Tax Credits Contingent Liabilities Report

March 13, 2025

The Tax Credits Contingent Liabilities Report was created by the Tax Research and Program Analysis Section of the Iowa Department of Revenue (IDR) for the benefit of the Revenue Estimating Conference (REC). This report is part of the Tax Credits Tracking and Analysis Program. The goal of the program is to provide a repository for information concerning the awarding, usage, and effectiveness of tax credits.

Summary

- Tax credit awards in FY 2024 decreased 17.8 percent from FY 2023 to $190.4 million (see Table 1). Awards in FY 2025 to-date total $97.4 million, although most programs have not finished issuing current year awards.
- Nonrefundable and refundable tax credit claims reported on the IA 148 Tax Credits Schedule against individual income, corporation income, insurance premium, franchise, replacement, moneys and credits, and sales and use taxes for tax year 2022, the most recent year with complete data, were $237.2 million, down from $264.5 million in tax year 2021.
- Sales and use tax refunds under EDA tax credit programs totaled $17.4 million in FY 2024, measured on an accrual basis (see Table 5). To date, $5.0 million in sales and use tax refunds have been issued in FY 2025. In FY 2024, an additional $45.1 million in tax credit claims were made against individual withholding tax (see Table 6).
- Expected claims for all tax credits, based on historical information showing some tax credit awards are not always fully claimed, are $422.1 million for FY 2025, $386.9 million for FY 2026, and $405.5 million for FY 2027 (see Table 8).
- Expected claims projections for most credits are based on historical claims data from the IA 148 Tax Credits Schedule. Because claims data are constantly updated, these forecasts will change based on the best data available at the time. Updated information about tax credit awards from awarding agencies, including awards that have been either revoked, declined, or modified, will also change the estimates.

Tax Credit Awards

lowa has two categories of tax credits: automatic and awarded. Awarded credits require application and a specific award in order for a taxpayer to claim the credit. The total amount of the awarded credits may also be capped. Automatic credits may be claimed by any eligible taxpayer and the total amount of claims has no limit or cap. More information about each of lowa's tax credit programs can be found in the Appendix at the end of this report and in the Tax Credits User's Manual.

Tax credit awards in FY 2024 decreased $41.3 million over awards in FY 2023 to a total of $190.4 million (see Table 1). This resulted in a 17.8 percent decrease compared to FY 2023 awards. The programs with the largest percent increase in awards for FY 2024 were the Endow Iowa Tax Credit, Geothermal Heat Pump Tax Credit, and the Hoover Presidential Library Tax Credit. Endow Iowa Tax Credit awards increased 116.7 percent from $6 million to $13 million due to a one-time program cap increase, Geothermal Heat Pump Tax Credit awards increased 41.7 percent from $0.6 million to $0.9 million due to increased demand, and Hoover Presidential Library Tax Credit awards increased 31.5 percent from $0.3 million to $0.4 million possibly due to either an increase in demand or public awareness of the credit.

Awards made to-date in FY 2025 total $97.4 million with most programs still issuing awards.

Tax Credit Claims

Between tax years 2015 and 2023, individual income tax credit claims averaged $256.4 million per year (see Table 2). Total individual income tax credit claims in 2023 increased 1.7 percent from claims made in 2022. The biggest change was seen in Other Refundable Tax Credits, which decreased over 83 percent. This decrease was due to Composite Tax Credits which were claimed on the same line of the 2022 tax return as refundable tax credits, while the Composite Tax Credit on the 2023 tax return was reported on a separate line of the return.

The majority of tax credit claims made against corporation income tax are for the Research Activities Tax Credit. In tax years 2001 through 2005, Research Activities Tax Credit claims accounted for over 80 percent of the dollars of all corporation income tax credit claims. Since 2015, the Research Activities Tax Credit has accounted for 47.1 percent of total corporation income tax credit claims. The drop resulted from growth in the amount of "Other Credits" claimed. "Other Credits" claims historically accounted for 5 to 10 percent of all corporation claims; in tax years 2015 through 2022 as new credits were introduced, those claims accounted for 52.2 percent of corporation tax credit claims. Tax year 2022 is the most recent complete year of claim data. In 2022, Research Activities Tax Credit claims accounted for 32.1 percent of all credits claimed against corporation income tax.

With the implementation of the IA 148 Tax Credits Schedule, in tax year 2006, the availability of detailed income tax credit claim data improved; note that withholding tax credits and sales and use refunds are tracked separately. In tax years 2006 through 2022, on average, 74 percent of nonrefundable tax credit claims made on the IA 148 were claimed against individual income tax (see Table 3). In those years, nonrefundable tax credit claims were made against corporation income, franchise (levied on banks), individual income, insurance premium, moneys and credits (levied on credit unions), replacement, and sales and use taxes. The majority of IA 148 refundable tax credit claims made between 2006 and 2022 were claimed against corporation income tax, averaging 64.3 percent of all refundable tax credit claims (see Table 4). Since 2006, refundable tax credit claims made on the IA 148 have been claimed against corporation income, franchise, individual income, insurance premium, replacement, and sales and use taxes.

Sales and Use Tax Refunds for Tax Credit Programs

As part of the High Quality Jobs Programs and the Workforce Housing Tax Incentive Program, taxpayers are allowed to file for refunds of sales and use taxes paid by contractors and subcontractors after construction is completed. The New Capital Investment and New Job and Income Programs, as well as the Enterprise Zone Program (including the Housing component), predecessors to the High Quality Jobs Program, also included sales and use tax refund awards. The first refunds were made during FY 2000 through the Enterprise Zone Program (see Table 5). Refunds reached an all-time high in FY 2019 when they reached $27.9 million, which was a 6.9 percent increase over FY 2018. These refunds are reported on an accrual basis (refunds issued September through August) in line with the period for which the REC forecasts General Fund refunds. Refunds for FY 2024 increased to $17.4 million, which was a 281.9 percent increase from the previous year. This increase may have been due, in part, to a change to the system that these refunds are issued from which likely delayed the processing. Year-to-date refunds for fiscal year 2025 are $5.0 million.

Tax Credits from Withholding

There are four tax credits that can be claimed against the withholding tax. The largest program is the Iowa Industrial New Jobs Program (260E) that includes both the New Jobs Tax Credit and the Supplemental New Jobs Tax Credit. These two credits support employers' training of new employees. The Accelerated Career Education (ACE) Tax Credit is awarded to employers who sponsor training slots at community colleges. The Targeted Jobs Tax Credit is a withholding tax credit for jobs meeting certain requirements in targeted communities in the state of Iowa. These tax credit programs divert the credited withholding tax to the participating community college or city.

The withholding credits are reported on a quarterly basis, based on the period of the return. Information on withholding tax credit claims is presented since the March 2020 quarter (see Table 6). Withholding tax credit claims have averaged $47.2 million each fiscal year between 2021 and 2024. It is apparent that total withholding credits are strongly driven by the New Jobs Tax Credit (260E) (see Figure 1).

On average, there have been $41.0 million of New Jobs Tax Credits awarded each year since the program's inception in FY 2001. However, awards fell below that average for the five fiscal years prior to 2018 and fell below $30 million in FY 2020 for the first time since FY 2004 (see Table 7). Awards rebounded in FY 2021 to an all-time high of $60.5 million, but fell to $47.6

million in FY 2022, $39.5 million in FY 2023, and $24.1 million in FY 2024. In addition, participants in the 260E program with sufficient job creation are eligible to claim an income tax credit; the amount of the income tax credits claimed is included in Table 7.

Tax Credit Expected Claims Projection

Forecasts of expected tax credit claims are based on historical claims data and expected awards data and indicate that tax credit claims will likely continue to increase before decreasing in later years as several tax credits expire (see Table 8). This table presents the amounts of tax credits that are likely to be claimed. For example, the amounts presented in Table 8 for the Accelerated Career Education Tax Credit are reduced from the full cap amount as historically less than 100 percent of the awards made are actually claimed. The aggregate expected claims estimates can be seen in Figure 2.

The Expected Claims Projection table is based in large part on claims data that has been collected from the IA 148 Tax Credits Schedule. The information collected from the IA 148 is used to estimate the timing of when awards are likely to be claimed. The IA 148 data is also used to estimate the percentage of nonrefundable credits that will be claimed before they expire. It is not assumed that 100 percent of credits will be claimed unless that is what is reflected by actual claims. Due to the nature of this data it is likely that credit forecasts will vary between reports as the timing and estimated percentage claimed changes with receipt and verification of more data.
