules to follow when riding on a bus or train

3. Dramatize appropriate behavior when riding in a car
4. Make pictures and posters of safety rules to follow at vacation areas, e.g., being careful when near rivers or lakes, being on the look-out for poison ivy, keeping fingers clear of elevator doors, etc.
5. Show safety posters about fastening seatbelts in the car

E. Health Activities

1. Develop bulletin board displays showing appropriate clothing for different kinds of vacations
2. Make charts about proper food to eat when traveling
3. Discuss car sickness and what can be done about it
4. List cleanliness rules to follow when away from home
5. Dramatize proper manners when eating in a public restaurant

F. Vocational Competency Activities

1. Discuss the jobs of some people who help us when we're traveling, such as the filling station attendant, cleaning maid, waitress, bus boy, and janitors, etc.
2. Stress being honest and responsible when away from home

V. RESOURCE MATERIAL

Experience Chart - tablet, magic markers, pictures, easel

VII. LESSON PLANS

Sample lesson plans for ten lessons are included in this starter unit. These lessons do not attempt to cover the entire unit topic but rather should serve as a guide for the teacher.

The first lesson suggests how the unit may be introduced and covers the first general objective of the unit, A. To become aware of the many places of interest to be visited within the state of Iowa.

The next four lessons are all lettered C and deal with the third general objective, C. To develop skill in reading a road map. It is assumed that the students will have had previous experiences in working with maps at the primary age level and will be familiar with the following concepts and skills: (1) a map represents an area, (2) map symbols represent physical things within an area, (3) direction notations on a map, and (4) understanding of the scale of a map.

At the secondary level it is assumed that map skills which will be developed will include (1) location of places on a map by use of a grid system, (2) population figure charts, (3) reading city maps, (4) various time zones in the United States.

The general objective, D. To appreciate the value of planning a trip in advance is developed in the next two lessons.

The last three plans are concerned with the final objective, K. To develop skill in asking for directions and help courteously and with the culmination of the unit.

or cities that are rather far apart, such as Des Moines and Mason City. Suggest that there is a faster and easier way than adding up all the mileage figures -- draw attention to the Distance Table on the back of the Iowa Road Map. Using the opaque projector, show students how to use the table: Find the name of the first city you want, Des Moines, at the top of the chart. Put a piece of paper along the row of numbers that go down under this name. Now find the name of the other city, Mason City, at the top of the chart. Put a second piece of paper under the numbers that go across the chart from the name, Mason City. The number in the box where the papers meet tells how many miles it is between Des Moines and Mason City.

3. Give students opportunities to use the Table. If their home town is not listed in the Table, find the nearest city that is, figure mileage to that city, add this to the mileage figures in the Table, etc.

4. Write experience chart. Read orally

5. Seatwork: Worksheet exercises using the Distance Table and the road map. Examples of questions: How many miles is it from Cedar Rapids to Dubuque? _____ Which would be the longest trip, from Boone to Charles City or from Ames to Manly? _____ How far is it from Ames to Manly? _____ If you were flying in an airplane, how many miles would you travel from Fort Dodge to Mason City? _____ If you went in a car how many miles would you go on a trip from Fort Dodge to Mason City? _____ Etc.

D. To appreciate the value of planning a trip in advance.	1. Display a large box which has been covered with a road map, parts of travel folders, etc. Use cut out letters to form question on box: Are You Ready to Go On a Trip? In box put travel folders, ads from newspapers, etc. which advertise vacation areas. On each folder type or print one question: How much money will you need to take on your trip? When will you go on your trip? How long will you stay when you're on vacation? Where will you go on a trip? What clothes will you take on a trip? How will you travel? Where will you sleep when you're on a vacation? Where will you eat when you're on a trip? What will you do for fun on your trip? What things will you have to pay for when you go on a trip? How many miles will you travel when you take your trip? 2. Ask students if they're ready to go on an imaginary trip, have them take a folder or ad out of the box before they "leave" on vacation and look through it until they find the typed question. Have students try to answer these questions in reference to the kind of trip they'd like to take. 3. Bring out that before going on a real trip these kinds of questions should be considered. 4. Summarize the important things to think of when planning a trip and write experience	Large cardboard box Old road maps, travel folders, etc. Cut-out letters from construction paper Copies of travel folders, ads from newspapers and magazines. Chart paper Paper and pencil	Things to Think About When Planning a Trip <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. ## I. SELECTION OF UNIT: PREPARING FOR WORK EXPERIENCE

This unit would serve to introduce students to the knowledge, concepts and attitudes that are pre-requisite for successful work experiences in a work-study program. It would be taught before the students are placed in actual job situations.

A unit of this nature can provide many meaningful opportunities to develop basic functional skills necessary for adequate vocational adjustment.

II. SUB-UNITS

- |                         |                  |
|-------------------------|------------------|
| A. Good Work Habits     | F. Good Grooming |
| B. Job Requirements     | G. Safety        |
| C. Personal Information | H. Health Habits |
| D. Application Forms    | I. Citizenship   |
| E. Interviews           | J. Job Readiness |

III. GENERAL OBJECTIVES

- A. To Learn What a Good Worker is Like
  - 1. Understanding the importance of good work habits
    - a. Responsible
    - b. Honest
    - c. Punctual
    - d. Ability to get along with people
    - e. Takes orders and follows directions
    - f. Clean and neat appearance
  - 2. Understanding the meaning of good manners and courtesy and their importance in successful work relationships

- B. To consider vocational requirements for work experiences
  - 1. Functional academic skills
  - 2. Physical skill and stamina
  - 3. Mental aptitude
- C. To become aware of the personal information that is needed before starting to look for a job
- D. To learn and practice skills needed to apply for a job
  - 1. Application forms and letters
  - 2. Personal interviews
- E. To learn the importance of good grooming in getting and holding a job
- F. To understand the importance of safety and health rules when working
- G. To guide pupil self-evaluation in deciding upon suitable work experiences

IV. CORE AREA ACTIVITIES

- A. Arithmetic Activities
  - 1. List expenses that might be incurred in working such as bus fare, lunch money, uniforms, etc.
  - 2. Tell time in relation to appointments
  - 3. Use a calendar when discussing working days and leisure days or days off
  - 4. Figure the time it will take to get from home or school to the job
  - 5. Discuss length of working day; time and length of lunch hours and coffee breaks
  - 6. Dramatize using arithmetic skills in work situations such as a waitress figuring a customer's check, a grocery store stock boy stamping prices on canned goods, etc.

7. Practice writing birth date, current date, etc. on application forms
8. Read city maps to locate places of business and factories where work-study students are employed
9. Figure the expenses involved with illness, e.g., wages lost, cost of doctor bills and medicine, etc.
10. Use a mail-order catalog and select a complete outfit that would be suitable to wear for an interview. On a sales slip write the cost of each article; add to find the total cost of the outfit
11. Compare the cost of a week's transportation to work on the bus, by car pool, by taxi, by walking
12. Practice punching in on a time clock; read the times recorded on the cards

B. Social Competency Activities

1. Interview employers, former work-study students who are now employed, students' parents, etc. Ask what a good worker is like, how to keep a job, what constitutes a successful work experience, etc.
2. Make lists of the habits, attitudes, and values necessary for getting and holding a job
3. Dramatize work situations involving getting along with other people, e.g., reacting to gossip during coffee breaks, receiving constructive criticism from the boss, asking for help from fellow employees, etc.
4. Take a self-test to help students evaluate their personality, manners, self-control, courtesy, etc.
5. Write experience chart about the adjustments to be made when going from the school setting to a work experience, e.g., being more tired from standing a long time on the job, not having a teacher present to guide, correct, or make assignments, etc.

6. Tape record a conversation with an employer as he discusses the kinds of problems employees have on the job, reasons why people get fired, etc.
7. Dramatize proper conduct when being personally interviewed for a job; record on tape recorder and discuss
8. Develop a series of lessons on "Seeing the Employer's Point of View." Dramatize situations and write experience charts about the employer's problems when workers are inefficient, dishonest, not punctual, etc.
9. Make a display of reject items from local factories to show results of inadequate workman performance. Compare with quality products

C. Communicative Skills Activities

1. Listen to tape recordings of stories from books
2. Write business letters asking for a job reference, a copy of a birth certificate, etc.
3. Take notes on material read in books; record on 3x5 cards
4. Look up address of the Social Security office in the telephone directory
5. Prepare a card to carry that lists pertinent personal information that is needed when filling out application forms
6. Practice good telephone manners when dramatizing calls to arrange for job interviews
7. Write letters of application

8. Fill out application forms for social security numbers, work permits, job opportunities, etc.
9. Read city bus schedules, taxi rates, etc.
10. Write letters of invitation and thank-you notes to resource speakers
11. Practice listening to and carrying out various kinds of directions and orders, e.g., how to get from school to a factory, procedures to follow when cleaning the floor, etc.
12. Decide upon questions to ask when interviewing people presently employed in semi-skilled or unskilled jobs
13. Give class reports on visits to industries or businesses, interviews with workers, part-time work experiences, etc.
14. Dramatize conversations with potential employers in job interview situations, on-the-job training experiences, etc.
15. Dramatize using reading skills in work situations such as a nurse's aid reading patients' names on food trays, a stock boy reading labels on boxes and shelves, factory workers reading safety precaution signs over machinery, etc.
16. Read and fill out self-evaluation forms
17. Read articles in the newspaper about the accomplishments, expansion plans, goals, etc. of various local businesses and industries

D. Health Activities

1. Make good lunch selections from restaurant and factory cafeteria menus; plan food to carry in lunch boxes. Prepare bulletin board displays

2. Discuss and dramatize procedures for notifying an employer when ill
3. Use commercially prepared transparencies to stimulate discussion of a worker's responsibility for his own health and well-being
4. Complete worksheets about good physical and mental health
5. Plan a "style show" showing suitable clothing for various kinds of jobs, e.g., waitress uniforms, work clothes for factory jobs, clean and neat clothes for a candy counter clerk, comfortable shoes for a nurse's aid, etc.
6. Find pictures of appropriate outfits to wear when going for a job interview
7. Dramatize job interviews when the applicants are well groomed and neat; contrast with situations in which the applicants are poorly groomed and unattractive
8. Prepare a time budget for one week; make a wheel chart to show the proportion of time spent sleeping, working, time for leisure activities, etc.
9. Take a self-evaluation test; consider physical stamina and abilities when thinking about job possibilities

E. Safety Activities

1. Display different kinds of safety gear worn on some jobs
2. Make charts listing possible safety hazards in different jobs, e.g., hot grill and grease at a short-order counter, handling bleach and cleaning solvents at a laundry, moving machinery in a factory assembly line, etc.. Also list safety precautions that are in effect
3. Discuss safe care of money and personal belongings when working

4. Prepare a class report on some of the laws and regulations governing safe working conditions in factories, etc.
5. Have a nurse who works in a local industry discuss and demonstrate the basics of on-the-job first aid
6. Outline proper initial steps to take in case of serious injury to self or a companion when on the job
7. On a field trip to an industry or business, note fire escape routes, alarm systems, planned procedures for evacuation, etc.

F. Vocational Competency Activities

1. Arrange for former work-study students to visit the class on their days off. Have them tell about their jobs, how they got them, what the work is like, etc.
2. Take field trips to businesses and industries where work-study students are employed
3. List possible jobs in which work-study students may be placed. Make a chart for each job, listing the various requirements necessary for success on the job
4. Have students choose the work experiences in which they wish to participate in the work-study program
5. Take snapshots of industries and businesses visited. Also take pictures of employers, some employees on the job, various activities involved in different jobs, etc.

VII. LESSON PLANS

Sample lesson plans for ten lessons are included in this starter unit. These lessons do not attempt to cover the entire unit topic but rather should serve as a guide for the teacher.

The first five lessons are all lettered A and are concerned with the teaching of the first general objective of the Unit, A. To learn what a good worker is like.

The next two lessons cover the second unit objective, B. To consider vocational requirements for work experiences.

Lessons lettered C suggest ways of teaching the third general objective C. To become aware of the personal information that is needed before starting to look for a job.

The culminating lesson plan for the unit is included and covers the objective G. To guide pupil self-evaluation in deciding upon suitable work experiences.

The boss has a lot of things to worry about, too." Discuss some of the problems that may confront an employer; list on a large piece of chart paper. Entitle the chart, "Seeing the Employer's Point of View." 2. Dramatize work situations, emphasizing the employer's point of view. Encourage students to consider some of the responsibilities of the employer, how these responsibilities influence the boss's behavior in the work situation, and how important it is for employees to have good work habits. 3. successful work relationships

3. Dramatize work situations involving getting along with other people. Sample situations: (1) During a coffee break some people start gossiping about another worker in a different department. What should you do? (2) One day the boss stands and watches you work for awhile. He says you're doing the work wrong. What should you do? (3) You're told to clean the floor. You didn't understand just quite how to do it. What should you do?
4. Write experience chart and read orally. Students copy to keep in notebook
5. Seatwork: Duplicated worksheets. Instruct students to answer each question truthfully, then score their own papers and destroy them when they're finished. A score of eight "yes" answers would be considered about average. If they score less than eight, they should try to improve their relations with others

Worksheet: Circle "yes" or "no"

1. I try to be pleasant even when I feel bad.
Yes      No
2. I am kind and courteous to people at home and at school.    Yes      No
3. I try to make my classmates feel important.

Initiate discussion by asking pupils what jobs they might be interested in doing in the work-study program. Point out that in our country a person is free to make his own choice when deciding on a job. The individual should consider certain things, however, like what jobs are available, what kinds of work the person would enjoy doing, and what jobs he or she is qualified to do successfully. 2. Point out that different jobs require different kinds of skills. To find out what skills are needed for various jobs, have students look for and write down information from books, from filmstrips, and from interviews with people employed as unskilled or semi-skilled workers. Find answers to questions such as: (1) What kind of reading does the job require? (2) What kind of arithmetic does the job require? (3) Would you have to write anything when you do this work?	Books: You and Your Occupation, Dare and Wolfe Getting A Job, Florence Randall The Job Ahead, Goldberg and Others Finding Your Job, Finney Company The Jobs You Get, Richard H. We need to choose a job we can do well, however. Some kinds of things would be too hard for us to do. We need to choose a job that doesn't require some kind of reading or arithmetic that is too hard. Some jobs need people who are very strong. Other jobs need people who can make complicated things

C. To become aware of the personal information that is needed before starting to look for a job

1. Introduce lesson topic by playing a game, Twenty Questions. Have questions written on slips of paper, put slips into a box and pass them out to the students. See how many of the questions the pupils can read and answer without referring to anything.

Sample questions:

- Do you have a Social Security number? What is it?
- What is your marital status?
- What grade school did you attend?
- What is your address?
- Do you have a birth certificate?
- What is a work permit?

2. Discuss that there is certain personal information that each student should know about himself. This information will be needed when he or she applies for a job. Read chapter 3 in Getting a Job; also pp. 15-16 in Getting That Job.
3. Discuss what a birth certificate is; how to get one if you don't have one. Have students write a letter to the State Department of Health, Division of Vital Statistics, Des Moines to request copies of their birth certificates if they do not have them.
4. Invite a representative of the State Employment Agency to speak to the class about work permits. Ask him to discuss who should get these permits, what kinds of jobs are not covered by these regulations, how to apply for the permit.

Personal Information You Need

Before you apply for a job, there are things you need to know about yourself.

Your birth certificate proves when and where you were born.

Everyone who works must have a social security number. You need to know yours.

A person over 18 does not need a work permit. The work permit law does not cover all kinds of jobs you may get.

You will need the names of two adults who are not your relatives to give as references. It is very important to ask these people first before

C. To become aware of personal information needed (Cont'd.)	2. Suggest that each student make a Personal Information List for himself. Explain, "This paper can help you when you go to apply for a job. It is important that you fill out application forms right and have all the words spelled right. Use your Personal Information List to help you do this." Help students get all the necessary information. (A sample Personal Information list is included at the end of the unit). 3. Play Twenty Questions again to see if students can answer more questions correctly now. 4. Write experience chart 5. G. To guide pupil self-evaluation in deciding upon suitable work experiences	1. To culminate unit, discuss with students the jobs they will want to try in their first work experience in connection with the work-study program. Stress the things to be considered when deciding what job they'd like to do: a. "What jobs are available?" The work-study program will help students find out this kind of information. b. "What jobs would be interesting to you? What work would you like and enjoy?" A job should be pleasant and fun to do. Because people have different interests, the same jobs won't appeal to all people. c. ADVANCED LEVEL

I. SELECTION OF UNIT - BUDGETING

Budgeting should be an integral part of the curriculum for the 15+ age level retarded students. This will be one of the last opportunities to emphasize teaching in the areas of "daily living" of which budgeting is so vitally important. This unit is designed to present experiences which will enhance the retarded youth's entry into the world of work. A number of sub-units can be taught to extend the benefits derived from a unit on budgeting.

II. SUB-UNITS

III. GENERAL OBJECTIVES

- A. To develop an understanding of the concept of budgeting money

1. Budgeting money means doing the very most with the amount available
- B. To learn how to keep a budget
1. A budget plan may indicate how money may be budgeted more wisely
  2. A savings and expense record may help in planning a program of saving
- C. To learn specific ways to use money more wisely through budgeting
1. To budget money for special sales
  2. To budget money for insurance
    - a. health
    - b. life
    - c. household or fire
    - d. car
  3. To budget money for emergencies not covered by insurance or large luxury items
  4. To use wise food shopping practices for a more effective budget of income
  5. To learn factors of clothing purchase and care which will aid in a more effective budget of income
  6. To learn that credit buying provides a quicker means of obtaining goods, but usually costs more money
- D. To accept the procedure of banking as an aid to efficient budgeting
1. Checking Accounts
  2. Savings Accounts

3. Bank loans

- E. To experience actual practice in budgeting money, time and energy

A. Arithmetic Activities

1. Figuring a budget
2. Totalling the costs of necessities
3. Comparing costs of items
4. Comparing insurance costs with costs of actual emergencies
5. Figuring dollar cost of credit
6. Filling out checks
7. Keeping checking accounts
8. Keeping savings record
9. Figuring time budget
10. Estimating budget items
11. Using catalog forms

B. Social Competency Activities

1. Meeting business personnel
2. Shopping tour experience
3. Inquiry for information from salesmen
4. Service project activities

5. Planning leisure activities

C. Communicative Skills Activities

1. Completion of budget forms

2. Telephoning bank, department store, insurance agency, finance company

3. Preparation of monthly purchase items

4. Reading newspaper ads

5. Using a catalog

6. Writing letters for field trip appointments

7. Check writing

8. Keeping records of class project

D. Safety Activities

1. Practicing household safety as prevention against added expense

2. Practicing accident prevention as important to general welfare

3. Practicing wise use of energy for more efficient, safe work habits

E. Health Activities

1. Discuss proper clothing for seasonal use

2. List four basic food groups

3. Plan grocery lists from food groups

4. Fill out health insurance information

5. Practicing habits of wise energy use

F. Vocational Competency Activities

1. Making appointments
2. Meeting personnel
3. Filling out personal information forms
4. Practicing efficient work habits

VII. LESSON PLANS

Sample lesson plans for ten lessons are included in this starter unit. These lessons do not attempt to cover the entire unit topic but rather should serve as a guide for the teacher.

Lesson A is introductory and covers the first general objective, A. To develop an understanding of the concept of budgeting money.

The next two lessons relate to the general objective, B. To learn how to keep a budget.

The next five lessons relate to the general objective, C. To learn specific ways to use money more wisely through budgeting.

The general objective D. To accept the procedure of banking as an aid to efficient budgeting is the topic of the ninth lesson.

The final lesson combines a culminating project with the general objective, E. To experience actual practice in budgeting money, time and energy.

OBJECTIVES	ACTIVITIES	RESOURCE MATERIALS	EXPERIENCE CHART
A. To develop an understanding of the concept of budgeting money 1. Budgeting means doing the very most with the amount available.	1. Introduce this unit with a thorough explanation of the term "budget". To budget is to plan the amount of money which will be received and how it will be spent. Include the class members through a discussion of from where the money spent by each of them comes. It will probably be from (a) part time jobs, (b) allowances or (c) indefinite sums given by parents as a need arises. Emphasize that a budget is based upon knowing approximately how much money may be anticipated and deciding for what it is to be used before it is spent. 2. Explain that planning or budgeting money helps a person understand where his money goes. Money is easily spent as a need arises, or when a person sees something he wants. If no thought is given to how much of the total sum is needed for many things, the money may be gone before these things are purchased. 3. Write experience chart. 4. Seatwork: Have students prepare (or hand out) mimeographed paper divided into two columns. Label the columns:  (1) Things for Which I Spend Money  (2) Things I Really Need Each Month Explain that students should list such things as candy, soft drinks, cigarettes, as well as regular needs for which they spend monthly. Have the students keep these sheets for comparison after they have more experience in actual budgeting.	Teenage Living, Ahern, Nell Giles; Houghton Mifflin Company: Boston, 1960, pp. 194-205. Getting Ready for Pay Day, Part Three: Planning Ahead, Hudson, Margaret W. and Ann A. A budget helps a person get the very most from his money. We hope to learn how to budget so that we will use our money more wisely.

	5. Vocabulary: budget, income, wisely, expect, receive 6. Use of suggested filmstrip: This gives the advantages, and shows preparation, of a budget. Shows check writing and record keeping for checking accounts.
B. To learn how to keep a budget 1. A budget plan may indicate how money may be budgeted more wisely.	1. Introduce this lesson with reference to experience chart of Lesson A and plan to learn how to keep a budget. Have students look at lists made on how they spend the money which they currently receive. Ask the following questions: (1) Do you always have money for the things you need? (2) Do you spend a large amount of money on things you don't have to have? (3) Are there things you would like and do not have because you don't have enough money for them? 2. Display an example of a budget plan. Explain this as the actual record or written form of a budget. Define "take home pay" as the actual amount of money given by an employer to employee on pay day. 3. Explain deductions to the extent necessary for understanding "take home pay." 4. Seatwork: Hand out budget plan (B #1a) sheets to class. Guide them in filling out section labeled "Money I Take Home". Some may have several sources of income such as baby-sitting and a part-time job elsewhere. Have them fill in Total column at bottom of sheet. Before filling out the column labeled "Money I Plan to Spend," it is suggested that the class make a	Mimeographed copies of a budget plan. OBJECTIVES	ACTIVITIES	RESOURCE MATERIALS	EXPERIENCE CHART
B. To learn how to keep a budget (Cont'd.) 1. A budget plan may indicate how money may be budgeted more wisely.	general list of items they should expect to buy monthly such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>bus fare</li> <li>school lunch</li> <li>school supplies</li> <li>personal items, i.e., deodorant, cosmetics</li> <li>gasoline (for those with cars)</li> <li>clothes</li> </ul> After this practice, students may fill in the column on their own sheet. Assist individuals in establishing realistic estimates on items which are not in a specific amount. Explain to the students as they do this, that they now know where their money goes. Some may have totals greater in one column than those in the other. If income is greater than amount indicated for spending, this money should be spent for extras which are needed, for entertainment if not included, or for savings toward buying an item which costs more than the extra available at the time. For those whose expenditures amount to more than income, point up this as the value of having a budget. It has shown that either (1) the income isn't sufficient to meet all needs or (2) that money is being spent unwisely in some areas. Work with these students to establish which problem is indicated. 5. Write experience chart 6. Extensive follow-up practice would come beyond these initial introductory lessons. After the experience of noting current, personal budget

The resource material, Everyday Business is recommended. Expenditures dealt with include items such as rent, utilities, food, car, etc. The approach to budgeting is with initial intent to save a portion of the income. This is a valuable concept to instill in the teaching of handling money. 7. Seatwork: Budget Plan B #1b. Have students plan a family budget using $280. Relate this experience to any discussion of realistic home situations which may arise in the classroom. 8. Vocabulary: wages, utilities, expenses, saving, insurance, entertainment	(Sample worksheet is given at the end of the unit)
B. To learn to keep a budget 2. A savings and expense record may help in planning a program of savings.	1. After a budget plan is determined, some method of recording daily expenses must be carefully kept. 2. Discuss how this is important in knowing how well one is keeping within their budget. 3. Plan out a Savings &amp; Expense Record by: A. Some merchandise is bought just for special sales and is of a quality inferior to regular goods. A mark-down in price of regular goods is usually indicated on the price tag. 3. Point up that sales merchandise often may not be returned or exchanged. Therefore, a buyer should carefully check condition, size and fit, and be sure he can use the item before purchasing. 4. Write experience chart 5. Seatwork: Distribute special sale advertisements to each class member. Ask them to locate and write on paper, an example of a "bargain." They should list the regular price, the sale price, and the difference (or saving) of the item. They should define whether this would be a luxury item or may indicate savings on an item which one would expect to need, but pay more. This information would be presented orally to the entire class and discussion would include whether the class agreed that this was a worthwhile bargain. If one item is listed for sale at many places, several students could check the prices and information on quality to establish where the best buy might be obtained. If students have kept personal budget plans during this instruction, they might enjoy checking their savings to see if there is enough for a desired item which might be on sale. C. To learn specific ways to use money more wisely through budgeting

2. To budget money for insurance

1. Introduce this lesson by referring to the items listed on the budget plan for a family. Note the inclusion of insurance as an item for which money is allotted on a monthly basis. Ask students for discussion on the following questions:
  - A. Why is insurance important?
  - B. What kinds of things may be insured?
  - C. How do you get insurance?
  - D. Who needs insurance?
2. Explain that insurance takes care of emergencies which cost more than we might be able to pay at the time.
3. Discuss the fact that insurance premiums may not be due monthly. They may be due every 3 months, 6 months, or 12 months. Nevertheless, a monthly sum allowed for them makes them more easily paid. Use arithmetic problems on the chalkboard to show how an insurance premium costing $60 a year, and due every 6 months could be figured for a monthly allowance. Do the same for a premium due every 3 months and every 12 months. This will make clear how the money is available when due.

Insurance

Insurance pays for emergencies which cost a lot of money. Money for insurance payments should be on the monthly budget plan. Everyone needs some insurance for protection and should provide the money for it.

C. To learn specific ways to use money more wisely through budgeting (Cont'd.) 2. To budget money for insurance	4. Health Insurance A. Accident and illness often cause large doctor and hospital bills which cost more than people have saved. Insurance payment often amounts to more than a person has paid for the premiums. B. Many times if a person is ill, his salary does not continue. Some health policies provide money for living costs. C. Sometimes an employer will pay the health insurance premiums for his employees. D. Most workers belong to a group plan. This is usually less expensive than an individual policy. 5. Life Insurance A. Life insurance pays money to a wife if her husband dies. B. Money may be borrowed from the policy. C. Some life insurance policies provide money for retired persons. 6. Household Insurance or Fire Insurance A. We need to protect our homes and things in them. It would be very expensive to repair a house damaged by fire or replace much furniture that had burned or been stolen. Insurance provides the money to replace these items.

C. To learn specific ways to use money more wisely through budgeting (Cont'd.) 2. To budget money for insurance	7. Car Insurance A. State laws require liability insurance. This pays for injury to another person and damage to someone else's car. B. Comprehensive insurance pays for losses due to theft, fire, tornadoes, wind storms, glass breakage and similar losses. C. Collision insurance pays for damage to your car which is caused by hitting another car or objects. D. The cost of car insurance depends upon: (a) The value of the car (b) The purpose for which it is used (c) The average number of miles it is driven in a year (d) The age of the driver E. An insurance company will not pay accident costs if you have broken the law. Any driver must have a license. 8. Write experience chart 9. Seatwork: Describe one or more situations (fire, illness, car accident) in which insurance payment is due. Write the situation (s) on the board and assign students to write a letter to the insurance company, reporting the incident, listing costs, and requesting payment of the amount involved. A sample letter could be provided to assist with this assignment. Remind the students that in a real situation this must be done promptly and all information should be clear and

Students should now be familiar with the general idea of budgeting. Explain that budgeting may apply also to use of money allotted for certain items on the large budget plan. The money spent for food is a large budget item and should be planned for best use. 2. Discuss comparing prices and quality for choice of store or stores from which to buy food, use newspaper ads to compare costs of certain foods. 3. From study of newspaper ads and their own experience, have students list necessary foods and rank according to cost. Meat costs more than bread, for instance. Use this to show how different amounts of money need to be allotted for different types of food. Give examples of reasonable food budget amounts for different sized families. 4. Point up ways to economize on food purchases through use of less expensive meats, dry milk, meat substitutes, and foods in season. Emphasize the necessity of maintaining a balanced diet in choosing foods, also.	Homemaking for the Educable Mentally Retarded Girl, Special Education Curriculum Development Center, (Univ. of Iowa, Iowa City, 1967. The store manager should be contacted and asked to speak to students on clothes purchasing. 5. Clothing is not a separate item listed on the monthly budget plan. Ask students how the money spent for clothing is obtained. (Refer to the budget plan handout). Note that money allotted for personal items, which includes clothing, should be saved when the full amount is not used monthly. It should be spent when a definite clothing need arises or when special sales make a clothing purchase seem advisable. 6. Discuss ordering clothing from a catalog. This is convenient when it is difficult to make a trip to clothing stores, or for ordering items of underwear, for example, which do not require much selection. Emphasize care in filling out order blanks as to size. Use a catalog to show the page directing how to obtain correct sizes. 7. Write experience chart. 8. Examples of such would be the purchase of a major appliance such as a refrigerator or stove; or a long trip in the case of illness or death of a family member. Students may suggest "borrowing or charging." Explain that this is referred to as using credit. Consumer credit is buying things on time, borrowing money or getting a loan. It takes money to use credit and one must be very careful in using credit. 3. Emphasize that using credit gives you longer to pay for something. You may use the merchandise while paying for it and spend a certain amount monthly. You must be sure you will have this monthly amount of money to pay. The merchandise does not belong to the buyer until the final payment is made and may be taken back if payments are not met. Stress the importance of a good credit rating. 4. Other points for emphasis: A. Charge accounts (revolving or monthly). B. Finance or Loan Companies (reputation and size often affect the amount of the charge you pay for this credit). C. Bank loans (rate is usually less; you borrow the money and pay the dealer in cash). D. Down payments are usually required. Identify who should be listed as "next of kin," "relative," etc. 4. Next, issue deposit slips and instruct students on how to keep this record of money put into the bank. Caution students to use care in totalling amounts on the deposit slip. Show students how to deduct any cash desired when depositing funds in check form. After students understand the procedures of depositing, hand out blank checks. Note: This lesson may be spread over several days, if necessary. 5. Instruct students, and allow for ample practice, in filling out checks. Remind them that the signature used on a check must be the same as that on record at the bank. Checks should be written in ink. time, and energy	activity. Many social value emphases might be possible through the experience of the class working together to help other people. A collection of funds could be accumulated throughout the year or through sales, odd jobs, or other class projects for raising money. More incentive for fund-raising would be assured if a goal of a specific amount were initially set. This would depend upon what the funds are to be spent for and would be decided upon by the class. They may want to give a party for the residents of the home, buy a picture for a wall, provide fresh flowers from a florist on certain days, or buy individual articles for particularly needy residents. Practice in budgeting would come through realistic selection of an amount of money to be spent. Any additional expenses might be figured in such as costs of transportation to and from the site, wrapping paper, party supplies, etc., depending upon choice of the class. 2. Class instruction prior to the project should emphasize the final objective of budgeting time and energy. Students should understand that this will be increasingly important as they become independent and are employed. Wise use of time and energy establishes a reputation of a good worker. This is essential to keeping a job and often provides chances for additional salary. 3. Efficient use of time and energy, in the home, pays off through fewer large repair bills, less possibility of costly accidents, fewer purchases of expensive items (such as appliances and furniture) through good upkeep, and a more pleasant environment. Good daily housekeeping	of Iowa, Iowa City, 1967; Lesson #8. Management for Better Living, Starr, Mary Catherine, D. C. Specific examples of how to use time and energy effectively, instruct students in how good posture keeps the body "lined up" with all the parts where they are supposed to be. Practice good posture in standing, walking, sitting, bending and emphasize that remembering these good habits will keep one from becoming more tired as he works. Use examples of a man or woman, at dinner time, being so exhausted that he or she is irritable and has time only for rest, not pleasurable family activities. Teenagers may experience the same thing if they "wear themselves out" needlessly. 5. Stress that a person needs to plan his time in a manner similar to that for his money so that he may get the most value from it. Planning how time will be used helps avoid unnecessary waste of time spent on doing something that is of no benefit. 6. Seatwork: Have students make time charts like those suggested in the Family and Home unit listed under Resource Materials. After using these for general practice, have class make schedule of free work periods to spend either working on the class project (making some item for use in the Home) or actually visiting the Home and perhaps doing chores there. Such activities would be planned with the cooperation and approval of the institution staff, of course. Class records of the progress of the project would include:
