and the Members of the First Session of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly
State of Iowa
1975

FINAL REPORT
OF THE MENTAL HEALTH AND JUVENILE INSTITUTIONS STUDY COMMITTEE

submitted by its

SUBCOMMITTEE ON COMMITMENT LAWS

This supplementary report consists primarily of the text of Mental Health and Juvenile Institutions Study Committee Draft Bill No. 6, fourth version, "A Bill for An Act relating to hospitalization of the mentally ill," with a number of interspersed explanatory comments. Because this format makes the draft bill somewhat bulky, and because there is interest in this bill on the part of many persons less intensely interested in other bills recommended by the Study Committee, the draft bill and three pertinent appendices are here presented with brief introductory comments separately from the main report of the Study Committee.

The Mental Health and Juvenile Institutions Study Committee's concern about Iowa's commitment laws began in 1971, the year the Study Committee was first established. In 1973, the Study Committee established the Subcommittee on Commitment Laws composed of Senator John Murray, Chairman, Representative Scott Newhard and Mr. Keith Oswald, an advisory member of the Study Committee. The Subcommittee was aware that a Joint Subcommittee of the Iowa Medical Society and the Iowa State Bar Association had been working for some time on possible revisions in the state's mental health commitment statutes. The present members of this interprofessional Joint Subcommittee are Doctors S. M. Korson of Independence, Herbert L. Nelson of Iowa City and Richard E. Preston of Des Moines, and Attorneys Randall Bezanson of Iowa City, Lee Blum of Hampton, J. Eric Heintz of Iowa City and Thomas J. Wilkinson, Jr. of Cedar Rapids.

Dr. Korson and Mr. Wilkinson attended the legislative Subcommittee's first meeting on September 6, 1973, at which time it was agreed that the Joint Subcommittee would make the product of its efforts up to that time available to the legislative Subcommittee as a starting point for the latter group in preparation of a proposed new mental health commitment statute to be reported to the full Study Committee. The legislative Subcommittee has continued to maintain liaison with the Joint Subcommittee, has made a number of changes in the text of the draft bill in response to suggestions by the Joint Subcommittee, and is most appreciative of the assistance and suggestions which have thus been made available. However, it should be understood by all concerned that the legislative Subcommittee has final responsibility for the content of the fourth version of Draft Bill No. 6, which is not necessarily satisfactory in all respects to all members of the Joint Subcommittee.

Concern about the adequacy of Iowa's present commitment laws first arose, within the Study Committee, in connection with uncertainty about the legal effect of involuntary hospitalization for reasons of mental illness upon the hospitalized individual's subsequent legal competency, status as a voter, etc.* Within the past eighteen months, however, concern has increasingly shifted to the question whether Iowa's current statute would survive a constitutional challenge in the federal courts. Generally similar laws in several other jurisdictions have been found unconstitutional on the ground that they operate to deprive the committed person of liberty without due process of law. A commentary on the relevant constitutional issues written by Mr. Bezanson--a University of Iowa College of Law faculty member--appears as Appendix I to this supplementary report.

Development of Draft Bill No. 6 began in the fall of 1973, and continued during the early months of the 1974 legislative session, as rapidly as other demands on staff time would permit. A hearing on the second version of the Draft Bill occurred March 14 under the sponsorship of the Senate Human Resources Committee.

In succeeding months, the Subcommittee revised the Draft Bill on the basis of comments received at the March 14 hearing. The third version of Draft Bill No. 6 was completed and distributed in early October, and a public hearing was held on it by the legislative Subcommittee on October 25 in Des Moines. In addition, members of both the legislative Subcommittee and the Joint Subcommittee participated in panel discussions of the draft bill at sessions arranged by the Iowa District Court Clerks Association and the Iowa Psychiatric Society, and copies of the third version were distributed widely to a large number of interested parties throughout the state.

The final meetings of the legislative Subcommittee were held December 3 and December 12, to consider the various comments and suggestions which had been received on the third version of Draft Bill No. 6. Pursuant to actions taken at those two meetings, a fourth version of the Draft Bill has been prepared and is by this report submitted to the 66th General Assembly for its consideration. The Draft Bill is designated "fourth version" rather than final version because the necessary conforming amendments have not yet been completed, and because it is recognized that the bill remains controversial and that the standing committees to which the bill will presumably be referred will wish to give further consideration to some of the major policy questions involved. Nevertheless, Draft Bill No. 4 represents the Subcommittee's judgment as to the policies the state should adopt in this area of law, and the full Study Committee on November 20 authorized the Subcommittee to submit the draft bill to the General Assembly on that basis.

Role of the District Court

One of the questions raised by court decisions in other jurisdictions regarding commitment of mentally ill persons for treatment is whether involuntary hospitalization (viewed as a deprivation of liberty) can constitutionally be done by any agency except a court. Concern about this question led the interprofessional Joint Subcommittee, in its early efforts, and subsequently the legislative Subcommittee to draw Draft Bill No. 6 on the basis of direct handling of commitment proceedings by judges of the district court rather than by the three-member hospitalization commissions which now exist in each county.

Initial reaction to this type of procedure, particularly by county district court clerks, was that it is essentially unworkable because in many smaller counties there is insufficient access to a district court judge to allow prompt handling of hospitalization proceedings. Therefore, the Subcommittee placed in the third version of Draft Bill No. 6 a section which:

- Authorizes the judges in each judicial district to jointly establish, as an arm of the court, a judicial hospitalization commission to perform most of the functions of the district court in hospitalization matters in any county where the judges consider it advisable to exercise this option.
- Makes the judicial hospitalization commission generally similar in makeup to the existing county commissions of hospitalization, except that the clerk of court would provide staff assistance rather than serving as a member of the commission and the third commission member would be a knowledgeable layman.
- Requires the judicial hospitalization commission to follow all substantive procedures specified in the bill for the courts, makes the commission's actions subject to appeal to the district courts, and allows only district court judges to issue orders for immediate custody of a respondent pending a hospitalization hearing.

The Joint Subcommittee, on reviewing the third version of Draft Bill No. 6, expressed the view that the use of a judicial hospitalization commission would be unconstitutional. Also, the legislative Subcommittee received a letter from the County Officers Coordinating Committee expressing opposition to Draft Bill No. 6 in its entirety, but also asserting that if the present Iowa commission of hospitalization statute is unconstitutional then the proposed judicial hospitalization commission would be equally so. The letter appears as Appendix II to this supplementary report.

While the legislative Subcommittee's members do not necessarily agree with these views, they decided upon review of the objections that the judicial hospitalization commission option should be removed from the fourth version of Draft Bill No. 6. There appears to be little reason to retain in the bill such a provision when virtually no support for it has been expressed outside the membership of the legislative Subcommittee. However, for the information of legislators and others who may have occasion to contemplate the mechanics of implementing Draft Bill No. 6 should it be enacted, the judicial hospitalization commission section from the third version of the Draft Bill appears as Appendix III to this supplementary report.

1 Section 1. NEW SECTION. DEFINITIONS. As used in this 2 Act, unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

3 1. "Mental illness" means every type of mental disease 4 or mental disorder, except that it does not refer to mental 5 retardation as defined in section two hundred twenty-two point 6 two (222.2), subsection five (5) of the Code.

7 2. "Seriously mentally impaired" or "serious mental impair-8 ment" describes the condition of a person who is afflicted 9 with mental illness and because of that illness lacks 10 sufficient judgment to make responsible decisions with respect 11 to his or her hospitalization or treatment, and who:

12 a. Is likely to physically injure himself or herself or 13 others if allowed to remain at liberty without treatment;

14 or

15 b. Is likely to inflict serious emotional injury on members 16 of his family or others who lack reasonable opportunity to 17 avoid contact with the afflicted person if the afflicted 18 person is allowed to remain at liberty without treatment.

19 3. "Serious emotional injury" is an injury which does 20 not necessarily exhibit any physical characteristics, but 21 which can be recognized and diagnosed by a medical practitioner 22 and which can be causally connected with the act or omission 23 of a person who is, or is alleged to be, mentally ill.

24

25 COMMENT: The three foregoing definitions are crucial 26 to the central issue of who may be involuntarily 27 hospitalized by reason of mental illness.

28 One of the points often made in court decisions 29 involving commitment statutes of other jurisdictions is 30 that the legal definition of mental illness is overly broad 31 or vague. Yet, mental illness is a term that is quite 32 difficult to define with the precision that is necessary 33 or desirable in describing a condition on the basis of 34 which one may be deprived of liberty by involuntary 35 hospitalization. In this draft bill, an attempt is made

1 to evade the problem by retaining a broad definition of 2 the concept of mental illness, while defining more narrowly 3 that kind or degree of mental illness which justifies 4 deprivation of liberty.

5 The definition of mental illness in subsection 1 is 6 basically that now found in section 229.40 of the Code, 7 except that the present definition does not specifically 8 exclude mental retardation. (However, section 226.8 does 9 bar admission of a mentally retarded person to state mental 10 health institutes unless a professional diagnostic 11 evaluation indicates the admission is appropriate for 12 that particular individual.) Involuntary hospitalization 13 may occur under this draft bill if it appears that the 14 prospective patient is "seriously mentally impaired", i.e., 15 so mentally ill that he or she (1) lacks ability to make 16 responsible decisions about hospitalization or treatment, 17 and (2) is also likely to physically injure himself or 18 herself or others, or to inflict serious emotional injury 19 on other persons.

20 It is recognized that the concept and the definition
21 of "serious emotional injury" is controversial. It 22 represents a search for a middle ground between those who 23 have argued that involuntary hospitalization should occur
24 only when the prospect of physical injury to the prospective 25 patient himself or herself, or to other persons, can be 26 shown (or when this has actually occurred), and the urging 27 of mental health professionals that some situations which 28 do not involve any threat of physical injury are 29 nevertheless so serious that society is justified in 30 compelling the mentally ill person to accept treatment.
31 Some possible examples of "serious emotional injury" might 32 be a disturbed parent who poses no threat of physical 33 injury to anyone, but persists in directing paranoid 34 statements and epithets at spouse and children, or a person 35 who in manic euphoria makes unrealistic expenditures or

1 financial commitments that threaten to impoverish his or 2 her family.

4 4. "Respondent" means any person against whom an 5 application has been filed under section six (6) of this Act, 6 but who has not been finally ordered committed for full-time
7 custody, care and treatment in a hospital.

8 5. "Patient" means a person who has been hospitalized 9 or ordered hospitalized to receive treatment pursuant to 10 section fourteen (14) of this Act.

11 6. "Licensed physician" means an individual licensed under 12 the provisions of chapter one hundred forty-eight (148) of 13 the Code to practice medicine (, or a medical officer of the 14 government of the United States while in this state in the 15 performance of his official duties).

16 7. "Qualified mental health professional" means an 17 individual experienced in the study and treatment of mental 18 disorders in the capacity of:

19 a. A psychologist certified under chapter one hundred 20 fifty-four B (154B) of the Code; or

21 b. A registered nurse licensed under chapter one hundred 22 fifty-two (152) of the Code; or

23 c. A social worker who holds a masters degree in social 24 work awarded by an accredited college or university.

25
26 COMMENT: The definition of "qualified mental health 27 professional" is included in order to provide a groundwork 28 for utilizing the expertise or information which these 29 persons may be able to contribute to the disposition of 30 some proceedings in which it is alleged that an individual 31 is seriously mentally impaired. It is NOT intended that 32 a "qualified mental health professional" should in any 33 case supplant a licensed physician in the procedure
34 prescribed by this draft bill, but rather that the qualified 35 professional be given standing to serve as an additional

1 resource. See section 10 of this draft bill.

3 8. "Public hospital" means:

4 a. A state mental health institute established by chapter 5 two hundred twenty-six (226) of the Code; or

6 b. The state psychopathic hospital established by chapter 7 two hundred twenty-five (225) of the Code; or

8 c. Any other publicly supported hospital or institution, 9 or part thereof, which is equipped and staffed to provide 10 inpatient care to the mentally ill, except that this definition
11 shall not be applicable to the Iowa security medical facility 12 established by chapter two hundred twenty-three (223) of the 13 Code.

14 9. "Private hospital" means any hospital or institution
15 not directly supported by public funds, or a part thereof, 16 which is equipped and staffed to provide inpatient care to 17 the mentally ill.

18 10. "Hospital" means either a public hospital or a private 19 hospital.

20 11. "Chief medical officer" means the medical director 21 in charge of any public hospital, or any private hospital, 22 or that individual's physician-designee. Nothing in this 23 Act shall negate the authority otherwise reposed by law in 24 the respective superintendents of each of the state hospitals 25 for the mentally ill, established by chapter two hundred 26 twenty-six (226) of the Code, to make decisions regarding 27 the appropriateness of admissions or discharges of patients 28 of that hospital, however it is the intent of this Act that 29 if the superintendent is not a licensed physician he shall 30 be guided in these decisions by the chief medical officer 31 of that hospital.

32

33 COMMENT: The second sentence of the foregoing
34 definition has been added at the request of the Department
35 of Social Services, which was concerned about the import

1 of the definition of a "chief medical officer", and the 2 role assigned that individual under this draft bill, where 3 a state mental health institute has a nonphysician 4 superintendent, as permitted by section 226.2.

6 12. "Clerk" means the clerk of the district court.

7 Sec. 2. NEW SECTION. APPLICATION FOR VOLUNTARY ADMISSION-8 -AUTHORITY TO RECEIVE VOLUNTARY PATIENTS.

9 1. An application for the admission of any person who 10 is mentally ill or has symptoms of mental illness to a public 11 or private hospital for observation, diagnosis, care and 12 treatment as a voluntary patient may be made by:

13 a. The person seeking admission if he is eighteen years 14 of age or older; or

15 b. The parent or legal guardian of the person whose 16 admission is sought, if the person is under eighteen years 17 of age.

18 2. Upon receiving an application for admission as a 19 voluntary patient, made pursuant to subsection one (1) of 20 this section:

21 a. The chief medical officer of a public hospital shall 22 receive and may admit the person whose admission is sought,
23 subject in cases other than medical emergencies to availability 24 of suitable accommodations and to the provisions of section 25 _____ of this Act.

26 b. The chief medical officer of a private hospital may 27 receive and may admit the person whose admission is sought.

28
29 COMMENT: There has been some objection to the 30 inclusion of section 2 in the draft bill, on the ground 31 that there is no need for the law to regulate the furnishing 32 of hospital services to mentally ill persons on a voluntary 33 basis in any different manner than is the case with persons 34 having other kinds of illnesses.

35 Concern has been expressed that this section as

1 previously written could give nonresidents access to Iowa's 2 mental health institutes on the same basis as Iowans.
3 The reference to an unspecified section of this Act will 4 be used to tie into this bill present law regarding the 5 financial basis on which admissions are made, and related 6 matters.

8 Sec. 3. NEW SECTION. DISCHARGE OF VOLUNTARY PATIENTS.

9 Any voluntary patient who has recovered, or whose 10 hospitalization the chief medical officer of the hospital 11 determines is no longer advisable, shall be discharged. Any 12 voluntary patient may be discharged if to do so would in the 13 judgment of the chief medical officer contribute to the most 14 effective use of the hospital in the care and treatment of 15 that patient and of other mentally ill persons.

16 Sec. 4. NEW SECTION. RIGHT TO RELEASE ON APPLICATION.

17 A voluntary patient who requests his or her release or whose 18 release is requested, in writing, by his legal guardian, 19 parent, spouse or adult next-of-kin shall be released from 20 the hospital forthwith, except that:

21 1. If the patient was admitted on his own application 22 and the request for release is made by some other person, 23 release may be conditioned upon the agreement of the patient; 24 and

25 2. If the patient, by reason of his or her age, was 26 admitted on the application of another person pursuant to 27 section two (2), subsection one (1), paragraph b of this Act, 28 his or her release prior to becoming eighteen years of age 29 may be conditioned upon the consent of his or her parent or 30 guardian, or upon the approval of the juvenile court; and

31 3. If the chief medical officer of the hospital, not later 32 than the end of the next secular day on which the office of 33 the clerk of the district court for the county in which the 34 hospital is located is open and which follows the submission 35 of the written request for release of the patient, files with

1 that clerk a certification that in the chief medical officer's
2 opinion the patient is seriously mentally impaired, the release
3 may be postponed for the period of time the court determines 4 is necessary to permit commencement of judicial procedure
5 for involuntary hospitalization. That period of time may 6 not exceed five days, exclusive of days on which the clerk's 7 office is not open. Until disposition of the application 8 for involuntary hospitalization of the patient, if one is 9 timely filed, the chief medical officer may detain the patient 10 in the hospital and may provide treatment which is necessary
11 to preserve his or her life, or to appropriately control 12 behavior by the patient which is likely to result in physical 13 injury to himself or herself or to others if allowed to 14 continue, but may not otherwise provide treatment to the 15 patient without the patient's consent.

16

17 COMMENT: In an earlier version of this draft bill, 18 section 4 also included a subsection prohibiting commitment 19 procedure against any voluntary patient whose release has 20 not been requested. That subsection was deleted on advice
21 of the Department of Social Services that voluntary patients 22 must occasionally be committed for nonmedical reasons, 23 usually in connection with a transfer to another state 24 or to a facility such as a county home. Some objections 25 to this deletion have been expressed.

26

27 Sec. 5. NEW SECTION. DEPARTURE WITHOUT NOTICE. If a 28 voluntary patient departs from the hospital without notice, 29 and in the opinion of the chief medical officer the patient
30 is seriously mentally impaired, the chief medical officer 31 may file an application for involuntary hospitalization of 32 the departed voluntary patient, and request that an order 33 for immediate custody be entered by the court pursuant to 34 section eleven (11) of this Act.

35

1 COMMENT: A suggestion has been advanced that section 2 5 be expanded to include a specific statement that where 3 a voluntary patient departs from the hospital without 4 notice, and that patient is not considered dangerous, the 5 hospital is relieved of any further responsibility for 6 that patient. The Subcommittee felt that such a provision 7 would have implications that should be carefully considered 8 before a decision is made to include it in the bill, and 9 there was no opportunity to adequately consider the question 10 before reporting this Draft Bill to the General Assembly.

11

12 Sec. 6. NEW SECTION. APPLICATION FOR ORDER OF INVOLUNTARY
13 HOSPITALIZATION. Proceedings for the involuntary 14 hospitalization of an individual may be commenced by any 15 interested person by filing a verified application with the 16 clerk of the district court of the county where the respondent
17 is presently located. The clerk, or his or her designee, 18 shall assist the applicant in completing the application.
19 The application shall:

- 20 1. State the applicant's belief that the respondent is 21 seriously mentally impaired.
- 22 2. State any other pertinent facts.
- 23 3. Be accompanied by:
- 24 a. A written statement of a licensed physician in support 25 of the application; or
- 26 b. One or more supporting affidavits otherwise 27 corroborating the application; or
- 28 c. Corroborative information obtained and reduced to 29 writing by the clerk or his or her designee, but only when 30 circumstances make it infeasible to comply with, or when the 31 clerk considers it appropriate to supplement the information 32 supplied pursuant to, either paragraph a or paragraph b of 33 this subsection.

34

35 COMMENT: Some concern has been expressed about use

1 of the term "verified application" in the first sentence
2 of section 6. The requirement of a verified application 3 serves to help impress upon the applicant the seriousness 4 of the step being taken, and perhaps to affirm the 5 applicant's good faith, by making it necessary for the 6 applicant to sign under oath a statement that he or she 7 "verily believes" that all statements made in the 8 application are true. The fact that an application is 9 so verified does not create any presumption that the 10 applicant is correct in believing that the respondent is 11 mentally ill.

12 There has also apparently been some concern that 13 subsection 3 equates the "supporting affidavits" referred 14 to in paragraph b with a physician's statement. However, 15 the intent is to provide for those situations where the 16 perceived need for hospitalization of the respondent is 17 quite pressing, and for some reason a physician's written 18 statement cannot be expeditiously obtained. In evaluating 19 this provision, it must be kept in mind that the emergency 20 hospitalization procedure provided by section 18 is 21 specifically limited to situations where there is no means 22 of immediate access to the district court.

23 For similar reasons, the Medical Society-Bar 24 Association Joint Subcommittee suggested and the legislative 25 Subcommittee agreed to add to the Draft Bill the provision 26 which appears as paragraph c of subsection 3 of section 27 6.

28

29 Sec. 7. NEW SECTION. SERVICE OF NOTICE UPON RESPONDENT.

30 Upon the filing of an application for involuntary 31 hospitalization, the clerk shall docket the case and 32 immediately notify a district court judge who shall review 33 the application and accompanying documentation. If the 34 application is adequate as to form, the judge shall direct 35 the clerk to send copies of the application and supporting

1 documentation, together with a notice informing the respondent
2 of the procedures required by this Act, to the sheriff or 3 his or her deputy for immediate service upon the respondent.
4 If the respondent is taken into custody under section eleven
5 (11) of this Act, service of the application, documentation 6 and notice upon the respondent shall be made at the time he 7 or she is taken into custody.

8 Sec. 8. NEW SECTION. PROCEDURE AFTER APPLICATION IS 9 FILED. As soon as practicable after the filing of an 10 application for involuntary hospitalization, the court shall:

11 1. Determine whether the respondent has an attorney who 12 is able and willing to represent him or her in the 13 hospitalization proceeding, and if not, whether the respondent 14 is financially able to employ an attorney and capable of 15 meaningfully assisting in selecting one. In accordance with 16 those determinations, the court shall if necessary allow the 17 respondent to select, or shall assign to him or her, an 18 attorney. If the respondent is financially unable to pay 19 an attorney, the attorney shall be compensated in substantially 20 the manner provided by sections seven hundred seventy-five 21 point five (775.5) and seven hundred seventy-five point six 22 (775.6) of the Code, except that if the county has a public 23 defender the court may designate the public defender or an 24 attorney on his or her staff to act as the respondent's 25 attorney.

26 2. Cause copies of the application and supporting 27 documentation to be sent as soon as practicable to the county
28 attorney or his or her attorney-designate for review.

29 3. Issue a written order which shall:

30 a. Set a time and place for a hospitalization hearing, 31 which shall be at the earliest practicable time; and 32 b. Order an examination of the respondent, prior to the 33 hearing, by one or more licensed physicians who shall submit 34 a written report on the examination to the court as required

35 by section ten (10) of this Act.

COMMENT: The sequence of the provisions within this section is intended to emphasize the requirement that the respondent have the assistance of counsel at the earliest feasible time in the involuntary hospitalization proceeding. Subsection 2 reflects the requirement of section 12 that the county attorney or his designee present the case for the applicant at the hospitalization hearing.

The sequence of sections 7 and 8 were reversed from that of earlier versions of this draft bill because it appeared inappropriate to try to determine whether the respondent has an attorney, or is able to help select one, until notice of the proceeding has been served on the respondent.

Sec. 9. NEW SECTION. DUTIES OF RESPONDENT'S ATTORNEY.

The court shall direct the clerk to furnish at once to the respondent's attorney copies of the application for involuntary hospitalization of the respondent and the supporting documentation, and of the court's order issued pursuant to section eight (8), subsection three (3) of this Act. If the respondent is taken into custody under section eleven (11) of this Act, the attorney shall also be advised of that fact. The respondent's attorney shall attend the hospitalization hearing.

Sec. 10. NEW SECTION. PHYSICIANS' EXAMINATION--REPORT.

1. An examination of the respondent shall be conducted by one or more licensed physicians, as required by the court's order, within a reasonable time. If the respondent is taken into custody under section eleven (11) of this Act, the examination shall be conducted within twenty-four hours. If the respondent so desires, he or she shall be entitled to a separate examination by a licensed physician of his or her own choice. The reasonable cost of such separate examination shall, if the respondent lacks sufficient funds to pay

1 the cost, be paid from county funds upon order of the court.

2 Any licensed physician conducting an examination pursuant 3 to this section may consult with or request the participation 4 in the examination of any qualified mental health professional, 5 and may include with or attach to the written report of the 6 examination any findings or observations by any qualified 7 mental health professional who has been so consulted or has 8 so participated in the examination.

9 2. A written report of the examination by the court-
10 designated physician or physicians, and of any examination 11 by a physician chosen by the respondent, shall be filed with 12 the clerk prior to the hearing date. The clerk shall 13 immediately:

14 a. Cause the report or reports to be shown to the judge 15 who issued the order; and 16 b. Cause the respondent's attorney to receive a copy of 17 each report filed.

18 3. If the report of the court-designated physician or 19 physicians is to the effect that the individual is not 20 seriously mentally impaired, the court may without taking 21 further action terminate the proceeding and dismiss the 22 application on its own motion and without notice.

23 4. If the report of the court-designated physician or 24 physicians is to the effect that the respondent is seriously 25 mentally impaired, the court shall schedule a hearing on the 26 application as soon as possible. The hearing shall be held 27 not more than forty-eight hours after the report is filed,
28 excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, unless an extension 29 is requested by the respondent, or as soon thereafter as 30 possible if the court considers that sufficient grounds exist 31 for delaying the hearing.

32

33 COMMENT: The provision for participation of qualified 34 mental health professionals in the examination or evaluation
35 of a respondent in an involuntary hospitalization

1 proceeding, appearing in subsection 1 of section 10, was 2 added by the Subcommittee in response to the suggestion
3 of a clinical psychologist, who felt that such persons 4 (as defined in section 1, subsection 7) might well be able 5 to make a contribution to the procedure. Participation 6 of qualified mental health professionals is at the option 7 of the physician because representatives of the medical 8 profession expressed concern that the other professionals
9 might otherwise supplant, rather than supplement, the work 10 of the physician, particularly in areas where psychiatrists 11 are not readily accessible.
12

13 Sec. 11. NEW SECTION. JUDGE MAY ORDER IMMEDIATE CUSTODY.
14 If the applicant requests that the respondent be taken into 15 immediate custody and the judge, upon reviewing the application 16 and accompanying documentation, finds probable cause to believe 17 that the respondent is seriously mentally impaired and 18 concludes that immediate custody is appropriate, the judge 19 may enter a written order directing that the respondent be 20 taken into immediate custody by the sheriff or his or her 21 deputy and be detained until the hospitalization hearing, 22 which shall be held no more than five days after the date
23 of the order. The judge may order the respondent detained 24 for that period of time, and no longer, as follows:

25 1. In a suitable hospital the chief medical officer of 26 which may provide treatment which is necessary to preserve 27 the respondent's life, or to appropriately control behavior
28 by the respondent which is likely to result in physical injury 29 to himself or herself or to others if allowed to continue,
30 but may not otherwise provide treatment to the respondent 31 without the respondent's consent; or

32 2. In a public or private facility in the community which 33 is suitably equipped and staffed for the purpose, provided 34 that detention in a jail or other facility intended for 35 confinement of those accused or convicted of crime may not

1 be ordered except in cases of actual emergency and then only 2 for a period of not more than twenty-four hours and under 3 close supervision; or

4 3. In the custody of a relative, friend or other suitable 5 person who is willing to accept responsibility for supervision 6 of the respondent, and the respondent may be placed under 7 such reasonable restrictions as the judge may order including, 8 but not limited to, restrictions on or a prohibition of any 9 expenditure, encumbrance or disposition of the respondent's 10 funds or property.

11

12 COMMENT: The second sentence of section 11, and 13 subsections 1, 2, and 3, were drawn in response to various 14 comments received regarding section 11 of an earlier version 15 of this draft, which provided for persons taken into custody 16 and awaiting a hospitalization hearing to be held in "a 17 medical detention facility". The intent at the time was 18 to subsequently define "medical detention facility" in 19 some appropriate manner, but it appears that circumstances 20 in different parts of the state vary so much that any 21 attempt to write a descriptive definition would probably, 22 in fact, become substantive legislation. That being the 23 case, section 11 instead specifies the places and conditions 24 in which detention may be ordered.

25 Note that the term "hospital", used in subsection
26 1 of section 11, is defined in section 1, subsection 10 27 of the bill.

28

29 Sec. 12. NEW SECTION. HEARING PROCEDURE. At the 30 hospitalization hearing, evidence in support of the contentions
31 made in the application shall be presented by the county
32 attorney. During the hearing the applicant and the respondent
33 shall be afforded an opportunity to testify and to present 34 and cross-examine witnesses, and the court may receive the 35 testimony of any other interested person. The respondent

1 has the right to be present at the hearing. All persons not 2 necessary for the conduct of the proceeding shall be excluded, 3 except that the court may admit persons having a legitimate 4 interest in the proceeding. The respondent's welfare shall 5 be paramount and the hearing shall be conducted in as informal 6 a manner as may be consistent with orderly procedure, but 7 consistent therewith the issue shall be tried as a civil 8 matter. Such discovery as is permitted under the Iowa rules 9 of civil procedure shall be available to the respondent.
10 The court shall receive all relevant and material evidence 11 which may be offered and need not be bound by the rules of 12 evidence. There shall be a presumption in favor of the 13 respondent, and the burden of evidence in support of the 14 contentions made in the application shall be upon the 15 applicant. If upon completion of the hearing the court finds 16 that the contention that the respondent is seriously mentally 17 impaired has not been sustained by clear and convincing 18 evidence, it shall deny the application and terminate the 19 proceeding.

20 Sec. 13. NEW SECTION. HOSPITALIZATION FOR EVALUATION.
21 If upon completion of the hearing the court finds that the 22 contention that the respondent is seriously mentally impaired 23 has been sustained by clear and convincing evidence, it shall 24 order the respondent placed in a hospital as expeditiously 25 as possible for a complete psychiatric evaluation and 26 appropriate treatment. The court shall furnish to the hospital 27 a written finding of fact setting forth the evidence on which 28 the finding is based. The chief medical officer of the 29 hospital shall report to the court no more than fifteen days 30 after the individual is admitted to the hospital, making a 31 recommendation for disposition of the matter. An extension 32 of time may be granted for not to exceed seven days upon a 33 showing of cause. A copy of the report shall be sent to the 34 respondent's attorney, who may contest the need for an 35 extension of time if one is requested. Extension of time

1 shall be granted upon request unless the request is contested, 2 in which case the court shall make such inquiry as it deems 3 appropriate and may either order the respondent's release 4 from the hospital or grant extension of time for psychiatric 5 evaluation.

7 COMMENT: It was suggested at the March 14, 1974
8 public hearing on the second version of this draft bill 9 that, as some people "are skilled at dissembling, either 10 good or bad," a psychiatric evaluation of less than 15 11 to 30 days is likely to prove insufficient. However, those 12 whose concern about involuntary hospitalization procedures 13 is oriented toward civil and procedural rights tend to 14 view any prolonged period of hospitalization without court 15 review as at least undesirable, if not unconstitutional.
16 Section 13 attempts to reach a compromise between these 17 viewpoints by providing for both an initial fifteen-day 18 period for psychiatric evaluation, and a seven-day extension 19 when the chief medical officer of the hospital so requests.
20 An extension for an additional seven days, beyond the 21 original fifteen-day period, would bring the total period 22 of evaluation well within the range suggested above. The 23 respondent's attorney is notified if an extension is 24 requested, and has the opportunity to oppose the request 25 if he or she considers it unwarranted.

26
27 Sec. 14. NEW SECTION. CHIEF MEDICAL OFFICER'S REPORT.
28 The chief medical officer's report to the court on the 29 psychiatric evaluation of the respondent shall be made not 30 later than the expiration of the time specified in section 31 thirteen (13) of this Act. At least two copies of the report 32 shall be filed with the clerk, who shall dispose of them in 33 the manner prescribed by section ten (10), subsection two 34 (2) of this Act. The report shall state one of the four 35 following alternative findings:

1 1. That the respondent does not, as of the date of the 2 report, require further treatment for serious mental 3 impairment. If the report so states, the court shall order 4 the respondent's immediate release from involuntary
5 hospitalization and terminate the proceedings.

6 2. That the respondent is seriously mentally ill and in 7 need of full-time custody, care and treatment in a hospital.
8 If the report so states, the court shall order the respondent's 9 continued hospitalization for appropriate treatment.

10 3. That the respondent is seriously mentally ill and in 11 need of full-time custody and care, but is unlikely to benefit 12 from further treatment in a hospital. If the report so states, 13 the chief medical officer shall recommend an alternative 14 placement for the respondent and the court may order the 15 respondent's transfer to the recommended placement. If the 16 court or the respondent's attorney consider the placement 17 inappropriate, an alternative placement may be arranged upon 18 consultation with the chief medical officer and approval of 19 the court.

20

21 COMMENT: Included in section 15 of the previous 22 version of this draft bill was a provision representing 23 a major change in the philosophy both of the draft bill 24 and of present Iowa law, i.e. the introduction of the 25 concept that a person may be ordered by the court to receive 26 treatment for mental illness on some basis other than full-27 time hospitalization. Refusal to receive such treatment 28 as ordered would have resulted in the person involved being 29 placed in full-time hospital care. While this presumably 30 would create some incentive for the person involved to 31 cooperate in the court-ordered treatment program, the 32 provision was not basically intended as a sanction. Rather, 33 it was a recognition that the person involved would have 34 been found seriously mentally impaired, as defined in 35 section 1 of this draft bill, and that the welfare of 1 society requires his or her treatment for this condition.

2 If the person involved refused to cooperate on any other 3 basis, full-time hospitalization would be the only 4 alternative to allowing him or her to remain untreated.

5 The provision for court-ordered involuntary treatment
6 was removed from this version of the bill by the legis-
7 lative Subcommittee, somewhat reluctantly, in response 8 both to apparently unanimous opposition by the medical 9 profession (on grounds that the concept is self-10 contradictory because out-patient mental treatment can 11 succeed only if it is truly voluntary on the part of the 12 patient), and to some expressions of concern on 13 constitutional grounds by attorneys.

14
15 Sec. 15. NEW SECTION. PERIODIC REPORTS REQUIRED.

16 1. Not more than thirty days after entry of an order for 17 continued hospitalization of a patient under subsection two 18 (2) of section fourteen (14) of this Act, and thereafter at 19 successive intervals of not more than sixty days continuing 20 so long as involuntary hospitalization of the patient 21 continues, the chief medical officer of the hospital shall 22 report to the court which entered the order. The report shall 23 be submitted in the manner required by section fourteen (14) 24 of this Act, shall state whether the patient's condition has 25 improved, remains unchanged, or has deteriorated, and shall 26 indicate if possible the further length of time the patient 27 will be required to remain at the hospital. The chief medical 28 officer may at any time report to the court a finding as 29 stated in subsection three (3) of section fourteen (14) of 30 this Act, and the court shall act thereon as required by that 31 section.

32 2. When a patient has been placed in a facility other 33 than a hospital pursuant to section fourteen (14), subsection
34 three (3) of this Act, a report on the patient's condition 35 and prognosis shall be made to the court which so placed the

1 patient, at least once every six months. The report shall 2 be submitted within fifteen days following the inspection, 3 required by section two hundred twenty-seven point two (227.2)
4 of the Code, of the facility in which the patient has been 5 placed.

6 3. When in the opinion of the chief medical officer the 7 best interest of a patient would be served by transfer to 8 a different hospital for continued full-time custody, care 9 and treatment, the chief medical officer may arrange and 10 complete the transfer but shall promptly report the transfer 11 to the court. Nothing in this section shall be construed 12 to add to or restrict the authority otherwise provided by 13 law for transfer of patients or residents among various state 14 institutions administered by the department of social services.

15 4. Upon receipt of any report required or authorized by 16 this section the court shall furnish a copy to the patient's 17 attorney, or alternatively to the advocate appointed as 18 required by section seventeen (17) of this Act. The court 19 shall examine the report and take the action thereon which 20 it deems appropriate.

21

22 COMMENT: The purpose of section 15 is to insure that 23 the court is advised of and has the opportunity to oversee 24 the treatment of the patient to the extent necessary to 25 insure that the patient's constitutional rights are 26 protected, and thereby meet the procedural requirements 27 indicated by various court decisions in recent months and 28 years. It is recognized that this section will impose 29 duties on courts and judges which could prove burdensome-30 -see section 17 of this draft bill.

31 The question has been raised whether it would be 32 possible under this draft bill for an involuntary patient 33 who wished to do so to become a voluntary patient. It 34 is believed that the chief medical officer would have 35 latitude to report this fact to the court, which could

1 take appropriate action. However, there is no specific 2 statement to that effect in the draft bill.

4 Sec. 16. NEW SECTION. DISCHARGE AND TERMINATION OF 5 PROCEEDING. When in the opinion of the chief medical officer 6 a patient who is hospitalized under subsection two (2) or 7 is in full-time care and custody under subsection three (3)
8 of section fourteen (14) of this Act no longer requires 9 treatment or care for serious mental impairment, the chief 10 medical officer shall immediately report that fact to the 11 court which ordered the patient's hospitalization or care
12 and custody. The court shall thereupon issue an order 13 discharging the patient from the hospital or from care and 14 custody, as the case may be, and shall terminate the pro-
15 ceedings pursuant to which the order was issued.

16
17 COMMENT: The provisions of this section are set forth 18 separately from section 15 to emphasize their importance 19 and finality.

20
21 Sec. 17. NEW SECTION. ADVOCATE APPOINTED. The district 22 court in each county shall appoint an individual who has 23 demonstrated by prior activities an informed concern for the 24 welfare and rehabilitation of the mentally ill, and who is 25 not an officer or employee of the department of social services
26 nor of any agency or facility providing care or treatment 27 to the mentally ill, to act as advocate representing the 28 interests of all patients involuntarily hospitalized by that 29 court, in any matter relating to the patients' hospitaliza-30 tion or treatment under sections fourteen (14) or fifteen 31 (15) of this Act. The advocate shall, wherever practical, 32 be an attorney. The advocate's responsibility with respect 33 to any patient shall begin at whatever time the attorney 34 employed or appointed to represent that patient as respondent 35 in hospitalization proceedings, conducted under sections six

1 (6) through thirteen (13) of this Act, reports to the court
2 that his or her services are no longer required and requests 3 the court's approval to withdraw as counsel for that patient.
4 The clerk shall furnish the advocate with a copy of the court's 5 order approving the withdrawal. The advocate's duties shall 6 include reviewing each report submitted pursuant to sections 7 fourteen (14) and fifteen (15) of this Act concerning any 8 patient whose interests, as a patient, the advocate is required 9 to represent under this section, and if the advocate is not 10 an attorney, advising the court at any time it appears that 11 the services of an attorney are required to properly safeguard
12 the patient's interests. The court shall from time to time 13 prescribe reasonable compensation for the services of the 14 advocate. Such compensation shall be based upon reports filed 15 by the advocate at such times and in such forms as the court 16 shall prescribe. The report shall briefly state what the 17 advocate has done with respect to each patient and the amount 18 of time spent. The advocate's compensation shall be paid 19 on order of the court from the county mental health and 20 institutions fund of the county in which the court is located.

21

22 COMMENT: The provision for a court-appointed advocate 23 to look after the interests of patients hospitalized or 24 being treated under order of the court is intended to help 25 make the reporting requirements of section 15 meaningful.
26 It is unlikely that all attorneys who represent respondents 27 during the legal proceedings preceding hospitalization 28 will have the time or interest to continue following the 29 case, particularly if the necessary treatment is at all 30 prolonged or the attorney is appointed at public expense.

31

32 Sec. 18. NEW SECTION. HOSPITALIZATION--EMERGENCY PROCE-
33 DURE.

34 1. The procedure prescribed by this section shall not 35 be used unless it appears that a person should be immediately

1 detained due to serious mental impairment, but that person
2 cannot be immediately detained by the procedure prescribed
3 in sections six (6) and eleven (11) of this Act because there 4 is no means of immediate access to the district court.

5 2. In the circumstances described in subsection one (1)
6 of this section, any peace officer who has reasonable grounds 7 to believe that a person is mentally ill, and because of that 8 illness is likely to physically injure himself or herself
9 or others if not immediately detained, may without a warrant 10 take or cause that person to be taken to the nearest available 11 facility as defined in section eleven (11), subsections one 12 (1) and two (2) of this Act. Immediately upon taking the 13 person into custody, the nearest available magistrate, as 14 defined in section seven hundred forty-eight point one (748.1)
15 of the Code, shall be notified and shall immediately proceed 16 to the facility. The magistrate shall in the manner prescribed 17 by section eight (8), subsection one (1) of this Act insure 18 that the person has or is provided legal counsel, and shall 19 arrange for the counsel to be present, if practicable, before 20 proceeding under this section. The peace officer who took 21 the person into custody shall remain until the magistrate's 22 arrival and shall describe the circumstances of the detention 23 to the magistrate. If the magistrate finds that there is 24 probable cause to believe that the person is seriously mentally 25 ill, and because of that illness is likely to physically 26 injure himself or herself or others if not immediately 27 detained, he or she shall enter a written order for the per-28 son to be detained in custody and, if the facility where the 29 person is at that time is not an appropriate hospital, 30 transported to an appropriate hospital. The magistrate's 31 order shall state the circumstances under which the person 32 was taken into custody and the grounds supporting the finding 33 of probable cause to believe that he or she is mentally ill
34 and likely to physically injure himself or herself or others
35 if not immediately detained. A certified copy of the order

1 shall be delivered to the chief medical officer of the hospital
2 where the person is detained, at the earliest practicable 3 time.

4 3. The chief medical officer of the hospital shall examine 5 and may detain, care for and treat the person taken into 6 custody under the magistrate's order for a period not to 7 exceed forty-eight hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and 8 holidays. The person shall be discharged from the hospital 9 and released from custody not later than the expiration of 10 that period, unless an application for his or her involuntary 11 hospitalization is sooner filed with the clerk pursuant to 12 section six (6) of this Act. The detention of any person 13 by the procedure and not in excess of the period of time 14 prescribed by this section shall not render the peace officer, 15 physician or hospital so detaining that person liable in a 16 criminal or civil action for false arrest or false imprisonment 17 if the peace officer, physician or hospital had reasonable 18 grounds to believe the person so detained was mentally ill
19 and likely to physically injure himself or herself or others
20 if not immediately detained.

21 4. The cost of hospitalization at a public hospital of 22 a person detained temporarily by the procedure prescribed 23 in this section shall be paid in the same way as if the person 24 had been admitted to the hospital by the procedure prescribed 25 in sections six (6) through thirteen (13) of this Act.

26

27 COMMENT: Section 18 is a key part of this draft bill.
28 Iowa presently has no specific statutory procedure for 29 handling those situations which occasionally arise late 30 at night or on a weekend or holiday, in which an apparently 31 mentally ill person is acting in ways which threaten harm 32 to himself or herself, or to others, and the situation 33 must be dealt with at once. The procedure prescribed 34 in this section is similar in many respects to that provided 35 by legislation submitted to the 65th General Assembly

1 but not acted upon. Major additions during development 2 of this draft bill are the provisions in subsection 2 which 3 require (1) that the magistrate immediately begin efforts
 4 to insure that the person whose hospitalization is sought
 5 has legal counsel and bring the counsel into the emergency 6 proceeding "if practicable", and (2) that the person
 7 detained be taken directly to a hospital or other facility 8 and that the magistrate also come there to handle the 9 required hearing procedure. It has been suggested that 10 the term "reasonable grounds" appearing in the first 11 sentence in subsection 2 and the last sentence of subsection 12 3 should be changed to "probable cause". The legislative 13 Subcommittee decided against this; i.e., a peace officer 14 may take a person into custody under this section if he 15 believes he has "reasonable grounds" to think that person 16 is seriously mentally impaired. It is to be noted, however, 17 that the magistrate must release the person from custody 18 unless there is "probable cause" to think he or she is 19 seriously mentally impaired.

20
 21 Sec. 19. NEW SECTION. RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES OF 22 HOSPITALIZED PERSONS. Every person who is hospitalized or 23 detained under this Act shall have the right to:
 24 1. Prompt evaluation, emergency psychiatric services,
 25 and care and treatment as indicated by sound medical practice.
 26 2. In addition to protection of his constitutional rights, 27 enjoyment of other legal, medical, religious, social, 28 political, personal and working rights and privileges which 29 he would enjoy if he were not so hospitalized or detained,
 30 so far as is possible consistent with effective treatment
 31 of that person and of the other patients of the hospital.
 32 The department of social services shall, in accordance with 33 chapter seventeen A (17A) of the Code establish rules setting
 34 forth the specific rights and privileges to which persons 35 so hospitalized or detained are entitled under this section,

1 and the exceptions provided by section seventeen A point two 2 (17A.2), subsection seven (7), paragraphs a and k, shall not 3 be applicable to the rules so established. The patient shall 4 be advised of these rules and be provided a written copy upon 5 admission to or arrival at the hospital.

COMMENT: Subsection 2 of section 20 has been drafted in accordance with enactment in 1974 of the new Administrative Procedure Act. (The citations in subsection 2 apply to the Code of 1975, not earlier editions.) A number of comments have been received on the provisions of subsection 2, at and after each of the public hearing on the previous versions of this draft bill. These have ranged from objections to the subsection on the ground that calling attention to a list of patients' rights will make treatment of patients in mental hospitals more difficult, to requests that the departmental rule approach be discarded in favor of spelling out all patients' rights in law.

Sec. 20. NEW SECTION. RECORDS OF INVOLUNTARY HOSPITALIZATION PROCEEDING TO BE CONFIDENTIAL.

1. All papers and records pertaining to any involuntary hospitalization or application for involuntary hospitalization of any person under this Act, whether part of the permanent record of the court or of a file in the department of social services, are subject to inspection only upon an order of the court for good cause shown.

2. If authorized in writing by a person who has been the subject of any proceeding or report under sections six (6) through thirteen (13) or section eighteen (18) of this Act, or by the parent or guardian of that person, information regarding that person which is confidential under subsection one (1) of this section may be released to any designated person.

1 Sec. 21. NEW SECTION. MEDICAL RECORDS TO BE CONFIDENTIAL-
2 -EXCEPTIONS. The records maintained by a hospital relating 3 to the examination, custody, care and treatment of any person
4 in that hospital pursuant to this Act shall be confidential,
5 except that the chief medical officer may release appropriate 6 information when:

- 7 1. The information is requested by a licensed physician
8 who provides the chief medical officer with a written waiver 9 signed by the person about whom the information is sought;
10 or
11 2. The information is sought by a court order; or 12 3. The information is requested for the purpose of research 13 into the causes, incidence, nature and treatment of mental 14 illness. Information provided under this subsection shall 15 not be published in a way that discloses patients' names or 16 other identifying information.

17 Sec. 22. NEW SECTION. EXCLUSIVE PROCEDURE FOR INVOLUNTARY
18 HOSPITALIZATION. Sections six (6) through (15), inclusive, 19 of this Act shall constitute the exclusive procedure for 20 involuntary hospitalization of persons by reason of serious 21 mental impairment in this state, except that nothing in this 22 Act shall negate the provisions of sections two hundred forty-23 five point twelve (245.12) and two hundred forty-six point 24 sixteen (246.16) of the Code relative to transfer of mentally 25 ill prisoners to state hospitals for the mentally ill.

26
27 COMMENT: As presently worded, section 22 may be too
28 far-reaching. A final decision on the provisions of this 29 section should be made only when the scope of this draft 30 bill has been decided upon. For example, a question has 31 been raised as to whether this section would create a 32 conflict with the criminal sexual psychopath law.
33

34 Sec. 23. NEW SECTION. HOSPITALIZATION NOT TO EQUATE WITH 35 INCOMPETENCY--PROCEDURE FOR FINDING INCOMPETENCY DUE TO MENTAL

1 ILLNESS.

2 1. Hospitalization of any person under this Act, either 3 voluntarily or involuntarily, shall not be deemed to constitute 4 a finding of or to equate with nor raise a presumption of 5 incompetency, or to cause the person so hospitalized to be 6 deemed a lunatic, a person of unsound mind, or a person under 7 legal disability for any purpose including but not limited 8 to any circumstances to which sections four hundred forty-9 seven point seven (477.7), four hundred seventy-two point 10 fifteen (472.15), five hundred forty-five point two (545.2), 11 subsection thirteen (13), five hundred forty-five point eleven 12 (545.11), subsection seven (7), five hundred forty-five point 13 thirty-six (545.36), five hundred sixty-seven point seven 14 (567.7), five hundred ninety-five point three (595.3), five 15 hundred ninety-seven point six (597.6), five hundred ninety-16 eight point twenty-nine (598.29), six hundred fourteen point 17 eight (614.8), six hundred fourteen point nineteen (614.19), 18 six hundred fourteen point twenty-two (614.22), six hundred 19 fourteen point twenty-four (614.24), six hundred fourteen 20 point twenty-seven (614.27), six hundred twenty-two point 21 six (622.6), six hundred thirty-three point two hundred forty-22 four (633.244), six hundred thirty-three point two hundred 23 sixty-six (633.266), subsection four (4), and six hundred 24 seventy-five point twenty-one (675.21) of the Code are 25 applicable.

26 2. The applicant may, in initiating a petition for 27 involuntary hospitalization of a person under section six 28 (6) of this Act or at any subsequent time prior to conclusion
29 of the involuntary hospitalization proceeding, also petition 30 the court for a finding that the person is incompetent by 31 reason of mental illness. The test of competence for the 32 purpose of this section shall be whether the person possesses 33 sufficient mind to understand in a reasonable manner the 34 nature and effect of the act in which he or she is engaged;
35 the fact that a person is mentally ill and in need of treatment

1 for that illness but because of the illness lacks sufficient 2 judgment to make responsible decisions with respect to his 3 or her hospitalization or treatment does not necessarily mean 4 that that person is incapable of transacting business on any 5 subject.

6 3. A hearing limited to the question of the person's 7 competence and conducted in substantially the manner prescribed 8 in sections six hundred thirty-three point five hundred fifty-9 two (633.552) through six hundred thirty-three point five 10 hundred fifty-six (633.556) of the Code shall be held when:

11 a. The court is petitioned or proposes upon its own motion 12 to find incompetent by reason of mental illness, a person whose 13 involuntary hospitalization has been ordered under sections 14 thirteen (13) or fourteen (14) of this Act, and who contends 15 that he or she is not incompetent; or 16 b. A person previously found incompetent by reason of 17 mental illness under subsection two (2) of this section 18 petitions the court for a finding that he or she is no longer 19 incompetent and, after notice to the applicant who initiated 20 the petition for hospitalization of the person and to any 21 other party as directed by the court, an objection is filed 22 with the court. The court may order a hearing on its own 23 motion before acting on a petition filed under this paragraph.

24 A petition by a person for a finding that he or she is no
25 longer incompetent may be filed at any time without regard 26 to whether the person is at that time hospitalized for 27 treatment of mental illness.

28 4. Nothing in this Act shall preclude use of any other 29 procedure authorized by law for declaring any person legally 30 incompetent for reasons which may include mental illness, 31 without regard to whether that person is or has been 32 hospitalized for treatment of mental illness.

APPENDIX I

Involuntary Hospitalization of the Mentally Ill--

I - Constitutional Issues

by Randall P. Bezanson

A threshold problem is where to start in a memorandum of this sort. Rather than proceeding on an analysis of the particular provisions of Iowa's current legislation or the proposed bill, I will address the issue more generally, defining some of the basic constitutional guarantees bearing on the commitment process. I will proceed, so far as possible, in a generally chronological manner.

At the outset, two points should be made. First, constitutional requirements should most appropriately play only a secondary role in any commitment legislation. The primary goal should be to seek the fairest, most accurate, and most effective process for the treatment and ultimate release of persons suffering from mental disorder. To the extent that such an "ideal" system based on these premises would satisfy constitutional requirements--or even exceed them--those constitutional requirements should play no important role. If for reasons of fairness and policy we provide more protection than the constitution requires, we should not retreat to the constitutional minimum simply because that document would require less. The issue is different, of course, where the constitution would require more, and it is from this perspective that I will address the question.

A second point is that a remarkable thorough analysis of the relevant state statutes and constitutional guarantees may be found in a 200-page article in a recent issue of the Harvard Law Review. Note, Developments in the Law--Civil Commitment of the Mentally Ill, 87 Harv. L. Rev. 1190 (1974).

The balance of this memorandum will be devoted to an enumerated list of selected constitutional issues that are raised by the current Iowa commitment statute and bear on the proposed statute.

1. The Statutory Standard for Commitment. The central constitutional issue raised under this heading concerns whether dangerousness in some form is a prerequisite for commitment to full-time hospitalization of the mentally ill. I think it can be safely stated that the clear and recent trend of decision is to require that a person exhibit dangerous tendencies as a precondition to full-time hospitalization. See, e.g., Cross v. Harris, 418 F. 2d 1095 (D.C. Cir, 1969); People v. Stoddard, 227 Cal. App. 2d 40 (Dist. Ct. App. 1964); Davy v. Sullivan, 354 F. Supp. 1320 (M.D. Ala. 1973); Lessard v. Schmidt, 349 F. Supp. 1078 (E.D. Wis. 1972), vacated and remanded on other grounds, 94 S. Ct. 713 (1974); Welsch v. Likins, No. 4-72-Civ. 451, slip op. at 15

(D. Minn., Feb. 15, 1974). The issue, of course, is more difficult than this. It appears from the cases that physical injury to self or others will suffice, as well as a threat of severe emotional injury to others. People v. Stoddard, supra.

Interestingly enough, there is a growing body of authority to the effect that the constitution requires commitment on the least restrictive terms, even in those cases where it is otherwise justified. See Lessard v. Schmidt, supra; Dixon v. Attorney General, 325 F. Supp. 966 (M.D. Pa. 1971); Kesselbrenner v. Anonymous, 33 N.Y. 2d 161 (1973); Welsch v. Likins, supra. This view is quite consistent with well-established constitutional doctrine in many other areas, and accordingly is deserving of substantial weight. Our proposed bill, as most recently amended, satisfies this constitutional requirement, for it permits commitment by the commission or district court for out-patient treatment. This is a position which I have held ever since completion of the commitment study in 1970, and I was very happy to see it incorporated in the recent draft.

Other issues, of course, abound in relation to the statutory standard for commitment: what is the permissible definition of mental illness; is the standard unconstitutionally vague; does the standard incorporate (as ours does) a requirement of "treatability"? Without going into these matters, my off-hand judgment is that the proposed bill satisfies the constitution in all pertinent respects. The old statute, both in its definition of mental illness and its failure to require that the committed patient be a fit subject for treatment in all cases, is deficient.

2. Procedural Rights--Notice. While the Supreme Court has not directly addressed the issue of the extent of due process protection which must be afforded the civilly committed person, its opinions in closely allied areas virtually preclude the view that due process does not apply. E.g., In re Gault, 387 U.S. 1 (1967); Goldberg v. Kelly, 397 U.S. 254 (1970); Richardson v. Perales, 402 U.S. 401 (1971); Jackson v. Indiana, 406 U.S. 715 (1972); Morrissey v. Brewer, 408 U.S. 471 (1972). With this in mind, I will simply offer my opinion as to those procedural protections which due process most likely requires. First, notice to the patient is most assuredly required; where notice would be ineffective or dangerous, emergency commitment and temporary detention under the safeguards prescribed in our bill would suffice. Whether or not notice is served on the prospective patient directly or through counsel if immediately retained may not be of great constitutional moment where custody is not immediate, but our bill provides for notice to both and is thus the best and safest means of providing clear notice.

3. Procedural Rights--Hearing. Detention prior to a hearing for purposes of evidence gathering and evaluation is not absolutely prohibited, but the permissible length of detention is circumscribed. The Lessard court held that a preliminary hearing must be held within 48 hours of custody. While a longer period may well pass constitutional muster, there seems little reason to test the point, and the proposed bill doesn't, as a 48-hour period is prescribed there as well.

The preliminary hearing further serves to eliminate in large measure the time pressure for a full hearing. Our bill provides that the full hearing must take place within about 15 days of the preliminary hearing, and this is consistent with the opinion in the Lessard case. While a longer period may well pass constitutional scrutiny, any delay in excess of 20 or 25 days would, in my judgment, be pressing the outer limits. Indeed, as the normal period of hospitalization does not exceed 30 days in many cases, permitting a delay of that length would in effect eliminate the hearing altogether. The benchmark must be identified in view of the principle reasons or justifications for delay. Delay cannot at this stage be justified by a need for treatment, for commitment itself has not taken place, and therefore treatment of the patient before the hearing may raise substantial constitutional questions. Rather, the delay can be justified only in order that diagnosis be made and the state and individual have ample time to prepare for the hearing. In view of this a 15-day limitation would seem fully adequate in all but the rarest of cases.

4. Right to Counsel. While Iowa now provides appointed counsel for the prospective patient, mention should at least be made of the constitutional underpinnings of this right. In view of abundant Supreme Court authority in related areas, as well as most if not all recent cases decided in lower courts, there seems little room for argument that counsel need not be provided. And it seems clear as well that the right to counsel attaches immediately after the information has been filed or the patient has been taken into custody. E.g., In re Gault, supra; Heryford v. Parker, 396 F. 2d 393 (10th Cir. 1968); Lessard v. Schmidt, supra.

5. Right to Jury Trial. The right to a jury trial in the civil commitment setting has not attracted much attention in prior decisions, although a few recent cases have held that juries are constitutionally mandated. See Lessard v. Schmidt; Quesnell v. State, 517 P. 2d 568 (Wash. 1973). The weight of authority, however, seems contrary to this position, as the Supreme Court has refused to extend the jury trial right in highly analogous contexts. In re Gault, supra; McKeiver v. Pennsylvania, 403 U.S. 528 (1971). The weight of reason, as well, disfavors the jury trial, at least when not requested by the patient, for the likelihood of prejudice on the jury's part in this context seems acute.

6. Right to Judicial Officer. The reasons supportive of a right to jury trial, however, are that through the device of the jury the nonmedical components of the commitment decision are separated from the medical judgment. Commitment is not strictly a medical decision. Accordingly, while a jury may not be required, there is some force in the argument that a judge or panel composed of nonmedical personnel (subject to immediate and direct review by a court) must make the ultimate commitment decision. This view is all the more forceful in light of the difficult legal questions which will constantly arise in the commitment setting: procedural rights; standard of proof, and the like. See Lessard v. Schmidt. It is noteworthy, as well, that many states now require judges in the commitment process, and at least five states either require or permit jury trial. Alaska Stat. section 47.30.070(h); Tex. Rev. Civ. Stat. ann. arts 5547-48; Ala. Code tit. 45, section 210; Ark. Stat. Ann. 6 59-101; D.C. Code ann. section 21-545(a). (Alabama and Arkansas make the right discretionary with the judge.)

7. Standard of Proof. It seems well settled that at the very least the prospective patient must be shown to be seriously mentally ill by clear and convincing evidence or by a preponderance of the evidence. The real question lies elsewhere. A number of fairly recent decisions have taken the position that serious mental illness must be established beyond a reasonable doubt. See, e.g., Lessard v. Schmidt, supra; In re Bailey, 482 F. 2d 648 (D.C. Cir. 1973). The reasonable doubt standard has been required in the analogous juvenile setting, In re Winship, 397 U.S. 358 (1970), although the nature of the issues to be determined in the civil commitment setting are arguable more vague than in the juvenile setting, and thus one might conclude that the reasonable doubt standard would simply be unworkable in the instant context. While I believe that there is much truth to this observation, it must be carefully employed. Any admission that mental illness cannot be proved beyond a reasonable doubt raises serious questions about the legitimacy of civil commitment itself. I would hate to tell someone that the standard of proof is less simply because we know we are guessing or speculating about the very condition with which we are so concerned. For present purposes, however, I think a requirement of proof by clear and convincing evidence, coupled with the extensive diagnosis and the periodic review which is required under the proposed bill, is constitutionally sufficient.

8. Miscellaneous Matters. By labelling the following issues as "miscellaneous" I do not intend to depreciate their significance, but rather to indicate that my analysis of them has not been as thorough. First, I think the patient's presence at the hearing is constitutionally required, at least in the absence of substantial disruption or a clear and unequivocal waiver of that right by the individual. A right to appeal is also required, with appointed counsel at this stage, as now provided in the Iowa Code. So also, I think, is a periodic reporting of the patient's status required, although the relevant time intervals are not clear. Finally, a right to treatment has become almost universally recognized, although many of the cases justify it on statutory rather than constitutional grounds. Nonetheless, treatment is the only justification for commitment and involuntary hospitalization, and it would shock one's conscience to say that no right to treatment existed in light of this. An exhaustive list of cases decided on this point can be found in the Harvard Law Review article cited above, at pages 1316-1344.

There are two other issues on which I have done no research, but about which I have some tentative feelings. First, does the prospective patient have a privilege against self-incrimination? If so, the medical examination required under the proposed bill would be substantially undermined. Second, may parents constitutionally "commit" their children against their will on a voluntary basis? While this issue is not clear from a constitutional point of view, I think a case can easily be imagined where a child hospitalized under such conditions could successfully challenge the validity of his or her confinement.

In my judgment the proposed bill satisfies the constitution. The current statutes, however, fail to do so in significant respects.

COUNTY OFFICERS COORDINATING COMMITTEE

December 6, 1974

Senator John S. Murray
Chairman, Sub-Committee on Commitment Laws
Mental Health and Juvenile Study Committee
c/o Iowa Legislative Service Bureau
State House
Des Moines, Iowa 50319

Dear Senator Murray:

The County Officers Coordinating Committee at their regular meeting on November 20, 1974, discussed at length the proposed revision of Iowa Law pertaining to civil commitment for the treatment of mental illness.

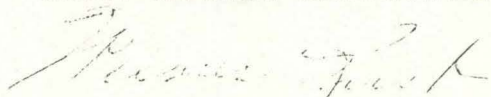

The Committee, organized in 1955, is comprised of representatives from the County Supervisors Association, County Auditors Association, County Clerks Association, County Home Administrators, and Administrators of the six institutions within the Division of Mental Health Resources, and Central Office personnel.

The new commitment bill authorizes judges to delegate commitment to a Judicial Hospitalization Commission. This, in fact, is practically identical to the present Hospitalization Commission process, except that it would substitute a lay person for the Clerk. If the present law is unconstitutional, this part of the new commitment bill would also be unconstitutional. It would also place an additional burden on the already overloaded courts, greatly increase the duties of the Clerks, and there is an indication the administrative cost to the counties would be considerable.

For the above-stated reasons, the Committee went on record as opposing the enactment of this bill.

Sincerely,

COUNTY OFFICERS COORDINATING COMMITTEE

Wilbur Rust, President
Grundy County Auditor

APPENDIX III

Judicial Hospitalization Commission

The following is the proposed judicial hospitalization commission section which appeared in the third version of Mental Health and Juvenile Institutions Study Committee Draft Bill No. 6, but was deleted from the fourth version for the reasons explained in this supplementary report of the Commitment Laws Subcommittee.

Sec. ____ . NEW SECTION. JUDICIAL HOSPITALIZATION COMMISSION.

1. As soon as practicable after the adoption of this Act the judges in each judicial district shall meet and shall determine, individually for each county in the district, whether it is practical for the district court in that county to perform the duties prescribed by sections seven (7) through sixteen (16), inclusive, of this Act. In any county in which the judges find it impractical for the district court of that county to so act, the chief judge of the district shall appoint a judicial hospitalization commission. The judges in any district may at any time review their determination, previously made under this subsection with respect to any county in the district, and pursuant to that review may establish a judicial hospitalization commission, or abolish it, in that county.

2. Each judicial hospitalization commission shall consist of three members, all of whom shall be residents of the county in which the commission is established. One member, who shall preside in all proceedings of the commission, shall be an attorney engaged in the practice of law in that county, one member shall be a physician engaged in the practice of medicine in that county, and the third member shall be a person who has demonstrated an informed interest in the field

1 of mental health. For purposes of this subsection, such 2 interest may be demonstrated by volunteer work in areas related 3 to mental health as well as by professional experience in 4 related fields.

5 3. When established in any county, the judicial 6 hospitalization commission shall perform all of the duties 7 which would otherwise be performed by the district court of 8 that county pursuant to sections seven (7) through sixteen 9 (16) of this Act, inclusive, except that if a request is made 10 for an order that a respondent be immediately taken into 11 custody under section eleven (11) of this Act, the request 12 must be referred to and such order may be entered only by 13 a judge of the district court.

14 4. Any respondent with respect to whom the judicial 15 hospitalization commission has found the contention that he 16 or she is seriously mentally ill sustained by clear and 17 convincing evidence presented at a hearing held under section 18 twelve (12) of this Act, or the respondent's next friend, 19 may appeal from that finding to the district court by giving 20 the clerk thereof, within thirty days after the commission's 21 finding has been made, notice in writing that an appeal is 22 taken. The notice may be signed by the appellant or his 23 agent, next friend, guardian or attorney. When so appealed, 24 the matter shall stand for trial de novo. Upon appeal, the 25 court shall schedule a hospitalization hearing at the earliest 26 practicable time. The court may, but shall not be required 27 to, order a new examination of the appellant by one or more 28 licensed physicians.

29 5. If the appellant is in custody under the 30 jurisdiction of the judicial hospitalization commission at 31 the time of service of the notice of appeal, he shall be 32 discharged from custody unless a judge of the district court
33 enters, or has previously entered, an order that the appellant
34 be taken into immediate custody under section eleven (11)
35 of this Act, in which case the appellant shall be detained

1 as provided in that section until the hospitalization hearing
2 before the district court. If the appellant is in the custody
3 of a hospital at the time of service of the notice of appeal, 4 he shall be discharged from custody pending disposition of 5 the appeal unless the chief medical officer, not later than 6 the end of the next secular day on which the office of the 7 clerk is open and which follows service of the notice of 8 appeal, files with the clerk a certification that in the chief 9 medical officer's opinion the appellant is seriously mentally 10 ill. In that case, the appellant shall remain in custody 11 of the hospital until the hospitalization hearing before the 12 district court.

13 6. The hospitalization hearing before the district
14 court shall be held, and the judge's finding shall be made
15 and an appropriate order entered, as prescribed by sections
16 twelve (12) and thirteen (13) of this Act. If the judge 17 orders the appellant hospitalized for a complete psychiatric 18 evaluation, jurisdiction of the matter shall revert to the 19 judicial hospitalization commission.

20 7. Each member of the judicial hospitalization
21 commission shall receive forty dollars per diem for each day 22 or portion of a day actually devoted to the duties of the 23 office, and shall be reimbursed for actual and necessary 24 expenses incurred in the course of such service.

25 8. The clerk of the district court in each county
26 in which a judicial hospitalization commission is established 27 shall provide the clerical services required by the commission 28 in the performance of its official duties.

29

30 COMMENT: This section seeks to effect a compromise 31 between the view that only a court may 32 constitutionally involuntarily hospitalize (i.e., 33 deprive of liberty) a person, and the urgent 34 representations to the legislative Subcommittee that 35 in many areas of the state it is simply impossible

1 for the courts, as presently organized, to assume 2 this additional burden. The proposed "Judicial 3 Hospitalization Commission" would be similar in many 4 respects to the present Commission of Hospitalization, 5 but would be legally an arm of the court. Also, 6 the clerk of court would no longer be a member, but 7 would continue to provide staff services to the 8 Commission.

9 The Commission would exercise nearly all of the 10 functions of the district court, if the judges of 11 the district conclude that it is not feasible for 12 the district court itself to perform this role in 13 any given county. The sole exception is that only 14 a district judge could issue an order to take into 15 immediate custody a person whose involuntary 16 hospitalization is being sought. The finding of 17 the Commission could be appealed by any person ordered 18 hospitalized for a psychiatric evaluation, but if 19 the finding should be upheld upon trial in the 20 district court, jurisdiction reverts to the Commission 21 to receive the required reports from the hospital, 22 etc.
