Cover: Beginning in ancient Syria the olive tree was regarded as a symbol of cultural and economic advancement. The offer of an olive branch was regarded as a symbol of friendship and came to be accepted as a token of peace. Among the ancient Greeks a crown of olive branches was a symbol of the highest honor bestowed by the state.

Dear Contributor:

Thank you for your support in 1976! To show you how your gifts and those of other alumni and friends are helping the University, the Foundation staff has prepared this progress report for you, with our appreciation.

To cut the Report's production costs, we've changed its format and have relied more heavily on technology to prepare the honor rolls of contributors.

We hope you approve of these changes and that you will use the gift envelope in the back of this report to send to us your comments or questions--and perhaps, a 1977 contribution. You can be proud of what your gifts are accomplishing!

Cordially,

Darrell D. Wyrick
Executive Director

Reaching Out to Enrich Lives

A great university enriches the quality of life by imparting excellence to all it reaches. In the University of Iowa's mission to touch many lives— to bring individuals to the campus, and to take the University to the people— your support has been and will be invaluable.

You will see in this report how your gifts help the University fulfill human potential on and far beyond the Iowa campus.

With your generous annual support, The University of Iowa will continue to reach out to countless people.

“Excellence at The University of Iowa is our mutual and inseparable responsibility. We must make others aware of its activities and achievements. From awareness comes interest. Interest leads to involvement. From involvement comes the understanding, advocacy and financial support essential to Iowa's future.”

—President Willard L. Boyd

A Message from the University's President

Higher education is no longer the exclusive province of the few, the full-time and the young. As long as we live, each of us has a future and a need for opportunities to grow.

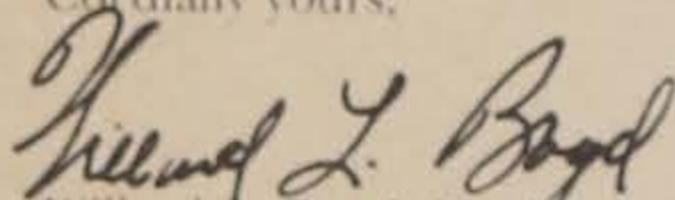

In its 130th anniversary year, The University of Iowa seeks to expand its educational horizons, to provide more educational opportunities. To continue its tradition of excellence and to reach out beyond its traditional walls, the University must draw particular strength from those who care about its future.

We are grateful for the University's many positive ties with alumni, friends, parents and other citizens. These ties are reciprocal, for as the University serves many, in turn many offer their talents, their good words and their private resources on behalf of the University.

For many years, private gifts have played a critical role in helping the University to achieve and maintain standards of excellence in all aspects of its mission. You will see in this report many ways in which this support is enriching lives through the University's outreach.

Last year, 20,833 individuals, organizations, foundations and businesses contributed or pledged $14.3 million in support of The University of Iowa. We are truly grateful for these generous gifts and for the dedication of the many who work to strengthen the University so that others may enjoy the priceless rewards of higher education.

Cordially yours,

Willard L. Boyd, President
The University of Iowa

President Boyd

A Report from the Foundation President and the Executive Director

Dear Alumni and Friends:

We can report with appreciation and pride that your gifts and pledges to the Foundation in 1976 totaled more than $9.2 million. This figure, detailed in the following tables, represents a giving increase of 15 percent over 1975. Outright gifts to the Foundation comprised $4.3 million of the total.

Foundation deferred income in 1976 totaled about $4.9 million. Of this amount, $.52 million was generated in pledges payable in future years and $4.35 million was recorded as expectancies created through bequests and trusts arranged with individuals. Trust arrangements and wills established in 1976 probably will produce far more than the $4.35 million expectancy figure because 21 of the 74 bequests or trusts included are of unknown amounts and are include at a nominal value of $1,000 each.

When your gifts and pledges to the Foundation are combined with $5.1 million in private gifts and grants received directly by The University of Iowa last year, private funds generated in 1976 total $14.3 million. More than $9.4 million of this combined total was received as outright gifts—how donors specified the uses of their gifts is reported in the "Distribution of Gifts by Use" table on page 7.

In 1976 the honor roll of Foundation contributors grew from 16,606 to 20,332, an increase of 22.4 percent over 1975. Just as the broad base of annual contributors expanded, membership in the Foundation's honor clubs increased, and their support dollars climbed significantly.

By year's end the number of contributors qualifying for membership in The Old Gold Club, with annual gifts of $100 to $499, reached 2,657 (p. 37). The number qualifying for The Pentacrest Society (those other than Presidents Club members who give $500 or more annually) reached 510, an increase of 32 percent over the prior year (p. 34). Total 1976 dollars contributed by members of these two honor clubs was nearly $1.6 million.

Individual membership in The Presidents Club rose (by 32 percent) to 440; and business, foundation and organization membership in The Presidents Club Associates increased to 70. The combined 1976 total of 510 indicates the dramatic growth of this group, which had only 39 members at the end of its first year, in 1967. Its geometric growth was further stimulated in 1976 by the formation of The Presidents Club National Committee. With the assistance of Foundation directors and staff members, the National Committee seeks to maximize the growth and effectiveness of this highest honor club. Co-chaired by Florence Boone, of Glencoe, Illinois, and Dr. Richard V.M. Corton (1942 B.A., 1945 M.D.), of Waterloo, Iowa, the National Committee will seek to enlist new Presidents Club members across the nation (see p. 28).

In 1976, as the result of private generosity, three major capital projects were completed. As you will see elsewhere in this report, each of them holds significant meaning to the outreach of The University of Iowa.

On July 3 Old Capitol's doors (p.18) were reopened to the public after a six-year restoration effort which moved forward largely due to more than $800,000 in private support.

On September 23 the formal dedication of the Carver Wing (p.14) brought more than 800 people to the Museum of Art to celebrate the opening of a large addition made possible by a $1.2 million gift from industrialist Roy J. Carver, of Muscatine, Iowa.

On October 16 the University of Iowa's new Alumni Center (p. 21) was opened. This long-awaited facility, located in the heart of the Iowa Center for the Arts on the west bank of the Iowa River, was financed by gifts to the Foundation and a grant from the U of I Alumni Association. Alumni Center activities will have a major impact on the University's efforts to develop closer ties with its many alumni and friends. We encourage your continuing support for the Center and its outreach programs.

At the Foundation's fall meeting, which coincided with the Alumni Center's opening, three new members were elected to three-year terms on the Board of Directors. They are Richard S. Levitt, of Des Moines, Iowa, president of Dial Financial Corporation; Randall Meyer, of Houston, Texas, president of Exxon Company, U.S.A.; and Marvin A. Pomerantz, of Des Moines, Iowa, president of Mid-America Development Company.

Mr. Levitt (1952 B.A., 1954 J.D.) and his wife, Jeanne (1952 B.A.), have contributed for many years to the College of Law and the Museum of Art. The Richard S. Levitt Foundation, a Presidents Club Associate, placed U of I printmaker Mauricio Lasansky's 33 "Nazi Drawings" on extended loan to the Museum in 1972. Mr. and Mrs. Levitt are members of The Presidents Club.

Mr. Meyer (1948 B.S.) has been a longtime supporter of the University, with gifts through the Foundation designated for flexible use and for the College of Engineering. In the spring of 1976 he spoke on "Technology and the Spirit of Man" at the College of Engineering's annual symposium. Mr. Meyer is a member of The Presidents Club.

Mr. Pomerantz (1952 B.S.) has a long record of support for the U of I's intercollegiate athletic programs and for the Colleges of Law and Business Administration. Recently he was invited to the campus to share his expertise with business students and faculty as part of Mobil Foundation's Visiting Executives Program. Mr. Pomerantz is a life member of the U of I Alumni Association.

Foundation officers re-elected for the current year were Herman J. Schmidt, Greenwich, Connecticut, president; and William C. Power, Jr., Indianapolis, Indiana, and David A. Danner, Western Springs, Illinois, vice presidents.

Two Foundation directors whose terms expired were elected as lifetime honorary directors for their long and meritorious service to the Foundation. They are C. Maxwell

Stanley, of Muscatine, Iowa, chairman of Stanley Consultants; and H. John Hawkinson, of Chicago, Illinois, president of Kemper Financial Services, Inc. Mr. Stanley served as the Foundation's president from 1971 to 1975 and as coordinator of The Presidents Club during its formative years.

Joining the Foundation staff as an assistant director in 1976 was Michael J. New (1964 B.A., 1967 M.A.), who will coordinate fund raising efforts for the individual components of the Health Center. Michael formerly worked with the Iowa Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation and more recently as assistant coordinator of the Iowa Regional Medical Program.

As you will see detailed later in this report, notable progress was made in each area of Foundation staff concentration in 1976. Efforts to coordinate and boost athletic fund raising moved ahead significantly with Assistant Director Dan McDonald's energetic programs.

Associate Director David Dierks' planned giving services in 1976 included launching a revised program of regular mailings on financial planning and tax-related information to more than 4,000 people, as well as arranging various Foundation-sponsored estate planning seminars on and off the Iowa campus.

Assistant Director Bernardene Asmussen worked with Dave Dierks to help plan Presidents Club events and other Foundation outreach activities. In addition to working with other annual giving programs, Bernie supervises the Foundation's student telefund program—which in 1976 produced gifts from more than 4,000 contributors across the country.

Other professional staff members are responding to Foundation fund raising and outreach activities by increasing and improving support services from within the organization's heart, in the new Alumni Center. Associate Director and Treasurer Larry Bruse now administers nearly 1,200 funds and supervises the Foundation's computer-based giving records and accounting system, which has been the prototype system for several foundations across the country.

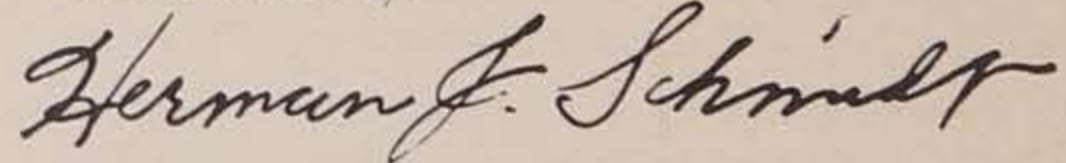

Associate Director Alan Swanson supervises the Foundation's creative and information areas, with the assistance of Richard Blazek. In 1976 Foundation publications received four national and three regional awards in competitions sponsored by the Council for Advancement and Support of Education.

Administrative Assistant Olga Sassine supervises mailings and many other vital daily projects, such as the Foundation's annual reminder system, which in 1976 brought gifts from more than 4,000 contributors. With Larry Bruse, Olga coordinates the activities of a skilled office staff whose enthusiasm is a Foundation trademark.

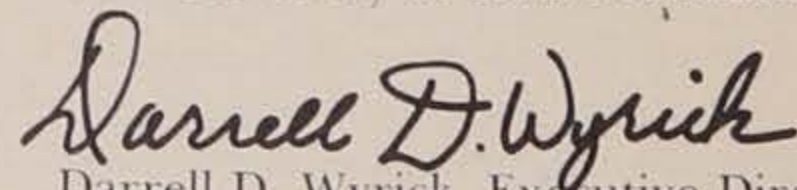

The achievements you will see reported on the following pages are only representative of those made possible by your generosity last year. Looking ahead, we envision continued growth in the Foundation's scope of activities and in its level of service to the University and to alumni and friends.

Finally, and most importantly, we thank you and all others who are recognized on the honor rolls of this report. We urge your continuing support—and we ask you to consider making all or a portion of your gift undesignated. Such venture funds permit the assignment of resources wherever the need is greatest. We stand ready to put your generosity to its best possible use for your University.

Yours sincerely,

Herman J. Schmidt, President
The University of Iowa Foundation

A Message from the University's Vice President for Educational Development and Research

Even though the Office of the Vice President for Educational Development and Research at the University is not organizationally affiliated with The University of Iowa Foundation, in spirit and in mission they have much in common. Both are charged with enthusiasm about the excellence of the University and the scholarly, research, teaching, and creative activities of its faculty and students. And both are enduringly committed to helping the University's faculty and students fulfill the potential that is promised them by the achievements of a productive past and a vigorous present. With this in mind, the Foundation is including in this year's annual report examples* of support funds from private agencies across the nation that were received by the University during 1976 as a result of the talents and efforts of its faculty and staff with the service and assistance of the Office of the Vice President for Educational Development and Research. These support funds totaled more than $5.1 million.

There is no question that the very bedrock of financial support for our University is received from the citizens of our state through appropriations of their legislature, from our students through their tuition, and from the people of our nation through acts of Congress and federal agencies. However, the importance of those support funds received from private individuals and organizations in this state in gifts to The University of Iowa Foundation, and of those moneys received from private national foundations, businesses, and voluntary health agencies in grants and contracts channeled through the Office of the Vice President for Educational Development and Research, cannot be overemphasized.

These private support funds provide opportunities for the development of projects and ideas that give the University an added margin for excellence, and expand the dimensions of our services to the people of Iowa. They permit us to provide new paths, new ventures, new alternatives too untried for public support but too important as future solutions to go untried. They make that difference which enables The University of Iowa to continue to deserve the respect that it has earned during its 130-year history.

Duane C. Spriestersbach
Vice President for Educational Development and Research

*Examples of gifts received through the Office of the Vice President for Educational Development and Research appear on pp. 7, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 20.

Reaching Out to (and through) the University's Students and Faculty

Student Financial Aid

One of every two students on the Iowa campus holds a full-time or part-time job. But there are not enough work hours, nor enough jobs, to pay all the bills. Having enough money available for students who deserve loans, special grants or scholarships is a top priority challenge for the University and for the Foundation. Your personal gifts for student aid reach out to secure the future for the University's most important people.

In cooperation with the University's Office of Student Financial Aids, the Foundation now administers more than 370 gift-based funds which directly help students.

A few examples from 1976:

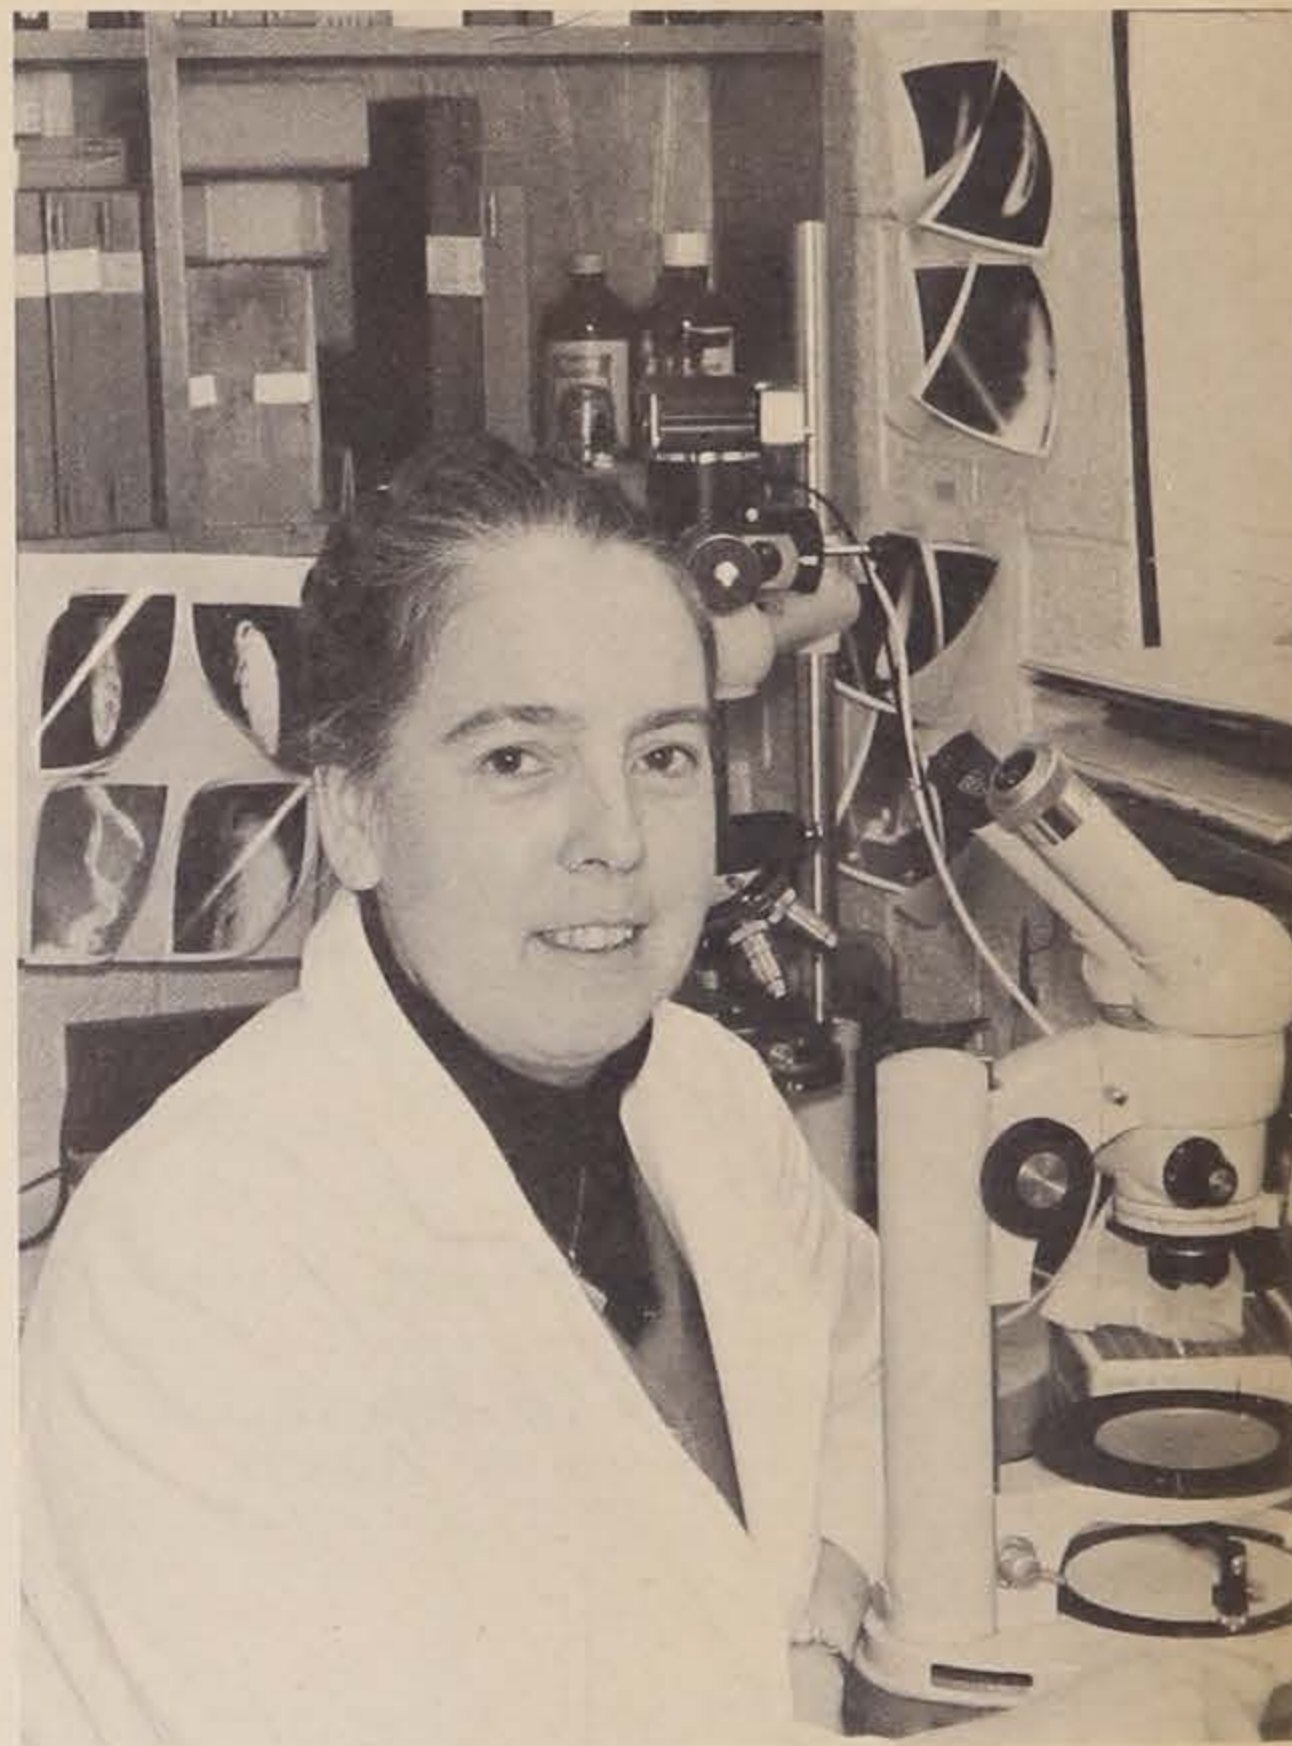

- To honor their retired executive committee chairman, American Hospital Supply corporation established the Christian G. "Dutch" Schmidt Scholarship Fund. Two $500 awards will be provided to deserving undergraduates each fall as a tribute to Schmidt (1934 B.S.), who lettered in four varsity sports and later coached baseball at Iowa.
- Twenty-five academically outstanding students received $100 U of I Foundation Scholarships each semester in 1976. They were chosen from more than 1,000 students participating in the University's Honors Program. These scholarships are among many made possible by gifts designated by contributors for general "student financial aid."
- To provide future generous support for student financial aid, a friend of the University established a $50,000 charitable remainder annuity trust which one day will help a number of incoming freshmen pay tuition expenses.

Gifts for Faculty Development

For excellence in teaching and scholarship, the University depends fundamentally on its faculty. Iowa's long tradition of professional and academic leadership has been enhanced many times through private support. Through their achievements, faculty members reach far beyond the University's campus. Beyond disseminating information, they strive to advance knowledge.

Your contributions for faculty development help provide Iowa's faculty with time for research, course development, additional study, and preparation in new or different fields of value to the University.

The University's concern for faculty support is demonstrated in programs such as one in 1976 which through the general educational fund, provided developmental assignments for 77 faculty members. These one-semester projects provided sustained time for pursuing new developments in knowledge and teaching. They included the completion of a book on U.S. economic policy, a study of the medical ethics of life prolongation, and the development of ways to use time more efficiently with greater attention to artistic development in the University's theatre program.

Fully or partially endowed professorships and faculty chairs recognize and attract distinguished faculty. Support for named professorships, either through outright gifts, or through bequests, is a significant way to enhance the academic standing of the University. Several University-wide Carver Professorships, endowed by Roy J. Carver, of Muscatine, Iowa, are strengthening the University in this excellent way. In 1976, William O. Aydelotte, professor of history, was appointed as the eighth Carver Distinguished Professor. In addition, the fully endowed Roy J. Carver Professorship of Internal Medicine continues to be held by Dr. James A. Clifton, in the College of Medicine.

"Today, the increasing diversity of our student body is reflected in our enrollment. Seventy-five percent of the on-campus enrollment growth over the past five years is due to increases in part-time students. Last year 4,305 students enrolled in off-campus courses and 2,398 in correspondence courses. Noncredit programs through the Office of Conferences and Institutes and other workshops enrolled 35,000 students both on and off the campus."

—President Willard L. Boyd

Honor student Steven Untiedt of Waterloo, Iowa, received one of 25 Foundation Honors Scholarships for the second semester of the 1975-76 academic year. Steven is a senior majoring in political science.

In 1976 the income from a very large bequest made to The University of Iowa in 1945 continued to provide funds for vital faculty support. The John F. Murray Endowment Fund provides funds for scholarships, professorships and visiting lecture programs in Business, Journalism and Law. In 1976 the Murray Professor of Law was Arthur E. Bonfield and Murray Professors in Business were William R. Kinney, Jr. (Accounting) and Walter Krause (Economics). In the School of Journalism, Murray funds were used to bring a number of distinguished visiting lecturers to the Iowa campus.

Another goal in fostering faculty vigor is to encourage professional exchanges with other academic institutions, government and the private sector so that new ideas and approaches will be brought to the campus both by visitors and by returning faculty. Such meaningful exchanges are centered in a concept called University House, where curricular and scholarly development take place as faculty and visiting experts assemble to build on ideas beyond their own disciplines. Your gifts for faculty development strengthen University House.

In 1976 the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, of New York, granted $375,000 through the University's Office for Educational Development and Research to bring faculty from private Iowa colleges to the U of I campus to participate in the faculty vitality programs of University House. The three-year grant will allow participants to engage in study, research and curricular improvement projects with University of Iowa faculty members.

Programs involving visiting professors and lecturers, seminars and conferences often are initiated or sustained through gifts. Throughout this report you will see that private support is strengthening the University by strengthening its faculty. By fostering faculty vitality, you help sustain an environment which inspires students.

"The University community's greatest export is its students."

—President Willard L. Boyd

Your Gifts at Work: Examples from 1976

The University of Iowa Libraries

At the vital center of The University of Iowa is its library system. The University's current resources are vast—but they must be maintained and increased to keep pace with needs. This is a challenge which can be met only with your assistance.

You can support the Libraries through membership in the Friends of the University of Iowa Libraries, or through other gifts to the Foundation such as gifts for acquisitions and subscriptions or gifts of rare and valuable books.

In 1976, for the Libraries' Special Collections, the membership of Friends purchased Papermaking by Hand in America, by David Hunter. This unique acquisition represents the Libraries' two millionth volume. The holdings of the University of Iowa Libraries in the category of special collections constitute the finest assemblage of notable books and manuscripts in the state. The continued growth of these collections depends primarily on the goodwill and generosity of donors.

Among several major 1976 contributors to the Libraries were Dr. John Martin, of Clarinda, Iowa, who presented noteworthy additions to the History of Medicine Collection which bears his name in the Health Sciences Library; and Mrs. Laurence R. Fairall, of Des Moines, Iowa, who has presented many notable books to the University Libraries' art books collection. Dr. Martin and Mrs. Fairall are members of The Presidents Club (p. 28), as is the late Mr. Fairall, in memoriam.

In May of 1976 the University launched an oral history project in which tape recordings will be made of extensive interviews with some 50 individuals who have made significant contributions to the University's historical development. Private gifts are helping accomplish the project, which will result in typed material bound and indexed in the Libraries for future historians of the University.

In 1976, following an on-campus conference of the National Historical Publications and Records Commission, private gifts helped develop a book entitled The Publication of American Historical Manuscripts. Currently the University is seeking funds to help publish a second volume, Guide to Resources for the Study of Recent American History in Libraries of The University of Iowa, The Iowa State Historical Society, and in the Herbert Hoover Presidential Library. This new publication will document the composite strength of these libraries and their holdings as a significant national resource for materials on recent American history.

Papermaking by Hand in America was the U of I Libraries' 2,000,000th volume.

Computer Based Instruction

Computer assisted or computer managed instruction provides students with specialized, individually paced course work and helpful simulations. At the same time it frees faculty time to utilize uniquely human teaching and counseling talents. If The University of Iowa is to maintain or improve its position relative to other institutions, it must become increasingly involved in the development and utilization of computers. The cost will be high, but to keep pace, the University must adapt to this new technology.

In 1976 the University received $42,646 directly from the Exxon Education Foundation to help make Iowa's excellent computer assisted instruction materials available to other academic institutions. The Exxon grant was channeled to the University through CONDUIT, an organization funded by the National Science Foundation to encourage the national distribution of computer based curriculum material.

Advancing the Health Center

In advancing the Health Center at The University of Iowa, the contributions of alumni and friends play a pivotal role. The costs of education, research and service in the health areas are great, but so are the achievements, which are vital to us all.

Michael New (1964 B.A., 1967 M.A.), who joined the Foundation staff in July to coordinate fund raising efforts for the Health Center, can help you plan your gift to achieve its maximum effectiveness. Last year private gifts had a significant impact throughout the Health Center. The following examples are among many 1976 contributions which will be felt across the state of Iowa and beyond its borders:

A number of contributions were received to help the Health Sciences Library keep pace with the need for books and periodicals related to health information and research. Rare books were contributed by Dr. John Martin, of Clarinda, Iowa (p.10); and a sizable contribution of funds for the Library was made by Presidents Club member Dr. Paul C. Gauchat, of Warren, Ohio, in memory of his son, Dr. Robert D. Gauchat, who was a professor in the Department of Pediatrics at the time of his death in 1973. Nearly half the cost of the Health Sciences Library, which opened in 1974, was raised through a private gifts campaign.

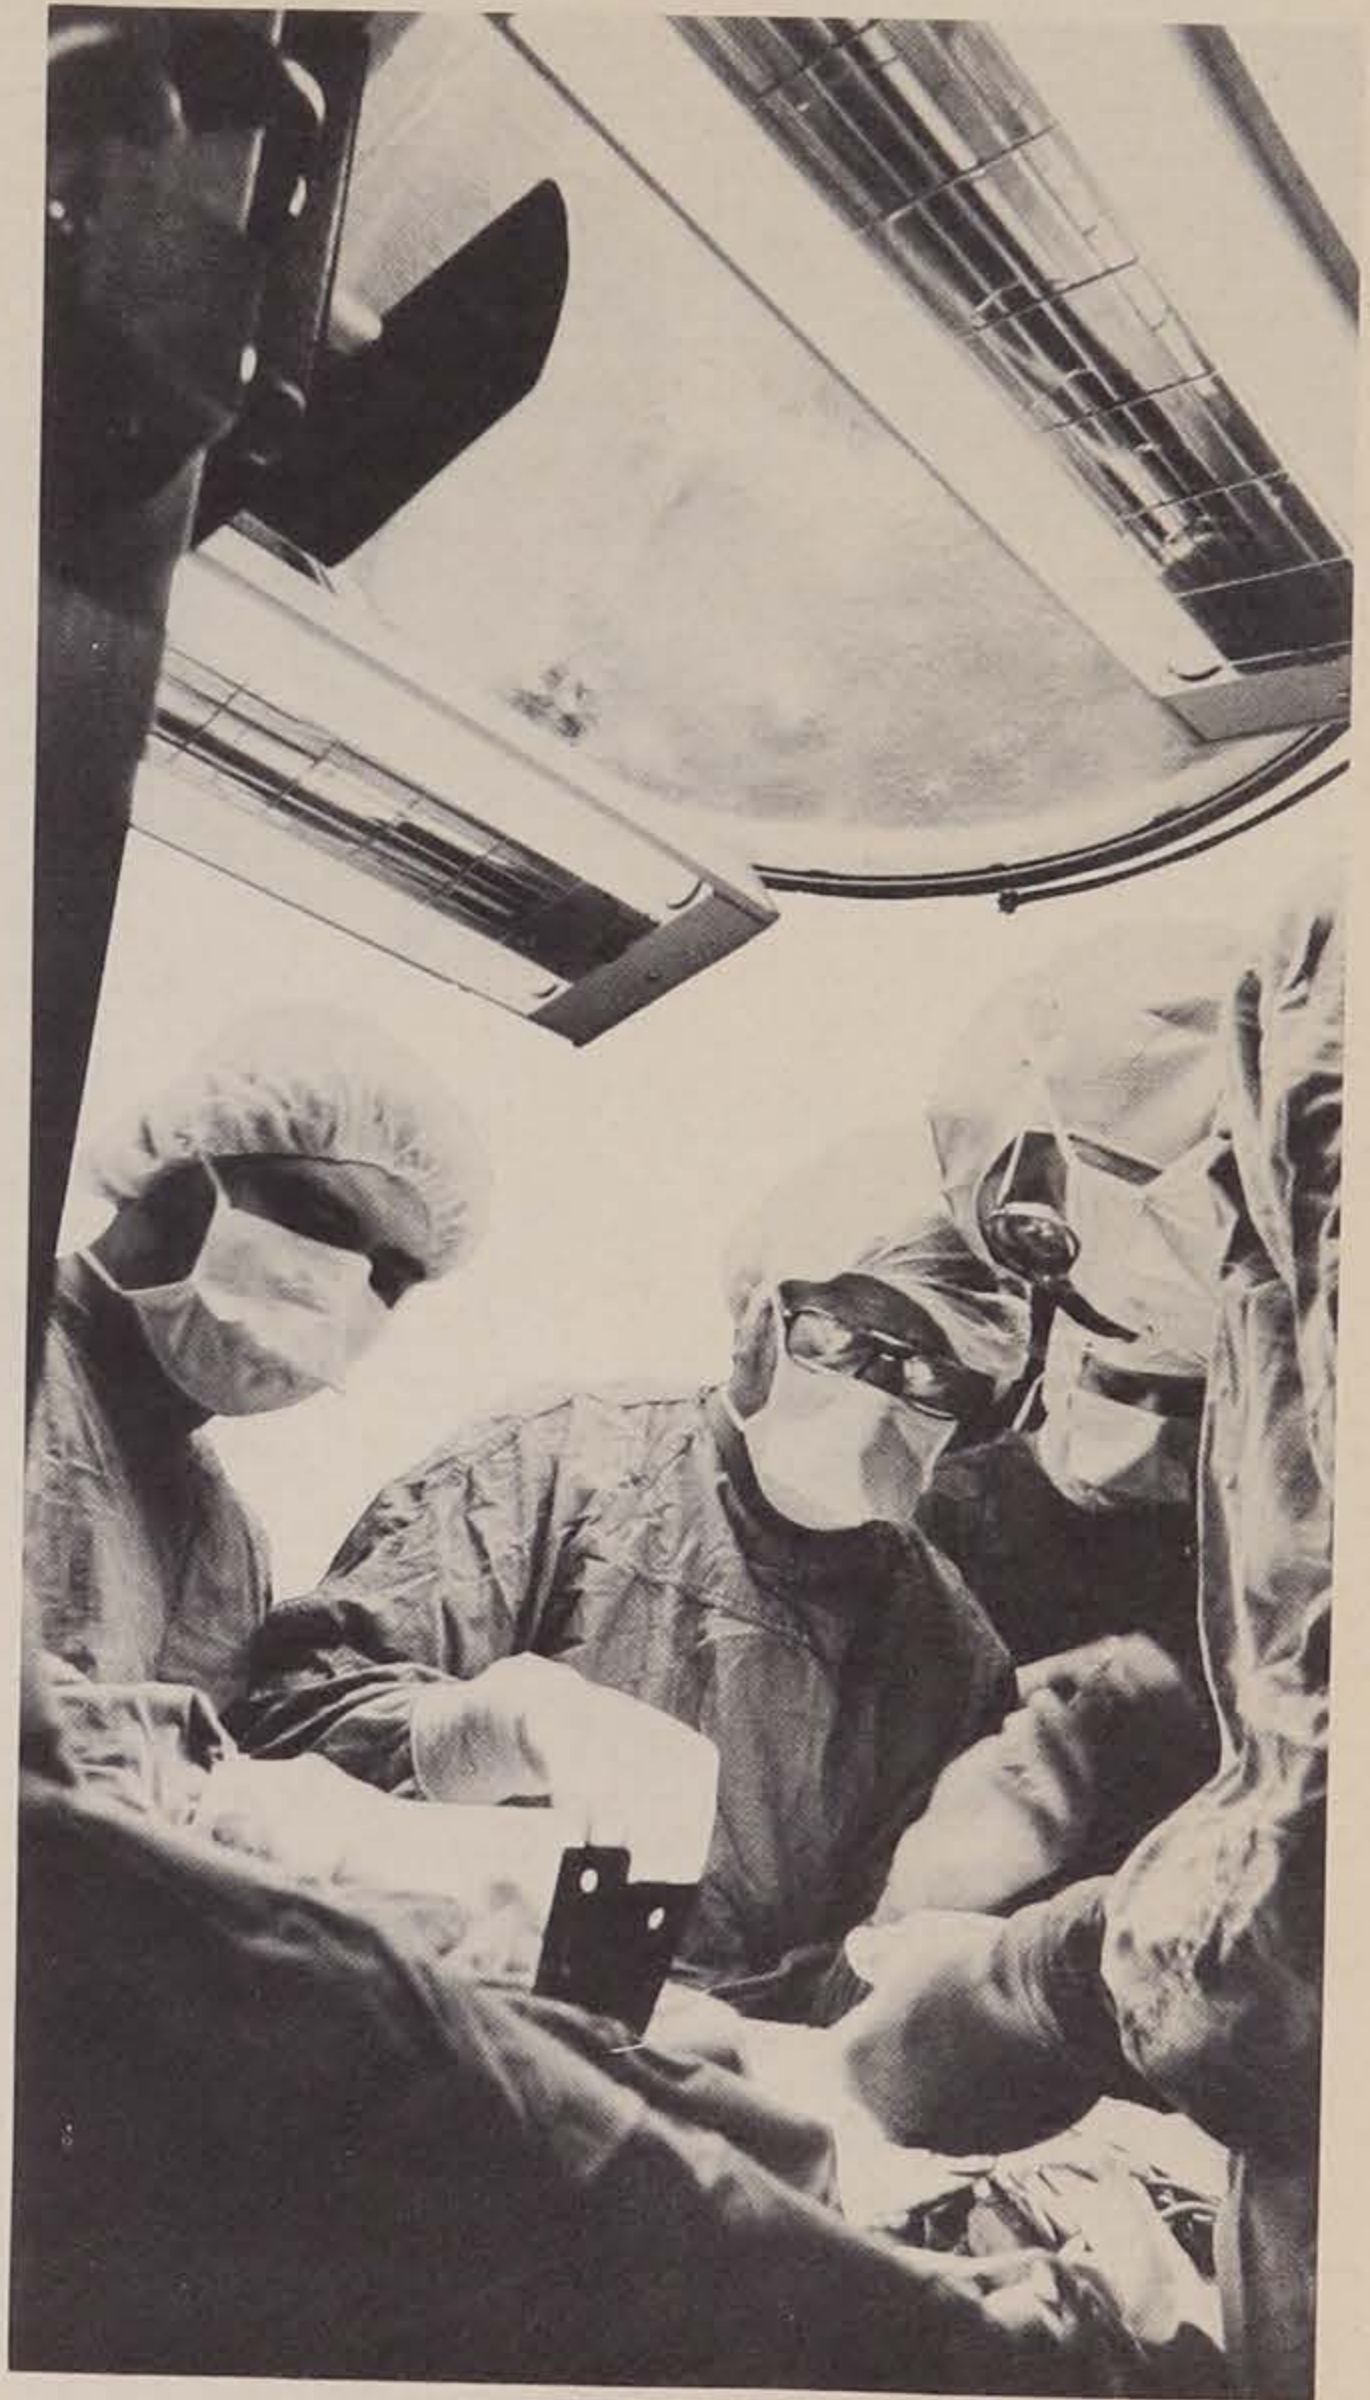

Research throughout the Health Center is assisted generously by many non-profit agencies and health professional associations which annually contribute directly to the University. For example, in 1976 the American Cancer Society provided a grant of $106,250 for research on estrogen and breast cancer.

The University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics

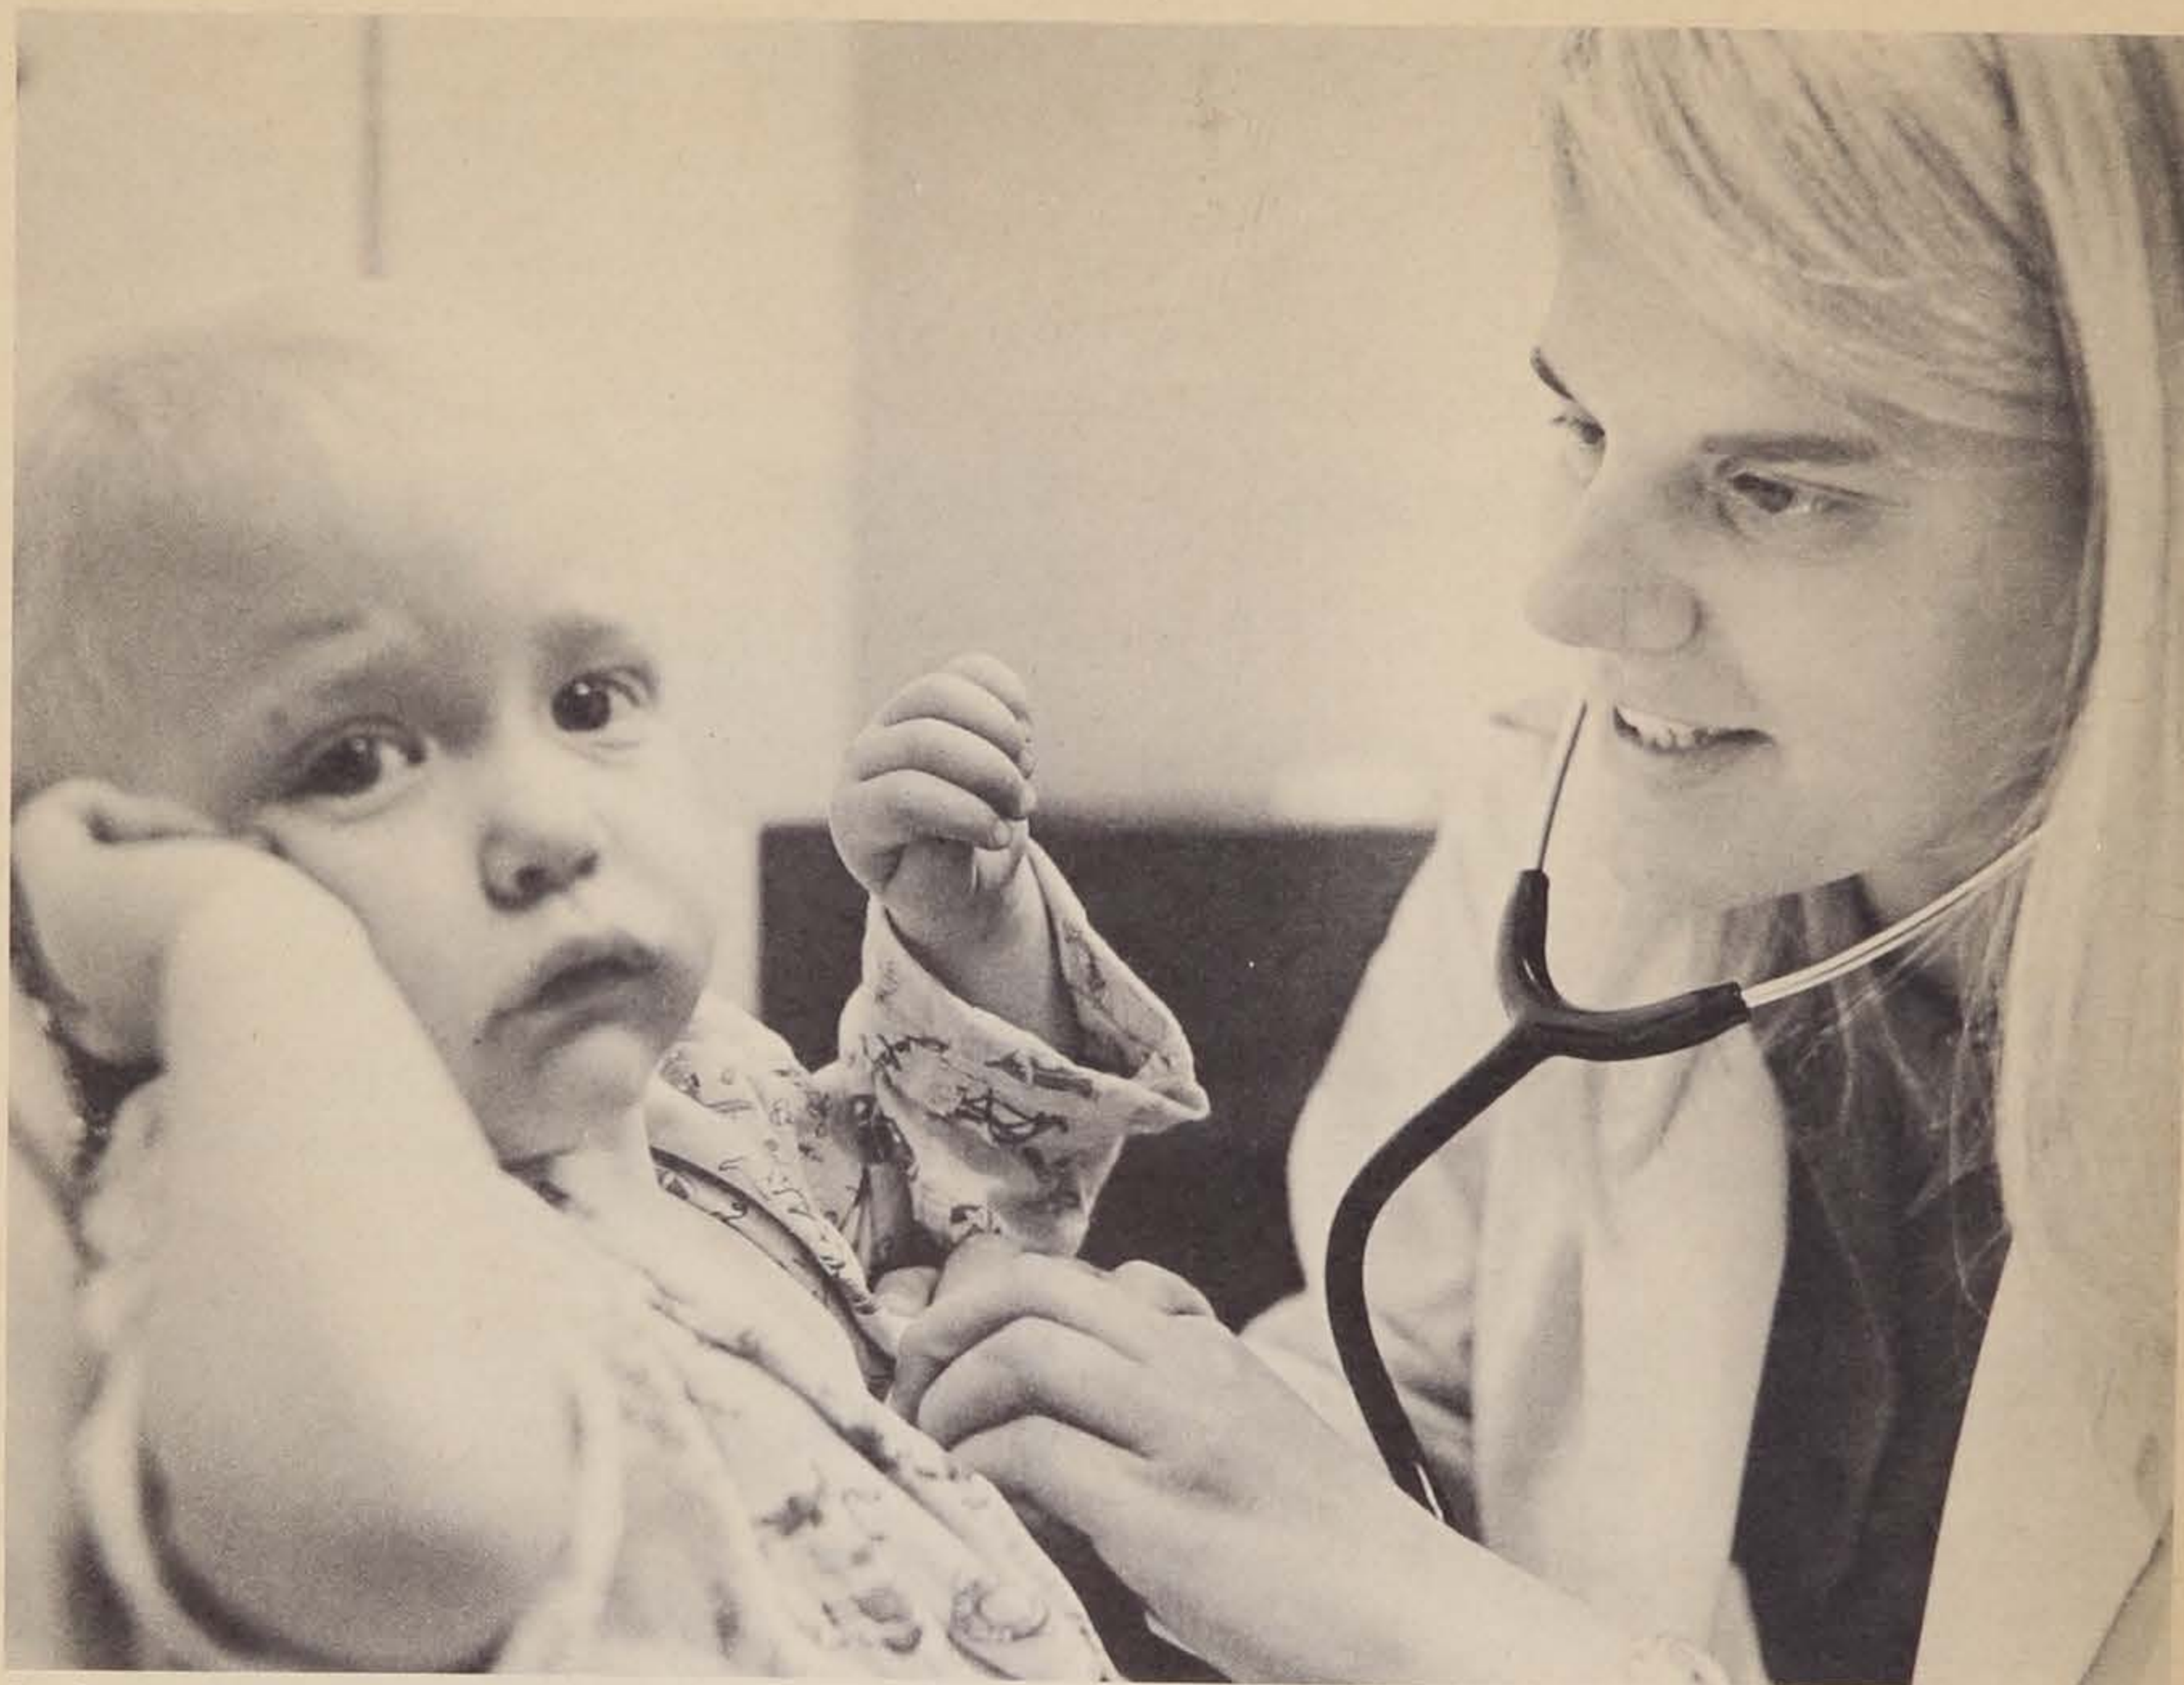

A major 1976 gift to the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics which does not show in dollar totals was one of volunteer time—255 persons contributed more than 19,600 hours of service to patients, visitors and staff members.

The Len G. McGilliard Memorial Fund was established as a memorial tribute to an Iowa State University student who was a leukemia patient at the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics. Gifts from Len's family and friends plus funds raised by Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity and Kappa Delta Sorority on the Ames campus will be used by the University for cancer research.

Among many other achievements resulting from private support was the completion of a $300,000 Cornea Center, provided through generous gifts to the Department of Ophthalmology from Iowa's 365 Lions Clubs.

Work progressed rapidly on the $16 million Roy J. Carver Pavilion, Phase II of the Hospital Capital Development Program. To set the construction project in motion, Muscatine industrialist Roy Carver contributed $2 million in 1974 as part of his $3.7 million gift to advance the Health Center. In 1976, construction began on a 750-stall parking ramp to be linked to the Pavilion by a "skyway." The Carver Pavilion, when completed in 1978, will house 150 patient beds, facilities for the Orthopaedics and Neurology Departments and clinics for the Psychiatric and Physical Therapy Departments. The new building also will have space for patient rehabilitation support services, and it will feature a multi-specialty Trauma and Emergency Treatment Center, including an adjacent heliport to receive patients airlifted from around the state and region.

Fourth-year medical student Patricia Bloom checks a tiny heartbeat.

The College of Medicine

In 1976 short-term loans were made available to 29 medical students from the Barry Freeman Memorial Fund, which also provided assistance for summer research fellowships and for the refurbishing of the student lounge in the College of Medicine. Established in 1972 as a tribute to the memory of medical student Barry Freeman, the growing Freeman Fund is representative of named student financial aid funds throughout the Health Center which help provide needed resources for deserving medical students. Barry Freeman's parents, Robert E. (1950 B.A.) and Marion Freeman, of Des Moines, are members of The Presidents Club, and Barry is an in memoriam member.

Following the death in December of Harold S. Brady (1934 B.S.), of Chicago, his family and friends endowed a scholarship fund for first-year medical students at The University of Iowa. The Harold S. Brady Memorial Scholarship in Medicine will provide an annual award of $3,000 or more on the basis of financial need. Mrs. Brady is a member of The Presidents Club and Mr. Brady is a member in memoriam.

A new memorial loan fund for medical students was established in 1976 by the friends, family and colleagues of Dr. Donald I. Wikstrom (1970 M.D.), who died in an airplane crash. The Wikstrom Fund also will provide one or more annual scholarships to students in the College of Medicine.

Last fall the first Andrew Woods Visiting Professor, Sir Martin Roth, professor and head of the Department of Psychological Medicine at the University of Newcastle-Upon-Tyne, England, presented four lectures during a week-long visit to the Iowa campus. The professorship was established through memorial gifts by the family of Dr. Woods, who was a pioneer in Iowa's Department of Psychiatry.

In February, Dr. Gerhard Hartman, chairman of the U of I Graduate Program in Hospital and Health Administration and director of University Hospitals from 1946-1971, was honored by alumni and friends with gifts for an endowed professorship in his name. It will be the first endowed chair for hospital and health administration in the nation. Both Dr. and Mrs. Hartman are members of The Presidents Club.

The Edna McConnell Clark Foundation of New York contributed $97,020 directly to the University for research in the College of Medicine on a vaccine for Schistosomiasis, a dread disease that affects those living in tropical areas, particularly those in the undeveloped countries.

Last year, preliminary steps were taken to launch a statewide program in which Iowa's 4-H Clubs will be invited to become "Partners in Iowa Health Care" by raising and contributing funds to the Department of Pediatrics through the Iowa Children's Research Fund. This new fund will support research to benefit health care for children in Iowa.

A three-year grant of $434,400 from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation, of Battle Creek, Michigan, was received in 1976 through the Office for Educational Development and Research for a Model Regional Primary Care Program. The funds support the College of Medicine's goal of developing, in Red Oak, Iowa, a model for improving accessibility to primary medical services of high quality in geographically isolated areas. In addition, the Kellogg Foundation granted more than $387,000 to the College to continue development of a health-care delivery model in the Muscatine, Iowa, Community Health Center.

The College of Dentistry

In the College of Dentistry, several sizable contributions to help deserving students through scholarship and loan funds were received in 1976. Giving early impetus to a silver anniversary dental class gift planned for 1979, Captain Franklin Ruliffson (1949 L.A., 1954 D.D.S.) made the initial gift to the Class of 1954 Dental Student Loan Fund.

Dr. Richard M. Nelson (1958 D.D.S.), of Parker, Colorado, created the Nelson Student Loan Fund in the College of Dentistry, and Dr. Lawrence T. Engman (1958 D.D.S.), of Englewood, Colorado, created the Lawrence Engman Tuition Loan Fund. Both of these distinguished alumni qualified for membership in The Presidents Club.

The Susan McGinnis Memorial Fund was created by her parents, William and Marian McGinnis, of Ainsworth, Iowa, to provide flexible resources for the Department of Dental Hygiene. Susan, a 1971 graduate of that department, died in an accident in 1973.

A major gift to the College of Dentistry, which also was one of the largest outright gift commitments in the Foundation's history, was a ten-year pledge of support by Sutherland Dows, Jr. and his wife, Judith (1965 M.A.), of Aspen, Colorado. Their pledge, which eventually will bring about $1 million to the College, established the Dows Institute for Dental Research as a tribute to the memory of Dows' mother, Frances M. Dows, of Cedar Rapids. Both Sutherland and Judith Dows are members of The Presidents Club.

The College of Pharmacy

A number of generous research grants from pharmaceutical firms in 1976 enhanced programs and projects in the College of Pharmacy. For example, Marion Laboratories, Inc., of Kansas City, Missouri, continued its generous support of research on the bioavailability and efficacy of various drugs used for heart diseases. These research grants are received through the University's Office for Educational Development and Research.

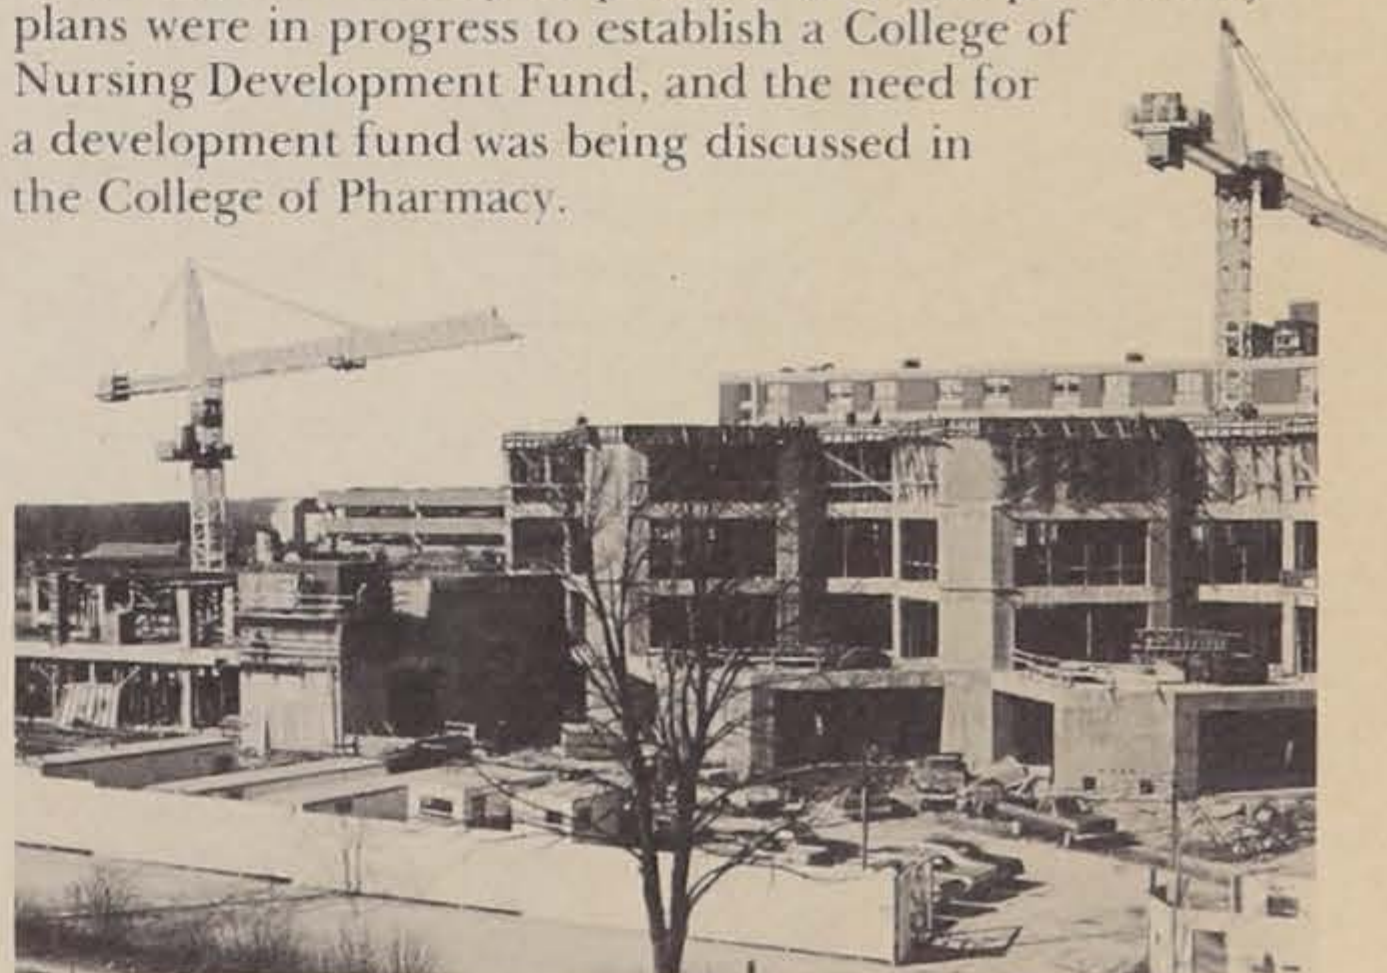

The College of Nursing

A charitable remainder annuity trust which eventually will provide scholarships for students in the College of Nursing was established in 1976 by Thomas G. Relihan in honor of his late wife, Alice D. Skedine Relihan (1931 G.N.). Mr. Relihan, of York, Pennsylvania, qualified as a member of The Presidents Club, and Alice Skedine Relihan is an in memoriam member.

The Kelting Endowed Chair in Nursing was established to encourage further excellence in teaching at the undergraduate level in the College. The chair will be a memorial tribute to John Christian Kelting and Catharine Meeder Kelting, who are in memoriam members of The Presidents Club.

Annual Development Funds in the Health Colleges

The number of contributors and level of giving to the annual development funds in both the College of Dentistry (Dental Achievement Fund) and the College of Medicine (Development Fund) continued to grow in 1976. These annual funds, initiated only a few years ago, are providing a broad base of flexible support for these two colleges. The funds provide resources of seed money for research, student assistance, faculty development, and equipment and facilities not covered by tax and tuition dollars. Special impetus was given to the success of the College of Dentistry Achievement Fund in 1976 by a generous challenge grant in which Dr. Charles W. Crowe (1927 D.D.S.) pledged up to $25,000 to match all new or increased dental gifts. The Crowe Challenge boosted participation in the Dental Achievement Fund by 60 percent. In 1976, preliminary plans were in progress to establish a College of Nursing Development Fund, and the need for a development fund was being discussed in the College of Pharmacy.

Construction work progresses on the Carver Pavilion addition to the U of I

The Iowa Center for the Arts

In addition to its unique educational mission, the Iowa Center for the Arts is a major source of cultural outreach to the people of Iowa and the Midwest. Last year nearly 300,000 people were attracted to its theatres, concert halls, museums and galleries. And importantly, nearly 1,800 undergraduate and graduate students were enrolled as majors in the University's exceptional programs in the fine arts.

The arts at Iowa traditionally have been among its crowning achievements. Private gifts are needed to stimulate creativity in the University's future, as in its past. In addition, your support is needed to provide outreach funds to allow the arts at Iowa to be enjoyed beyond the Iowa campus. Here are some examples from 1976:

Following a special competition, gifts provided funds for materials and the installation of a monumental sculpture to represent the fine arts at Iowa. A young Iowa sculptor, Luther E. Utterback (1970 B.F.A., 1972 M.A., 1973 M.F.A.), was commissioned to execute his winning design. The 140-ton sculpture, composed of four massive rectangular limestone blocks, is located northeast of Hancher Auditorium on rolling ground near the Iowa River.

In 1976 Hancher Auditorium continued to bring outstanding performing artists to the campus and the region, and at the same time it offered Iowa students unlimited opportunities for experience in technical and performance areas. American opera star Beverly Sills, the City Center Joffrey Ballet, the London Philharmonic, and pianist Vladimir Horowitz were among the many artists who thrilled Hancher audiences during the year. To maintain the level and quality of visiting artists, Hancher Auditorium needs your gift support. You can provide funds for overall programming or to help sponsor specific artists or productions.

Iowa Center for the Arts performances in Hancher Auditorium, at Clapp and Harper Recital Halls, at Mabie Theatre, and at Studios I and II reinforced the University's national reputation of educational and creative excellence in the performing arts. For example, in 1976 a University-produced film of the U of I Orchestra's performance of Alexander Scriabin's Prometheus was shown nationwide on CBS's "Camera Three." On the night of the acclaimed performance, which included multicolored laser projections, more than 1,000 people who waited outside a full Hancher Auditorium were admitted later for an unprecedented repeat performance.

A major event in the Iowa Center for the Arts in 1976 was the opening in September of the Carver Wing addition to the Museum of Art. More than 800 people attended the formal dedication of the Wing, and more than 15,000 visited the opening exhibitions. The Carver Wing, which expands by approximately 13,000 square feet the Museum's facilities for the preparation and installation of exhibitions, is the result of a $1.2 million gift from Muscatine industrialist Roy J. Carver, a distinguished member of The Presidents Club. The new addition includes the large Carver gallery, for the display of paintings and sculpture, an outdoor sculpture court, additional storage, office and working space, and a well-equipped center for the viewing, storage and research of prints. A Lasansky Room in the print center houses prints by University artist Mauricio Lasansky given to the Museum by Presidents Club members Dr. and Mrs. Webster B. Gelman, of Iowa City. The room also displays, on special sliding panels, Lasansky's Nazi Drawings, on loan from the Richard S. Levitt Foundation of Des Moines. The Levitt Foundation qualified for membership in 1976 for The Presidents Club Associates, and Richard Levitt (1952 B.A., 1954 J.S.) and his wife, Jeanne (1952 B.A.), accepted membership in The Presidents Club.

Membership in Friends of the Museum of Art climbed rapidly in 1976. More than 80 persons initiated their support in just the last three months of the year, following the Carver Wing opening. Membership gifts help make possible special exhibitions, educational programs, and acquisitions for the permanent collections. In April Friends sponsored its first purchase party and presented to the Museum eight prints, including works by Bruegel and Hogarth.

Gifts of any size to The University of Iowa Foundation to be used for the Museum of Art Acquisition Fund will help the Museum build its permanent collection. Gifts sufficient in size to purchase a work of art will carry the name of the donor in catalogues and on the object itself. In 1976 the Museum received a grant of $10,000 from the National Endowment for the Arts for the purchase of works by living American artists. Because the grant is being made on a matching-gift basis, we urge your gift support for the Museum's Acquisition Fund in 1977—your dollars will be doubled.

Among many important gifts of art to the Museum in 1976 were those from Mr. and Mrs. George Rickey and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eyerly. Presidents Club member George Rickey, an internationally known sculptor, and Mrs. Rickey, presented to the Museum 25 Northwest Coast Indian art objects, a drypoint by Edvard Munch, a woodcut by Käthe Kollwitz, a watercolor landscape by Iva Albright, and 15 Japanese prints. The Frank Eyerlys, of Des Moines, also members of The Presidents Club, continued their giving to the Museum by contributing a pastel on paper, Children Playing, Washington Square, by William Glackens.

The University of Iowa's Symphony Orchestra performs in the New England Conservatory of Music's Jordan Hall during the World Music Days festival in Boston in October, 1976. The orchestra was one of three orchestras invited to participate in the international festival which featured works by composers from 28 countries and the U.S.

Two long-time supporters of the arts at The University of Iowa were among a group honored by Iowa's Governor Robert Ray and the Iowa Arts Council in 1976 for contributions to the arts in the state. In accepting the honor, James S. Schramm and Dorothy Schramm, of Burlington, Iowa, described the arts as "pictures which have shed their frames. . . Our arts and our living are one and the same. We must feel a part of our environment, sense the flow between ourselves and the landscape, live in the street rather than behind locked doors, realize that everything we do is music We must shed our frames."

Mr. and Mrs. Schramm are members of The Presidents Club of The University of Iowa.

In the Department of Speech and Dramatic Art, $300 memorial scholarships were awarded for the first time from the Dorothy Guthrie Theatre Fund and from the John Zgud Memorial Fund in Theatre. In November, a special "Scholarship Night" benefit production of The Glass Menagerie added funds to the Guthrie and Zgud Funds. Both Mrs. Guthrie (1924 B.A., 1926 M.A.) and Mr. Zgud (1973 M.F.A.) died in 1975. Also awarded for the first time in 1976 was a scholarship for undergraduate students of dramatic writing for stage, television and film, endowed by best-selling author Nicholas Meyer (1968 B.A.), a member of The Presidents Club.

A unique achievement in the School of Music expanded the cultural outreach of the Iowa Center for the Arts and attracted national attention in October when the University of Iowa Symphony Orchestra was one of only three United States orchestras invited to perform at the 1976 world festival of the International Society for Contemporary Music held in Boston. This was the first time in the festival's 54-year history that it was held in this country. Other orchestras performing were the renowned Boston Symphony and the New England Conservatory Symphony Orchestra. Many alumni, friends and organizations contributed to the University Symphony Fund through the Foundation to help send Iowa's student orchestra to Boston for this signal honor. In addition, the Foundation sponsored a reception for the students following their outstanding performance.

Richard Dyer, music critic for the Boston Globe, said the University of Iowa Orchestra

"came, played and conquered. . . . And the orchestra did it the hard way, playing difficult new music for the small but exceptionally demanding audience. . . . This was the audience that cheered and whistled and stood to shout 'bravo' at the end of the concert."

Affiliated with the School of Music, the Center for New Performing Arts (CNPA) provides special support for innovative interdisciplinary programs in the arts. Areas of current ongoing support include the Center for New Music, Laser Art Technology, the CNPA Visiting Artists Program, and projects in art, theater, dance, film and music. Additional funds provided through private gifts would allow the CNPA to stimulate new projects involving two or more units of the Iowa Center for the Arts. Funds also are needed to bring the added expertise of visiting artists to the campus for involvement in original projects. Creative ideas for original works and projects abound on the Iowa campus. Your gifts can bring them to life.

Iowa's strength in the arts was further recognized in 1976 when University President Willard L. Boyd was appointed by President Ford to the National Council on the Arts. Currently Mr. Boyd is the only university president on the Council, which is an advisory body to the National Endowment for the Arts.

In 1976 The University of Iowa initiated a degree-granting program in Dance. A full spectrum of theory and technique courses are offered to the men and women enrolled in the program. The U of I Dance Company, which appears in its own productions as well as in interdepartmental presentations during the year, is enriched by the visits of professional dancers, choreographers and leading dance companies who are brought to the campus through the Visiting Artists Program of the Center for New Performing Arts or through Hancher Auditorium's programs. They come not only to perform, but often to provide lecture demonstrations and classes. The dance program needs gift support to provide funds for scholarships and to sponsor artists in residence.

For Opera Theater, which is greatly assisted by private gift support, 1976 was a year of excitement. Outstanding Iowa Center for the Arts productions of Prokofiev's The Love for Three Oranges and Carlisle Floyd's Susannah in Hancher Auditorium brought attention to growing achievements in opera at Iowa. The Opera Theater also launched an innovative outreach program to provide performance opportunities for students and additional access to cultural events for Iowa communities. In 1976 Professor Herald I. Stark (1934 M.A.), who served with distinction on the School of Music's faculty for 44 years, retired. One of his former students and faculty colleagues, Professor Robert W. Eckert (1951 M.F.A.), was appointed as his successor in the Fisher Chair in Opera, which receives generous annual support from Presidents Club member J.W. Fisher, of Marshalltown, Iowa.

The Opera Theater can be further enhanced by your gift support. For example, your contributions for opera stage sets can expose student performers and technicians to professional standards of production.

In the School of Art and Art History, an Art Building studio was remodeled and opened in 1976 as the Eve Drewelowe Gallery. The gallery is named to honor professional painter Eve Drewelowe, the first recipient of an M.A. degree in studio art from The University of Iowa, in 1924. Eve Drewelowe and her husband, Dr. Jacob Van Ek, of Boulder, Colorado, recently contributed funds to build in the future a new gallery to exhibit student artwork. They both are members of The Presidents Club. Also during the past year, the Foundation began to receive gifts to help match a $150,000 Ford Foundation Grant which is being used in the School of Art and Art History for financial aid and for visiting artists in studio art. Because your gift or pledge to the Ford Foundation Matching Grant fund will have a double impact, we urge your support this year.

More than 42 generous individuals, corporations and foundations, as well as the Department of State and the University, helped the International Writing Program flourish in 1976. Added to the 1976 literary and translation achievements of its participants from 24 nations and its alumni from around the world, were the accomplishments of the Program's directors, Paul and Hualing Nieh Engle. Jointly they published Writing from the World, which represents nine years of writing from the International Writing Program and translations from 43 languages in poetry, fiction and articles. Paul Engle discussed his newly published Women in the American Revolution on the Today Show, and Hualing Nieh Engle completed page 1,700 of her immense work, Literature of the Hundred Flowers.

In a 1976 letter to the Engles, at the end of his participation in the International Writing Program, Waclaw Sadkowski of Poland said,

"Now I understand why we have in Poland many more books, written by highly respected authors, about Iowa and the Iowans than about any other town or cultural center in the United States. . . . I hope to show the literary audience in my country (and, I hope, in other countries as well!) that a unique event on the world literary stage has happened in Iowa City, in the heart of the United States. It is called the International Writing Program."

The University of Iowa Press, which receives assistance through the Foundation, continues to publish excellent works on a campus distinguished for its publications. In 1976, the Press published a new color edition of Mauricio Lasansky's The Nazi Drawings, with drawing number 30, "Triptych," reproduced for the first time. Also published was Mark Twain Speaking, edited by Paul Fatout, which comprises the most complete published collection of Twain's lectures, after-dinner speeches and interviews from 1864-1901. The Black Velvet Girl, a collection of 13 short stories by C. E. Poverman, was published in 1976 as the seventh annual winner of the $1,000 Iowa School of Letters Award for Short Fiction. The prize money was contributed in 1976 by the Iowa Arts Council. In addition to outstanding literary publications, the University of Iowa Press produced in 1976 an impressive stereo L.P. recording, "Sounding Brass." In it, School of Music faculty in the Iowa Brass Quintet perform the finest brass music from Renaissance to contemporary.

The University of Iowa Press merits your support, which will be especially helpful during the next few years as the Press develops its book inventory. You also may provide subventions for particular publications such as the annual short fiction award, which can be named to honor a generous contributor, or Iowa Translations Series books, which acquaint western audiences with contemporary poetry from lesser-known languages. The Foundation staff can provide you with information on gift opportunities for the University of Iowa Press.

Gift Support for Journalism

The School of Journalism in 1976 made preliminary plans to increase its outreach activities and to encourage greater annual gift support to enhance its programs for students and for those already in the profession. Four new and highly qualified faculty members joined the staff in 1976, and Kenneth Starck, the new director as of July 1, spearheaded efforts to revitalize the School in its 52nd year.

The first Fred M. Pownall Scholarship was awarded to an outstanding Journalism student in June from gifts made to honor the former J-School faculty member who published the Daily Iowan from 1929-1955, and who retired as director of University of Iowa Publications in 1957. Jess Gorkin (1936 B.A.), of New York, organized the successful gift campaign, which qualified Mr. Pownall for membership in The Presidents Club. Gorkin, who edits Parade Magazine, is one of Pownall's former students.

Two longtime contributors to the School of Journalism, Richard Spencer III (1943 B.A.), of Colorado Springs, and his wife, Jo Anne, continued to demonstrate their generosity in 1976. They established the Spencer Scholarship Fund in 1965 to provide annual awards to Journalism juniors and seniors. Mr. Spencer, creator of "Herky the Hawk," qualified for The Presidents Club in 1969, and Mrs. Spencer qualified last year.

The Journalism School needs improved facilities, student aid funds (especially for first-year students), faculty development and research support, resources for publications, and equipment funds to update journalism technology.

The College of Business Administration

In 1976 the College of Business Administration Development Fund was established to seek private support for needs such as student financial aid and intern funds, faculty development grants, and research symposia funds. The College also seeks alumni outreach funds to facilitate communications with alumni and refresher programs for graduates throughout the state. Dr. Hadley P. Schaefer, who joined the faculty in August as Associate Dean for Graduate Programs in Business and Professor of Accounting, will help coordinate development efforts for the College.

In 1976 nine women students in the College of Business Administration received Mobil Foundation Grants for study. In addition, Mobil's outstanding Executive Visitation Program, which brings corporate leaders to the campus for informal dialogues with students and faculty, continued in its fourth year. Mobil Foundation, Inc. is a member of The Presidents Club Associates. Many very generous individuals contributed to the College, including Sheldon Rabinowitz (1954 B.S.C.), of Des Moines, and Richard C. LaVelle (1957 B.S.C.), of Oakton, Virginia, who qualified in 1976 for membership in The Presidents Club.

Dean Emeritus Chester A. Phillips died in December, and since that time many of his former students and friends have joined those who contribute regularly toward the endowment of the Phillips Scholarship Fund. The annual Phillips scholarships will be a perpetual tribute to the dean, whose popularity with students and remarkable memory for names became a legend.

The College of Law

With the Second Century Fund drive in its final stages, in 1976 the Iowa Law School Foundation turned its attention to bolstering its annual giving program. Law School Foundation Trustee Joseph Rosenfield (1928 J.D.), of Des Moines, sparked the effort by offering to match the first $50,000 of new or increased annual giving in 1976. Through a strong response to the national campaign, the generous matching gift was captured. In meeting the Rosenfield challenge, alumni and friends of the Law School increased their annual giving by 400 percent over the prior year. Both Mr. and Mrs. Rosenfield are members of The Presidents Club of The University of Iowa.

In 1976 F. Arnold Daum (1932 B.S.C., 1934 J.D.), of Huntington, New York, and Richard S. Levitt (1952 B.A., 1954 J.D.), of Des Moines, qualified for membership in The Presidents Club through gifts to the Iowa Law School Foundation.

The School's challenge for 1977 is to maintain, and hopefully to increase, the level of annual giving established last year. Annual gifts help support a host of important law school programs and activities, including law reviews, moot court, clinic, legal research and writing, trial advocacy and client representation training, student financial aid, continuing legal education and faculty research and professional development.

Mr. Paul Montrone, senior vice president of Wheelabrator-Frye, Inc. of Hampton, New Hampshire, visits a financial accounting class in the College of Business Administration as part of the Mobil Foundation's Visiting Executive Program.

This drawing was created by an elementary school student at Robert Lucas School in Iowa City, after touring Old Capitol.

Old Capitol

In 1976 Iowa's beloved Old Capitol was opened to the public following a six-year restoration effort. The time, energy and material resources of hundreds of dedicated people brought about this singular achievement, which will be appreciated for generations.

"As I review the past six years, I find that my thoughts are concerned with stone, brick, wood and plaster, and that all these are people oriented—it is people who have restored Old Capitol."

—Margaret Keyes, director of Old Capitol

Since the gala dedication of the building on July 3, more than 50,000 visitors have toured Old Capitol—taking away with them a keen sense of Iowa's past, and admiration for the loving craftsmanship which distinguishes the project. In 1976 Old Capitol was designated a National Historic Landmark by the National Park Service, in recognition of its national architectural significance and its impact on architecture in the state.

"Restored as a living landmark, Old Capitol is the symbol of Iowa's past and future frontiers. For each of us, and for all of us, our ideas and our ideals are our new and never-ending frontier."

—Willard L. Boyd, president of The University of Iowa

The project received $400,000 from the Department of Housing and Urban Development and the National Park Service, $360,000 from state funds, and $800,000 from more than 2,000 contributors, either directly as gifts or pledges or as gifts of furnishings. In 1976 a major gift from Mr. and Mrs. Peter F. Bezanson, of Cedar Rapids, provided funds for Old Capitol's Supreme Court Chamber, and the Hall Foundation, of Cedar Rapids, provided for the restoration of the Governor's Office.

The Iowa Children's Project for Old Capitol, coordinated by Mrs. James Van Allen, of Iowa City, drew to a close in 1976. Hundreds of children across the state, assisted by their teachers, enthusiastically completed creative projects to raise funds for the restoration. These children, whose participation is recorded in a special book in Old Capitol, and all other contributors similarly recognized deserve to share great pride.

"But no restoration is ever entirely complete; and as the work goes on and new friends become acquainted with our new Old Capitol, we still count on our friends to continue their interest in this project."

—Mrs. Virgil M. Hancher, chairman of the National Committee for the Restoration of Old Capitol

Operating funds and funds for furnishings and books will continue to be needed for Old Capitol. We encourage your ongoing gift support and invite you to consider making a future substantial contribution to Old Capitol through your will. If you would like Old Capitol to be a part of your estate plan, please contact the Foundation.

President Willard L. Boyd has been appointed to the Commission on Collegiate Athletics for the American Council on Education and to the planning committee for the Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW).

The College of Engineering

The College of Engineering planned in 1976 to expand development activities through the Foundation. Private gifts are needed for graduate and undergraduate student financial assistance, for research projects, for the improvement of laboratories and other facilities and equipment, and for better communication with alumni, industry and prospective students. In 1976 the Exxon USA Foundation qualified for membership in The Presidents Club Associates because of its ongoing high-level support of chemical and mechanical engineering programs in the College. In one of the nation's most generous matching gift programs, both the Exxon Education Foundation and the Exxon USA Foundation match, three to one, gifts made to the University by its employees. The president of Exxon Company, U.S.A., Randall Meyer (1948 B.S.), of Houston, Texas, qualified for membership in The Presidents Club in 1976 through his support of Iowa's College of Engineering. Mr. Meyer also was elected to the U of I Foundation's board of directors last year.

In 1976 the A.P. Sloan Foundation, of New York, made a sizable grant through the University's Office for Educational Development and Research to aid potential engineers from minority groups. The Sloan grant was channeled to the University through the Committee on Institutional Cooperation, the academic association of the Big Ten universities and the University of Chicago.

Men's Intercollegiate Athletics

Last year major athletic events attracted more than 565,000 spectators to the Iowa campus. Iowa achieved its best football record in nine years, won its second straight NCAA Wrestling Championship and achieved 19 victories in basketball.

Private gifts in 1976 continued to play a vital role in helping Iowa's athletic programs build toward their full potential. The University is attracting talented student-athletes from top high schools across the country—for this to continue, increased private assistance is needed. Gifts provide scholarship aid and funds to develop the coaching staff, to improve facilities and to upgrade equipment.

To increase the number of athletic contributors and to boost their level of support, Dan McDonald, of the Foundation staff, is working with scores of enthusiastic volunteers across the state and nation to coordinate and expand fund raising activities. There have been a number of systems implemented through the Foundation to reorganize and upgrade county and regional I-Clubs. Alumni athletic ticket holders and lettermen are being encouraged to help recruit new donors, as well as to contribute dollars needed for the program. The Foundation is providing helpful communications to better acquaint them with the workings of the fund raising program and the Iowa Athletic Department. This, combined with more visits to Iowa communities by the Hawkeye athletic staff, is multiplying the effectiveness of volunteers and contributors.

In 1976 I-Club activities were initiated, reorganized or significantly expanded in four Iowa counties, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Detroit, New York City and Omaha-Council Bluffs. These groups alone will provide more than 450 new contributors to the Hawkeye Athletic Program. By the end of 1976, I-Club membership (those who contribute from $15 to $99 annually) had increased to "The new Alumni Center is more than a fine building. It is a symbol, a symbol of what can be accomplished on behalf of the University through the cooperative efforts of the Foundation and the Alumni Association."

—President Willard L. Boyd

3,500 contributors—a jump of 15 percent over 1975.

Many contributors who begin their support within the broad base of the I-Club are increasing the level of their annual gifts. In 1976, 1,100 contributors of $100 to $249 were recognized as Bronze Hawks. At the next higher level, 401 contributors of $250 to $999 were recognized as Silver Hawks. In the top level of athletic contributors in 1976, 58 achieved recognition as Golden Hawks with gifts of $1,000 or more. More than 30 athletic contributors have qualified for membership in The Presidents Club or The Presidents Club Associates of The University of Iowa.

Dan McDonald and the Foundation are eager to help you direct your gift to athletics—to be used in the manner you choose. Your help is needed and appreciated.

Generous and meaningful support for Iowa's student athletes also is received through contributions to the I-Club Scholarship Fund, Inc., a private corporation which has been enthusiastically managed by volunteers for more than 20 years. Contributors through the I-Club Scholarship Fund are also recognized at the Bronze, Silver and Golden Hawk levels.

Women's Intercollegiate Athletics

In 1976 the women's athletic program at Iowa achieved an even stronger foothold as its athletes won recognition in the state and in the nation. At the end of its third year, the program's participation level had nearly tripled.

The Iowa women captured the state championships in swimming, volleyball and field hockey. In regional and national competitions they capably represented the University in golf, gymnastics and track as well.

Women's Athletic Director Christine Grant played an essential role in framing new legislation for the national governing body for women's athletics, and Kathy Smith, of Waterloo, Iowa, was chosen to represent all U.S. women student athletes in the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women.

In 1976 John Monahan, who had assisted with sports information for women's athletics, was hired full-time to work not only in sports information and promotion, but also to coordinate fund raising efforts for the program. Your support for women's intercollegiate athletics can make an immediate difference in a winning program. Gifts are needed for scholarships and to help provide travel funds for student athletes who qualify for national sports events.

Contributors are recognized at the I-Club level ($15 to $99 annually), or at the higher Bronze, Silver or Golden Hawk levels. John Monahan and the Foundation staff can provide you with additional information, and they will see that your gift is used as you specify.

The Alumni Center

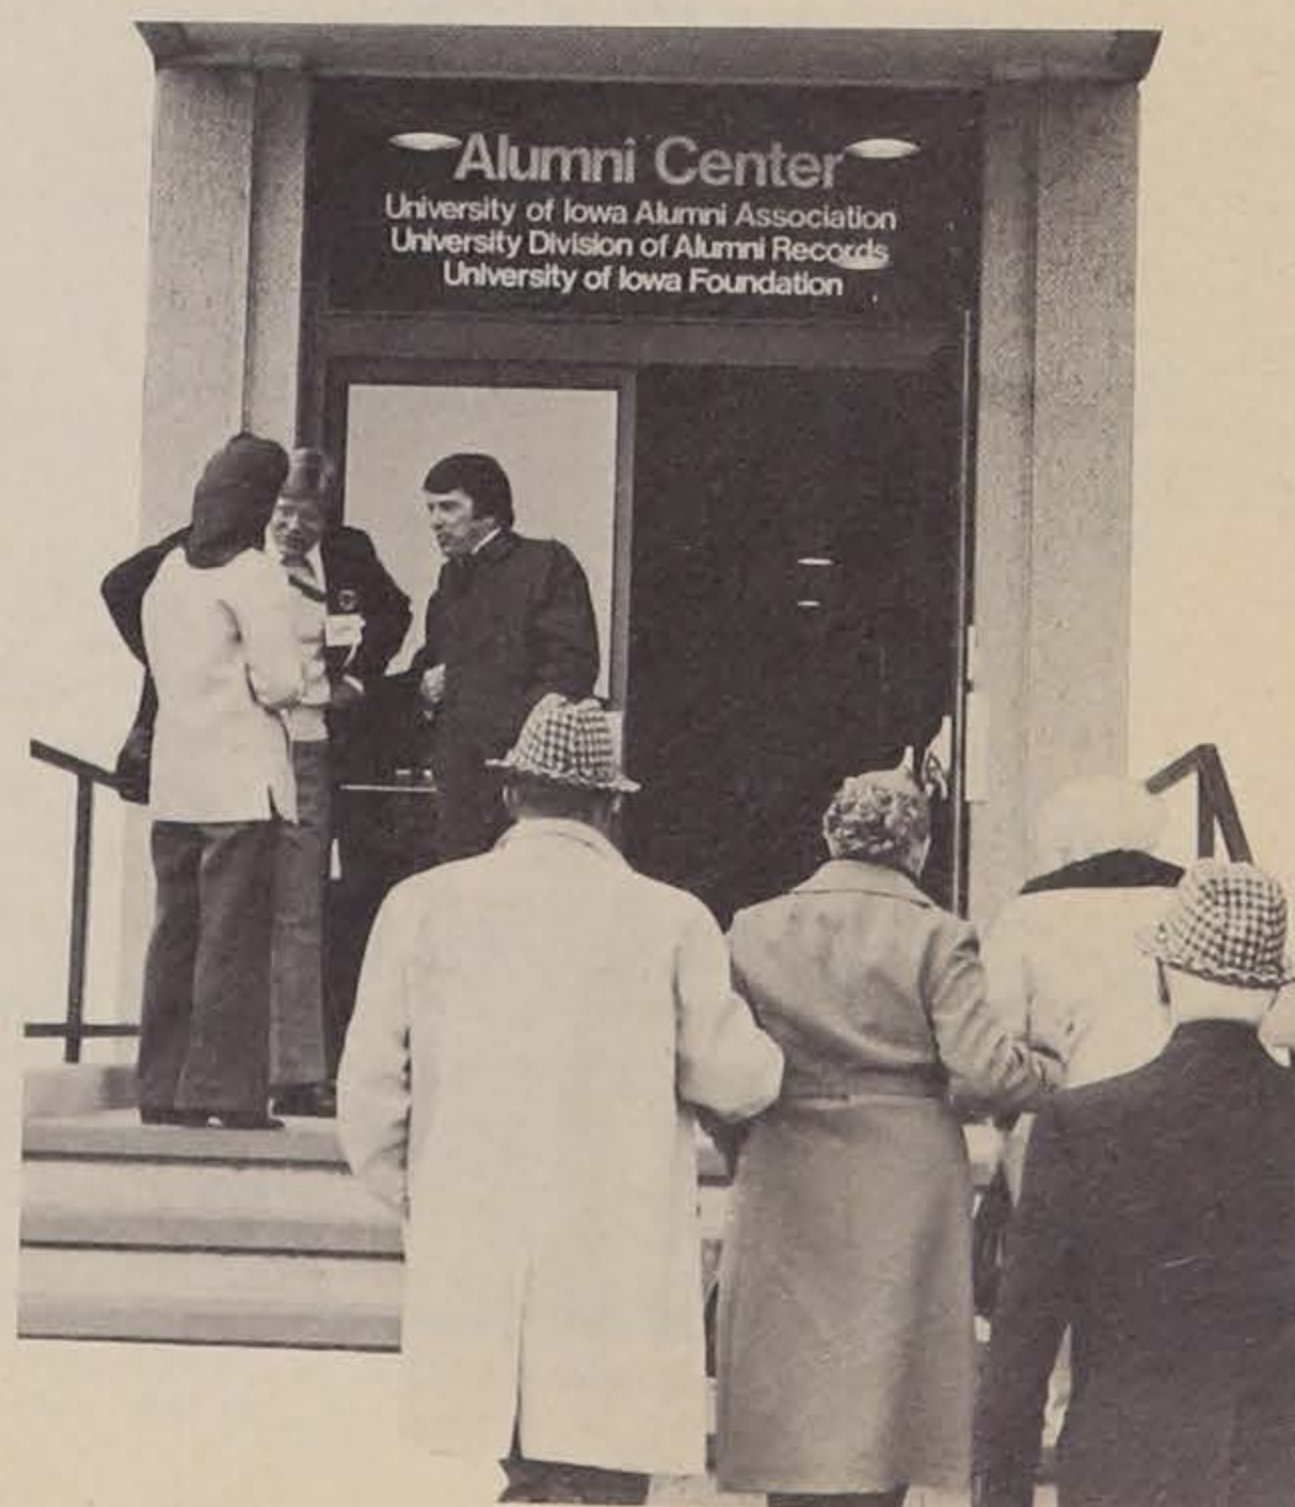

The 1976 Homecoming Weekend, October 15 and 16, marked the formal opening of the new Alumni Center. More than 700 returning alumni and friends of the University toured the new facility, which in 10,000 square feet provides offices for the Foundation, the U of I Alumni Association, and the University's Division of Alumni Records. Previously, these three offices had been located in the Iowa Memorial Union and in a house converted to offices.

Located adjacent to the new Carver Wing addition to the Museum of Art, in the midst of the Iowa Center for the Arts, the Alumni Center provides a beautiful meeting place for a variety of Foundation and Alumni Association functions.

Generous contributions to the Foundation from alumni and friends of the University as well as a grant from the U of I Alumni Association have made the much-needed Center a reality. These contributions have come from numerous individuals, organizations and businesses.

A sizable bequest from the late Paul Dorweiler (1904 B.S.), a charter member of The Presidents Club, made possible the 1,500 square foot Board Room/Lounge, the Center's principal meeting room. The Board Room/Lounge also is used by the Museum of Art for special events.

The Foundation Executive Director's Office is dedicated to the Foundation's president, Herman J. Schmidt (1938 B.A.), at the request of C.I.T. Financial Corporation, a New York-based member of The Presidents

Club Associates. The firm made a $10,000 gift to the Center to honor Mr. Schmidt, who is one of their directors as well as vice-chairman of Mobil Oil Corporation.

The Foundation Treasurer's Office is the gift of Mr. William C. Power, Jr. (1933 B.S.P.) and Mrs. Maisie Power, of Indianapolis, Indiana. The Powers are members of The Presidents Club.

The Reception Lounge/Conference Room was provided by the Class of 1925, which raised more than $30,000 as its Golden Anniversary Gift to the University. Gifts also have been received from the Classes of 1926, '27, '36, '37, '51, '52 and '65. Similar anniversary class gift projects are under way.

Furniture in the Alumni Center has been provided through the cooperation and generosity of HON Industries, of Muscatine, Iowa. C. Maxwell Stanley, former president of the Foundation, is chairman of the board of HON Industries.

A generous bequest by the late Miss Marion H. Hamilton (1920 B.A., 1932 M.A.) provided the Foundation's Library and Media Resource Room.

Additional gifts are needed for the building fund and for ongoing programs which will be conducted in the Alumni Center. Pledges of support may be made over a period of up to three years.

Opportunities still exist for named and memorial areas in the Center, and all contributors will be recognized on honor rolls in the building. To date, more than 200 Benefactors of the Alumni Center have contributed $500 or more, and they are recognized on a special wall plaque which is periodically updated.

Unrestricted (Venture) Funds

In 1976 only four percent of the outright private gifts received for the University were not designated for specific purposes. More venture funds are needed to permit the assignment of resources wherever the need is greatest. A key factor in institutional innovation is administrative leadership, but the success of a new idea or program often depends upon the availability of discretionary funds. In a time of budgetary constraint, it is difficult to set aside funds for venture purposes, because they are needed to maintain the University's ongoing programs. We urge you to consider making all or a portion of your gift to the Foundation undesignated. This will allow the University to capitalize upon opportunities, and it will quicken the rate of improvement in instructional, research, and creative programs.

In 1976 ten alumni and friends of the University qualified for membership in The Presidents Club through generous gifts to the Foundation to be used for the area of greatest need.

Your way of annually supporting the Foundation's work is a matter of personal preference and situation. For this reason the Foundation offers a variety of programs designed to insure the greatest benefits both for the contributor and for the University.

Most ongoing privately assisted programs result from continued annual giving by alumni and friends of the University. Such annual giving demonstrates your faith in the University and enhances the continued vitality of programs outlined in this report.

Annual Reminders

In 1976 more than 4,000 people contributed through the Foundation's cost-saving reminder system, which provides the most convenient method for giving on a regular basis. If you are not receiving an annual reminder, we hope you will indicate on the enclosed envelope which month you wish to be reminded. At the time you choose, the Foundation will send you a remittance envelope—you will receive no other regular Foundation mailings except the Annual Report and the annual offer of the Foundation calendar.

Foundation Mailings

If you do not wish to participate in the reminder system, we hope you will establish a regular annual giving time by contributing through the Foundation's mail program. The mailings tell about University needs, and request financial support. Last year more than 6,000 gifts were received as the result of direct mail sent by the Foundation. Many people contribute in the envelope provided with the Annual Report—we encourage this method of annual support.

Matching Gifts

Many contributors multiply their support each year by taking advantage of employers' matching gift programs. The University is grateful to these companies, recognized on page 96, for their generosity. We urge you to see if your company has a matching gift program. Forms to send with your contributions usually can be obtained from your personnel or public relations department.

Gifts in Honor, Gifts in Memory

One of the most thoughtful contributions an individual can make is a gift in honor of or in memory of a teacher, student, friend or relative. An honorary or memorial gift is an appropriate way to recognize someone's life and accomplishments. The University offers countless opportunities for those who wish to associate the name of a family or respected individual with a project or program of enduring worth. When a memorial gift is made, the next of kin of the deceased is notified, and the gift or fund is administered as specified by the donor. Those honored and memorialized in 1976 are recognized on page in this report.

Telefunds

Telefund program.

Nearly 4,000 Iowa graduates contributed in 1976 to the Foundation through its highly successful Telefund Program. Significantly, nearly 3,000 of these were first-time givers. In this ongoing program, eight University of Iowa students telephone Iowa graduates across the nation to enlist their support. These enthusiastic and knowledgeable students have a key role in the Foundation's efforts to reach out beyond the campus with a personal touch.

Organized by volunteer coordinators John and Fran Loomer, a highly successful Milwaukee Telefund campaign was conducted in 1976, following a long tradition of generous support from alumni in that area of Wisconsin.

Anniversary Class Gifts

If you are approaching a major anniversary of your graduation from Iowa, we hope you'll plan to join your classmates in making a special contribution for the University.

Classes which commemorated major anniversaries in 1976 made substantial contributions through their class gift funds to the new Alumni Center, the College of Dentistry and the College of Medicine.

Volunteers who comprised the 1926, 1936 and 1951 Class Gift Steering Committees worked with Foundation staff members to raise more than $38,000, a record achievement announced during Alumni Reunion Weekend in the spring.

For their dedicated efforts, we gratefully acknowledge the following:

Many alumni and friends provide substantial assistance to the University and benefit their own financial program through planned gifts. The positive effects of outright contributions such as cash, appreciated securities, life insurance policies, real estate and gifts of personal property, as well as the benefits of bequests, testamentary trusts and life-income trusts, can be maximized through careful planning.

The Foundation's associate director for planned giving, Dave Dierks, will gladly assist you and your attorney in selecting a program that best meets your needs and those of the University. To help acquaint you with the many ways in which you can make such gifts, the established methods of planned giving are briefly described below.

Outright Gifts

Direct, or outright gifts, are those contributions in cash or property which can provide immediate support for the University.

Cash Gifts

The simplest and most frequently used method of outright giving is by personal check made payable to The University of Iowa Foundation.

Appreciated Securities

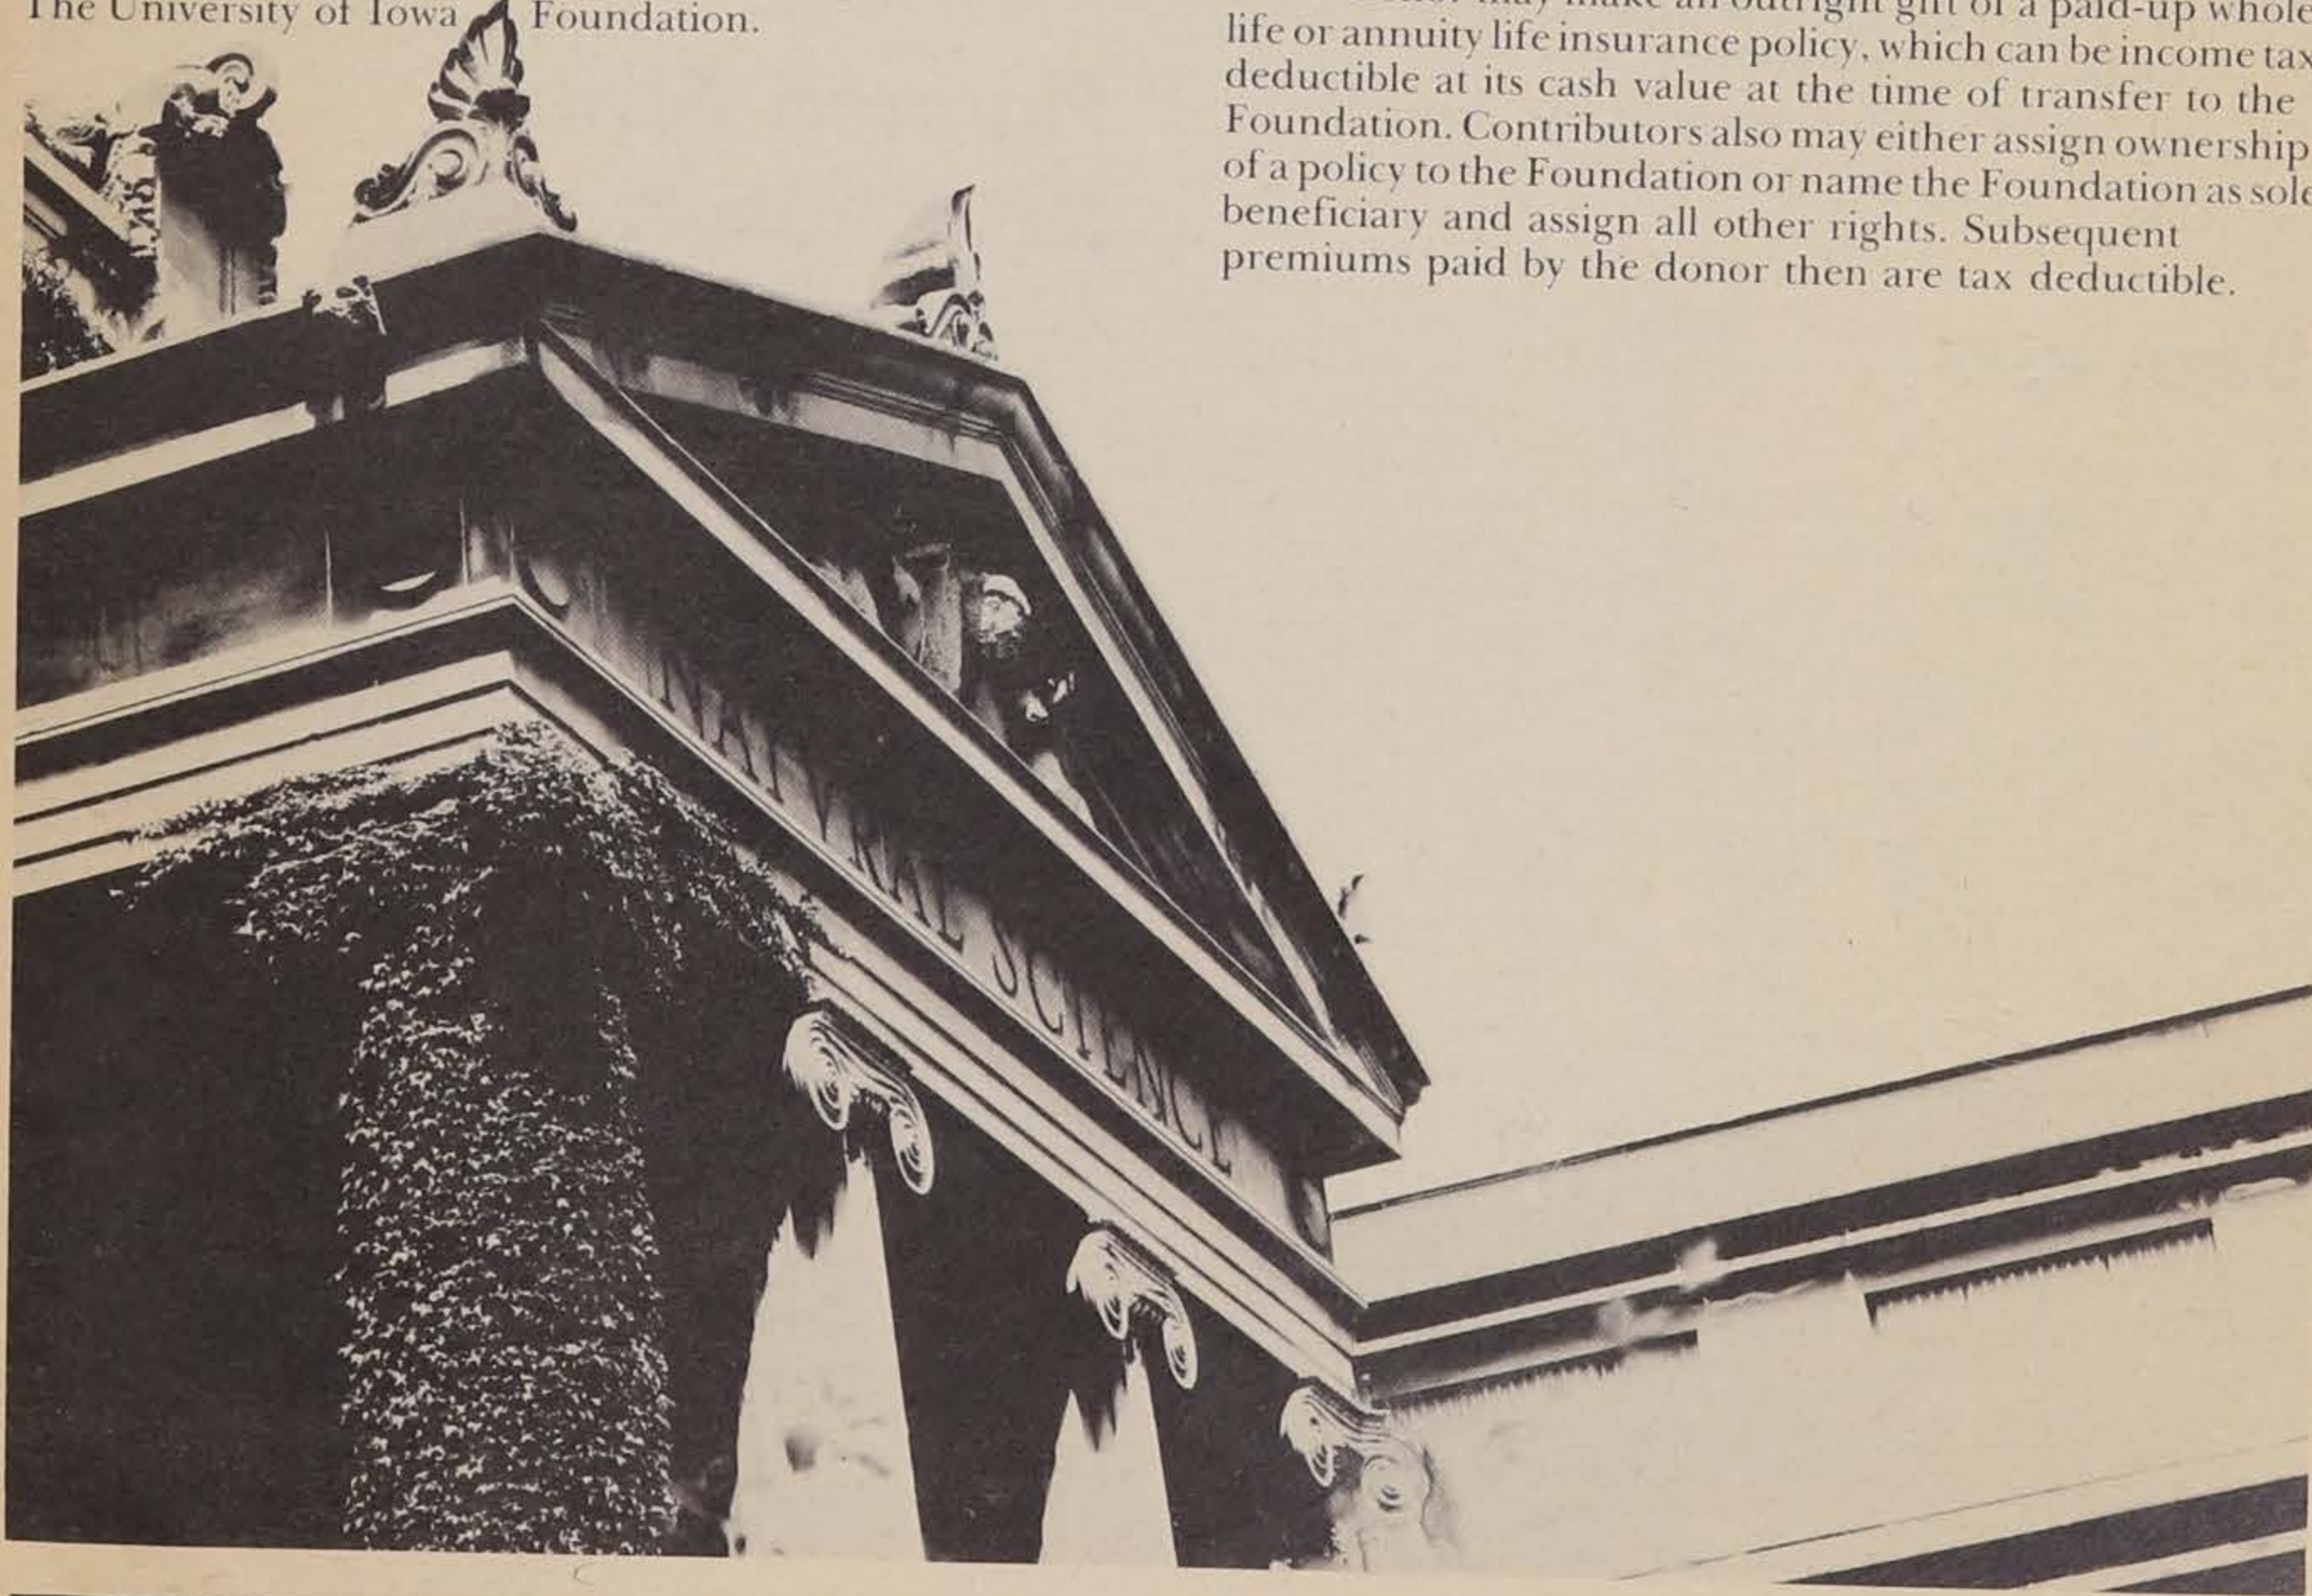

Outright gifts of appreciated stock (lower cost than present value) or other securities often are made to enhance the University. There are several tax advantages in making gifts of this type. First, the donor is not required to pay a capital gains tax on appreciated securities. Secondly, he or she may claim the full current market value of long-term securities as a charitable deduction in computing income tax. To be considered long term, securities must be held more than nine months (twelve months beginning in 1978.)

Real and Personal Property

Real estate and marketable items of personal property having established values can be given to the Foundation as outright gifts. In the case of real estate, the donor may deduct for tax purposes the fair market value of the property. Items of personal property, in order to be fully deductible, must be related to the University's purpose and function. In such cases the value of both real and personal property should be established by a recognized appraiser.

Life Insurance

A donor may make an outright gift of a paid-up whole life or annuity life insurance policy, which can be income tax deductible at its cash value at the time of transfer to the Foundation. Contributors also may either assign ownership of a policy to the Foundation or name the Foundation as sole beneficiary and assign all other rights. Subsequent premiums paid by the donor then are tax deductible.

Planned-giving brochures and pamphlets available through the Foundation.

Life-Income Trusts

For those individuals who wish to provide substantial future support of The University of Iowa, but who wish to retain a lifetime income from the assets which eventually will comprise their gift, a life-income trust program offers great opportunity. Gifts in the form of living trusts provide the same estate tax benefits as bequests. In addition, these agreements may provide substantial lifetime income tax benefits.

The two basic trust types are the charitable remainder annuity trust and the charitable remainder unitrust. In each case, the individual transfers either cash or property to a trustee, such as a bank, trust department or the Foundation. The trustee then agrees to pay a specified amount to the individual or to his designated beneficiary(ies) for life. He or she may receive income payments based upon a fixed dollar amount (annuity trust) or may choose a specified percentage of the total trust assets as valued each year (unitrust).

The donor need not pay capital gains tax on the gift property and may deduct from his or her federal income tax the value of the Foundation's remainder interest in the trust. The corpus of the trust becomes available to the Foundation following the death of the life-income beneficiary(ies) and is used for the purpose provided by the grantor in the trust instrument.

While the University does not benefit immediately from such gifts in trust, they play a substantial role ultimately.

Bequests

A bequest through a will is the most frequent form of a deferred gift, largely because it can be a means of making a substantial contribution without diminishing the assets available to the donor during his or her lifetime. Important estate tax savings can result from this type of contribution, since bequests to the Foundation may be deducted from the taxable estate when determining estate taxes.

The drafting of your will should be arranged through your attorney. Counsel for the Foundation will be available upon request to confer with you and your attorney in drafting an appropriate bequest clause.

Of the numerous ways to provide support for the University through a will, a bequest of a fixed amount of dollars or specific property is perhaps the simplest.

Bequests need not be large to have a worthwhile impact; for example, a $10,000 bequest will provide a perpetual annual gift of at least $500 for unrestricted use or for a specific program of your choice. If the bequest is unrestricted, the following clause may be used as a guide:

"I give, devise and bequeath to the State University of Iowa Foundation, an Iowa non-profit corporation of Iowa City, Iowa, (the sum of ———) or (all my right, title and interest in the following-described property: ———) or (all the rest, residue and remainder of my estate) to be used in such manner as the board of directors of said Foundation shall, in its sole discretion, determine."

The amount of a bequest may be specified in a variety of ways depending upon the donor's personal needs and objectives. For example, a bequest of a fixed amount of dollars or specific items of property can be made; or a proportional bequest, where the University receives a determined portion of an estate after personal provisions have been met, can also be established. If a donor wishes to support the University and at the same time provide his or her spouse, family or others with an income during their lifetimes, a charitable remainder testamentary trust may be used. As in a simple bequest, provisions for a charitable remainder testamentary trust are made in your will, and the trust does not become operative and binding until your death.

During 1976 more than 60 known bequests were established by alumni and friends of the University. These planned gifts to the Foundation will provide significant future support for many programs and projects. The Foundation staff welcomes an opportunity to discuss with you ways to direct your bequest to specific areas within the University and will assist you and your attorney in drafting bequest clauses.

Planned Giving Information

If you would like to receive information regarding planned giving, or if you wish to discuss specific questions about a gift, please contact Associate Director Dave Dierks at the Foundation. The Foundation's legal counsel also is available to consult with you and your attorney, trust officer, accountant, or other advisor.

You may request to receive any of the following publications from the Foundation:

The Presidents Club

As The Presidents Club of The University of Iowa moved into its tenth year of private funding achievement, its distinguished membership reached 440. Since its inception in 1967, the generous members of this highest honor organization for contributors have given or pledged more than $35 million for use throughout the University.

In the past year 107 new individual members have qualified—68 through outright gifts and 39 through deferred gifts or bequests.

This record growth was stimulated significantly in 1976 by the efforts of energetic Presidents Club members who comprise The Presidents Club National Committee. These volunteers offer their time in a variety of ways to help enlist new Presidents Club members. Working with the Foundation staff, they have been instrumental in hosting campus visitations and events in their home cities to create further interest in the goals of The Presidents Club.

We gratefully recognize the members of The Presidents Club National Committee, whose vital efforts to advance high-level support reach out across the country.

Qualification for Membership in The Presidents Club

Persons may become eligible for life membership in The Presidents Club of The University of Iowa in one of the following ways:

1. Make an outright gift of $10,000 or more in cash, securities, real or personal property.
2. Sign a pledge to contribute $10,000 or more at a rate of not less than $1,000 per year.

3. Arrange for a planned gift of $25,000 or more through a bequest, life income agreement, whole life or annuity life insurance policy, a trust agreement or other deferred giving instrument.
4. Sign an agreement to make an annual gift of $500 for each of ten years, and arrange for a deferred gift of $15,000 or more.

A deceased person may be named a Member in Memoriam of the Club by the Foundation's receipt of a qualifying gift from one or any number of individuals.

The Presidents Club Associates

In the past year membership in The Presidents Club Associates reached 70. The University and the Foundation are grateful to these generous and far-sighted organizations for their high-level support.

Qualification for Membership

Corporations, businesses, foundations and other organizations which demonstrate their generous support for the University at The Presidents Club level also may receive formal and enduring recognition, through membership in The Presidents Club Associates.

An individual is chosen by the contributing organization to serve as its designated representative to The Presidents Club. This representative receives all correspondence concerning the activities of The Presidents Club and receives reports on the progress of the University, as well as invitations to all Presidents Club events.

The Honor Roll of All Foundation Contributors

All 1976 contributors to The University of Iowa Foundation appear alphabetically within their respective states. Numerals preceding names indicate the total years of giving.

Each of these 20,332 contributors has provided meaningful support for The University of Iowa. We are grateful for these gifts of every size.

An asterisk indicates consecutive years of giving. If for some reason you have missed a year or more of giving, you may reinstate this asterisk by making an additional gift as large as the last year you gave for each year you missed. Enclose a note to that effect when you mail your gift. Thank you!*

Jane Eckhardt, a graduate student in French, plays the Fiedel, one of the many historic instruments which appeared in the November 21 performance of Iowa's Collegium Musicum. Though similar to a violin or a viola, the instrument has a flat bridge, causing more than one string to be bowed at once, resulting in a "droning" sound. Contributions to the Foundation for Collegium Musicum help purchase rare antique instruments.

The Annual Report

The new format of the Annual Report allows cost savings not only in materials but also through computer technology in text preparation. The report was written, designed and prepared for the printer camera-ready by the Foundation staff. The directors of The University of Iowa Foundation feel that a comprehensive and attractive report is an essential ingredient to the continued success of Foundation efforts to serve the University. The report serves throughout the year as a case statement for Foundation fund raising programs of many kinds.

We are pleased this year to include examples of private gifts and grants received by the University through the Office of the Vice President for Educational Development and Research.

Corrections

The recognition extended to those who appear in the Honor Clubs and Honor Rolls is one small way to thank contributors, although the form itself is not elaborate. In the interest of economy, computerized methods have been used wherever possible in compiling names. Please call any necessary corrections to the attention of the Foundation.

Your Gift

After seeing in the Annual Report some of the many ways their support benefits the University, many regular contributors respond with their annual gift—or send an additional gift—in the envelope provided with the report. In 1976 over 4,000 people contributed more than once to the Foundation—many of these gifts were received in the Annual Report envelope.

We'd Like To Remind You That:

Your annual gift is TAX DEDUCTIBLE.

Your company may double your gift if it has a MATCHING GIFT program. Ask your personnel director for the appropriate form.

*You can become a member of: The OLD GOLD CLUB with a gift of $100-499 annually; or The PENTACREST SOCIETY with a gift of $500 or more annually. Higher outright or planned gifts can qualify you for membership in The PRESIDENTS CLUB.

The U of I Foundation will serve as a channel for ANY GIFT to the University.

*The Foundation's newly-revised booklet, Planned Giving: A Guide to Gifts and Bequests, details information about tax savings and other benefits of planned gifts.

If you are not already receiving an ANNUAL REMINDER, you can help us reduce printing and mailing costs by:

- indicating above the month you would like to be reminded, or by
- letting the Annual Report serve as your reminder each year. (Send your gift in this post-paid envelope. If you place a stamp on this envelope, you will save the Foundation even more.)
